A Relic of Bye Gones.

We have been favored with a glimpse of a copy of the "Carolina Centinel." published at Newbern, N. C., and dated November 3d, 1821; nearly fifty-eight years ago. It is printed on a sheet about the size of that upon which the REVIEW is printed, and contains the current news of the time. It has English news up to the 6th of September, which was broug! t by the ship Robert Fulton in 43 days trom Liverpool

There is also a Proclamation by Maj. Gen. Andrew Jackson, Governor of the Province of Florida, warning certain Spanish military officials to leave the a untry within a specified time, or le dealt with according to law.

There are quite a number of advertisements, showing that the business men o those days understood the merits of printer's ink and appreciated the necessity of keeping their busines before the public.

The only reference made to Wilmington is in the following:

"WILMINGTON N. C. Oct. 221, 1821." The Steam Boat has just arrived from the Fort and brings us the distressing ac count of the Ship Juliet having caught fire last night, and ship and cargo con sumed. The cargo consisted of 1426

bls. of Turpentine & 519 bales of cotton: The "Price Current" shows that in many commodities the prices ranged about as they do now. Bacon we find quoted at from 6 to 8 cents per pound; mealat 60 cents per bushel; cotton (new crep) 14 cents; lard 8 cents; tar $1 30 to The Board then adjeurned, to meet $1.85; pitch $1.30 to $1.35; rosin $1.10 to $1.25; turpentine $1.60; spirits do 25 cents per gallon; whiskey 38 to 40 cents, (only think of it); American rum 40 cents; apple brandy 45 cents; peach brandy 75 cents and French brandy $2.50 per gallen. Country gin sold at 45 cents and flour sold for $8 25 per barrel. A! ether articles except liquors range about as they do in this market at the present

As will be seen, the liquors of those times were very much cheaper than they are at the present day, and if they were proximity to the head of the driver that not immeasureably better they were dear at any price. The "Carolina Centinel" was published but once a week-every Saturday-and the subscription price was $3, "one half invariably in advance."

A Fisticuff Engagement.

Quite a commotion was created on South Water street this afternoon, and the cap of the wharf just below Market Raleigh, in charge of Deputy Sheriff dock was lined with a promiscuous crowd of spectators who were gazing upon a Harry Lee, alias Bazzle Williams, lar- regular fisticuff between two seafaring men belonging to some of the smaller crafts that ply a naval stere trade along the coast to this port. The combat took place on board of of these small vessels. One of the party and the larger, too, by the way, seemed to have received the worst of the encounter, when our reporter reachen the scene of conflict, as the blood was flowing freely from each side of his face. But we are inclined to the opinion that John Barleycorn was the hero of the occasion as both of the combatants showed evident signs of a severe tussel with King John in which both were severely worsted by this common enemy of mankind. The police were on the wharf ready to furnish assistance, if needed, but the friends of the belligerents interposed and stopped the difficulty by separating the pugilists, and putting one on board of one matters were considered, when it was des | vessel and the other on board of another, cided that "all vessels coming from the and new everything is calm and serene
