VIEWES AND REVIEWS.

Fanny Davenport has purchased for $45,000 a piece of property at Canton, Pa., which will hereafter be her summer home.

The Selma Times says the news from the country continues very gloomy. The cotton crop has been seriously injured. The worms are spreading everywhere, and the outlook is very blue.

The willow tree in Exeter place, off Chance street, opposite Theodore Parker's old residence, Boston, is the growth of a slip from a willow that grew over the grave of Napoleon at St. Helena.

A big dog at a Philadelphia brewery drinks from two to four quarts of lager beer every day, and likes it so well that, on emptying the dish, he licks his chops, and make a noise that sounds like an 'Ah' of great satisfaction.

A letter in the Boston Herald says it is impossible to get a boat launched from any of the big Sound boats. A call for the launch of a boat on a steamer in New York Bay showed the other day that the only boat on board was rotten and broken in two.

The Montgomery, (Ala.) Advertiser of Sunday says that the cotton worms are rapidly increasing on the plantations in that county. Farmers report that much injury has already been done by these destructive insects, and much more is anticipated.

Jesse Pomeroy, the Boston boy murderer, continues to bother the Charlestown prison officials. In the arm of a chair in his cell a large knife was lately found. He had dug out a hiding place for the weapon and filled the aperture with soap, stained so as to match the color of the wood.

Some young men were amusing themselves at Frascati, near Mobile, on Sunday last, by seeing which could throw a cannon ball they had the farthest, when one of them let the ball slip just as he threw it, and it struck another young man, named Mullin, on the side of the head and killed him.

Gen. Sheridan has received from the de facto Secretary of War an order directing a board of inquiry to consider the propriety and expediency of troops at the battle of Chickamauga. The date of the session has not yet been decided upon, but it will probably be within a few weeks. The order directs that the session be held in Chicago.

Since the murder of Mrs. Hull by Christine Cox the New York housewives have a keen ear for burglars. A Mrs. Davis, the wife of a detective, brooded over the Hull tragedy to such an extent that she became slightly deranged, and one night last week, imagining that there were burglars in the house, threw herself and babe out of a window to the ground, receiving injuries from which she died last Saturday.

Martin Rogers, who died a few days ago at Middletown, Conn., for fifty years possessed a fortune; but she was constantly dreading poverty and regularly spent a part of her time gathering rags and other discarded things in the streets. A room in her house was filled with such rubbish. Yet she gave money liberally for charitable and religious purposes while she lived and by her will left $35,000 to various institutions.

Mr. Nicholas Kiss, formerly a member of the Hungarian Reichstag, possesses a hotel at Paris. At the foot of the staircase he has placed an elegant savant or tirelire, surmounted by a parrot. When any one comes down or goes up the staircase, the parrot screams out "Szeged!" The visitor looks around as touched, sees the tirelire, and puts something in it. The parrot has already collected more than 8,000 francs.

Harriet Beecher Stowe has made a great deal of money out of her story, 'Uncle Tom's Cabin,' but not a cent from its adaptation for dramatic purposes, although no modern play has been acted a greater number of times. The Rev. Thomas North, a Chicago clergyman, is about to start out with a company that will perform the piece exclusively in halls and churches but never in a theatre. He wrote to Mrs. Stowe on the subject, and she replied as follows: 'I am in sympathy with the plan you propose, judging that, if you present it in churches, or rooms otherwise consecrated to religious thought, you will avoid all accessories that would be undesirable.' It is not stated whether she is to be paid a royalty. The real head of the enterprise is James Nixon, the well-known circus and theatre manager.

The fever is at New Orleans. It is said that there have been but two cases there since July 29th, but those, somehow, were not reported to the Board of Health until Thursday last. There is some to be no alarm felt in New Orleans and if these cases are thoroughly isolated the medical authorities may succeed in effectually restraining and controlling it.

The Zulu war is not yet at an end and further trials and difficulties in South Africa seem to be impending. The Boers are now talking about a resort to the dread arbitrament of arms, unless their independence is restored. These Boers, spoken of so frequently in the dispatches, are the descendants of the old Dutch settlers. King Cetewayo is still in the field but the British are taking very effectual means for crushing and capturing him.

ANOTHER STATESMAN FALLEN.

One by one the roses fall. This time it is another "Honorable," one Eugene Cagden, colored, an ex-member of the Louisiana Legislature who lost a job when the people expelled some of the rogues from the State House. Since then he has had to maintain the dignity of an illustrious name and the remembrance of his departed greatness on the salary of a clerk in the postoffice. This was not sufficient, but men of his political persuasions in Louisiana are seldom at a loss as to how the exchequer should be replenished. He dipped his hand into the registered letter department and every time he took a dip greenbacks stuck to his fingers. The losses are said to be quite heavy and the Honorable Cagden has reposed his ruffled dignity on an iron cot in a cool stone apartment in one of the public buildings and is cared for at the expense of a grateful constituency.

