A Pleasent Entertainment. Fabiola, a celeb ated work by Cardinal Wiseman, representing scenes lait it Rome during the third century, has been dramatized and was played in this city during the last Christmas holidays by pupils connected with the Academy of the Incarnation. The rendition of the drama gave such general satisfaction to those in attendance that a repetition has been solicited. To gratify this urgent request, the play will be repeated on Friday evening next (the 16th inst.) at the Hall o the Academy of the Sisters of Mercy on Fourth street, to commence at 8 o'clock The price of admission, which will be paid at the door, will be twenty-five

House Plants.

Change the air of the room other end of the dog is a mile away from thoroughly every day without allowing a publish a full vindication it we can obcold ourrent of air to fall upon the plants. This may often be done through an ajoining room. Water when water is needed. and only then; it is better to let a plant suffer for a little-as shown by the flagging of the leaves hat to over water and keep, as too many do, the soil in the pots in the condition of mud. Avoid dust as far as possible by covering the plants while sweeping; but with all care they will get dusty. Those with small leaves may be sponged once a week, going over each leaf with a soft sponge or soft cloth dampened with blood-warm water.

Establishment of a Guano Factory.

We call attention to the advertisement of Maj. Benedict J Burgess, lately principal of the Cape Fear Military Academy. of Wilmington, N. C., a school founded by General R. E. ### Boys as "Bridesmaids."

The following paragraph will be read with interest by our lady patrons: Fashion in France now prescribes two tiny pages to serve instead of bridesmaids at the wedding ceremony. These are chosen from the prettiest of the boy relatives of the bride or bridegroom They are dressed in velvet of the bride's favorite color. A a recent wedding, the tiny court dress worn was of sapphire velvet, with white silk stockings, and velvet shoes with diamond buckles. A bouquet, composed of a rosebud, an orange blessom, and a branch of myrtle, was attached to the left side. These pages perform the usual role of the bridesmaids, carry the bride's bouquet and gloves, and also meet her and assist her from and to the carriage trotted or rode quietly out to the race grounds this afternoon to witness the race between Billy Bogus and Katy, who try their speed at trotting best two out of three miles, with a sulky and driver to carry around the track. There is no dan. ger of any jockeying in this race as both the drivers are gentlemen and owners of the "critter" they drive. The purse to be trotted for is $100, but the side bets will probably reach five times that amount. We regret that the lateness of the hour decided upon prevents our getting any intelligence from the track in time to inform our readero this afternoon covered that, the Grand Central Hotel, of the result.

The Sampson Difficulty.

The communication written by J. P. Sampson, formerly of this city, to the Charlotte Observer, in reply to the charge that the wife of a colored man in that city had left her husband for the purpose of going with him (Sampson), escaped our atention orwe would have published it, inasmuch as we had copied the charge against hia. Sampson has, we understand, written a letter to a relative in this city, explaining theentire matter and giving a most emphatic denial to the charge agai st him. He states that the woman had been maltreated by her husband on several occasious and that she left him of her own accord, two days after Sampson had left the city, and going in an entirely opposite direction. Jefferson, the husband of the woman, publishes a reply in yes terday's Observer to Sampson's communication and makes a very lame attempt at enforcing his view of the case. If we can get hold of the letter referred to above as written to this city we will pubish it on Monday.

John P. Sampson was born and raised 8 p. m. Sunday School at 3 p. m. in this city, a free man, his father before him having been a man of intelligence and means and one who stood high in the esteem of the white people of this city. Many of his descendants live here yet and they all stand well. We will gladly

Yesterday.

It is the general remark upon the streets to day among the old Confederates, and others as well who, attended the ceremonies at Oakdale on yesterday that the floral offerings were perfectly beautiful and the designs in the arrangements of the flowers exquisite in taste.

streets, Rev. B. R. Hall, pastor. Services The day was cool and delightful and the march out in consequence not at all disagreeable.

Thousands of people had congregated at the Cemetery long before the procession had reached the gate. The ladies, as usual, were out in profusion to do henor to the dead, as they did in years gone by honor the living with their noble exertions in behalf of the soldiers in the field and the sick and wounded in the hos-
