VIEWS AND REVIEWS.

Col. Donn Platt, who has been stumping Ohio for his brother, the Greenback candidate for Governor, believes that the Greenbackers will poll more than double their last year's vote of 38,000 in Ohio.

The San Francisco Bulletin believes that $10,000,000 would be required to make good the bank losses in that city brought to light within the past four years. It attributes them nearly all to incompetent or dishonest banking.

A lady living near Little Britain, Pa., received a piano as a wedding present several years ago. She has no taste for music, but says it attracts the cows in to be milked, and the children pour upon the keys at the proper hour for that purpose. It has, accordingly, been placed in the spring house.

The well known spot on which Tell's Chapel stood, at the foot of the Azenstesse, on the Vierwaldstatter See, is now a scene of desolation. Every vestige is gone of the building, which has probably been more frequently painted and engraved than any other in Switzerland. The workmen have laid the foundation of the new chapel, and the selected painter—Ernst Stuckelberg of Berne—is at work on his designs for the frescoes of the new building.

Mr. Pierre Lorillard is cutting out of the solid rock of the cliff at Newport a basin for his yacht, in which there will be three feet of water at low tide. He wishes to be able to sail his yacht up to a point opposite his villa and go ashore on his own grounds. A rustic summer-house is being built upon the edge of the cliff, and from this a winding stairway will lead down to the boat landing. Mr. Lorillard has planned for another villa to be erected next year at the cost $50,000.

Rev. James A. Spurgeon, brother of the famous London minister, preached in New York Sunday evening in the Broadway Tabernacle Church. He spoke with a clear and distinct enunciation, but with a melancholy tone. His discourse was confined strictly to the topic: "The Holy Man of God." His chief point was that Christians should be quite distinct in their bearing from other people, so as to be instantly known by their walk and works.

A minister in the north of Scotland was going to task one of his hearers who was a frequent absentee, and the accused defended himself on the plea of dislike to long sermons. "Deed, man," said his reverend monitor, a little nettled at the insinuation, "if ye dinna mend, ye may land yersel where ye'll na be troubled with many sermons, either long or short."

"Weel, sibilins (perhaps) sae," rejoined John, "but it may be nae for want o' ministers."

Mr. E. L. White, a New York Tribune correspondent, who has recently travelled through Utah Territory, estimates that of the 125,000 Mormon population only one-tenth are living in polygamy; that is, only one-tenth of the male adults avail themselves of the privilege of having more than one wife—poverty and other considerations preventing the rest. Of these, only a portion have married since the law of 1862, and a prosecution must follow within five years of the crime, which consists in contracting any marriage subsequent to the first when the first wife is living.

The report of the Inspector-General of British Military Prisons directs attention to the low type of intellect exhibited by many of the prisoners, who seem to be scarcely responsible agents. The number of men imprisoned for military offences amounted last year to three strong battalions. Taking the record of 100 men lately in a penal servitude prison, it was found that their service in the army averaged three years six months, six days, of which they had passed five months, three days, or about one-eighth of the whole period, in prison.

A feature of a variety show in Providence was the performance of a man in a large glass tank of water among alligators. The largest of these usually torpid creatures was, when excited, inclined to be ferocious. One evening the man closed his eyes by thrusting his head between its extended jaws. Its anger had already been aroused, and it now closed its teeth on the man's neck. The water instantly became red with blood, several assistants made wild effort at a rescue, and the audience was horrified, expecting to see the performer's head instantly bitten off; but he managed by a hard struggle to extricate himself, and leaped out of the tank very much bitten man.

THE OHIO IDEA.

The political campaign in Ohio is being carried on by both parties with an energy and faithfulness such as has seldom been known before. A careful survey of the field, by those who have had the best opportunities for observation, indicate that the chances are greatly in favor of the election of Ewing, the Democratic candidate for Governor. The Democrats are very confident of success, and are using every exertion to accomplish that result. On the other hand the Republicans are working desperately in the agony of despair.

