

VIEWES AND REVIEWS.

A physician at Bloomington, Ind., is on trial for giving a fatal dose of morphine to a patient. The indictment charges manslaughter.

In a circus at Paris, Ill., a suddenly crazed young lady ran into the ring, embraced the clown and declared that he must become her husband.

Ireland heads the list of crime in the United Kingdom, as far as minor offences are concerned, but in serious crimes England and Scotland are ahead.

Socialism is daily extending its influence in Switzerland, owing to its energetic championship by the many Communists expelled from France and Germany who have settled there.

The telegram handed into a German office lately—"Can't possibly send 5,000 daggers in one day; not till to-morrow"—plunged the police into excitement until they found that daggers are a kind of needle.

A young Japanese lately played a game of billiards against three of the best players united, at Moscow. The game was 5,000 points at carrom for 75,000 roubles. The Jap's first run was 1,853 points. The game lasted fourteen hours, and he won by three points.

In the silk factories of Italy 120,428 women are employed, besides 26,976 in cotton, and 13,707 in tobacco factories. There are 9,177 manufacturing establishments of all kinds in the kingdom, employing 392,048 laborers, 188,486 of whom are women.

"General, do you think Grant has any desire to be President again?" asked a Cincinnati Enquirer reporter of Gen. Sherman. "I am sure he has not," replied Gen. W. T. "He would like to have employment, but but he does not want to be the President of the United States. I know him well. We correspond, and I know he wants to get into business so as to be able to make money. He would like to have the presidency of a railroad company or something of that sort."—Ah ha!

There seems no end to the liberality of the Duke of Norfolk in the matter of church and chapel building. The new cathedral at Arundel, which would amply suffice for the requirements of all the Catholics in Sussex, must have already cost a fortune; and the foundation was laid of a new church on the Duke's property near Sheffield which, one way or another, will cost nearly £12,000, the whole of which is to be paid by His Grace.

John M. Langston, the Minister to Hayti, is earning his salary of $5,000 a year by stumping Ohio for Foster, or rather for John Sherman, who appears to be his favorite for the Presidency. The Hartford Times calls attention to the fact that, although Langston has held the office of Minister of Hayti for over two years, he has spent but three months at the post of duty. Such instances go to prove that the diplomatic service is not only a gross humbug, but likewise a gross fraud.

An officer who has just returned home from Zululand says that the Imperialists of France are indebted to Zulu superstition for the preservation of the chain, crucifix, and other relics worn by the Prince Imperial, and which were found intact when the otherwise stripped body of His Imperial Highness was discovered. The witch doctors attached to the army of the savage king carry their magic materia medica round their necks, and it is believed that they entertained a superstitious dread of touching the trophies, believing that they contained a magic power that might be used to the destruction of any one meddling with them. It was in all probability thus that those simple relics were preserved.

In a London letter to the New York Sun Mr. Charles A. Dana gives in interesting particulars relative to the crops in Europe, from which we gather that the prospect is even worse than has hitherto been supposed. Incassant rains, from the commencement of the season, have produced most disastrous results, especially in the British Islands. The best of the crops in most favored localities are below the average. In many places the scarcity will be such as to produce great suffering. As to the great cereal, wheat, it is poorest of all in England and Ireland, where the yield can not pay more than half its cost. In France there will be, perhaps, about three-quarters of a good average. The same is true of Western Switzerland, Southern Germany and Holland. But the United Kingdom will have to seek for its supplies elsewhere. In Russia, on the other hand, an immense wheat crop is reported.

A SENSIBLE VIEW.

The New York Express announced recently that a transparency, six feet high and thirty feet long, bearing the words: "For Governor, John Kelly," was to be placed in front of Tammany Hall.

The Sun thereupon very sensibly remarks that, since it is transparent that this transparency means something other than it says, why not inscribe on it just what it does mean?—which is: "For Governor, Alonzo B. Cornell."

The expense of a campaign and of printing tickets for Mr. Kelly is sheer waste, as there is no possibility of his election. Indeed, he himself proclaimed most emphatically at Syracuse that he had no expectation of being elected.

Robinson or Cornell will be Governor if you don't want to go for Robinson you might as well learn to syllable Cornell at once, and be done with it, and drop the name of Mr. Kelly entirely.

THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE AND THE CHISHOLM TRIAL.

