VIEWES AND REVIEWS.

An 'Infidel Monthly' has been started in Alleghany, N. Y. This is a product of the 'higher civilization' of the North. We are quite willing to be without such civilization.

The German Emperor intends to present a sword of honor to the Czar on the coming fiftieth anniversary of his Russian Majesty's acting as colonel of a Prussian regiment of Uhlans.

"Confused nature of the bank's book-keeping" is a significant expression applied to the defunct Freedmen's Bank in the press despatches. The "confusion" could scarcely have been accidental.

The Louisville Courier-Journal is engaged in a neck-and-neck contest with the Cincinnati papers to match every Kentucky murder that they publish with one from Ohio, and go them one better.

The dedication of St. Patrick's Cathedral, in New York, was one of the most magnificent and imposing celebrations that ever occurred in the history of the Roman Catholic Church in this country.

The 'War Democrat' to whom Sherman sent his letter about running for President turns out to be John B. Haskin, of New York, who was quite too intimate with Judge Barnard, during the Tweed regime, for his own reputation.

Mr. Lester Wallace's Western tour has not been a success. In Cincinnati the gross receipts did not reach the amount of the certainty he received, and in St. Louis the management is said to have lost one thousand dollars in the week.

Sir Garnet Wolseley's instructions, as military commander to supersede Lord Chelmsford, impose upon him the duty of making peace with Cetwayo, if he has to kill every Zulu in South Africa to bring it about. This is to be a "peace with honor" campaign.

The Jersey City Journal says there are probably not over a dozen or so of perfectly able-bodied adults in the world who have never told a lie, and most of them have told a good many. Yet to be called a liar, some how or other, seems to make them madder than almost anything else.

The volumes of Napoleon autographs, photographs, etc., which were sold in London a few months ago for $1,257,500, have come, it is said, into the possession of the Empress Eugenie, who intends them for a surprise present to the Prince Imperial when he comes home from the war in South Africa. The selection is believed to be unrivaled.

An old farmer in England, hugely puzzled by our meteorological reports and transatlantic prophecies concerning the weather, is said to have delivered himself of the following astounding sentiment: 'Well, sir, I did not mind the weather so much when it was arranged and ordered by Providence; but now, that it has been handed over to them interfering Yankees, why, he banded if I can stand it.'

A man spent a whole day in the railroad station at Red Oak, Iowa, trying to find an eastward bound train that was in charge of a Christian conductor. He wanted to start on a journey, but was resolved not to trust his life to the care of a sinner. After questioning eleven conductors, and failing to discover one of the desired kind, he went home discouraged.

Gen Grant will leave Yokohama by the next Pacific Mail steamer, about the last of June, and will reach San Francisco about July 20. The arrangements for an excursion of citizens to meet him on his arrival have been completed with the leading trunk lines between the East and Omaha, and from there over the roads of the Union and Central Pacific companies. The programme will be made public shortly.

As an incident of the celebration of the silver wedding of the Emperor of Austria, 377 prisoners whose offenses were committed through indiscretion or poverty were pardoned, and ten university donations were made by the Emperor, amounting to 300,000 florins, and providing yearly forty purses of 300 florins each for poor students and twenty free places in school for officers' daughters.

The erection of a statue to Thomas Paine, in St. Louis, is characterized by Bishop Cox as 'hyena worship.' He goes on to say, in the Independent: 'Here is an epoch in the history of fanaticism. There have been dog-worshippers and calf-worshippers and snake-worshippers. It is left for atheists on the shores of the Mississippi to Herod the superstitious of the Nile; to set up a hyena cry. Such be thy gods, O Republic of America! Paine was not an atheist; but he was morally, a hyena. His habits, his features, and his character were those of this foul character.'

FOREIGN TRADE IN FOREIGN VESSELS.

There were yesterday, (the 3d inst.) in the port of Wilmington twenty-four vessels in all, of different sizes, styles of rig and nationalities. Of this number only six, just one fourth of the aggregate, floated the United States flag. Not one of these six American vessels was square-rigged, although there was one large three masted schooner, but all are employed in the coastwise trade.

