something of Gen. Grant's Early History.

WASHINGTON, Sert 29 -The splendor of Gen Grant's reception in Califorpia must recall to some, who are now living in San Francisco, the humble position which he occupied there less than a quarter of a century ago.

Five years ago I was visiting the family of a retired officer. They had purchased a farm near Quakertown, Pennsylvania, not far from the farm owned by Fechter, the actor. We, frequently, 12 our drives caught a sight of the actor and L zzie Price. and the neighborhood was full of stories in regard to Fechter's eccentricities. After returning from our drive and taking supper, we would gather sround the centre table in the parlor and chat about many things. Often the conversation turned on President and Mrs Grant. The now retired general had been Grant's senior officer, and his wife was one of Mrs Grant's bridesmaids. The friendship between the four had been of long standing. I was shown the original articles of copartnership between the general and Grant when they opened a bidlard saloon in San Francisco that time, and Grant, to avoid being cashiered for habitual intemperance, had resigned his captaincy in the army. The general furnished the money to open the humble saloon and Grant kept the tally.' But the profits did not just fy the keeping of the billiard salour, and the pace was given up, Grant talling back upon his father-inlaw's farm, near St Louis, where his wife and son res ded. He made himself aseful to old Mr Dent by driving took to market for sale. And now, behold the spectacle of a man who failed to keep a successful billiard san loon receiving the honors of a great potentate and the mos. celebrated hero of the age! Strange are the muta-

For several months he labored assiduously to get control of a daily paper at Hot Springs Arkansas, but finally gave up in des-pair and went to Deadwood and sought es earnestly to obtain the pro prietorship of the Daily Tribune of that place. During his absence his Het Springs friends made a grand rally and purchased the Daily Sentinel for him and telegraphed him to return. He returned by way of Chicago and hi! in a supply of new type and went even so far as to buy a new press. He had not more than reached Hot Springs with his luggage than along came a telegram from Deadwood, telling him he could have the Daily Tribune if he wanted it. He preferred Deadwood much deficulty in disengaging himself from his obligations to the Sentinel. Finally, however, he succeeded in Ocions, Apples, making a satisfactory settlement, and, having shipped the new pres and type Fickles, put up in every style, from a bar- EDITOR AND PULLISHER. back to Chicago, he bade his Hot Springs friends a tearful and eternal farewell and started far Deadwood. Washington slowly rises from a chair to his feet, extending his right hand, presenting the Declaration of Independence. The door on the left is opened by a servant, admitting all the presidents. Each is dressed in the costume of his time, and the likenesses are good. Passing in file before Washington, they face and raise their hands as they approach him, and waiking naturally across the platform, disappear through the opposite door, which is promptly closed behind them by a second servant,

It is the opinion of the Railway World that much of the extraordinary and rapid development of business is due to the efforts of dealers and con sumers to supply themselves in excess of present wants in o der to provide against an advance in prices.

LIFE IN A BOTTLE.

The Most Valuable Medical Discov ery Known to the World-No More Use for Quinine, Calomel or Mineral Poisons-Life for the Blood, Strength for the Nerves, and Health for All.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE PUBLIC

Believing that by cleansing the blood and building up the constitution was the only true way of bani hing disease and being troubled with weakness of the lungs, catarrh, very much broken down in constitution, &c , and after trying the best physicians and paying out my money for many kinds of medicines advertised without finding a permanent cure, I began doctoring myself, using medicines made from roots and herbs. I fortunately discovered a wonderful Bitters or Blood Cleanser, the first bottle of which gave me new life and vigor, and in time effected a permanent cure. I was free from catarrh, my lungs became strong and sound, being able to stand the most severe cold and exposure, and I have gained over thirty pounds in weight. Feeling confident that I had made a wenderful discovery in medicine, I prepared a quantity of the Root Bitters, and was in the habit of giving them away to sick friends and neigh-bors. I found the medicine effected the most wonderful cures of all diseases caused from humors or scrofals in the blood, Imprudence, Bad Stomach, Weakness, Kidney Disease, Torpid Liver, &c. &c. The news of my discovery in this way spread from one person to another until I found myself called upon to supply patients with medicine tar and wide, and I was induced to establish a laboratory for compounding and bottling the Root Bitters in large quantities, and I now devote all my time to this business. I was at first backward in presenting either myself or discovery in this way to the public. not being a patent medicine man and with small capital, but I am getting bravely over that. Since I first advertised this medicine I have been crowded with orders from druggists and country dealers, and the bundreds of letters I have received from persons cured, prove the fact that no remedy ever did so much good in so short a time and had so much success as the Root Bitters. In fact, I am convinced that they will soon take the lead o all other medicines in use. Aea ly one hund ed retail druggists, right here at home in Cleveland, now sell Roct Bitters, some of whom have already sold over one thousand