It is evidently up-hill work with the Republicans, as their candidate, Foster, has no war record to oppose to the brilliant military career of Ewing, and they are compelled to fall back on the old stereotyped and hackneyed theme of the "bloody shirt." In the way they have conducted the campaign, thus far, they have entirely ignored the vital issues which are of the present, but reiterated their maledictions upon the South and her people, manners and customs. In their intense anxiety to keep the ensanguined garment waving in the winds of political turmoil, they entirely lose sight of the vices and crimes which disgrace their own section, and which have never been paralleled by any outrages perpetrated in any section of the entire South. A recent outrage committed in the town of Westerville, Ohio, stands without a rival for sheer diabolism, and evokes a shuddering horror when we reflect that the guilty human attribute exists, who are capable of such cold-blooded acts. A man in that town had invested his money in a hotel enterprise, and had secured a license to retail liquors to those who should patronize his house, and to others who might desire to purchase. This aroused the indignation of the people, and he was waited upon by a delegation of citizens and requested to relinquish the business. As he had invested his money in a business, recognized as legitimate by the laws of Ohio, as a money-making enterprise, and had complied with all the requirements of the law, he did not see fit to accede to their request. Thus the matter ended, as it was supposed, and the parties separated. A night or two after, however, while all the family and guests of the hotel were asleep, the house was blown to atoms by the explosion of two kegs of gunpowder which had been conveyed into the cellar by some miscreant and ignited by means of a fuse leading to the outside of the building. Fortunately there was no serious injury to the inmates, but it was almost by a miracle that all were not more or less injured, and it is really wonderful that some one of them was not killed. At any rate the intention was equal to that of a wholesale murder, and the fiend who perpetrated the deed, and these who had any complicity in the outrage, have hearts ripe for any crime.

Had such an outrage occurred in the South it would have been a godsend to the Republican speakers of the 'Buckeye' State, but as it took place right in their midst, there is nothing said. The Washington Post presents the true features of the case in the following article, which we clip from its columns:

The citizens of Westerville, Ohio, have not yet uttered a word in condemnation of the fiendish act of blowing up a hotel with several persons sleeping in it for the purpose of putting a stop to the sale of liquor in that town. It is said that public sentiment in Westerville justifies the infernal deed, the people holding that the end sought justifies the means employed. We don't believe that good citizens in any part of the country approve of either a shot-gun or two kegs of powder as the best instrumentalities for promoting public morality or advancing private interests. We don't believe there is a single county in the United States where a majority of the citizens encourage crime of any sort. But, when an act, not approaching this in its enormity, is committed in a Southern State, the Republican papers seize upon it with avidity, supply it with every mitigating circumstance, and charge that such deeds typify Southern character. Then they demand that the law power and jurisdiction of local authorities shall be stricken down, and the National power shall step out of its sphere and go to capturing and punishing offenders against State laws. This Western crime affords a good opportunity for seeing how the shoe will fit the other foot.

What amuses Barksdale is to know that Gully continues an honored citizen of Mississippi. He will have to look to his honors, however, for Gully killed a daughter, while Barksdale only butchered a father.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

Fact. And there's Mrs. Smith and her paramour, Bennett, who killed the confiding husband of the former, simply because he was in the way of an indulgence of their unholy passions; and the negro Chastine Cox, who murdered a respectable lady for plunder, in her own bed, at the dead of night; and the ghoul who robbed A. T. Stewart's grave of the stinking corpse that they might extort a reward for its return; and hundreds of other murders and villainies in the North that are allowed to go unavenged year by year. In the eyes of such people as those who count the destinies of the Inter-Ocean, a difference in latitude constitutes the entire difference in crime and morality.

THE CAPTURED CHIEFTAIN.

We admire the British nation for very many things, first of which we will mention their great intellectual ability and fine literary attainments as a people. Second, we believe they possess the most eminent Statesmen in the world, men who seem to be gifted with the greatest political acumen of any nation in existence, and lastly, though by no means least, they are a God-fearing people who believe in their strict laws in the enforcement of morality, exert a wholesome influence among the other nations of the earth, and far exceed other Christian countries in their respect for the moral law. For instance, we are told by those who have travelled abroad that there is a greater respect shown for Christian observances in the British Isles, especially on Sundays, than can be found in any of the different Christian nations on the Continent. For example, Sunday afternoons in Spain, in many localities, are devoted to bull fights and other amusements, and in Paris amusements of every kind may be indulged, and the same may be said of the other countries, after crossing the Rhine and going eastward. We say the religious character of the British people as a nation is in striking contrast in many respects to other Christian people in Europe. But then we must add that generosity and forgiveness, which is a cardinal virtue of the Christian religion, is not a chief characteristic of Great Britain as a nation. The harsh treatment which was meted out to the Indian Sepoys from the representative of her majesty's government who commanded the British troops in India during the uprising among the natives a quarter of a century ago, shows that mercy to a fallen foe is another virtue which is essentially lacking in the British character, and the conduct of the recent war among the Zulus in South Africa, first by Lord Chelmsford, and later by Sir Garnett Wolseley, towards the fleeing barbarians, has been anything but civilized. The burning of the different kraals throughout the Zulu King's domain, the manner of applying the torch to every little Zulu village that was captured, has but one comparison in modern times; it can only be likened to the infamous vile war whose route through the Carolinas and Georgia, in 1865, could be traced by the blackened ruins and bare chimneys that were left in the wake of the invading vandals, commanded as they were by the creature who did not hesitate over his own signature to publish himself as a liar, but seemed rather to boast of it in his perverted memories of the war. This same individual now writes himself W. T. Sherman General Commanding the U. S. Army.

