

VIEWES AND REVIEWS.

Attorney General McCormick, of Texas, who is in Washington, says the Democrats of the Lone Star State prefer Gen. Hancock for the next presidency.

The Railroad Gazette says that John Houghtaling of Rochester is the oldest railroad conductor in the United States. He has served 43 years, and is now poor and disabled.

In France, and indeed throughout the Continent, the editors of newspapers are among the most popular candidates for Parliament. In England there is hardly one in the Legislature.

The Ohio State Journal gives notice to the Republicans that the campaign of brag is exhausted, and, if they want to win, they must do something besides claiming 20,000 majority.

The Berlin correspondent of the Cologne Gazette says that all the rumors of a retirement of Count Moltke from the position of the chief of the staff of the German army are unfounded.

Darlington, Yorkshire, England, with a population of 27,729, has one thousand houses vacant, and only one hundred men employed at the iron works instead of one thousand as formerly.

The next Legislature of Texas will elect a United States Senator to succeed Mr. Maxey, whose term expires in March 1891. Among the aspirants for the honor in addition to the present Senator, are ex Gov. Hubbard, Congressman Reagan, ex-Congressman Hancock and Gov. Roberts.

A rule of the Illinois Central Railroad provides that dogs shall not ride in a passenger car; but a big and ferocious bulldog walked into a car at Chicago, appropriated a whole seat, and rode 800 miles unmolested. 'He had such a meaningful smile,' was the conductor's apology for not ejecting him.

It is claimed, says the Nashville (Tenn.) American, that in the zinc and iron disinfection New Orleans has at last found a preventive of yellow fever. The facts, however, do not warrant such generalization. It will take many experiments to demonstrate the truth of the claim. It is only certain that zinc and iron have been used and that the fever has not spread. If the same result should be observed a great many times, it would afford strong presumptive evidence.

Gov. and Goodnight, Presbyterian clergymen, announced in Texas that they had received a special divine revelation, in which the end of the world within ten years was foretold. Their presbytery expelled them, but they are making many converts, and have started a sect called the 'Tabernacle of the Coming Lord.' They preach that Grant, re-elected in 1880, will invade and subdue Europe, overthrow Romanism, and finally meet a downfall—after which the millennium.

It is now considered certain that the King of Spain will arrive in Vienna this month, to make the personal acquaintance of the Archduchess Christine. The year of mourning for his late wife, which the King has passed in as much retirement as possible, having expired, his Ministers insist strongly upon the necessity of his marrying again as soon as possible. The Archduchess Christine was born in 1858, and is, therefore, one year younger than King Alfonso. She is said to be extremely unwilling to part from her relations and friends.

Dr. Chaille, Commissioner for the National Board of Health at Havana, has discovered that the first authenticated epidemic in that city occurred in 1762, and that the disease has continued endemic there ever since. Havana has, therefore, during the last century, been the propagator of the scourge for all the Gulf States. It will require some of the very heroic sanitary work to clean up that pest hole and eradicate the germs, but the people of the North and South American continents, together with Spain, its owner, should unite to wipe out the common enemy.

A Russian paper says, in reference to the change of residence of the Czar and his family: 'Notwithstanding the most extraordinary measures of precaution, the officer charged with making the rounds in the Park at Livadi discovered one day two unknown individuals who took to flight on seeing him. A general search in the park was in vain, but a sentinel was found dead an hour after. The autopsy proved that he had been poisoned. This incident produced such an impression on the Emperor that the Imperial family left Livadi, their favorite residence, immediately.'

THE STORM.

The terrific gale which visited this section on Monday seems to have traveled the entire length of the coast; at least, as far as Portland, Me. At every step in its Northward course it did its work of ravage and devastation, alike upon the land and upon the ocean. It wrought almost entire ruin to Beaufort and Morehead City, completely wrecking hotels, storerooms and dwellings, giving the inmates barely time to escape with the loss of nearly all their clothing and other personal effects.

At Norfolk, Va., the storm was terribly severe, doing an immense amount of damage to buildings, shipping and wharf property. The tide was higher than it is ever known before. Spires of churches were blown down, houses were unroofed, and in some sections of the city, near the harbor, the lower floors of nearly all the buildings and stores were submerged, and were only accessible by the use of boats. At Portsmouth the same havoc was made. Trees were uprooted, fences blown down, houses unroofed and the streets submerged. In the country, especially in Nansemond county, the damage to crops, farm buildings, fences and trees was very large. At Hampton the roof of the Hygea Hotel was blown down. At Cape Henry the gale blew out the lights in the lighthouse, a thing never known before. In Chesapeake Bay the storm raged with fearful violence. Vessels dragged their anchors and were blown ashore, some of them dismasted and some of them sunk. At the Capes of the Delaware the gale raged with the same fury, and many vessels were driven ashore and a number sunk, without, however, any reported loss of life, as the crews were saved by the intrepidity of the men of the Life Saving Stations. At Newport, the famous watering place, yachts were blown ashore, dismasted and sunk, and the same occurred at Portland, Me.

