VIEWS AND REVIEWS.

The extravagant idea of English theatre performers regarding money in America is illustrated by this passage from one of Olive Logan's letters to the Cincinnati Enquirer : 'I went the other day with a friend of mine to call on an English opera bouffe singer whom my friend desired to engage for America. We found him living at a terrific distance from the centres, in a small, more than modest house, of which he was not even the only occupant. Ten dollars a week I should thick would cover his expenses here quite handsomely; yet for America he demanded a salary of $200 a week, his passage out and back, and $750 paid him prior to leaving, to be deducted from his salary the last four weeks of his engagement.'

In a recent municipal controversy in New Bedtord, the Aldermen stood 3 to 3 on the question of appointing a Chief of Police. Mayor Sould, presiding over the Board, but having no vote, nominated Thomas L. Allen, but the Aldermen declined ten times to confirm him. At a subsequent meeting the Mayor put the question, 'Shall the nomination be rejected?' and, as the vote stood 3 to 3, he declared Mr Allen elected, and the latter qualified. The validity of the Mayors action is before the Massachusetts Court of Appeals for adjudication, and Judge Lord has informally expressed the opinion that the Mayor had the right to put the question of confirmation or rejection as he chose, and that the office of Chief of Police is filled, but he reserved the matter for the consideration of the full court. An ex-Mayor of St. Louis asked his wife to sign a conveyance of some property that he desired to sell, and she surprised and angered him by refusing. He swore that, unless she complied, he would never speak to her again, and she was still obdurate. That was sixteen years ago, and although they had been a loving couple, and have since lived in the same house, they have never exchanged a word directly. They roomed apart, but sat at the same table, and were never gnilty of any disrespect toward each other, save that of silence. When circumstances made communication between them absolutely necessary, they respectively addressed their daughter, and she spoke for both. Their questions, so put, were always framed in the third person. The daughter died a few days ago, but the parents are said to still decline to become reconciled. Count Turenne, on his return to France from a tour in the Uni ed States, publishes his opinion that society exists here to only a very limited extent. By that much-abused term he means "those rapports, those sympathetic communications, that one has with others." He admits that there are American minds enlightened and cultivated in art, letters, and science, but they associate with each other almost exclusively, in a by no means numerous group. He describes as tollows what he conceives to be a far larger class: "America is full of men who have succeeded marvellously, but who are themselves a failure; whose residences are splendid, but whose souls are vulgar; who have pictures and cannot appreciate them, books and do not read them. clothes and bad fashions, clientes but no society, flatterers but no friends. They have acquired fortune by great effort, but they do not know how to enjoy it To be sure, there are eminent minds." Persimmon Bill is known on the plains as one of the daring outlaws of the ago. His real name is Wm. T. Chambers. He is about 35 years of age, weighs about 140 pounds, has dark brown hair, bright blue eyes and projecting eyebrows. He was born in the mountains of North Carolina. Having served throughout the war, first under one flag and then the other, he turned up at Cheyenne in 1867. Highway robberies were tracad to him, but not until 1870 did he add murder to his crimes. Thereafter followed a half-dozen for any other section to successfully assassinations and desperate acts', and soon Persimmon Bill was in the Sioux City ket, jail. He escaped from jail, went to the nearest saloon, and, with handcuffs yet clinging to his wrists, ordered drinks, but there is no cogent reason why our city The sheriff soon put in an appearance. Bill smiled at the sheriff, at d explained that he only wanted a little fun, and would go back if the 'cussed bracelets didn't hurt so.' The sheriff, pleased at the easy capture, unlocked the irous. No sooner did the outlaw feel the wristbands off than he struck the sheriff a death-blow, leaped through a window, mounted a horse and escaped. He has been at large since that time, though $3 000 reward has been of- With agood crop year, as is now indicated fered for him.

MORE ABOUT A NORTH CARO-LINA SYSTEM.