We say that the conduct of the bumper Sherman is the only parallel that can be found for the conduct of the British commanders in their Zulu war.

What disposition is to be made of the brave barbarian King who so gallantly contested every inch of advance on the part of the British troops upon his own native soil remains to be seen.

Perhaps they will be as generous to the Zulu chieftain as they were to the great Napoleon; they may give him a whole Island to himself or they may be less generous and allow poor Cetewayo only the narrow limits of a dungeon.

A FEARFUL EXHIBITION.

The consumption in this country of beer and whiskey presents a fearful aggregate. In one city alone, Cincinnati, the sales at retail, week before last, amounted to $820,000, a yearly consumption, by this estimate, of $16,640,000. It is safe to presume, therefore, that Cincinnati will spend, during the next decade, for spirituous and malt liquors, the immense sum of $166,400,000. Nothing can save it but a tidal wave of temperance or a little fire and brimstone, applied outwardly to counteract the effects of that taken within.

Lucky Fridays.

The common idea that Friday is an unlucky day must, according to the London Globe, be abandoned, at least as regards the United States. Christopher Columbus set sail on his voyage of discovery on a Friday, on each of his two visits. The commission given to John Cabot was dated on Friday, March 5th, 1496. The oldest town in the Union is St. Augustine, in Florida, which was founded on Friday, Sept. 17, 1565. The Pilgrim Fathers arrived at Plymouth Rock in New England on a Friday. Geo. Washington was born on a Friday. The surrender of Yorktown occurred on a Friday, and the motion in favor of Independence was made in the Continental Congress on a Friday.

The Globe concludes that Friday is the "natural week day of good fortune" in the United States, and that Americans can defy with impunity the vulgar superstitions which attach to the day in the minds of ignorant people on land, no less than at sea.

BEAUTIFIERS.

Ladies, you cannot make fair skin, rosy cheeks and sparkling eyes with all the cosmetics of France, or beautifiers of the world, while in poor health, and nothing will give you such good health, strength, buoyant spirits and beauty for Hop Bitters. A trial is certain proof. See another column.

YELLOW FEVER—BLACK VOMIT.

It is too soon to forget the ravages of this terrible disease, which will no doubt return in a more malignant and virulent form in the fall months of 1879.

MERRILL'S HEPATINE, a Remedy discovered in Southern Arabia and used with such wonderful results in North America where the most aggravated cases of fever are found, causes from one to two ounces of bile to be filtered or strained from the blood, which time it passes through the Liver, as long as an excess of bile exists. By its wonderful action on the Liver and Stomach the HEPATINE not only prevents to a certainty any kind of Fever and Black Vomit, but also cures Headache, Constipation of the Bowels, Dyspepsia and all Malarial diseases.

No one need fear Yellow Fever who will expel the Malarial Poison and excess of bile from the blood by using MERRILL'S HEPATINE, which is sold by all Druggists in 25 cent and $1.00 bottles, or will be sent by express by the Proprietors. A. F. MERRILL & CO., Philadelphia, Pa.

Dr Pemberton's Stillingeria or Queen's Delight.

The reports of wonderful cures of Rheumatism, Sciatica, Sait Rheum, Syphilis, Cancer, Ulcers and Sores that come from all parts of the country, are not only remarkable but so miraculous as to be doubted were it not for the abundance of proof.

Remarkable Cure of Scrofula, &c. CASE OF COL. J. C. BRANSON.

KINGSTON, GA., Sept. 15, 1871

Gentle:—For sixteen years I have been a great sufferer from Scrofula in its most distressing form. I have been confined to my room and bed for fifteen years with scrofulous ulcerations. The most approved medical advice for such cases had been used, and the most eminent physicians consulted, without any decided benefit. Thus prostrated, distressed, and depending, I was advised by Dr. J. C. Branson, of Floyd County, Ga., to commence the use of your Compound Extract Stillingeria. I was so much relieved by the use of the Stillingeria as to be able to convey an adequate idea of the intensity of my suffering before using your medicine; sufficient to say, I abandoned all other remedies and continued the use of your Extract of Stillingeria, until I can say truly, "I am cured of all pain," of all disease, with nothing to obstruct me in the pursuit of my profession. More than eight months have elapsed since this remarkable cure, without any return of the disease.

For the truth of the above statement, I refer to any gentleman in Bartow county, Ga., and to the members of the bar of Cherokee County, who are acquainted with me, and shall ever remain, with the deepest gratitude, Your obedient servant, J. C. BRANSON, Att'y at Law.

A MIRACLE.

WEST POINT, GA., Sept. 16, 1870.