The New York Tribune is fearfully exercised at the verdict of the jury in the trial of Gully for the murder of Cornelia Chisholm in Mississippi, and derides and belittles the State as a black blotch on the map of the country, where law is ignored, justice trampled under foot and the demonic passions of a law-defying people hold undisputed sway.

We read considerable of the testimony, as reported in the newspapers, which was adduced in the course of that trial, and we are free to admit in accordance with our judgment that the verdict of the jury was not at all in consonance with the facts presented for their guidance.

There was murder committed, and the testimony pointed unerringly to the party charged as the perpetrator of the crime. But the Tribune has neither right nor reason to meddle with the matter at all. It should remember that, if the jury in the Chisholm murder case were needing a precedent, the murder of Richardson by McFarland, in its own Tribune building, and in one of the most public offices in the entire establishment, where the shooting was witnessed by nearly a score of Tribune employees, would afford them all that could reasonably be desired. There was no question on the trial that McFarland fired the fatal shot—that he waited for hours for the appearance of his victim, and then stealthily approached and shot him from behind, giving Richardson no warning, and, consequently, no means of defence. These facts were well established, and but a feeble attempt was made to controvert them, yet a New York jury brought in a verdict of "Not guilty."

Both the assassin and his victim were men of rare literary attainments; both had been in the employ of the Tribune as correspondents; the crime was perpetrated, as we have said, in the Tribune building, and a New York jury brought in just such a verdict, under very similar circumstances, as was the Mississippi verdict, concerning which the Tribune is so much exercised. Until the memory of that event has been sunk in oblivion, it behooves that journal to avoid criticising, in the slightest particular, the action of the courts outside of its own ungodly city.

POSSIBILITIES IN OHIO.

A change is observed to be coming over the spirit of the Republican dream in Ohio, says the Washington Post. The brag policy has suddenly been dropped, and the best efforts of the managers are now being devoted to the work of educating the truly loyal backward into the belief that Foster's election is so far from being assured in advance that nothing but the hardest kind of campaign work will secure his success in October. Two weeks ago the Radical State Central Committee, judging by its outside professions, would not have asked anybody to assure their candidate a majority of 40,000 votes over Ewing. Now they are glad to compromise upon a claim of 15,000.

There is probably about as much reason for this doubtful state of mind among the Ohio Republicans now as there was for their exuberant feeling of confidence in the first place. In other words, there really exists to-day, as there has really existed since the opposing tickets were put in the field, nothing upon which to base a sensible prediction as to the way in which this Ohio struggle will result. The Republicans may talk about 18,000 certain majority for Foster, and the Democrats may pin their faith upon 10,000 majority for Ewing, but in the light of the real facts it all amounts to very little. The whole truth of the matter is the contest is as doubtful now as it has been at any time, which is but another way for stating that at the present moment one of the two principal contestants is just as likely to secure the prize as the other, and no more so.

It is very possible, however, that the drift of sentiment has been towards Gen. Ewing since the Maine election. The defeat of the Greenbackers there, perhaps, may be having an effect upon the third party in Ohio, the very opposite of that which followed their success in the Pine Tree State last fall, when their party associates in Ohio about that time upon the point of going over to the Democrats, were encouraged by the victory to hold out and preserve their organization intact. Then again Gen. Beatty, the leader of the Stewart faction took recent occasion to say regarding Foster's chances, that: "Twenty thousand soldiers will scratch him!" "No effort can prevent this stampede, and no organization can further it. As at Mission Ridge, the boys will act without orders!" This must be considered, if anything as very favorable to Ewing, for Gen. Beatty was once a soldier himself, and he ought to know what he is talking about.

The Ohio outlook is just now, perhaps, as interesting as it ever will become. A Democratic victory this year might go a long way toward straightening out the Democratic Presidential question after its tangle in New York.

The Liverpool Post says that the enormous richness of the old gold fields on the Guinea coast has not been exaggerated in the reports received of late. Sir John Glover's statement, that he had travelled over districts where one might dig up gold like potatoes, is all but literally realized in recent discoveries, which give $600 per ton of quartz at a depth of 50 feet, and $15 on the surface. Their extent is practically unlimited.

MOONSHINE.

The watch lacks self respect; it is all ways trying to run itself down.—Boston Post.