Of the eighteen square-rigged vessels, barques, barquentines and brigs, all float a foreign flag, and all are engaged in a foreign trade. Of these, twelve, or two-thirds of the square rigged vessels, and one-half of the whole number in port, are from Norway, while the remainder is made up with three from Germany, two from Great Britain and one from Spain. Of course in the list of American vessels we do not enumerate the "corn crackers" and "turpentine drogers" which ply along the coast of this State, and which are known as the mosquito fleet, but to those which go either beyond the confines of our own borders on this coast or those which cross the ocean.)

Now this is all wrong, and not in the spirit which ensures the greatest prosperity. It is very pleasant to see the flags of foreign nations floating from the masts, heads of the shipping in our port, but it is a pleasure in which we indulge at the expense of one of the most important industries of the country. It is a source of pride to see the extensive products of our State and section needing a large fleet of vessels to supply our carrying demand, but it is to be regretted that, after all these products have reached Wilmington as a commercial centre from which they may be exported, a foreign nation is to secure all the profits of freight age. It is in substance like the production of a fine crop by A, while all the profits arising from the sale of the same are received by B in payment for its transportation to market.

From every source comes the welcome intelligence that business prospects are brightening all over the country, and as we feel its reviving influence in the future, (we have not felt any of it yet) we hope that an impetus may be given to American ship-building, and that the city of Wilmington may, at some time in the not very remote future, possess a fleet of vessels built within her own borders, and officered and manned by the gallant sailors with which the coast abound. There is every facility within the limits of the city for building vessels of 300 or 400 tons. We have mechanics competent to build them, and the forests of the State abound in the necessary timber for their construction.

Special Corr. to the Daily Review. WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 1, 1879. When the 'fighting 21st' (N. C.) Regiment was charging up the hill at Games' Mill, in the face of a deadly fire, a rabbit that had sought refuge from the 'lead hail' under a bush, sprang out and was scamping away, when one of the boys shouted: "Go it, Molly Cotton Tail, if I had no more reason than you for staying here, I'd run too." The seething hot weather, into which we have been precipitated, creates an intense longing for the refreshing sea breeze, or the cooler air of the mountains, and we would gladly run away if a stronger reason did not keep us here. And, so say our sisters and our cousins and our aunts.

The day we decorate passed off with its usual eclat. The Departments were closed, and business generally suspended in the afternoon. It is interesting to note the cheerful alacrity with which the average official prepares for this annual decorating business. For a week or two preceding its recurrence, he may be found overhauling his fishing tackle, or discussing the relative merits of the excursions advertised, or arranging for a picnic in the romantic woods near the city, and the stay-at-home club has to listen to the orations and do the strewing. There was a fair attendance of these at the several cemeteries and the funeral ceremonies were observed. 'Stalwart' speeches were made, such as you may have found in the Congressional Record any time since the extra session began.

One of the orators, however, seems to have marked out a new departure. The Hon M Maginnis, M. C., who delivered the oration at the Soldier's Home, Cemetery speaking of the Northern politicians, who had profited by the sacrifices of the soldiers, said: 'They watered their budding aspirations in the blood of the dead soldier; but not to yield the fruit to his surviving comrade. So when the war was over they retained their places in the front, to search the record of some non-combatant on the other side, and cover him with confusion in the noisy but safe warfare of Congressional debate. The conflict that should have ended on the field is renewed in the Senate, and such laurels as never wrestled the hero's sword bud and blossom on the politician's jaw. Oh shade of the immortal Falstaff confess thyself outdone in this land of ours. Thou didst at least stab and carry off the dead body of Percy while yet warm and bleeding. Let thy hardened cheek be softened, and thy brow in brow abashed before the gladiators of our senatorial arena, who knock down and drag out the mouldering body of the dead confederacy some fifteen years after the war.'

Twice a week the Marine Band, by order of the Secretary of the Navy, gives a public promenade concert. On Wednesday afternoon at the park east of the Capitol, and Saturday p m at the park south of the President's House. Yesterday afternoon the President and Mrs Hayes, occupied seats in the portico overlooking the grounds and seemed to enjoy the music and the crowd as much as anybody. I was never more impressed with the simple grandeur of our institutions than when looking at this man, who can say to the representatives of the people 'I forbid it!' and legislation stops, r e lapsing into the American citizen at d participating in the pleasures of the people.

