Haven't we had most rain enough?
For three days past it has rained regularly every day directly after breakfast.

For bar steel, iron and carriage goods go to JACOB'S Hardware Depot.

A justice is called Old Perfumery by boys because he has scent 'em up so often.

Never be afraid of a shot gun; it's the gun that hasn't been shot which is most likely to make trouble.

The dearer and more gaudy the silk handkerchief, the further it is allowed to stick out of the coat pocket.

There is about 10 feet of water on the shoals of the Cape Fear between here and Fayetteville, and steamboat men report the water as about at a standstill.

Habitual poor health is a direct result of habitual poor attention to the physical system. Keep the head cool, the feet warm, and the bowels regular by the proper use of Dr. Bull's Baltimore Pills, and sickness cannot approach you. Price 25 cents.

One week more of summer and then the glorious season of autumn will be upon us. Oh! how refreshing to contemplate after the long heated term we have endured!

Worth, the Parisian man-milliner, will not make a dress, material supplied by the customer, for less than $300 or $400, and he has all he can attend to at that price.

The ordinance of baptism was administered by Rev. Jos. P. King, of the Second Baptist Church, to sixteen persons—ten males and six females, yesterday afternoon, in the Cape Fear at the foot of Queen street.

Unclaimed.
The following remains unclaimed at the post office:
T. C. Walton, Surgeon of ship S. S. Townsend, U. S. N., resident near Naval Station, North Carolina, U. S.

The best Windows, Doors and Blinds and Lowest Prices can be got at JACOB'S Hardware Depot.

Baptism at Smithville.
Rev. J. B. Barlow, of this city, administered the ordinance of baptism, yesterday, at Smithville, to sixteen persons, the same number as were baptised here on that day. These conversions are some of the fruits of the recent meetings held in Smithville. The ordinance was administered in the Cape Fear river, opposite Capt. T. M. Thompson's residence.

A new order of anniversary weddings is: End of one year, the cotton wedding; two years, the paper; three, leather or straw; five, wooden; seven, woollen; ten, tin; twelve, silk and fine linen; fifteen, crystal; twenty, porcelain and delft; twenty-five, silver; thirty, pearl and ivory; forty, rubies and garnets; fifty, golden, and seventy-five, the diamond wedding.

Returned Home.
Mr. M. M. Johnson, Assistant General Freight Agent on the Carolina Central Dispatch Line, returned to the city last week after a month's absence at various resorts in the West. He comes here directly from the Cleveland Springs. Three weeks ago we left him in Asheville. We are sorry to see that he is still suffering with a disagreeable hoarseness, the result of a bronchial affection.

Cured of Drinking.
A young friend of mine was cured of an insatiable thirst for liquor, which had so prostrated him that he was unable to do any business. He was entirely cured by the use of Hop Bitters. It allayed all that burning thirst; took away the appetite for liquor; made his nerves steady; and he has remained a sober and steady man for more than two years, and has no desire to return to his cups. I know of a number of others that have been cured of drinking by it.—From a leading R R Official, Chicago, Ill.

Seeking a Little Recreation.

Capt. Joseph Price, Harbor Master at this port, has gone on a cruise in the waters of Masonboro Sound with his light and fast sailing little yacht, the Bonnie Lassie. Capt. Walter Coney will attend to the duties of Harbor Master during Capt. Price's absence. We wish the 'old' commander a pleasant time on the salt water and plenty of good luck with his fishing tackle.

Military Matters.
The Secretary of War has refused to let the Second Regiment N. C. S. G. use his tents—we beg pardon—the army tents, for their proposed encampment at Smithville and we presume, therefore, that there will be no encampment by the Regiment this year.

At last accounts the Fayetteville companies were still talking of going to Smithville but, if they do, it will not be until the latter part of next week or the week after that.

New Coins.
The new gold and goid coins proposed to be made by the United States Treasury, are thus described: The double eagle $20 piece is an orange gold, in color, and the most beautiful coin that can be conceived. The goid dollar is an equally beautifully finished coin, monetizing both gold and silver together as bimetallic money; so that one metal cannot expel the other from circulation, but maintaining gold and silver equally in use, on an equal basis, or ratio of sixteen to one, as a unit of the entire precious metals. They are metric weights as well as Troy.

A Mastodon's Rib.
Dr. W. J. Gilbert, of Fremont, has sent us a section of what is generally supposed to be the rib of a mastodon. This rib, which weighed 274 pounds and was 8 feet in length and with a diameter of 11 inches, was dug out of the marl pit on the land of Mr. Sasser, near Fremont, some ten feet below the surface. It has been seen and examined by a great many persons and the opinion seems to be pretty general that it was once the rib of a veritable mastodon. The specimen is at our office and may be examined by the curious.

Prompt Payment.
We learn that the Liverpool & London & Globe Insurance Company, through its agents here, Messrs. Jno. W. Gordon & Bro., to day paid in full, without discount, the claim of Mr. Richard Litgen, whose stock, on the corner of Third and Orange streets, was destroyed by fire on the morning of the 8th inst. The proofs of loss were forwarded by Messrs. Gordon & Bro. on last Tuesday evening, the 19th inst., and a check to cover the loss was received yesterday morning, the 24th inst. It is the rule with most companies to take sixty days from receipt of proofs, or to discount the claim at current rates of interest, but this company pays its losses immediately on receipt of proofs, and without discount; and to this fact, together with that of its being the strongest fire insurance company in the world, may be attributed, to a great extent, its great popularity and success.