The damage done to property has been incalculable, and it is with grateful astonishment that we are not called upon to record any appalling loss of life. It is barely possible, but hardly probable, that, as the accounts of the storm upon the ocean come in, we may not be obliged to chronicle a greater loss of life than has yet been discovered.

THE CHINESE FAMINE.

Russian merchants recently returned from the interior of China to St. Petersburg have furnished the Goloa with terrible details respecting the famine which has for some time past prevailed throughout certain provinces of the Celestial Empire. They depose to having seen people die in the streets of many towns and villages from sheer starvation, and state not only that autophagy is practiced upon the bodies of the dead, but that famished men attack the living and prey upon them with all the ferocity and greediness of the fiercest carnivora. One of them alleges that he was present at the examination of a mendicant, who had been arrested for some petty theft, and in whose possession was the mangled remains of an infant were discovered.

This man confessed to the magistrate that for some time previous to his seizure he had lived exclusively upon the fresh flesh of human beings, as he could not surmount his antipathy to that of dead bodies. Another appalling case, which came under the notice of a Russian merchant, was that of a young man who had murdered and subsequently eaten a girl to whom he was betrothed.

Men have been executed for killing and eating their own children, and sons have slain their own fathers in order to appease the pangs of hunger. In some of the northern districts whole villages stand empty, their inhabitants having one and all perished for want of food. Some of the incidents recounted by these commercial travellers and published in the Goloa are too horrible for reproduction, but the above details will convey some idea of the awful sufferings by which the population of the Flowery Land has lately been, and indeed still is, afflicted.

PUBLIC EXECUTIONS.

We do not object to capital punishment, but, on the contrary, think there are cases of crime so terrible in their nature—that are conceived and carried into execution with such cold-blooded atrocity—that such punishment becomes necessary not only for the purpose of removing such demons from society, but in order to deter others from committing like crimes. The safety and protection of society is the first duty, and when a cold-blooded brute has taken human life without cause or provocation the quicker and more certain he is put out of the way where he cannot indulge in a repetition of his crime the better. Let the proper courts give him a fair and impartial hearing, and if in the opinion of twelve honest jurors, upon their oath, the testimony points its unerring finger to him as the guilty party, let them so decide by their verdict, and let the court pronounce its just sentence and the proper officers see that the order of the court is duly executed. There is one thing, however, connected with the execution of a culprit, which to us seems horrible and disgusting, and which we hope soon to see remedied. We allude to the revolting scenes which frequently occur on the scaffold, wherein the victim, just before being launched into eternity, is put upon exhibition as a martyr more than as a felon, and to make speeches to the assembled throng in which he would inculcate the idea that he was a duly elected saint, only waiting for the execution of the law by which he is to be carried on angelic wings to rich fields of supernal bliss.

But a few days since, at Taylorsville,—the county seat of Alexander county,—the Western portion of the State, a colored man was executed for the commission of one of the most cruel, fendish and cold-blooded murders that ever disgraced the annals of crime. It was the murder of a man who had never done him an injury, and it was committed only that the murderer might continue unmolested in the gratification of an unhallowed lust. The trial was fair and impartial, and there was not a shadow of doubt as to his guilt. He was given every opportunity to establish his innocence, but the testimony was overwhelmingly against him, and the verdict of the jury was rendered accordingly and sentence pronounced. In the interim between the sentence and the day appointed for his execution, the miserable murderer became very deeply interested in religious matters and upon the gallows he made speeches and sang hymns with the nonchalance and freedom of manner that he would at a campmeeting. He announced that he was "going home to glory," and made many other expressions of similar import. The execution was witnessed by about 3,000 persons.

Now we would hope that in the future, when it becomes necessary that a man should expiate his crime upon the gallows, the execution should be so far private as to allow only the necessary officials and a few sworn witnesses to the scene. Such as we have described, and they have become almost universally the custom, are degrading and pander to a morbid curiosity while they make a mockery of the holy name of religion and surround the culprit with a halo of renown which takes from his crime a large share of the infamy that properly belongs to it.

A NEW METHOD OF COTTON PLANTING.

The Aberdeen (Miss.) Examiner says: Several times during the last four years we have taken occasion to call attention to the new process of cotton planting so successfully pursued by Mr. J. J. Crump, of this county. The result of this process was 1,800 pounds of ginned cotton to the acre in 1877, 1,000 pounds in 1878, and this season the prospects are good for the heaviest yield he has had. For the benefit of our readers and exchanges we give Mr. Crump's formula: He prepares his land in December by digging holes three feet from each other, each eighteen inches square and eighteen inches deep; these holes he fills with manure to within four inches of the top, and the remainder of the way with the top soil. At the usual season he plants with a view to having three stalks to the hill, and piles the clay from the bottoms of the pits as deep over their tops as the supply will admit of, with a view to keeping down the grass, and then cultivates with hand and hoe, never allowing a plow to be used. The preparation is made in December in order to subdue the fiery qualities of the fertilizer, and the holes when prepared will make at least three crops without changing their contents—the second crop generally being the best and the first and last about the same. This plan has gotten beyond the sphere of experiment, and there is no longer necessity for a man to scrape over a dozen acres when he can obtain more cotton and better cotton by cultivating two or three by Mr. Crump's process.

