The Norfolk Virginian's Special Edition.

Our esteemed Virginia contemporary, the Norfolk Virginian, with the enterprise which has ever distinguished its career, made its appearance on Monday, the 4th inst., in a special edition, aside from its regular issue, in a large quarto sheet illustrated by a full page map of the city of Norfolk, not only with its present boundary limits, but showing the contemplated improvements and enlargement of its territory. It also, on its inside pages, has several views of the harbor and some of the most important and notable public buildings of Norfolk, besides much reading matter of interest, historical and otherwise, pertaining to its growth, wealth, population, commercial advantages and its prospective future. It is a valuable paper to Norfolk and the surrounding country and the publisher deserves much credit for his spirit of enterprise in placing so much important matter before his readers.

Board of Aldermen.

The Board of Aldermen met in regular monthly session yesterday afternoon.

The Special Committee to whom was referred the proposition of Walker Meares, Esq., to take the census of the city, made the following report:

By and with the consent of the Board of Audit and Finance, we recommended that the Board of Aldermen allow Mr. Walker Meares ($100) one hundred dollars for compiling a correct census of the city.

On motion of Alderman Flanner, the report was received and adopted.

Committee on Police reported in the matter of codifying the Laws and Ordinances, that Messrs. DuBruziz Cutler and F. H. Darby would do the work for three hundred dollars.

On motion of Alderman Flanner, the report of the Committee was received and adopted.

Committee on Fire Department reported progress.

Special Committee on the claim of A. Oldham was called, and were not ready to report, whereupon they were granted further time.

Alderman Flanner asked to be excused from further service on the Committee, and the Mayor stated that if no objection was made he would excuse Alderman Flanner and take his place himself.

No objection being made, Alderman Flanner was excused, and Mayor Fishplate was put in his place.

Finance Committee reported progress on rate taxation.

The following amendment to the Dog Ordinance was adopted:

Ordered. That the ordinances of the city of Wilmington in relation to dogs, passed May 13th, 1878, be and they are hereby so amended as to provide that all dogs in the city of Wilmington be subject to the usual tax on dogs, viz., one and three dollars, and the police are hereby authorized and empowered, under the directions of the Mayor and Chief of Police, to ferret out all dogs within the aforesaid limits, and to enter such private lots or premises as may be necessary for the purpose of carrying out the requirements of this ordinance in order that all dogs in the city of Wilmington, whether running at large or otherwise, shall be taxed.

Committee on Streets and Wharves reported progress.

Alderman Bowden offered the following resolution, which, on motion, was laid over till the next regular meeting for final action.

The Board having carefully considered the petition of Mr. Henry Nutt, asking to be relieved from the judgment recovered by the city against him as one of the sureties on the official bond of J. C. Mann, late Clerk of the Superior Court, and being satisfied that the Board have no right or authority to grant such request; therefore,

Resolved. That the said matter be not further considered by the Board, and that the same be remitted into the hands of the Attorney who has it in charge.

The Mayor stated that the owner of the wharf now used by the city on which to land ballast, was desirous of renting it out to the city.

Alderman Bowden moved that the city rent the wharf on Mr. Walker for one year, at $300 per annum, 1st October, 1879. Carried.

Communication from Capt. Jas. Price, Harbor Master, was read and referred to the Committee on Streets and Wharves.

An ordinance in relation to cows was passed, as follows:

Ordered. That all persons are hereby prohibited from allowing their cows or their beasts to run at large within the city limits and all cows or other cattle beasts found running at large, in violation of this ordinance, shall be impounded by the Chief of Police and advised, and the owners may redeem and recover the same upon paying a fine of $2 50 and all expenses of impounding, advertising and feeding the said cows or other cattle beasts.

Resolution offered by Alderman Lowrey in regard to bills of Henry Green and J. E. Campbell was referred to the Committee on Streets and Wharves.

Report of the Superintendent of Health was read and ordered on file.

Report of the Chief Engineer of the Fire Department was read and ordered on file.

City Court.
There were two cases for trial before the Mayor this morning for disorderly conduct, which were continued for a future hearing. This was all the business that the docket presented, and having been disposed of in short notice, as stated above, the Court adjourned.

A neighbor informs us that his wife never knew a quiet night until the doctor prescribed Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup for her little one.

A Little Cooler.

A slight shower, of but a few moments' duration, this noon had the effect of making the atmosphere a few degrees cooler. This, we believe, the first shower of the season which has brought cooler weather, and the forenoon having been excessively hot, the change was gratefully appreciated.

Criminal Court.

The attention of the Court to-day has been occupied in trying two trivial cases of an assault and an affray. In the first case it was the State vs Henry Schriver and Chas Schriver, charged with assault; verdict not guilty. In the next case it was State vs Wm. Mayo and Moses Howard, charged with an affray; verdict not guilty. These embrace the proceedings up to the time of our writing.

Bell Telephone.

Gen'l. M. P. Taylor, State Agent for the Bell Telephone Company, who has been in Richmond for several days past, returned last evening. From him we learn that the instruments for the Exchange have been shipped, and will probably arrive to-night. They will be placed in position as soon as possible. The instruments for the fire alarm are in the city, and the fire alarm circuit is complete, though the instruments have not been put up as yet.

New Postal Car.

The Wilmington & Weldon Railroad Company have turned out another postal car on the regulation pattern, and it was placed upon the rails this forenoon. There are some details to be attended to in its completion and then it will be forwarded to Washington, D. C., for inspection before being put regularly into the mail service on the road. It is in all respects like the other in equipment, style and finish, and is an excellent sample of the faithful workmanship done by the mechanics and artisans at the railroad shops in this city.

Occultations of Stars.