Towed into Port.
The German barque Marie, which went ashore between the Rip and the Bar during the recent gale, was towed up to the city yesterday by the steam tug Blanche, and now is opposite the Carolina Central wharf anchored on a shoal where at flood tide she will float and at low tide she touches bottom. This is done to save the constant pumping which would be necessary, owing to the leaks, were the vessel anchored in deep water, which is something of an item when we consider that it takes as many as forty hands day and night to keep the vessel afloat, at an expense of twenty cents an hour to each hand by day and twenty-five cents an hour for the night work. Messrs. Peschau & Westermann, the agents here, have not yet determined to whom they will give the contract for repairing the ship. A survey will first be held by a board of competent persons to determine the amount of damage to vessel and the repairs necessary to be done. Captain W. J. Penton has the contract for taking out the balance of the cargo.

SPEER'S PORT GRAPE WINES FOR WEAKLY PERSONS.—This excellent product of the grape is prescribed and used by the leading physicians in the country, and by the most fashionable families at evening entertainments, and by churches for communion. For sale by P. L. Bridgers & Co., J. C. Munds and Green & Fianer.

From Masonboro.

By a gentleman from Masonboro this morning we learn that the little schooner Arietta, Capt. John T. Flowers commanding, was safely at anchor inside of Masonboro Sound yesterday.

From the same source we learn that a barquentine under full sail passed Masonboro yesterday heading Southward.

Second-Class Mail Matter.
It seems not to be generally known, that in the classification of mail matter, the Postoffice Department designates letters, postal cards and sealed packages as first-class; publications mailed from the office of publication, second class; all other printed matter, and some matter that is partly printed and partly in writing, third class; and all matter not included in the other three classes, fourth class.

The Marion Gage.
A correspondent at Smithville informs us that the revenues cutter Cofax went out to sea on Saturday in search of the wrecked schooner Marion Gage, and returned on Sunday morning. They found the wreck 36 miles North and East of Frying Pan Lights ip. She had been boarded by wreckers who had taken off most of her tackle. The masts were cut, the rigging hacked, her rudder gone and the hull so badly damaged that daylight could be seen through her stern. Capt. Barr thought it useless to take her into tow and would have found it, very difficult to get her into port. She was drifting out of the regular channel and it is thought that she will probably go ashore somewhere between Masonboro and Topsail.

A Graceful Act.
We learn from the Portsmouth Enquirer that Capt. Jno. M. Robinson, President of the Seaboard & Roanoke R. R., has ordered that the pay of the late W. W. Weymouth, the engineer who was killed recently while in the discharge of his duty on that road, be continued to his widow until the first of January next. The railroad company will also pay all of the funeral expenses, and will erect a monument over his remains. This is certainly a very commendable act on the part of Capt. Robinson, and shows an appreciation of faithful services which might well be emulated by others.

Mr. Weymouth was at one time well known in this city, and was formerly employed as an engineer on the Wilmington & Weldon R. R. He was the engineer of the train which, during the war, ran into a hand car on which was Hon. Wm. S. Ashe, then President of the road, and which resulted in the death of Mr. Ashe. In this, however, Mr. Weymouth was officially declared guiltless of blame.

Appleton's Journal.
Appleton's Journal for September opens with the first part of a new novelette by Mrs. Annie Edwards, whose 'Archie Lovell' and 'Ought We to visit Her?' are so well known to novel readers. The title of the new story is 'Vivian the Beauty'; the scene opens in Germany with an English young girl, fresh and captivating, an eccentric and well-drawn Scotch female guardian, a German tutor, and soon introduces Vivian, who is a spoiled 'Hyde Park goddess,' as she is described. The story opens well, being vivacious, fresh and full of promise of good points to come. It will be complete in four numbers of the Journal. Of the general papers, Karl Blund's second paper on 'Russian Conspiracies' is probably the most important. A third paper will be necessary to complete the weird record of oppression and insurrection, of murder, crime and intrigue. There is a very interesting paper by John Esten Cooke, entitled 'An Hour with Thackeray,' relating an interview had with the great novelist in the city of Richmond. The just published 'Souvenirs of Madame Vigee Le Brun' afford material for a gossip, semi-historic, semi-biographic paper. Charlotte Adams describes in glowing terms the picturesque and strange aspects of a night in Venice. Mr. James Payn writes amusingly and satirically of the absurd criticisms and ridiculous propositions that certain would-be critics persecute popular writers with. There is an article on Anthony Trollope; a paper comparing recent French and English paintings, to the advantage of the latter; the continuation of the Besant and Rice novel, 'The Seamy Side'; a reply to Matthew Arnold's paper on 'Wordsworth,' which appeared last month; and then comes the editor's departments, in which new books are reviewed, and comments made on current topics.

DIED.
HEIDE—At Appleton, near Wilmington, August 25th, 1879, JOSEPH, son of A. E. and Caroline Heide, aged 12 years. The funeral will take place to-morrow, (Tuesday) morning at 10 o'clock, from St. Paul's Church, thence to Oakdale Cemetery. Friends and acquaintances of the family are respectfully invited to attend.
