The boiler of the steamer North East was recovered this morning. It will be remembered that a fruitless attempt was made some months ago to raise it, but the water was so cold the submarine diver could not work to advantage and had to give it up until the weather should turn warmer.

The Concert Last Night.

A large, fashionable and refined and ience were gathered at the Opera House last night in attendance at the complimentary concert tendered to Mrs. D Kahnweiler by the citizens of Wilmington. The concert consisted in vocal and instrumental selections from the best authors which were performed by lady and gentlemen amateurs of the city under the direction of Prof. C. Van Laer. The pieces were all well rendered and it was undoubtedly the best concert by amateurs ever given in Wilmington, which is saying a good deal. "Autumn Leaves" was the first piece on the programme, and it was given in fine style by the Cornet Concert thing kept in a first class Larber shop. Clab. This was followed with a clever rendition of the overture of "Oberon" by the Misses Atkinson and Mr. Reman. Messrs Hargrave, Mitchell, Welch and Manning, as a quartette, elicited much and deserved praise for their vocal ef forts. Mr. E. Tuorpe, as the accompanist, rendered excellent service and received much praisa. Mrs. Kahnweiler ably maintained the high position she has ever held as a soprano voloist. The 'Polonaise," from "Mignon" and the "Carnival of Venice" were sung with fine effect, and were heartily encored, Mr. Nathan Mayer sang "Prusting," by Millard, in excellent taste and upon being encored gave "Good Bye, Sweetheart" in his best style, Mr. George Welsh sung several comic songs as only he can sing them. He is a natural come lian, and has a real musical genius.

appreciated. Mr. James H. Chadbourn. Jr., sang "The Diver" with flue spirit and grace, and it was the opinion of many that it was the best effort of the evening.

Mrs. M. P. Taylor, as solo accompanist for Mrs. Kahnweiler and others, performed the difficult part assigned with her precision and grace, Mrs. Taylor always accompanies well and our vocalists know how to appreciate her skill.

We are glad to state that the concert in its entirety was a complete success,

The stage was very beautifully decorated for the occasion, which we learn was the delicate handiwork of Misses Atkinson and Miss Emple, to whom too much praise cannot be given for their exquisite taste and designs.

Sunday School Excursion.

The Sunday School connected with St. John's Parish made an excursion to Waccamaw Lake on the W.C. & A. R il read this morning. There was a large crowd of happy hearted children who took the occasion for a holiday, beside quite a number of men and matrons who felt that a day's ramble along the banks | dectrine of Protection. of that beautiful sheet of water and a ride in the country would be beneficial. The excursion was under the supervision of Gen. M P. Taylor, the efficient superinendent of the school, and we have no doubt that there will be a happy time for all. There are boats which wil be probably put in requisition by those who are fond of acquatic sports, while others will enjoy the pleas out breezes, as they blow from the Lake, while ramb ing under the shade of the mammoth trees which line its banks. The excursion will return on a sp cial train and reach here at sunset.
