No City Court to-day.
Window Glass of all sizes at J. COBURN's Hardware Depot.

It must be very warm weather that will take the starch out of festival ice cream.

There is something suggestive in the sight of a man walking along chewing a straw.

The ceiling in the Court House is being repaired where the plastering tumbled down a few weeks ago.

German barque Louise Dorothea, Kraft, from this port for Valencia, arrived at Gibraltar on Saturday last.

Wide belts of woven canvas, fastened with two leather straps and buckles, accompany all seaside and mountain fatigue costumes.

German barque Lucie, Koopman, and Norwegian brig Maria, Corneliussen, both from this port, arrived at Hamburg on the 23d inst.

The excursion of the Brooklyn Sunday School to Smithville takes place to-morrow, on the Passport. All who attend may rest assured of a plea ant day.

The case of disorderly conduct continued from last Saturday by the Mayor pro tem was this morning disposed of by the offender paying all the damages in the case.

Health Officer Morrison sent out of Market this morning a quantity of unhealthy looking watermelons that were beginning to rot.

Commodore Myers thinks of giving the last grand moonlight excursion on the season, on this full moon, provided the weather is clear enough and warm enough to justify it.

As we go to press the base ball match between the "Sawed-Off" and "Moonlight" clubs of this city is in progress. The "Sawed-Off" was ten points ahead when our informant left.

It is now the fashion for ladies to wear instead of the eternal diamond lizard, a jeweled heraldic animal—griffin, unicorn, lion, etc.—borrowed from the family coat-of-arms. If you have no family coat-of-arms borrow the animal from somebody else's.

Found.

A lady's cape veil was found on the South side of Market, between Front and Second streets, last night and is now deposited at the City Hall, awaiting a claimant.

Unmailable

The following unmailable postal matter remains at the postoffice in this city: Miss Abbie Holt, Danville, N. C.; Richard Hooper, Marengo Co., Ala.; Mrs. Emma Brown, 1418 1/2, Mass. Ave. bet. 1415, N. E.

"Will it do no harm?" This is the question often asked, and the answer is, "it can not," for Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup is an innocent remedy, warranted to contain neither Opium, Morphine, or anything injurious. Price 25 cents a bottle.

The two rivers are contending for the mastery to-day. The North West Cape Fear sends down its red clay mud from the interior and the North East Cape Fear brings the dark waters gathered in cyprus and gum swamps. The waters divide just opposite the city, the North, West to the West and the North East to the East, producing two distinct currents in the same river.

SPEER'S PORT GRAPE WINES FOR WEAKLY PERSONS—This excellent product of the grape is prescribed and used by the leading physicians in the country, and by the most fashionable families at evening entertainments, and by churches for communion. Personal.
Mr. Joel H. Muse, City Editor of the Star, accompanied by his wife, left here this morning for a two weeks' visit to his native heath, Newbern. It is the first time in many years that he has taken a vacation, and we hope that he may realize all his anticipations of pleasure and may come back strengthened and improved by the change of air and of scenes. Mr. Harry H. Smith, formerly one of the Editors of the Dispatch, will run the local columns of the Star during Mr. Muse's absence.

What to do With Mutilated Money.
Persons are frequently at a loss to know what to do with mutilated money. A circular from the treasury department just received gives important information in relation to this matter. Among other information is the following: United States notes mutilated not to the extent of one tenth, and fractional notes mutilated not to the extent of one fifth, are redeemable at full face value. United States notes mutilated to the extent of one tenth, but not two tenths, are redeemable at nine tenths of full face value; two tenths, but not three tenths, at eight tenths of their full face value; three tenths but not four tenths, at seven tenths of their face value; four tenths, but not one half, at six tenths of their face value. Fragments of notes, such constituting clearly one half, are redeemable at one half the full face value of such whole notes. Fragments less than half are redeemed only when accompanied by an affidavit, except when they together constitute more than one half a note, and it appears either from the notes themselves or from an affidavit made in conformity to the following paragraph, that they are actually parts of the original note.

Notes mutilated as described above, accompanied by an affidavit from the owner and from such other persons as have knowledge of the facts, that the missing portions have been totally destroyed, are, if the proof furnished is satisfactory, redeemed at the full face value of such whole notes. The affidavit must state the cause and manner of the mutilation; and must be sworn and subscribed before an officer qualified to administer oaths, who must affix his official seal thereto, and the character of the affiants must be certified to be good by a magistrate or other public officer. The treasurer will exercise such discretion under this regulation as may seem to him needful to protect the United States from fraud. Unredeemed fragments are rejected and returned; counterfeit notes are branded and returned.

You can get the best White Lead, Paints and Oils, and lowest prices at JACOB'S Hardware Depot.

North American Review.

The leading article in the North American Review for September is a critical paper by Anthony Trollope, upon 'The Genius of Nathaniel Hawthorne.' It has an especial interest from the fact that it contains the estimate which one novelist gives of another, where there is the widest divergence between the literary work of the two. Professor Simon Newcomb follows with a paper upon 'The Standard of Value,' in which he discusses the relative merits of the single and double standard and the difficulties which must arise from the establishment of either as a monetary basis. The third article is the concluding part of Richard Wagner's 'The Work and Mission of My Life.' In this, he continues the description of art life to the present time, and tells the story of the great festival performance at Baireuth, in 1876. The next article is a part of 'The Diary of a Public Man.' In this is given the secret history of events at Washington during the week next preceding President Lincoln's inauguration, and of the intrigues in regard to the formation of a new Cabinet, and the estimate which public men at that time made of Mr. Lincoln's character. The 'Confession of an Agnostic,' which follows, is an anonymous paper, and professes to be written by a follower of 'An Evolutionist,' who advertised for a new religion in this Review, in July, 1878. The scholar, it seems, has gone further than his teacher. 'Intrigues at the Paris Canal Congress,' by A. G. Meacal, is a timely exposure of the plans and scheming of the ring of adventurers who called the Congress together, and using D. Lesseppe's influence, managed it for the purpose of filling their own pockets. The number closes with a review of 'Three Important Publications,' by Mayo W. Hazeltine.

