VIEWS AND REVIEWS.

'Am I badly dressed?' asked a French provincial, while being measured by swell Parisian tailor. 'Simply covered, 'sir s mply covered.'

It is estimated that on the Day of the Assumption, and other fete days of those persons named Marie in Paris, not less than $15,000 are spent in lilies. .

The German government has dissolved the three gymnastic societies at Stras. bourg because they took part in the fetes at Nancy on the occasion of the unveiling of the Thiers monument.

A New York dispatch says the prospects are a large business will again be done this season in the shipment of oysters to Europe. Some of the oystermen intend going to Liverpool this month. Oysters this season are reported to be unusually large and fat.

Vaccination appears to have untold ter rors for the country folk of Germany. w man of Mellenberge, who was repeatedly notified to submit her child of eight months to the operation, and was threatened with arraignment if she did not comply, jumped with the baby into the Fulda. Both were drowned.

The large railroad companies keep as careful a record of a locomotive and its performances as ship owners do of an ocean steamship. The Pennsylvania Railroad does not repair one if the cost will exceed $3,000. The engine is then marked as dead on the record, and is either | but I must not be construed as assenting sold or broken up.

A lover's alarm clock has been introduced in New Orleans. At 10 o'clock it strikes loudly, two little doors open, and a man with a dressing gown and cap on glides out, holding in his hand a card inscribed 'Good night.' As he bows and smilingly retires back into the clock the to the fair daughter and departs.

An English periodical of last month recalls the following particulars of an ecclesiastical penance of so recent a date as 1840. Mrs. Hutton and Mrs. Newton called Mrs. N. a bad name. Mrs. N. instituted proceedings in the Ecclesiastical Court. Mrs. H. was adjudged to pay all costs and to stand in a sheet at St. Peter's Church and publicly declare her assertions, to be false. This she duly did, the church being crammed with spectators.

Swiss colonies at Greenville. S. C., and on Cumberland Mountain, Tenn., have had wonderful success. The latter settled in 1873 and consists of 115 families and about 700 souls, who purchased 10,000 acres of land at $1 per acre. Each family finds itself now in a comfortable home with a good income. They have dairy and cheese factories in successful operation, their products finding ready sale at fancy prices.

The circumstance that Edward Perkins, "a bright intelligent boy of nine," who had been for two years at a London God, and could neither read nor write, drew some very severe reflections from a Coroner's jury in London lately. The jurymen observed: "We can go and civilize Zulus off the face of the earth, and yet grossly neglect the education of our so-called civilized white brethren in

The cables linking Metz and Strastourg, the work on which Moltke has been so long engaged, are completed. They both pass through Metz, diverging side by side to Strasbourg, so that the two greatest fortresses in Europe, for which Germany may be said to have fought the war of 1870-1, are now enabled to exchange instantaneous communications, and are also placed en rapport with the huge palace of ruddy stone on the Koningsplatz, where the first of living strateperfected by human ingenuity.

lionaire who died recently, was of the opinion that large fortunes should be cut into small slices and passed around. His estate is estimated to be worth between two million and three million dollars. By hs will, just admitted to probate, a few dozen nieces, nephews and other relatives are enriched in sums that run from all, to the opposite shore, where she $5,000 up to $50,000, but not beyond. Besides the personal bequests there are charitable bequests-one of $200,000 to the Thomas Wilson loan fund of the city of Baltimore, for the benefit of struggling $500,000 to the Thomas Wilson sanitarium for the children of Baltimore, and smaller sums to five or six asylums and homes.

THE HERO OF COLUMBIA.

We think that the people of the South nave eat dirt enough-much more, in fact, than the tradifional peck allowed for a life-time. We have truckled too much to the insolent, over-bearing turkey-cocks and turkey buzzards of the North, men just like Conkling of the one class and Sherman of the other, and we think it time now to assert somewhat of the true manhood that is within us. In an honest, hearty desire for a genuine peace and an unaffected reconciliation, we have gone much more than half-way towards our opponents, only to find that the hands we so eagerly extend are not grasped and that our ready offers for a restoration of a true fraternal feeling are thrown back at us with such taunts and sneers as make the blood of a brave man boil like lava in his veits. It may be that much of this is the work of the politicians but if it is it only shows up, in a tearfully worse light those who, like Gen. Sherman, do not hesitate to malign and misrepresent us, with the poorly concealed object of pandering to the passions of the ignorant and debased, of all classes of society, whom a good God permits at this time to mould the opinions of their superiors in sentiment and sense, whose votes at the polls control the destinies of this country.

As our readers all well know there is a movement on foot for a reunion of Confederate and Federal soldiers to be held at Salisbury next month.

In the purity and simplicity of their minds, those who inaugurated this scheme wrote to the mighty warrior, General W. T. Sherman, inviting him to be present with them, and here is his reply:

"There is no use in my mincing terms. Whenever and wherever the honest men of North Carolina meet to allay sectional and party animosities, and to cultivate feelings of fraternity and respect for their fellowcitizens of the United States, it will be to me most tempting to come to Salisb rry. I would prefer to come alone, than as before with a vast army, leaving desolation behind, to the proposition that Confederate and Union men were alike worthy ct a cile. bration for the terrible history of 1861 '65.'

