WHAT CONGRESS WILL DO.

What is Said of the Future Plans of Democrats-Withholding Supplies. WASE SGTON, April 29-As soon as the debate upon the veto is finished a caucus will be called by the Democrats settle the boundary question. to decide upon a plan of action for the future. Exclusive of the Greenbackers, the Democrats will have a major ity in the House of only half a dozen members. Unless every Democrat will stand square up to the principle contended for by the party, an ignominious backing down will be the result. There is undoubtedly a very large majority of the Democrats in favor of withholding supplies until grievences are redressed. The veto do s not mrke it possible to pass the six'h section of the Army bill as a separate measure. It would certainly be vetced. Consequently the party must stand or fall on the direct issue presented.

Within the past few days it is thought that signs of weakening on the part of some Democrats have been visible. The party leaders believe that the direct manner in which the question is now presented will strengthen the backbone of the yielding brethren. "In a struggle for the liberties of the people the personal desires of individuals for an adjournment of (1 gress will scarcely be considered,' said one Democrat to lay. Messrs. Carlisle, Morrison, Sirgleton of I'inois, Manring, Singleton of Missis sippi, Coffroth, and others expr 15 themselves as determined to fight vatil the 4th of March, 1881, for free elections if such a fight is necessary.

Altoona, in Blair county, is indebted to the State for corporation taxes amounting to $4,208.10. Proceedings would have been begun against the city some time ago but for the intervention of the Attorney-General. The State has a judgment for the amount of the debt, and the authorities of the city were informed that unless the judgment wer estisfied by to-day the city would be sold. There is no money in the city treasury and no means of raising any, and Altoona, with its

He objected to violent morning he died. He probably died of changes. The indefinite inquiry recommended in the motion would cause disappointment and uneasiness. It was absurd to describe the condition of the country as one of distress and distraction. He believed there were evidences that trade was reviving.

Earl Granville agreed that there were signs of revival in the United States, owing to a wonderfully good harvest. He hoped trade would gradually revive, until it had at least attained its old posi tion. He congratulated Lord Beaconsspecifics.

The motion was negatived.