During the nightly courses of the moon that satellite will be near the principal planets, as follows: Saturn, Aug. 7; Mars, August 9 and Mercury, August 18. On August 24 the moon will occult Antares in the Scorpion. The occultation occurs so late in the evening, however, that it will not be seen under very favorable conditions. But as bad weather prevented the young astronomer from seeing the occultation of Antares on June 8, it will probably be worth his while to be on the lookout on the evening of August 24, as the occultations of large stars are rare events.

Death of Mrs. Waddell.

Mrs. Susan H. Waddell, of this city, widow of the late Hon. Hugh Waddell, and mother of Hon. A. M. Waddell, died in this city last night at 7:15 o'clock, aged 75 years. Mrs. Waddell was a descendant of one of the most illustrious families on the Cape Fear and was herself not unknown to the world of letters.

She had lived a long, useful and happy life and when the last great destroyer came he found her both willing and prepared. Less than one year ago she was left a widow and she has not lingered long behind but has soon crossed over the river to be again with the beloved companion of a long life, there where sorrows and partings will be known no more forever.

Bathing.

Avoid bathing within two hours after meals, is the advice of the Royal Humane Society of England, or when exhausted by fatigue or from any other cause, or when the body is cooling after perspiration, and avoid bathing altogether in the open air. After being a short time in the water, there is a sense of chilliness, with numbness of the hands and feet, but bathe when the body is warm, provided no time is lost in getting into the water. Avoid chilling the body by sitting or standing undressed on the banks or in boats, after having been in the water, or remaining too long in the water, but leave the water immediately there is the slightest feeling of chilliness. The vigorous and strong may bathe early in the morning on an empty stomach, but the young and those who are weak had better bathe two or three hours after a meal; the best time for such is from two to three hours after breakfast. Those who are subject to attacks of giddiness or faintness, and who suffer from palpitations and other sense of discomfort at the heart, should not bathe without first consulting their medical adviser.

NORFOLK, Va., August 3--

A party of eight sailors, who arrived here last night by rail, state that they have just come from Wilmington N. C. having arrived in that city some days ago on the Lark E. T. Gregory of Baltimore, from Navassa, with a cargo of guano. The vessel was detained at Quarantine, and the authorities would not permit the landing of the cargo. In this condition of affairs these men were paid off and discharged, but the authorities quickly hurried them North. Six of the party promptly left here last night for New York on the Old Dominion line. The two others remained over, intending to go to Baltimore. They were arrested, had their clothing and effects burned and were sent up the bay to-night.

The above is from the New York Herald. Generally that paper is exceedingly accurate but in this instance it has overstepped the mark and through the influence of somebody in Norfolk who may or may not have an axe to grind, has done our port and our people a gross injustice. As the Herald has a correspondent resident in this city we cannot see why it did not get the facts here instead of from somebody in Norfolk. As the Quarantine Physician at Norfolk did obtain the facts by telegraph from this city last Saturday night, whereas the telegram to the Herald is dated on Sunday, it looks as though the facts have been carefully suppressed. The facts are simply these:

The schooner E. S. Powell, not the barque E. T. Gregory, as the veracious correspondent has it) arrived at Quarantine station, near the mouth of the Cape Fear river, on the 16th of July, 25 days out from Navassa Island. She was detained at Quarantine the usual time, and was thoroughly fumigated, and passed up the river to the Navassa Guano Works on July 20th. She did not touch at the city at all, but went to the Navassa Works, eight miles above the city, and was there discharged. The phosphates were themselves to a certain extent disinfected and the entire cargo was discharged by the crew. The vessel came here with a clean bill of health and there has been no case of sickness of any kind developed on her since she has been here. The time for which the men spoken of had signed, had expired and they demanded a discharge and were discharged; no restriction was set upon their movements because there was no necessity whatever for any such restriction. The E. S. Powell is now lying a few miles below the city and will be loaded with lumber. The Captain, Mate and Steward are still aboard and no signs of sickness have been developed.

Picnic Hints

The following "Picnic hints" are reasonable: It is of the highest importance that your mother-in-law should be invited. As a commander-in-chief she will be indispensable. Also ask your mother. Somebody must be on hand to wash the dishes. A picnic without lemonade would be just no picnic at all; so you tip over the wash tub and mop out the dust, and concoct a beverage that has all the deliciousness of the lemon, combined with the flavor of onions that were brought to the ground in the self-same tub. An ominous rumble of thunder, and a hurrah of tumbling of crockery ware back into the wagon, and a race with the coming shower, in which the shower wins by a great many laps, winds up a day of rare pleasure, or a day in which pleasure has been rare, just as you are of a mind to call it.

IN MEMORIAM.

Extract from the proceedings of the Board of Audit and Finance, at a meeting held August 4th:
The Chairman having announced the death of Mr. Flave, Mr. R. J. Jones offered the following, which was unanimously adopted and ordered by the Board to be published:
Since our last meeting death has laid its icy hand upon a member of our Board, THOMAS W. PLUYER has been called hence to the presence of the Great Auditor above; full of years, he has gone to the grave as few men can hope to go--with an as on my in the world or a blemish upon his character. As a man he was firm and decided in his convictions of duty, and high-toned in his every action; there could be no compromise for him when the question was the least tainted with error, for his ideas of right sprang from a heart so utterly void of wrongdoing that he had but one guiding motive, and that was to deal justly with all men. This high and noble quality made him the trusted friend, whenever he came in contact with his fellow man. Unassuming in his manner and deportment as he was, unyielding in his integrity, he was the type of a true gentleman, and our ideal of a perfect man.
Resolved, That a memorial page be left on our Minute Book, and that our Clerk be requested to inscribe thereon the name, age, and date of death of our deceased friend, and that a copy of these proceedings be sent to the family of the deceased and published in the daily papers.