We published yesterday, very willingy, an article on the "North Carolina Sysem," from the pen of a distinguished citizen of this State, which was written in defence of Gov. Jarvis' action in regard to the Atlantic & North Carolina R. R. which has resulted in the management of that road, so far as its superintendency is concerned, being placed in the hands o' one of the Superintendents of the Richmond & Danville R. R. The REVIEW was the first paper in the State to open the discussion of this question, either editorially or otherwise. What we said at the time was said plainly, and to the point and we thought-and so did our friendsthat our position could not be easily mis understood. Let us state it again. We are a North Carolinian, by birth, by education, by feeling and by instinct, and we are for North Carolina, and all that may best conduce to her interests, without regard to any sectional differences whatever, first and last, and always. We do not object to a true North Carolina system; on the contrary, none would rejoice more than would we to see the dream of the fathers of the idea carried out successfully and a continuous line of travel made from the mountains to the ocean, to Morehead as well as to Wilmington, all under the con rol of North Carol niaos, and run in the interest and for the benefit of the people of the State. But we do object, and we will always object, to any attempt made towards the attainment of this object by such, we will be generous and say, doubtful means as placing the management of such a system in the hands of a corporation, owned and controlled by parties in another State, whose every interest, as is well known, is inimical to that of the chief commercial port of the State; one which cares nothing for the people of North Carolina beyond what it is able to grind out of them in the way of dollars and cents. and which has made of that magnificent State work, the North Carolina R. R., nothing but a highway by which it can transport its freight and passengers to and from Virginia and South Carolina. In this our correspondent seems to have mistaken, not only all that we have said, but all that has been said anywhere in objection to Gov. Jarvis' railroad policy. As for the attempt which our cor respondent makes to confound the policy of Gov. Vance's board of directors of the A. & N. C. R. R. with that of those recently appointed by Gov. Jarvis, we respectfully suggest that it is an absolute failure, as we can easily prove. There is not one line in the extracts quoted by him from Maj. Hughes, report which goes to show that it was even contemplated, for one moment, by Gov. Vance, or Maj Hughes, or any member of the then Board of Directors of the A. & N. C. R. R. to place the control of the schedules and trains and rates on that road in the hands of the Superintendent of the North Carolina Division of the Richmond & Danville R. R. On the contrary, the very report shows for itself very plainly that a pure North Carolina system, such as Dr. Caldwell is said to have once hoped for in the course of time, was the extent of their desires, their wishes and their expressions. It is possible, indeed, probable, that overtures (strictly in the interest of the Richmond & Danville R. R) had been made to them by the lessces of the North Carolina R. R., but that they had been refused. We have excellent reasons for believing that Gov. Vance was once approached on this subject and that the same propositions to which Gov. Jarvis has evidently agreed were brought to bear, unavailingly, upon him, while filling the Executive chair at Raleigh. And yet-and our correspondent will note the fact-Gov. Vince was smart enough to see through the little game, and too much of a true, genuine, old-fashioned North Carolinian to consent to it.

and we would hope 'that the business of the year may be increased even beyond those figures.

In a paper recently read before the British Library Association, on Chinese libraries, it was shown that in former t mes in the Celestial Empire libraries were burned and writers mutilated and killed, in the vain attempt to stem the flood of literature.

In the Cincinnati Zoological Garden, "Pinafore" is played on a real ship float ing on a real lake. The characters are rowed to the vessel in small boats at the proper moment, and the effect is remarkably realistic. Pretty Estelle Mortimer the Buttercup, was a trifle tardy in getting aboard on Saturday evening. In her hurry she tripped on a rope, and fell into the water, a distance of fifteen fet. Sir Joseph Porter's crew gallantly rescued her, but she dripped too much to perform without a change of clothes, and the performance was delayed.

Katie Duroy sneaked into a residence in Philadelphia, at night, left her shoes in the hallway, and crept up stairs, intending to steal something and quietly get out of the building. But the household was awake, in consequence of sickness in the family, and Katie, while rummaging in an upper room for valuables, heard a servant approaching. A large empty trunk presented the only hiding place, and she hastily got into it. The discovery of the strange shoes, and the disorder in the room, led the inmates to conjecture that a thief was in the house and a thorough search from attic to cellar was made, but nobody thought of locking into the trunk. Still everybody remained on the alert, and the woman stayed twentyssix hours in her close quarters, thirsty, hungry, cramped and stifled, before she ventured out. Then she was captured.