The venerable story of the foreigner whose companion pointed out to him the President t, walking unattended a ong the avenue and who asked in astonishment where his bodyguard was and was answered:—'I am one and every other American citizen,' came up before my mind.

'The Czar of all the Russias,' who is now suffering all the evils of ages of misrule, and the end is not yet, and who dares not appear in public unless surrounded by his 'faithful oos-acks,' presents the antithesis to the picture. We were with you, in spirit, in your regatta the other day, our favorite being the 'Bonnie Lassie,' a fact I mention only to show that there is something in a name, Shakespeare to the contrary, notwithstanding.

The certificate excitement is over, and the ragged capitalists of the hour, have returned to their original business of looting. Many a speculator is minus from 'losses' by their agents. The law, under which the certificate were issued, intended them as a safe investment for the earnings of the poor, but the capitalists defeated the intention by buying up all they could lay hands on, and if many of them come to grief we need not cry. Of course the capital absorbed by these certificates only tends to increase the hardness of the times.

If Congress wants to aid the industrious poor man in saving his earnings, let the Waddell Postal Savings Bank bill be passed. This will give him a place of deposit where he can confidently expect to get it again and with interest.

The caucus to morrow will doubtless determine what action will be taken on the vetoed bills, and how long Congress will be with us. The hot weather will help them to a conclusion in regard to the latter.

JAC BUS.

'Gentlemen of the jury,' said Mr. Phelps to the twelve men of Worthington, Minn., who had convicted his daughter of selling cider without a license, 'all I've got to say is, you're a set of jackasses, and you may wave your ears over that solemn truth.' Mr. Phelps was fined $10 for contempt of court.

Senator Hampton, it is announced, intends to make a speech in the Senate soon, in which he will take the ground that the appropriation bills ought to be passed, pure and simple, and that in particular the army bill must be passed. He will declare, report says, that this is not only his determination, but that it represents the spirit and desire of the people of South Carolina, and, in his belief, of the South generally, and that an early adjournment is highly advisable.

MOONSHINE.

The recoil of the cucumbers is terrific.

The negro question: 'Which is the way to Kansas?'

An amateur singer frightened a pair of canary birds to death. It was a case of killing two birds with one's tone.

Professor: "What English word do we have from Dammerung?" The immortal. "Well, damnation comes pretty near it."

"I do not want a jackass-scalp in my belt," says Commissioner of Agriculture Le Duc. No, indeed, old fellow; it is far better to carry it on the place where it grows.

We overheard the following conversation at the Westville blacksmith shop the other day: 'Laddie—' Well, Mr. —, I have come to the conclusion that I must raise your rent.' Mr. —: "Well, I'm glad of it, for I can't raise it."

'Mother, what is an angel?' 'An angel? Well, an angel is a being that flies.' 'But, mother, why does papa call my governess an angel?' 'Well,' explained the mother, after a moment's pause, 'she's going to fly immediately.'

Cetwayo is drawing considerable of the world's attention at present. The latest information we have about him is that he is the husband of 11,000 wives. The next will probably be that he has Russianized his name into Getwayoff.

Complexional Indications.

The complexion of persons whose digestion is out of order, who are bilious, or who lack vigor, always exhibits an unhealthy tint. It is by regulating the bodily organs and promoting digestion and assimilation, that the parchment hue indicative of ill health, is banished from the cheeks. To rectify the fault of a sallow complexion, use Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, an invigorant and alterative which removes those obstacles to renewed strength, physical comfort and personal attractiveness—an imperfect digestion and secretion, and a disordered condition of the bowels. Persistence in the use of this inestimable corrective and tonic will assuredly result in renewed physical regularity and vigor, will tend to increase bodily substance and cause the glow and color of health to return to the sallow, wasted cheek.

