The Gallican Church, revived by M Loyson, better known as Father Hyacinthe, who has up to the present moment been the sole representative of its hierarchy, has just received the adh sion of a new priest. The Abbe Carrier was formerly a chaplain in the army and a Knight of the Legion of Honor.

The Louisiana Lottery does not di easily. The last Legislature passed an act repealing its charter, but Judge Billings, of the United States District Court, has decided that the act is inoperative, and granted an injunction restraining the State and city authorities from interferring with the company.

The Chicago Times says: Louisiana is for Grant. Missouri and Kentucky have already spoken. A lady in Madrid, Me, who carried valuable gold watch, was in a house las summer when it was struck by lightning. The watch stopped at the time, and although jewellers have repeatedly ex amined it and pronounced it perfect in every particular, it cannot be made to move. But their memory ever remained, and will remain to the end of time, simply as two thieves, as they were.'

It is a notion of the learned Dr Keith of Illinois that diphtheria comes from potato eating. Dr Keith claims this notion to be the result of his own experience as the reins of power continue to slip as well as that of his father, extending from the hands of the party it represents over twenty-nine years, and embracing eleven hundred cases of diphtheria, In all of the cases, the patients were potato eaters. Persons who eschewed the potato escaped the diphtheria, though residing becomes in articulo mortis, it may see in the midst of an infected district. THE SECRETARY OF WAR.

The present Secretary of War, Hon George W. McCrary, has been nominated by Mr. Hayes to be Judge of the Eighth United States Indicate district to fill the p'ace made vacant by the re-ignation . of Judge Dillon, which has been accepted to take place Sept. ruber 1st., 1879. Th nomination will probably be ratified withour opposition by the Senate and the question arises who is to be his success sor in the War Office?

The National Republican, in speaking upon the same matter, gives the names of several Republican worthies, to either of whom the position might sppropriately be tendered, and takes the occasion t cast its filthy aspersions upon the South That detestable sheet never allows an opportunity to pass to mailign and villify this section of the country. Here is his language:

Among those prominently named ar Hon, John A. Kasson, of Iowa, our Minister to Austria, who is now on his way to the United States on leave of absence. Ex Governor and ex-Senator Ramsey, of Minnesota, is also, spoken of, and will doubtless be strongly urged. Senator Logan's name has been prominently mentioned, but it is not probable that he would desire the position at this time, requiring, as it would, a relinquishment of his seat in the Senate just all the threshold of a term. Pennsylvania, of course, has candidate, and the friends of ex-Governor Hartrantturge that he is just the man Under ordinary circumstances the selection would ie ikely to be made from the Sou h but, in view of the art tude of that section toward the General Government, such a selection would be neither prudent nor wise. The position will probably go to the Northwest, which can turnish a long list of statesmen of ability and sterling patriotism from which a se lection can be made.

It is altogether probable that the leave of absence to Mr. Kasson has been in fluenced by the meditated retirement of 4r. McCrary from the Cabinet and that the port-folio of the War Department will be offered him immediately upon his arrival in this country, and we imagine plenty as blackberries, they couldn't give his business in the country will be to accept the position as soon as it is offered while it reflected the laxity of his The new-born zeal of the Prince of moral character, would, as a matter of course, place him in high estimation with the administration. Hartranft also has a claim upon the fact that he was a Brevet Major-General in the war, and won his chief distinction as prison keeper over Mrs. Surratt and the others charged with the murder of President Lincoln, and superintended the execution of the

> Of the two others named by the Republican little need to be said but as neither of them have done more than to be earnest partisan workers, and have never been charged with either a foul crime or a despicable, act, they have but little chance for the nomination.

We must entirely disagree with the Republican, however, when it throws its dirty abuse upon the South. Of course no Democrat from the South would accept the situation if it were proffered him, although there are scores who are perfectly competent and would add a dignity which is fearfully lacking to the administration; but there are Republicans in the South who would be no discredit to Mr. Hayes' Cabinet, such as it is, Kellogg would do very well, and is out of a job. J. Madison Wells is eminently entitled, not only from services renders ed, but for ability displayed. There are others of less note, but equally worthy the

The Republican is possessed with a chronic ill-temper towards the South which becomes more painfully manifested We regret to see this venerable sinner continue thus impenitent in the face of its impending dissolution, and yet hope that in its dying hours, when its party

CHANGE OF BASE.