If General Sherman thinks that all of the brave men who fought under him share his sentiments he is mistaken. Those who have ever known anything of the people of the South, since the war, repudiate his utterances. He may mould opinyoung man takes the hint, says good night | ions for others; he cannot for them. We individually know at least a hundred of these same Federal soldiers, now located in North Carolina, who would not hesitate to tell General Sherman to his face that his words are a were rival Liverpool fishwives. Mrs. H. slander and a misrepresentation of a true and honest people. But then those same Federal soldiers are not found in the custom houses and postoffices and revenue offices in the State.

Gen. Sherman's record as a fighting man is not such that he can with impunity insult those who feught for four long years against the world. His pitched 6500 battles and brilliant victories are hard, very hard, to find anywhere on the page of history. He is principally remarkable for the good time he made from Atlanta to Savannah, with nothing whatever in his path to the sea but the home guard and a few other old women, and the magnificent stroke of strategy by which the fair city of Columbia, filled as it was with old men, women and children was so quickly and so gallantly reduced to Sherman is no general but then, you School Board school, had never heard of know, we can't be all things to all people at the same time. He is a magnificent bummer, a dexterous incendiary, a hoary headed falsifier and an ardent supporter of his brother, John Sherman, for the Presidential nomination. To be these things is, however, in the eyes of some people, to be greater than a Wellington, sired by a Marlborough and grandsired by a Cæsar.

MODERN ENTERPRISE.

This seems to be an age fruitful in schemes of immense magnitude. Never before in the history of nations have such 'stupendous enterprises claimed the attention of scientists, engineers and capital. ists. Among the multitude of projected works for the benefit of mankind we may mention the following as some of the most

A ship canal across the Isthmus of gists sits in his cosy little corner room di- Darien, by which the distance to San recting the movements of the mightiest Francisco and other ports on the West military machine ever yet invented and Coast of North and South America, the Islands of the Pacific Ocean, Japan and Thomas Wilson, the Baltimere mil- the ports of China, is shortened many thousands of miles, and the perils of the Cape of Good Hope and Cape Horn are entirely obviated.

A ship railroad across the same Isthmus, by which a ship, no matter what her tonuage, may be taken from the water on to a railroad track and moved, cargo and would be launched and proceed on her

These two projects are the principal of those claiming attention on this continent, while on the Eastern continent the build young men and poor widows, another of ing of a railroad over the desert of Sahara, connecting Algeria and Soudan, the completion of a canal from the waters of the Mediterranean into the sands of Africa, creating a large inland sea with which to irrigate and fertilize those im mense arid wastes, and the establishment of water communication between the Black and Caspian seas, seem to be the chief objects claiming the attention of men of science, enterprise and capital.

It is more than probable that some, if not all, of these projected enterprises will soon assume a more tangible form, and a m venient be inaugurated for their completion. It is an admitted sequence that where science explores, discovers and establishes one fact, there are also many thers developed to which it can profitably urn its attention, and this has been so fa established, that all of the seemingly stupendous enterprises we have named come within the range of an easy possi-

The reports of wonderful cures o Rheumatism, Scrofula, Salt Kheum, Syphiis, Cancer, Ulcers and Sores, that come from all parts of the country, are not only remark able but so miraculous as to be doubted wer it not for the abundance of proof.

Rema kable Cure of Scrofula, &c. CASE OF COL. J. C. BRANSON. KINGSTON, Ga., Sept. 15, 1871

Gents:- For sixteen years I have been a great sufferer from Scrofula in its most disressing forms. I have been co fi ed to my room and bed for fifteen y ars with scrofulous ulcerations. The most approved remedies for such cases had been used, and the most eminent physicians consulted, without any decided benefit. Thus prostrated, dis. I have been crowded with orders from drugtress d, desponding, I was advised by Dr. gists and country dealers, and the bund-the yer, of Floyd county, Ga., to commonce of letters I have received from persons curd the use of your Compound Extract Stillingia Language is as insufficient to describe the re lief I obtained from th use of the stillingia as it is to convey an adequate idea of the in tensity of my suffering before using your medicine; sufficient to say, I abandened all other remedies and ocntinued the use of y ur Extract of Stillingia, unt l I can say truly, "I am cured of all pain," of all disease, with nothing to obstruct the active pursuit of my profession. More than eight months have elapsed since this remarkable cure, without any return of the disease

For the truth of the above statement, I refer to any gentleman in Bartow county, Ga., and to the members of the bar of Cherokee Circuit, who are acquainted with me. I shall eyer remain, with the deepest gratitude, Your obedient servant,

J. C. BRANSON, Att'y at-Law.

A MIRACLE. WEST POINT, Ga., Sept. 16, 1870. Gents:-My daughter was taken on the 25th day of June, 1863, with what was supposed to be Acute Kheumatism, and was treated for the same with no success. In harch, following, pieces of bone began to work out of the right arm, and continued to appear till all the bone from the elbow to the shoulder joint came out. Many pieces of bone came out of the right foot and leg. The case was then pronounced one of White swelling. After having been confined about six years to her bed, and the case considered hopeless, I was induced to try Dr. Pemberton's Compound Extract of Stilliogia, and was so well satisfied with its effects that I have continued the use of it until the present.

My daughter was confined to her bed about six years before she sat up or even turned over without he p. She now sits up all day, and sews most of her time-has walked across the room. Her general health is now good, and I believe she will, as her limbs gain strength, waik well. I atcribute her recovery, with the blessing of God, to the use o your invaluable medicine. With gratitude am, yours truly. W. B. BLANTON.
