The Fun of It Is THAT THE RUSH FOR Gents', Youths', still continues at our two stores, notwithstanding the immense amount of Goods we have Nobody ever bought a bad bargain at SHIRK'S, while our goods, although low in price, are always just as represented. So We are informed to-day by Capt.

Worth, of the steamer A. P. Hart, that the water in the Cape Fear yet continues very low, although he succeeded in coming through on time, having left Fayetteville yesterday and arriving here this morning.

Kicked and Shot.
A valuable mule belonging to J. A.
Willard, Esq., and stabled on that gentleman's premises, corner of Third and Mulberry streets, was shot this morning as a necessity from injuries sustained last night.
A horse was in the same stall, and during the night the two animals got together when the horse kicked the mule and broke his leg. It was found this morning in a critical condition and as nothing else could be done, Mr. Willard in mercy ordered the animal shot so as to end its sufferings.

Going Back to Peanuts.
We understand that Capt. James I.
Metts, a gentleman well-known here as a man of business qualifications, has concluded to return to the peanut business, from which he had lately retired. He has leased the premises on the corner of Dock and Water streets, immediately opposite Messrs Preston Cumming & Co's mill, and in a few days will have in the necessary machinery and be ready for business. Capt. Metts will have every facility for conducting the business in a thorough manner, and we hope that we are not betraying a confidence when we state that he is provided with funds enough to handle a large portion of the crop. Success to him.

Almost Young Again.
My mother was afflicted a long time with Neuralgia and a dull, heavy inactive condition of the whole system; headache, nervous prostration, and was almost helpless. No physicians or medicines did her any good. Three months ago she began to use Hop Bitters, with such good effect that she seems and feels young again, although over 70 years old. We think there is no other medicine fit to use in the family.—A lady, in Providence,

It is being played this week in Norfolk and Richmond, and to crowded houses.

City Court.
Ham Hargrave, colored, charged with assault and battery upon the person of Dan'l Hines, colored, was fined $5.
The same defendant, charged with assault upon Addie Foster, had another fine of $5 imposed upon his pocket.

A colored man for being drunk and abusive was fined $3.

James Thomas, a little colored urchin, who was found upon the premises of Mr.
James Hanby, corner of Eighth and Dock streets, underneath the dwelling house at a late hour last night, was ordered locked up for the present. This finished the docket and the Mayor adjusting his high silk hat upon the headquarters of the city's executive officer stepped down and out.

Jumped His Bond.

George West, the distinguished colored citizen from Masonboro township, mentioned in the columns of the REVIEW yesterday as being charged with the theft of a fine old Westphalia ham, was arraigned before Justice Millis upon the charge and the trial of the case at the urgent request of the defendant postponed until this morning at 11 o'clock. Meantime the defendant was required to furnish surety in the sum of $100 for his appearance at the above named hour this morning. And sure enough when the time for the trial arrived, George West weren't there; in other words, as old Judge Smith, of Vermont, would say, he was non comatus in swamp or 'tha' about.' Proclamation for Geo. West to come forward and stand his trial was made by Justice Millis from the door of his office, and then for his sureties, at the hour above named, this morning, to come forward and produce the body of George West, but at the hour at which we write the delinquent George is still non est. The truth of the whole business is simply this: There was a Wesphalia on the part of the defendant in this case to steal successfully a ham and on the part of the trial Justice a failure to get West for a ham.

The Sadie Willcutt.

We learn the following particulars relative to the accident which befell the schooner Sadie Willcutt, from her commander, Captain Watts. The schooner left Brunswick, Ga., on the 5th inst., bound for Boston with a cargo of lumber.
Had pleasant weather and a pleasant passage until about one o'clock on Sunday morning, the 9th inst., at which time we were 25 miles N. E. by E. of E. h. f. E. from Fryling Pan Light Ship, when we were run into by the schooner Joanna Doughty, carrying away our bowsprit, foremast head, a portion of the stem and the port cut-head, and causing her to spring leak, so that it was only by the utmost exertions of the crew at both pumps that she could be kept free.

The Joanna Doughty, after striking, swung alongside where she remained about ten minutes before she could be got clear. After getting clear and remaining so for about an hour, she again run into us on the same (port) side, carrying away our chain plates, breaking main rail and staving bulwarks, besides doing considerable damage to the rigging, after which she got clear and kept clear. At 9 o'clock we were taken in tow by the steamer Virginia, of the Philadelphia and Charleston line, and towed to the mouth of the Cape Fear, where we were taken in tow by the steam tug Gladiolus, and brought up to the harbor opposite Smithville, where the schooner is now at anchor.

This is surely unhealthy weather. At daylight this morning the fog was "so thick that you could cut it with a knife" and it took two hours of sunshine to disperse it.

The Whiting Rifles.
At a meeting of the Whiting Rifles, held last night, the Captain of the Company, Mr. F. W. Foster, whom Brig-Gen. Taylor had refused to recommend for a commission, tendered his resignation, which was accepted and Mr. W. P.
Oldham, formerly a Captain of the Company, was tendered the position which was accepted by him.

A committee was then appointed, consisting of Messrs. W. P. Oldham, F. W.
Foster and J. G. Darden, to solicit funds and uniform the company, and the meeting then adjourned.

A Bovine Runs Away.

