LONDON BRIDGE.

Proud and lowly, beggar and lord,
Over the bridge they go,
Rags and velvet, fetter and sword,
Poverty, pomp and woe.
Who will stop but to laugh and sing?
Self is calling, and self is king!
Who weeps at the beggars' grave?
Crusts they pray for, but love they crave.

Beggar and lord,
Fetter and sword,
Prison and palace, shadow and sun,
Velvet and rags,
So the world wags,
Until the river no more shall run.

Sparkle, river, merrily roll!
Laugh with the gay and bright,
Who will care for the weary soul
Under the arch to night?
Who will pity her, who will save?
Never a tear the cold world gave!
Down there in the rolling Thames—
God will pity what man condemns,

Velvet and rags,
So the world wags,
Prison and palace, shadow and sun,
Fettered and free,
So shall it be,
Until the river no more shall run,

Washington Letter to Rochester Evening Express.

THE SENATOR FROM GEORGIA.

A New York Radical Journal on Mr. Hill's Late Speech.

We have a good seat to see him, and we had long wanted to hear him and see some miracle that he would work. He is six feet, straightfaced, rather thin, firm set and with an eye born to raise any fortune. The man to the left is Butler of South Carolina; next is Beck, and round him press Eaton and others, who evidently long for a field day on their side of the hall—for Ben Hill is just now their ablest speaker—and one of their fairest-minded and most sensible men. He is neat and plain in his dress and address Davis, who is one of the possibilities of the Senate—who is one of the pussybellyties, too—turns round to face him. Robeson has come in from the House and has a seat next to Davis, and is nearly as large, though handsome man of fifty or more.

The whole Senate begins to mark the iron face of Hill, as he opens coolly and slowly with his hands clasped behind him. In this manner he speaks (on the great questions now up) for ten minutes without a gesture. His voice increases a little, and his forefinger comes forward to point at the Senator from New York, or from Maine, or at the smooth, fine head and form of Edmunds, from Vermont, whose great speech was given the day before. The Georgian soon has his plan open, and presses on to a review of the speeches of the three leading Republicans just named, and it is evident he is in for a review of the whole of these, and the questions now up, and the whole of the late war. As he advanced he showed more and more of the real Southern man and orator.

I have already said in another letter that he is a graduate of college, and he shows it in his clear cut, incisive words, never wanting in his thought, never misplaced, though his speech was extemporaneous and continued over three hours He was bold in his statements, well arranged with his books of reference before him; bold in gesture and voice, sometimes with one hand open toward the other side of the House, sometimes with both extended, and then striking the attitude in which Henry Clay is pictured in making his farewell, with head and shoulders thrown back, his feet well advanced, and both hands reaching out and downward in calm grace and dignity.

I have seen Clay, but never heard him except in conversation. But I have heard Tom Marshall, who was said to be much like Clay in style and eloquence. I think Hill has studied both and with eminent success. He has no want of ideas, and marches fearlessly on to meet the armed foe shouting among the captains, like Job's war-horse. I have heard many speeches and must say, that as a speech, this of the great rebel, for clear statement, fine language, strong declaration, well sustained voice and argument, and for research and apparent candor, is one of the best I have ever heard, in the Senate or in the hustings or on the platform

He is the kind of a man the South puts into the fore-front of all her battles, in field or Senate, and the attention this speech challenged from friend or foe shows that they had not miscalculated their man. When will the North learn to put their educated, bold men into Congress? for it will take the strongest debaters we have, to meet and master such speakers as Ben Hill, of Georgia. I have only said what they all say—that he is a very able speaker.

Remarkable Circumstance—A Deaf Mute Regains His Voice.

A circumstance of a somewhat remarkable character is reported to have occurred Sunday during the baptising at the Basin. Among the fifty-four candidates who received the ordinance at the hands of their pastor, Rev Henry Williams, Jr, was a colored man named Burwell Lancasser, a deaf mute since infancy. When he was raised from the water after immersion, according to the testimony of those who stood around him, he suddenly recovered his voice, and in clear and distinct tones, cried out: 'Thank God! Thank God!' To those who had never heard him speak a word, and who had ever regarded him as dumb these words of thanks came with startling effect, and among many of the colored people taken in connection with the occasion, the circumstance is regarded as a miracle. The occurrence created a great deal of comment. What is equally as remarkable is the fact that the man, after uttering these words, returned again to his mute condition, and has been unable since to say anything further.