POOR MEMPHIS.

Another danger, and a very serious one, is threatening the sorely afflicted city of Memphis. Incendiary fires are becoming of such frequent origin as to cause genuine alarm. A suggestion emanated in the godly North that the city be burned as a means of eradicating the disease, and knowing what the people of the South do of the kindly sentiments of their brethren of the North, it is feared that there are emissaries in Memphis from the North charged with the destruction by fire of the entire city. The devils in hell could not have originated a more damnable plot, if indeed any such plot does exist. But we cannot believe it, even knowing as we do the intense hate with which some of the people of the North regard those of the South. We cannot believe that the inhumanity of man to man could be so intensely inhuman as to deliberately plan such a scheme. Still the Memphians are determined to be on their ground. In addition to the two colored military companies on duty there a white patrol is to be formed and any and every incendiary caught in the act will be strung up to the nearest lamp-post with a short rope and a still shorter thrift. This will, perhaps, check the devilish work.

THE CANDIDATES.

E. V. Smalley, of the New York Tribune, has been down on Coney Island, and has drawn in prophetic inspiration with the clams and salt breezes. As to the Republican candidate, he says:

Four names are in everybody's mouth—Grant, Blaine, Sherman and Washburne. Only two of these can be said, however, to be actually contesting the field. Mr. Washburne must be looked upon rather as a highly available compromise candidate than as a candidate with much original strength of his own. As to General Grant, it has come to be pretty well understood that he will either be strong enough to sweep the board or will take no hand in the game. The "Grant boom," so called, has spent its force, but there remains a formidable sentiment among the Republican masses in favor of re-nominating the ex-President which is sustained by a considerable number of efficient party leaders. General Grant will undoubtedly be in a position next spring to go into the convention as a contestant with a faint chance of success, but all his friends believe that he will not let himself down into the arena of an ordinary political struggle and will not be a candidate unless a spontaneous and imperative demand for his services should be made—a demand so strong that all the candidates would have to step aside. I need hardly say that the probability of such a manifestation is not nearly as great as it appeared three months ago. The rebel brigadiers in Congress many start a fresh Grant wave next winter by again alarming the loyal sentiment of the North, but we may reasonably look for increased discretion on their part and a better concealment of their purposes as the election draws near. The prospect is, therefore, that Grant's name will not go before the convention at all. He cannot afford to go into a scramble for the nomination. If he should only be a candidate instead of the candidate, with a large vote but not enough to nominate him on the first ballot, he might be beaten, for the Blaine men and the Sherman men would be pretty sure to combine against him.

An innocent-looking young man, travelling on a train from St. Paul to Chicago, was observed suddenly to reach up and pull the bell-rope. The train, of course, came at once to a standstill, while conductor and porter rushed into the car to ascertain the cause for the detention. 'Gentlemen,' explained the young man 'you must excuse me. I wanted the porter, who was in the 'forard' end of the car, to make up my bed, and thought that if I pulled the rope that would fetch him.'

A Graphic representative met ex-Governor Warmouth, of Louisiana, at Long Branch. He said that he was doubtful if the Republican party could count on a single electoral vote from the South in 1880. Grant was the choice of the Republicans for President; Bayard the choice of the Democrats, Tilden's chances were slim. He endorsed the administration of President Hayes and was surprised that his name was not being urged more earnestly for President in 1880. He thought the negroes would, after the crops were gathered, begin to leave the South by thousands.

Dr. R. W. Mitchell, the intrepid yellow fever physician of Memphis, describes the city as wholly cut off from the world. There are no trains running into or out of the town, and nobody leaves the place without the authorities knowing it. No steamboats land there at all. The supplies are all brought down on barges, which are dropped by the steamboats a couple of miles above the city and allowed to float down. When they arrive at the city men in skills or tugs secure them and bring them to the landing. If there is any fever carried abroad it is done by some daring pedlar who runs his wagon of supplies into town on a venture, sells out, and then clears out.

MOONSHINE.

'Pa,' said a little boy who was looking at pictures of strange creatures, 'an auk is a bird which one would be apt to shun, isn't it? 'I suppose so,' tranquilly answered the father. 'And if any one should shun an auk, then that would be an auk-shun, wouldn't it?' The unhappy parent has gone out.