By Business Men

It is well known that such articles as the DUFF GORDON SHERRIES, MUM'S CHAMPAGNE, etc., have no Local Agents throughout the country, as they can always be bought much cheaper, in small quantities, from second hands, than the Agents can sell at, they being compelled to protect the trade of those who buy hundreds of packages at a time.

WE ARE SURPRISED

That our friends, with their long Business Experience, should have brought forward such a weak point as this, but can now understand, paying package rates to the Agents, why they supposed, on account of the low price at which we were selling the goods, that ours was not the genuine article. LIFE IN A BOTTLE.

The Most Valuable Medical Discovery Known to the World—No More Use for Quinine, Calomel or Mineral Poisons—Life for the Blood, Strength for the Nerves, and Health for All.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE PUBLIC.

Believing that by cleansing the blood and building up the constitution was the only true way of banishing disease and being troubled with weakness of the lungs, catarrh, very much broken down in constitution, &c., and after trying the best physicians and expending out my money for many kinds of medicines advertised without finding a permanent cure, I began doctoring myself, using medicines made from roots and herbs. I fortunately discovered a wonderful Bitter or Blood-Cleansing medicine, which gave me new life and vigor, and in time effected a permanent cure. I was free from catarrh, my lungs became strong and sound, being able to stand the most severe cold and exposure, and I had gained over thirty pounds in weight. I was confident that I had made a wonderful discovery in this medicine, I prepared a quantity of the Root Bitters, and was in the habit of giving them away to sick friends and neighbors. I found the medicine effected the most wonderful cures of all diseases caused from humors or scrofula in the blood, impure blood, Bad Stomach, Weakness, Kidney Disease, Torpid Liver, &c., &c. I was so confident of its efficacy that I prepared one upon to another until I found myself called upon to supply patients with medicine far and wide, and I was induced to establish a laboratory for compounding and bottling the Root Bitters in large quantities, and I now have all my time in this business. I was at first backward in presenting either myself or discovery in this way to the public, not being a patent medicine man and with small capital, but I am getting bravely over that. Since I first advertised this medicine I have been crowded with orders from druggists and country dealers, and the wonderful discovery in this medicine, I prepared a quantity, prove the fact that no remedy ever did so much good in so short a time and had so much success as the Root Bitters. In fact, I am convinced that they will soon take the place of all other medicines in use. Send for a hundred and fifty copies of my circular, it is in Cleveland, now sell Root Bitters, some of whom have already sold over one thousand bottles.

Root Bitters are strictly a medical preparation, such as was used in the good old days of our forefathers, when people were sick, and were calomel and other poisons of the mineral kingdom were unknown. They act strongly on the liver and kidneys, keep the bowels regular and build up the nervous system. They penetrate every part of the body, searching out every humor, and cleanse the system from the head to the feet, bringing about strength and health, and the fountain springs of life, hence they must reach all diseases by purification and nourishment.

No matter what your feelings or symptoms are, what the disease or ailment is, use the Root Bitters. Don't wait until you are sick, but if you only feel bad or miserable, use the Root Bitters, and you will save your life.

Thousands of persons in all parts of the country are already using Root Bitters. They have saved many lives of emigrants who had been given up by friends and physicians to die, and have permanently cured many old chronic cases of Catarrh, Liver, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, and other diseases, where all other remedies had failed. Are you troubled with sick headache, constipation, dizziness, weakness, bad taste in the mouth, nervousness, and broken down in constitution? You will be cured if you take Root Bitters. Have you humors and pimples on your face or skin? Nothing will give you such good health, strength, and beauty as Root Bitters.

I know that jealous physicians will cry hurray because my discovery cures so many of their patients, but I care not. I am now my desire and determination to place my Root Bitters as fast as possible within the reach of all those suffering throughout the world. Sold by wholesale and retail druggists and country merchants, or sent by express on receipt of price, $1.00 per bottle, or five bottles $5.00. For certificates of wonderful cures, see my large circular, which each bottle of medicine. Read and judge for yourself.

Ask your Druggist or merchant for FRAZIER'S ROOT BITTER. It is the Blood-Cleaner, and take no substitute. It is recommended because it makes a large profit. G. W. FRAZIER, Inventor, 328 Superior St., Cleveland, O.