Considerable amusement was created on Market street, this morning, by an ox running full tilt down the street with a cart. The driver, a colored man, who was in the cart at the time, swung hold of the lines right manfully until the seat upon which he was perched capsized and threw him backwards, and then he was lost to view for sometime. Meanwhile the bovine steed made rapid headway, turning the corner of Front and Market in a full gallop, while a crowd of small boys added much zest to the runaway for the lookers-on by their cries of whoa! Emma!
and other like interesting expressions.
The beast was finally run in or hauled up on Front street without having done any damage. Anything for an item; thank you.

Meeting of the W. L. I. and Resig- nation of Captain Coney.

At a regular meeting of the Wilmington Light Infantry, held at the Company's Armory last evening, Captain Walter Conney tendered his resignation as the Captain of this time honored organization.
The resignation was then voted upon and accepted and resolutions highly complimentary to their late efficient commander were introduced and unanimously adopted by the large number of members present.

Indian Summer.

We are now enjoying the delightful season of the year known as Indian Summer. It is the season of the huntman's keenest delight and to him who follows the sports of the forests and streams, Indian Summer always recalls happy recollections. The enjoyable character of this genial season of the year has been the theme of poets for years and years, and lately has attracted the attention of physicists, some of whom give the following cause for this periodical phenomenon:
'As either pole of the earth is turned toward the sun after the vernal equinox, the solar effect increases in the direction of that pole until a thaw of the winter's accumulated ice sets in, when an interval of cold occurs, caused by the rapid absorption of the solar heat, and thus the frequent 'cold spells' of the later spring months have been accounted for. When, on the contrary, either pole is turned away from the sun after the autumnal equinox the converse process takes place; the higher parts of the continent are chilled, and the ensuing condensation of the vapor in the air liberating its heat raises the temperature, and an interval of fine and comparatively warm weather or 'second summer' follows. This simple explanation of Indian summer, first advanced by Admiral Fitzrow, is corroborated by the fact that the increase of temperature attending it is greatest in the higher latitudes of America, when it is described as sometimes 'oppressive'—just when, of course, the earth's crust in October is undergoing the most rapid refrigeration, where ice is forming, and consequently the heat of condensation is most freely liberated from the lower atmospheric strata. The heat generated by condensation is familiar to all who reflect on their sensations when a shower is being formed in the clouds by this process on a sultry day. Were it not for the comparative dryness of the air in the interior of the continent, or, rather, if it was moist enough at this season, the cooling of the soil would produce clouds and rain, instead of the dry fog, as Indian summer is technically called.

The art of fermenting the Juice of Grape into wine in this country was first brought to a great degree of perfection by Mr.

by any other person, and his wine is very communion table and for invalids. For

THE SUN FOR 1880.

The Sun will deal with the events of the year 1880 in its own fashion, now pretty well understood by everybody. From January 1 until December 31 it will be conducted as a newspaper, written in the English language, and printed for the people.

As a newspaper, the Sun believes in getting all the news of the world promptly, and presenting it in the most intelligible shape—the shape that will enable its readers to keep well abreast of the age with the least unproductive expenditure of time. The greatest advantage of the Sun is that it is the law controlling its daily make-up. It now has a circulation very much larger than that of any other American newspaper, and enjoys an income which it is at all times prepared to spend liberally for the benefit of its readers. People of all conditions of life and all ways of thinking buy and read the Sun; and they all derive satisfaction of some sort from its columns, for they keep on buying and reading it.

In its comments on men and affairs, the Sun believes that the only guide of policy should be common sense, inspired by genuine American principles and backed by honesty of purpose. For this reason it is, and will continue to be, absolutely independent of party, class, clique, organization, or interest. It is for all, but of none. It will continue to praise what is good and repro-bates what is evil, taking care that its language is to the point and plain, beyond the possibility of being misunderstood. It is uninfluenced by motives that do not appear on the surface; it has no opinions to sell, save those which may be had by any purchaser with two cents. It hates injustice and race-ism, and it is ever ready to take up the cause of the oppressed. It abhors frauds, pities fools, and derides nincompoops of every species. It will continue throughout the year 1880 to chastise the first class, instruct the second, and discountenance the third. All honest men with honest convictions, whether sound or mistaken, are its friends. And the Sun makes no bones of telling the truth to its friends and about its friends whenever occasion arises for plain speaking.

These are the principles upon which the Sun will be conducted during the year to come.

The year 1880 will be one in which no patriotic American can afford to close his eyes to public affairs. It is impossible to exaggerate the importance of the political events which it has in store, or the necessity of resolute vigilance on the part of every citizen who desires to preserve the Government that the founders gave us. The debates and actions of the year will be the utterance of the exciting contests of the Republican and Democratic parties, now nearly equal in strength throughout the country, the varying drift of public sentiment, will all bear directly and effectively upon the twenty-fourth Presidential election, to be held in November. Four years ago next November the will of the nation, as expressed at the polls, was thwarted by an abominable conspiracy, the promoters and beneficiaries of which still hold the offices they stole. Will the crime of 1876 be repeated in 1880? The past decade of years opened with a corrupt, extravagant, and insane Administration intrusted at Washington. The Sun did something toward dislodging the gang and breaking its power.
The same men are now intriguing to restore themselves and themselves to places from which they were driven by the indignation of the people. Will they succeed? The coming year will bring the answers to these momentous questions. The Sun will be on hand to chronicle the facts as they are developed, and to exhibit them clearly and fearlessly in their relations to expediency and right.

Thus, with a habit of philosophical good humor in looking at the minor affairs of life, and in great things a steadfast purpose to maintain the rights of the people and the principles of the Constitution against all aggressors, the Sun is prepared to write a truthful, instructive, and at the same time entertaining history of 1880.

Our rates of subscription remain unchang-