'Chevaliers of the press! Down with the despotism of the dictionary! Class in American history, stand up. Read! Won Jorg Uashington wuz at Vale Ford, hiz trupz wur in ned ov fud, klothng, and liker. It wuz vere kold wethur, and tu uv them had shuz on their feet. But Jorg Uashington's kuriz nevur fald, and at last Congress sent him supliz, and he chaot the eneme ovur tu Nu Jerze, and wipt him at the batel uv Trentun.' That'll do, boys. Run out, now, and play.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

In one of the primary schools of Salem, Mass, a teacher was endeavoring to ascertain the extent of her children's knowledge of numbers. The question was asked, 'Would you rather have three paper bags with two oranges in each, or two paper bags with three oranges in each?' All but one little fellow expressed themselves as without preference. The teacher asked this pupil for his decision, and he was persistent in his liking for three bags with two oranges in each, his reason, when finally given, being, 'So I should have more bags to bust.'

A lady who had much experience in teaching both boys and girls, speaking of the extraordinary obtuseness of a certain pupil, said: 'In a physiology class this young lady of 15 inquired with languid surprise, 'Is there not a straight passage through the head from one ear to the other?'—a somewhat natural conclusion, the teacher commented dryly, 'if she had watched the processes of her own mind.' 'Which would you prefer teaching?' asked the visitor—'boys or girls?' 'Boys, infinitely,' was the prompt reply. 'No boy, for instance, would ever have asked such a question as that. He would long before have investigated the subject with a lead pencil. Not, probably, in his own ears,' she added meditatively, 'but in his younger brother's.'—Scribners for July.

LIFE IN A BOTTLE.

The Most Valuable Medical Discovery Known to the World—No More Use for Quinine, Calomel or Mineral Poisons—Life for the Blood, Strength for the Nerves, and Health for All.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE PUBLIC

Believing that by cleansing the blood and building up the constitution was the only true way of banishing disease and being troubled with weakness of the lungs, catarrh, very much broken down in constitution, &c., and after trying the best physicians and paying out my money for many kinds of medicines advertised without finding a permanent cure, I began doctoring myself, using medicines made from roots and herbs. I fortunately discovered a wonderful Bitters or Blood Cleanser, the first bottle of which gave me new life and vigor, and in time effected a permanent cure. I was freed from a catarrh of my lungs, became strong and sound, being able to stand the most severe cold and exposure, and have gained over thirty pounds in weight. Feeling confident that I had made a wonderful discovery in medicine, I prepared a quantity of the Root Bitters, and was in the habit of giving them away to sick friends and neighbors. I found the Root medicine effected the most wonderful cures of all diseases caused from humors or scrofula in the blood, Impudence, Bad Stomach, Weakness, Kidney Disease, Torpid Liver, &c., &c. The news of my discovery in this way spread from one person to another until I found myself called upon to supply patients from all over the city, far and wide, and I was induced to establish a laboratory for compounding and bottling the Root Bitters in large quantities, and I now devote all my time to this business.

I was at first backward in presenting either myself or discovery in this way to the public, and being a patient man, and with small capital, but I am getting bravely over that. Since I first advertised this medicine, I have been crowded with orders from druggists and country dealers, and the hundreds of letters I have received from persons cured, prove the fact that no remedy ever did so much good in so short a time and had so much success as the Root Bitters. In fact, I am convinced that they will soon take the lead of all other medicines in use. I have a hundred retail druggists, right here at home in Cleveland, now sell Root Bitters, some of whom have already sold over one thousand bottles.

Root Bitters are strictly a medical preparation, such as was used in the good old days of our forefathers, when people were cured by some simple root or plant, and when calomel and other poisons of the mineral kingdom were unknown.

They act strongly on the liver and kidneys, keep the bowels regular and build up the nervous system. They permeate every part of the body, searching out every nerve, bone and tissue from the head to the feet, cleansing and strengthening the fountain springs of life, hence they must reach all diseases by purification and nourishment.

No matter what your feelings or symptoms are, what the disease or ailment is, use Root Bitters. Don't wait until you are sick, but if you only feel bad or miserable, use the Bitters at once. It may save your life.

Thousands of persons in all parts of the country are already using Root Bitters. They have saved many lives of consumptives who had been given up by friends and physicians to die, and have permanently cured many old chronic cases of Catarrh, Scrofula, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, and Skin Diseases, where all other treatments had failed. Are you troubled with sick headache, constiveness, dizziness, weakness, bad taste in the mouth, nervousness, and broken down in constitution? You will be cured if you take Root Bitters. Have you humors and pimples on your face or skin? Nothing will give you such good health, strength, and beauty as Root Bitters.

I know that jealous physicians will cry humbug because my discovery cures so many of their patients, but I care not. It is now my desire and determination to place my Root Bitters as fast as possible within the reach of all those suffering throughout the world. Sold by wholesale and retail druggists and country merchants, or sent by express on receipt of price, $1.00 per bottle, or six bottles $5.00. For certificates of wonderful cures, see my large circular around each bottle of medicine. Read and judge for yourself.

Ask your druggist or merchant for FRAZIER'S ROOT BITTERS, the great Blood Cleanser, and take no substitute. It is recommended because he makes a large profit.