Patterson's Celebrated Springs.

THESE SPRINGS are situated four miles South of Shelby and six miles North of Whitaker's, on the Air-Line R. R. The mineral waters are sulphur and chalybeate. The properties of the sulphur are iron, sulphur and magnesia. Properties combined are beneficial to all diseases, and never fail to cure the most obstinate cases, as many will testify. The chalybeate waters cannot be surpassed, having wrought many almost miraculous cures.

These Celebrated Springs will be open first April, and the prices are in reach of all, having been greatly reduced this season.

Bathing houses, croquet grounds, ten pin alley, and other amusements and attractions free for visitors. Hacks running from this place will meet visitors at Shelby or at Whitaker's on the Air Line R. R., upon short notice to the Proprietor.

YELLOW FEVER----BLACK VOMIT.

It is too soon to forget the ravages of this terrible disease, which will no doubt return in a more malignant and virulent form in the fall months of 1879.

MERRELL'S HEPATINE, a Remedy discovered in Southern Nubia and used with such wonderful results in South America where the most aggravated cases of fever are found, causes from one to two ounces of bile to be filtered or strained from the blood each time it passes through the Liver, as long as an excess of bile exists. By its wonderful action on the Liver and Stomach the HEPATINE not only prevents to a certainty any kind of Fever and Black Vomit, but also cures Headache, Constipation of the Bowels, Dyspepsia and all Malarial diseases

No one need fear Yellow Fever who will expel the Malarial Poison and excess of bile from the blood by using MERRELL'S HEPATINE, which is sold by all Druggists in 25 cent and $1.00 bottles, or will be sent by express by the Proprietors. A. F. MERRELL & CO.,
Philadelphia, Pa.

Dr Pemberton's Stillingia or Queen's Delight.

☞ The reports of wonderful cures of Rheumatism, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Syphilis, Cancer, Ulcers and Sores, that come from all parts of the country, are not only remarkable but so miraculous as to be doubted were it not for the abundance of proof.

Remarkable Cure of Scrofula, &c

CASE OF COL. J. C. BRANSON.

KINGSTON, Ga., Sept. 15, 1871

Gents:—For sixteen years I have been a great sufferer from Scrofula in its most distressing forms. I have been confined to my room and bed for fifteen years with scrofulous ulcerations. The most approved remedies for such cases had been used, and the most eminent physicians consulted, without any decided benefit. Thus prostrated, distressed, desponding, I was advised by Dr. Dyer, of Floyd county, Ga., to commence the use of your Compound Extract Stillingia Language is as insufficient to describe the relief I obtained from the use of the Stillingia as it is to convey an adequate idea of the intensity of my suffering before using your medicine; sufficient to say, I abandoned all other remedies and continued the use of your Extract of Stillingia, until I can say truly, "I am cured of all pain," of all disease, with nothing to obstruct the active pursuit of my profession. More than eight months have elapsed since this remarkable cure, without any return of the disease

For the truth of the above statement, I refer to any gentleman in Bartow county, Ga., and to the members of the bar of Cherokee Circuit, who are acquainted with me. I shall ever remain, with the deepest gratitude,

Your obedient servant,
J. C. BRANSON, Att'y at-Law.

A MIRACLE.

WEST POINT, Ga., Sept. 16, 1870.

Gents:—My daughter was taken on the 25th day of June, 1863, with what was supposed to be Acute Rheumatism, and was treated for the same with no success. In March, following, pieces of bone began to work out of the right arm, and continued to appear till all the bone from the elbow to the shoulder joint came out. Many pieces of bone came out of the right foot and leg. The case was then pronounced one of White Swelling. After having been confined about six years to her bed, and the case considered hopeless, I was induced to try Dr. Pemberton's Compound Extract of Stillingia, and was so well satisfied with its effects that I have continued the use of it until the present.

My daughter was confined to her bed about six years before she sat up or even turned over without help. She now sits up all day, and sews most of her time—has walked across the room. Her general health is now good, and I believe she will, as her limbs gain strength, walk well. I attribute her recovery, with the blessing of God, to the use of your invaluable medicine. With gratitude, I am, yours truly, W. B. BLANTON.

WEST POINT, GA., Sept 16, 1870.

Gents:—The above certificate of Mr. W. B. Blanton we know and certify to as being true. The thing is so; hundreds of the most respected citizens will certify to it. As much reference can be given as may be required.

Yours truly,
CRAWFORD & WALKER, Druggists.