As the New York Sun so truly says, when Mr. Hayes was a candidate for the President it was pretty generally conceded Lawyer's motto-'Be truthful and by his supporters that his only chance of election depended upon his producing a corviction in the public mind that his administration would be marked by an essential change of policy toward the Southern States from that which had characterized Gen

It seems a little odd to see a party main. taining itself in power by periodical promises, first of departing from a certain policy, and next of resuming that same policy. Turn about and wheel about seems to be their motto. First they pledge themselves to settle all troubles, and next to unsettle everything. Does such a rotary policy commend itself to the approval of the country?

HAMPTON HEARD FROM.

Senator Hampton, of South Carolina, spoke yesterday on the floor of the Senate on the bill reported by Mr. Bayard, from the Judiciary Committee, relating to juries, and to repeal sections 801, 820 and 821 of the Revised Statutes.

The synopsis afforded in the telegraphic reports is too meagre for one to predicate a general opinion as to the speech itself. There are some points in it highly commendable and others that, we think, might just as well have been left out. It is positive and assertive as regards the position occupied by the Democrats in Congress, and yet, at the same time, rather apologetic for Mr. Haves. Gov. Hampton stands squarely upon the position that he, for one, will not vote for any measure that may serve to impair the equipment and efficiency of the army and he will support the bill which declares under what limitations and conditions appropriations for its maintainance shall be made by Congress. Senator Hampton's remarks elicited frequent applause from the galleries.

CHAPELHILL COMMENCEMENT

Chapel Hill Commencement is in full blast this week. The attendance is very large -- larger, it is estimated, than it has been any year since 1860, when the fact that President Buchanan visited the University drew there such an immense crowd. The address before the literary societies was delivered by Rev. Dr. Hoge, of Virginia, in place of Senator Thurman, who was expected, but who was not present. Hon S. F. Phillips, Solicitor-General for the United States, delivered the address be fore the Alumni.

By the way, what exceeding bad taste it was in the faculty to ask Mr. Phillips to deliver the address. He is, be it remembered, one of Grant's appointees to office. True that he is a graduate of the University of North Carolina, but he is of those wio gave in the dark days of reconstruction such a terrible stab to the good old Alma Mater; who overthrew the existing order of thing; who helped to pull down the University from the high stand it had held since the first year of the present century and who had so well succeeded in their effor s that when the true people of the Sta e once again came into their own, the buildings and grounds were found in ruins, the libraries destroyed and scatt red and the number of matriculates reduced to four. Thin, as now, Solicitor-General Phillips was of those who brought this ruin and who would see grass growing in the streets of every city and town and village i . North Carolina rather than that the Republican party should lose its grasp on place and Samuel F. Phillips is one of the very last men in the world whom the Faculty of the University should have desired to see within its time honored precincts.

"Wine maketh glad the heart, said the King of Israel; and the Hebrew heart of David's day was gladdened by a real wine, the wine of grapes; while the ancient Egyptian heart rejoiced in wine of barley, that is beer. The invention of beer as a beverage is ascribed to Osiris, twenty centuries before the Christian era, and it was known to the ancient world as, wine of barley. In the modern times, the nationalities of Latin origin drink wine more freely than those of Saxon origin, who consome much beer. The agriculture of European countries is largely influenced by the popular demand for beverages. Within the last two decades, beer has been rapidly gaining favor in Latin countries. Beer saloons now flourish in Paris, Rome, and Madrid, as well as in Berlin, Vienna, and Hamburg. In Paris, for example, the annual consumption of beer has risen to over one hundred million litres (about 250,000 gallons), and many Parisians have come to the conclusion that beer, though inferior in attractiveness to wine, allays thirst, stimulates digestion, refreshes the system, and is nutritive.