MOONSHINE.

Dead men tell no tales, and that is the reason why coroners find out so little.—New Orleans Piosyrne.

The men who 'sasses' you at long range is a burglar: he is safe blowing at that distance, anyhow.—Des Moines Register.

The editor of the Shenectady Star exclaims: 'O woman, woman! you are always getting somebody into a scrape; though it is just possible, of course, that he isn't guilty. 'What made you quit the East? said a man in Nevada to a new comer. 'I got into trouble by marrying two wives,' was the response. 'Well,' said the other, 'I came out here because I got into trouble by marrying only one wife.' 'And I,' added a bystander, 'came here because I got into trouble, simply by promising to marry one.'

'Good morning, Mr. Smith; on the sick list to-day? Yes, sir, got the ague.' 'Do you ever shake?' 'Yes.' 'When do you shake again?' 'Can't say when; shake every day. Why do you ask?' 'Oh, nothing in particular. I like to stand by and see if you could not shake the fifteen dollars out of your pocket which you have owed me so long.'

Be wise and happy.

If you will stop all your extravagant and wrong notions in doctoring yourself and families with expensive doctors or humbug cures—all, that do harm always, and use only nature's simple remedies for all your ailments—you will be wise, well and happy, and save great expense. The greatest remedy for this, the great, wise and good will tell you, is Hop Bitters—rely on it. See another column.

LIFE IN A BOTTLE.

The Most Valuable Medical Discovery Ever Known to the World—No More Use for Quinine, Calomel or Mineral Poisons—Life for the Blood, Strength for the Nerves, and Health for All.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE PUBLIC

Believing that by cleansing the blood and building up the constitution we have the true way of curing disease and being troubled with weakness of the lungs, catarrh, very much broken down in constitution, &c., and after trying the best physicians and paying out my money for many kinds of medicines advertised without finding a permanent cure, I began doctoring myself using medicines made from roots and herbs. I fortunately discovered a wonderful Bitters or Blood Cleanser, the first bottle of which gave me new life and vigor, and in time effected a permanent cure. I was free from catarrh, my lungs became strong and sound, being able to stand the most severe cold and exposure, and I have gained over thirty pounds in weight. Feeling confident that I had made a wonderful discovery in medicine, I prepared a quantity of the Root Bitters, and went in the habit of giving them away to sick friends and neighbors. I found the medicine effected the most wonderful cures of all diseases caused from humors or serofa in the blood, Impudence, Bad Stomach, Weakness, Kidney Disease, Torpid Liver, &c., &c. The news of my discovery in this way spread from one person to another until I found myself called upon to supply patients with medicine far and wide. As I was induced to establish a laboratory for compounding and bottling the Root Bitters in large quantities, and I now do vote all my time to this business.

As at first backward in presenting either myself or discovery in this way to the public, not being a patent medicine man and with small capital, but I am getting bravely over that. Since I first advertised this medicine I have been crowded with orders from all parts of the country, and the hundreds of letters I have received from persons cured, prove the fact that no remedy ever did so much good in so short a time and had so much success as the Root Bitters. In fact, I am convinced that they will soon take the lead of all other medicines in use. Nearly one hundred retail druggists, right here at home in Cleveland, now sell Root Bitters, some of whom have already sold over one thousand bottles.

Root Bitters are strictly a medical preparation, such as was used in the good old days of our forefathers, when people were cured by some simple root or plant, and when calomel and other poisons of the mineral kingdom were unknown.

They act strongly on the liver and kidneys, keep the bowels regular and build up the nervous system. They penetrate every part of the body, searching out every nerve, bone and tissue from the head to the feet, cleansing and strengthening the fountain springs of life, hence they must reach all diseases by purification and nourishment.

No matter what your feelings or symptoms are, what the disease or ailment is, use Root Bitters. Don't wait until you are sick, but if you only feel bad or miserable, use the Bitters at once. It may save your life.

Thousands of persons in all parts of the country are already using Root Bitters. They have saved many lives of consumptives who had been given up by friends and physicians to die, and have permanently cured many old chronic cases of Catarrh, Rheumatism, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, and Skin Diseases, where all other treatments had failed. Are you troubled with sick headache, costiveness, dizziness, weakness, bad taste in the mouth, nervousness, and broken down in constitution? You will be cured if you take Root Bitters. Have you humors and pimples on your face or skin? Nothing will give you such good health, strength, and beauty as Root Bitters.

I know that jealous physicians will cry 'Lunatic' because of discovery, and say many of their patients, but I care not. It is now my desire and determination to place my Root Bitters as fast as possible within the reach of all those suffering throughout the world. Sold by wholesale and retail druggists and country merchants, or sent by express on receipt of price, $1.00 per bottle, or six bottles $6.00. For certificates of wonderful cures, see my large circular around each bottle of medicine. Read and judge for yourself.

Ask your druggist or merchant for FRAZIER'S ROOT BITTERS, the great Blood Cleanser, and take no substitute here recommended because he makes a large profit.