His Fall Trip.
Mr. G. Rosenthal will leave here to-morrow for New York, whither he goes on his regular Fall visitation, for the purpose of replenishing his stock of boots and shoes. He will be gone several weeks and will take in the best markets in his line. He proposes to buy largely and when he returns you may look out for a stunning advertisement in the Review.

A Slight Encounter.
Two colored individuals of the masculine gender got into an altercation and then to blows on the corner of North Water and Princess streets, this morning, when one of the combatants beat a hasty retreat, while the other remained victor of the contest and on the field of conflict. A policeman soon hove in sight, however, when the victorious pugilist sorter sided off until he reached his dray which he soon mounted and drove off. But we expect to hear of both the parties being hauled up before a trial Justice when we will have a good opportunity to get at the facts of the case.

Meeting of County Commissioners and Assessors.

The Board of County Commissioners and the Board of Assessors for the County met in the Commissioners' Room at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The assessment on the property of Mrs. W. H. Lippitt, in Harnett township, was reduced from $1,000 to $400.

Applications from the Carolina Central Railway, Wilmington Gas Light Company, Kesiah Grant, Jas. A. Lowrey, Mrs. Martha G. Gerrall, and J. C. Lumsden, were listened to, but not acted upon.

Major D. J. Devane made a very able argument before the Board, in regard to taxing the rolling stock and other property of the C. C. Railway, which has never paid taxes under any previous administration. But the Board decided the property of the Railway to be taxable nevertheless, and gave the counsel until this afternoon to make up their tax list to subscribe to under oath. Otherwise, Mr. Chairman Smith, in speaking for the Board, stated that the property of the Railway would be assessed $240,000, and taxed accordingly. The Board then adjourned until this afternoon, at half-past-two o'clock.

The Board of County Commissioner met in adjourned session at 2 1/2 o'clock this afternoon. Present Col. Wm. L. Smith, Chairman, and Commissioners H. A. Bagg, A. J. Grady, J. A. Montgomery and B. G. Worth.

The Board of Assessors, Messrs. O. G. Parsley, Sr., M. Cronly, and D. M. Fennell were present also.

It was ordered that the assessment on the Hamilton place be reduced from $1,600 to $1,200.

Ordered that the assessment on the property of Mrs. K. A. Grant in Harnett township be reduced from $4,800 to $4,000.

Application for reduction of the assessment on property of W. B. Giles, heard and referred.

Ordered that the assessment on Wilmington Compress Company be reduced from $60,000 to $53,000.

Ordered that the assessment on Champion Compress Company be reduced from $35,000 to $32,000.

Ordered that the assessment on the Wilmington Gas Light Company be reduced from $50,000 to $45,000.

Ordered that the assessment on the property of Jas. A. Lowrey be reduced from $2,200 to $2,000.

Ordered that the property of Mrs. Martha Garrell be reduced from $8,640 to $8,000.

Major D. J. Devane, counsel for Carolina Central Railway, appeared before the Board and requested further time to consider the propriety of listing the taxes for Carolina Central Railway as personal property. Counsel stated that in the absence of the resident Receiver he would request the Board to defer this matter until after Monday next. The Board therefore decided to postpone the consideration of this matter in accordance with request of counsel, until after Monday, the 1st prox.

Cured of Drinking.

'A young friend of mine was cured of an insatiable thirst for liquor, which had so prostrated him that he was unable to do any business. He was entirely cured by the use of Hop Bitters. It allayed all that burning thirst; took away the appetite for liquor; made his nerves steady, and he has remained a sober and steady man for more than two years, and has no desire to return to his cups; I know of a number of others that have been cured of drinking by it.'—From a leading R R Official, Chicago, Ill.

Family Excursions.

Many of our readers will be glad to learn that the series of pleasant family excursions given this Summer on the Passport will be continued. Friday is the day set apart each week and the boat on these days will visit Fort Fisher, Caswell and Smithville. Every care and attention will be paid to the comfort of passengers and there will be music for dancing on each excursion day.

Contributions for Beaufort.

Mr. W. P. Canaday started out this afternoon with a subscription paper to circulate among the merchants, business men and benevolent of the city in order to obtain money with which to relieve the unfortunate people who lost their all in the late terrible storm at Beaufort. In less than two hours he secured $140, which we think speaks commendably for the good people of Wilmington. Mr. Canaday desires to raise $200 to send to-morrow, and we doubt not he will be successful.

Lamp Explosion.

A kerosene oil lamp exploded last night, at the residence of Capt. Jno. W. Galloway, on Ninth, between Harnett and Swann streets, which did considerable damage, but fortunately inflicted no personal injury. It was about 10 o'clock, and Capt. Galloway was absent in attendance on the services at Fifth Street Church. Mrs. Galloway had retired and had kept the lamp turned down on the piano in the parlor. Suddenly she was alarmed by an explosion as loud as a pistol shot and running out into the parlor, found that the lamp had exploded, scattering the burning oil in every direction. With much presence of mind she called for help and at once began the attempt to suppress the flames by covering them with such woolen articles as were nearest at hand. In a few moments afterwards Capt. Galloway arrived at the house on his return home and just as his wife, assisted by a few of the neighbors, had succeeded in putting out the fire. The damages will amount to about $25 and consist of a piano and sewing machine slightly injured and an overcoat, blankets, quilt, piano cover &c., badly burned. There was no insurance.