Gentle:—My daughter was taken on the 25th day of June, 1863, with what was supposed to be Acute Rheumatism, and was treated for the same with no success. In March, following, pieces of bone began to work out of the right arm and continued to appear till all the bone from the elbow to the shoulder joint came out. Many pieces of bone came out of the right foot and leg. The case was then pronounced one of White Swelling. After having been confined about six years to her bed, and to the consideration of hopelessness, I was induced to try Dr. Pemberton's Compound Extract of Stillingeria, and was so well satisfied with its effects that I have continued the use of it until the present.

My daughter was confined to her bed about six years before she sat up or even turned over without help. She now sits up all day, and serves most of her household duties across the room. Her general health is now good, and I believe she will, as her limbs gain strength, walk well. I attribute her recovery, with the blessing of God, to the use of your invaluable medicine. With gratitude I am, yours truly, W. B. BLANTON.

WEST POINT, GA., Sept. 16, 1870.

Gentle:—The above certificate of Mr. W. B. Blanton we know and certify to as being true. The thing is so; hundreds of the most respected citizens will certify to it. As much reference can be given as may be required. Yours truly, CRAWFORD & WALKER, Druggists, HON. H. D. WILLIAMS.

LIFE IN A BOTTLE.

The Most Valuable Medical Discovery Every Known to the World.—More Use for Quinine, Calomel or Mineral Poisons.—Life Force, Blood, Strength for the Nervous and Health for All.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE PUBLIC.

Believing that by cleansing the blood and building up the constitution we can only get away of our ailing disease and being troubled with weakness of the lungs, catarrh of the stomach, much broken down in constitution, &c., after trying the best physicians and paying out my money for many kinds of medicine, I discovered a wonderful medicine, made from roots and herbs. I found it a life-giving medicine, and in time effected a permanent cure. I was cured from catarrh, my lungs became strong and sound, and I was able to gain over thirty pounds in weight. I am confident that I had made a discovery in medicine, I prepared a quantity of the Root Bitters, and was in the habit of giving them away to sick friends and neighbors. I found the medicine effected the most wonderful cures of all diseases caused by humors or scrofula in the blood, Impure Blood, Stomach, Weakness, Kidney Disease, Torpid Liver, &c., &c. The news of my discovery in this way spread from one person to another until I found myself called upon to supply patients with medicine far and wide, and I was induced to establish a laboratory for compounding and bottling Root Bitters in large quantities, and I now sell all my time to this business.

I was a first hand worker in presenting this medicine to the public, and I was not being a patent medicine man, and was not capital, but I am getting better and better. Since I first advertised this medicine, I have been crowded with orders from druggists and country dealers, and the hundreds of letters I have received from persons cured of their diseases, and who are now well, and small capital, but I am getting better and better. Since I first advertised this medicine, I have been crowded with orders from druggists and country dealers, and the hundreds of letters I have received from persons cured of their diseases, and who are now well, and small capital, but I am getting better and better. Since I first advertised this medicine, I have been crowded with orders from druggists and country dealers, and the hundreds of letters I have received from persons cured of their diseases, and who are now well, and small capital, but I am getting better and better.

Root Bitters are strictly a medical preparation, such as was used in the good old days of our forefathers, when people were cured by some simple root or plant, and who calmed and other poisons of the mind. They act strongly on the liver and kidneys, keep the bowels regular and build up the nervous system. They permeate every part of the body, searching out every evil, bone and tissue from the head to the feet, cleansing and strengthening the springs of life, hence they must reach all diseases by purifying the blood and removing it. No matter what your feelings or symptoms are, what the disease or ailment is, use Root Bitters. Don't wait until you are sick, but if you only feel bad or miserable, use Root Bitters at once. It may save your life.

Thousands of persons in all parts of the country are already using Root Bitters. They have saved many lives of consumptive who had been given up by friends and physicians to die, and have permanently cured many old chronic cases of Catarrh, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, and Skin Diseases, where all other treatments had failed. They cure all diseases of the bowels, indigestion, dizziness, weakness, bad taste in the mouth, nervousness, and broken down in constitution. You will be cured if you take Root Bitters. Have your humors and pimples on your face or skin? Nothing will give you such good health, strength, and beauty as Root Bitters.

I know that jealous physicians will cry bumbling because my discovery cures so many of their patients, but I care not. I now my desire and determination to place my Root Bitters as fast as possible within the reach of all those suffering from the above named diseases, and who are not satisfied with druggists and country merchants, or sent by express on receipt of price, $1.00 per bottle, or six bottles $5.00. For certificates of wonderful cures, see my large circular around each bottle of medicine. Read and judge for yourself.

Ask your druggist or merchant for FRAZER'S ROOT BITTER, the great Blood Cleanser, and take no substitute. G. W. FRAZER, Discoverer, 334 Superior St., Cleveland, O. For sale by J. C. Munroe and T. S. Burdick, Druggists, March 26th, 1870.