LIFE IN A BOTTLE.

The Most Valuable Medical Discov ery Known to the World-No More Use for Quinine, Calomel or Mineral Poisons-Life for the Blood, Strength for the Nerves, and Health for All.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE PUBLIC

Believing that by cleansing the blood and building up the constitution was the only true way of bani hing disease and being troubled with weakness of the lungs, catarrh, very much broken down in constitution, &c , and after trying the best physicians and paying out my money for many kinds of medicines advertised without finding a permanent cure, I began doctoring myself, using medicines made from roots and herbs. I fortunately discovered a wonderful Bitters or Blood Cleanser, the first bottle of which gave me new life and vigor, and in time effected a permanent cure. 1 was free from catarrh, my lungs became strong and sound, being able to stand the most severe cold and exposure, and I have gained over thirty pounds in weight. Feeling confident that I had made a wonderful discovery in medicine, I prepared a quantity of the Root Bitters, and was in the habit of giving them away to sick friends and neighbors. I found the medicine effected the most wonderful cures of all diseases caused from humors or scrofals in the blood, Imprudence, Bad Stomach, Weakness, Kidney Disease, Torpid Liver, &c, &c. The news of my discovery in this way spread from one person to another until I found myself called upon to supply patients with medicine far and wide, and I was induced to establish a laboratory for compounding and bottling the Boot Bitters in large quantities, and I now d. vote al' my time to this business.

I was at first backward in presenting either myself or discovery in this way to the public, not being a patent med cine man and with small capital, but I am getting bravely over that. Since I first advertised this medicine I have been crowded with orders from druggists and country dealers, and the hundreds the Liver, Stomach and Bowels.-It is Pure- of letters I have received from persons cured, prove the fact that no remedy ever did so much good in so short a time and had so much success as the Root Bitters. In fact, I am convinced that they will soon take the lead of all other medicines in use. Nea ly one hundred retail druggists, right here at home in Cleveland, now sell Roct Bitters, some of whom have already sold over one thousand pottles. Root Bitters are strictly a medical preparation, such as was used in the good old days of our forefathers, when people w re cured by some simple root or plant, and when calomel and other poisons of the mineral kingdom were unknown. They act strongly on the liver and kidneys, Circuit, who are acquainted with me. I shall keep the bowels regular and build up the nervous system. They peretrate every part of the body, searching out every nerve, bone and tissue from the head to the feet, cleansing and strengthening the fountain springs of life, hence they must reach all diseases by purification and nourishment. No matter what your feelings or symptoms are, what the disease or ailment is, use Root Bitters. Don't wait unvil you are sick, but if you only feel bad or miserable, use the Bitters at once. It may save your life, Thousands of persons in all parts of the ountry are already using Root Bitters They have saved many lives of consumtives who had been given up by friends and physicians to die, and have permanently cured many old chronic cases of Catarra, ~crofula, Rheumatism, Dyspepsis, and Skin Diseases, where all other treatments had failed. Are you troubled with sick headache, costiveness, dizziness, weakness, bad taste in the mouth, nervousness, and broken down in constitution? You will be cured if you take Boot Bitters. Have you humors and pimples on your face or skin? Nothing will give you such good

A MIRACLE. WEST POINT, Ga., Sept. 16, 1870.

Gents:-My daughter was taken on the 15th day of June, 1863, with what was supposed to be Acute Rheumatism, and was treated for the same with no success. In harch, follow ing, pieces of bone began to work out of the right arm, and continued to appear till all the bone from the elbow to the shoulder joint came out. Many pieces of bone came out of the right foot and leg. The case was then pronounced one of White Swelling. After having been confined about six years to her bed, and the case considered hopeless, I was induced to try Dr. Pemberton's Comp und Extract of Stillingia, and was so well savisfied with its effects that I have couti ued the use of it until the present.

My dau thter was confined to her bed about six years before she sat up or even turned over without he'p. She now sit- up all da . and sews most of her time-has walked across the room.