"God save the mark!" exclaims the New York Commercial. Is our noble friend about to take part in a target excursion?—Buffalo Express.

"A hair on the head is worth a dozen in the hash," says an exchange. But then it doesn't attract near so much attention.—Oil City Derrick.

Will some one who is versed in the science of sound please get up and explain why a hotel water, who can't hear the call of a hungry man two feet and a half away, can hear the jingle of a quarter clear across a dining-room?

Lord Cockburn was seated one day on the hillside of Bonally with a Scotch shepherd, and, observing the sheep reposing in the coldest situation, he observed to him: "John, if I were a sheep I would lie on the other side of the hill." The shepherd answered, "Ay, my lord, but it ye had been a sheep ye wad have had mair sense."

Give your poultry double rations, in view of Thanksgiving. Intended for market keep them well supplied with gravel. It helps digest their food. There is nothing that so liberally repays investment. Gravel can be got for the hauling, and brings a shilling a pound when sold as poultry. The farmer who sells a chicken with empty gizzard has mistaken his calling.—Boston Transcript.

A few days ago Justice of the Peace John Weber took his little son down to Toledo on an excursion. The lad in turn took the man at the wheel, and gathered much information relative to the business of steamboating. Presently his father joined him on the hurricane deck and asked him how he was enjoying himself. "First rate," was the enthusiastic reply. "I'm going to be a steamboat man, papa." "All right," responded the judge, "but you'll have to study navigation, astronomy, and divers other sciences in order to be a good one." The lad said nothing at the time, but appeared to be revolving the difficulties of the case in his mind. Perhaps half an hour later he remarked, with much gravity, "Papa, I guess I won't be a steamboat man; I'd rather be a Justice of the Peace; you don't have to know anything for that."—Detroit Free Press.

Remarkable Cure of Sciatica, &c.
CASE OF COL. J. C. BRANSON.
Kingston, Ga., Sept. 15, 1871

Gentle:—For sixteen years I have been a great sufferer from Sciatica in its most distressing form. I have been confined to my room and bed for fifteen years. The most approved remedies for such cases had been used, and the most eminent physicians consulted, without any decided benefit. I was advised by Dr. J. C. Branson, of Floyd County, Ga., to commence the use of your Compound Extract Stillingia. I have been cured of all my troubles, and I am now able to do my usual work. I have been cured of all my troubles, and I am now able to do my usual work. I have been cured of all my troubles, and I am now able to do my usual work. I have been cured of all my troubles, and I am now able to do my usual work.

A MIRACLE.
West Point, Ga., Sept. 16, 1870.

Gentle:—My daughter was taken on the 25th day of June, 1863, with what was supposed to be Acute Rheumatism, and was treated for the same with success. In a few days, however, pieces of bone began to work out of the right arm, and continued to appear till all the bone from the elbow to the shoulder joint came out. Many pieces of bone came out of the right foot and leg. The case was then pronounced incurable. I was advised to try Dr. Pemberton's Compound Extract of Stillingia, and was so well satisfied with its effects that I have continued the use of it until the present.

My daughter was confined to her bed about six years before she sat up or even turned over without her. She now sits up all day, and sews most of her time—has walked across the room. Her general health is now good, and I believe she will, as her limbs gain strength, walk well. I attribute her recovery, with the blessing of God, to the use of your invaluable medicine. With gratitude I am, yours truly, W. B. BLANTON.
West Point, Ga., Sept. 16, 1870.

Gentle:—The above certificate of Mr. W. B. Blanton we know and certify to as being true. The thing is so; hundreds of the most respected citizens will testify to it. As much reference can be given as may be required.

I was at first backward in presenting the results of my discovery in this way to the public, not being at first very confident of its small capital, but I am getting more and more convinced that they will soon take the lead of all other medicines in use. I have a hundred retail druggists, right here at home in Cleveland, now sell Root Bitters, some of whom have already sold over one thousand bottles.

Root Bitters are strictly a medical preparation, such as was used in the good old days of our forefathers, when people were cured by some simple root or plant, and were calomel and other poisons of the mineral kingdom were unknown.

Thousands of persons in all parts of the country are already using Root Bitters. No matter what your ailment, if you are nervous system. They permeate every part of the body, searching out every nerve, bone and tissue from the head to the feet, cleansing and strengthening the fountain springs of life, hence they must reach all diseases by purification and nourishment.
