By reference to our advertising columns it will be seen that the "Job Office" connected with the REVIEW has been leased to Mr. E. S. WARRICK, a practical printer whose work will commend itself to the liberal patronage of the public.

A young lady has written to know what is a sure cure for love-sickness.
As other eminent physicians have previously prescribed, we suggest the same old time-tried, fire-tested remedy—marriage. It has never been known to fail.

Fire at Lumberton.

We learn that a fire occurred at Lumberton at about 7 o'clock last evening, by which the turpentine distillery of Messrs.
Collins & Bates was destroyed. The still was charged at the time, but the loss, we are happy to state, was very small.

Putaski March.

From Laiden & Bates' Southern Music House, Savannah, Ga., we receive a copy of Putaski March, written by Prof. Henry Shooler, of Dalton, Ga., specially for the Savannah Centennial, October 9th, 1879, and played by the Thirteenth U. S.
Infantry Band at the laying of the Jasper Monument corner stone. Its superb military title page, with lithograph of the magnificent Putaski Monument, of which Gen. Lafayette laid the corner stone in 1825, is worthy of framing and will make a tasteful souvenir of this grand Southern Centennial. The March is brilliant and inspiring, but not difficult. Send 40 cents for a copy.

Unmailables.

The following unmailed postal matter remains at the Post Office in this city Nov. 15th:

George Stinson & Co., Portland, Me.; Mary L. Moore, St. John's Antigo; Blue tinted Envelope, no address; Hill Brint, Bladen Co., N. H.; John J. Love, 9th U.
S. Cavalry, N. M.

A Small Fire, but a Big Smoke.

The fire at Messrs Blossom & Evans' distillery this morning, was by caused a kettle of pitch boiling over and becoming ignited by the fire underneath. A great deal of smoke, considerable noise and not much damage was the result. The fire department, although its members rushed with zeal to the scene, was not called into requisition, the flames having been extinguished before its arrival.

The Rentz Santley Troupe.

Mr. E. Rosenbaum, General Agent for the Rentz Santley Combination, which is to appear here on the 22nd inst., called to see us to-day.

Mr. Rosenbaum, as well as our exchanges, assures us that the performance of this troupe is unique and pleasing, and that it draws immensely everywhere. We will refer to it more at length in Monday's issue.

The First Alarm.

The first alarm of fire this morning was caused by the burning of a small building at what is known as "Love Grove," the property of the estate of the late J. J.
King, near the Burnt Mill, about one mile from town.

Almost immediately after an alarm was given by a slight fire which occurred in the meat shop of Mr. Mott, on the corner of Red Cross and Sixth streets, but which was extinguished before material damage ensued.

Only a Postponement

The meteoric display which was announced to take place on the morning of the 14th, but which failed to put in an appearance as predicted by Professors, of the 15th inst. (Thanksgiving night).
This later post. (Thanksgiving night).
Richard A. Proctor was made by Prof.
Hall, New York, la. Tuesday night.

We publish the fact for the benefit of those who were so sad, disappointed Friday morning—not that it take stock in the prophecy, although, a usual, we shall have a reporter on hand to describe the scene.

City Court.

One poor unfortunate, who was rather imprudent to be reared, under good promises for the future, was before the Mayor this morning, charged with being drunk and disorderly—rising and swearing, etc., in the streets yesterday. The Court looked rather severely on the beseching penitent at first, as much as the same defendant had received the clemency of the Court more than once before. But inasmuch as the promises made by the poor guilty soul were so earnest, this morning His Honor relented and to the Clerk to administer an oath to this time of Bacchus to abstain from any stu or intoxicating liquors or beverages for twelve months from date. This was the defendant's own suggestion—least, he offered to swear that he would never get drunk any more. But when that was being administered, he tried to make a little exception in favor of loss of beer for the stomach's sake occasionally, but the Court was inexorable, and the suffering victim swallowed the oath one gulp, like he would a nauseous dose of medicine, which he knew, though it to take, was for his physical and mental benefit. The book was kissed and the reased prisoner departed, perhaps a sadder, if not a wiser man.

The next case called was Dick Dadeeye, 'bo's'n' of her majesty's ship Pia fore, or some other "Hinglish" cruiser, who was arraigned for a fight with the steward of his vessel. The bo's'n bore evident signs of a conflict with somebody or something which he averred was the heel of the steward's boot, this individual, he said, having first knocked him down and then kicked him in the face. The testimony of the Officer Wadkins, who made the arrest, proved that they were both fighting although the steward seemed to be doing the most of it. Both parties were arrested, and both arraigned upon the same charge.
The character of Bob Brierly is and upon the evidence of the policeman both were found equally guilty and were tenced each to pay a fine of $5 and costs—this finished the business and the Court adjourned.

The Bishop of Mississippi.

The Rt. Rev. William Mercer Green, the venerable Bishop of the Diocese of Mississippi, arrived here last night from Baltimore and is at present the guest of his kinsman, James G. Swann, Esq., on Chestnut street. This aged prelate, we are told, carries his four score years and one with remarkable vigor and looks hale and nearly. The hand of time, through the many changes and scenes of a not uneventful life, we are told has rested comparatively light upon this holy man of God, and we rejoice to know that there is still a prospect of the venerable and reverend gentleman being spared many years yet of usefulness in his holy calling.

The Bishop is a native of this city.
He returns to visit the scenes of his boy-hood to find that many companions of his youth have preceded him across the dark river and entered upon the mysterious shore beyond. But there are still one or two contemporaries of Bishop Green now living here, one of whom we met this morning, a venerable old man, who, like the Bishop, has spent the best of her time in serving the Master and doing good to her fellow creatures, and still continues the good work. The Bishop says the Bishop is her senior by two years only. We refer—and we hope we may be pardoned for so doing if it is wrong —to the most worthy President of the Ladies Benevolent Society in this city.
We trust that this excellent lady, like her reverend friend, may still be spared many years of usefulness before she is called to reach the rich reward which we believe most certainly awaits them both in the land of eternal peace and happiness.

"The Literary World."

We have received the prospectus of a new monthly magazine with the above title to be issued at Monroe, N. C., with Misses S. J. J. & A. F. Dickson as editors and proprietors. Its pages will be devoted to choice literary productions from the pens of our best native authors besides miscellaneous reading to suit the taste and need of our people. We bid the energetic young ladies who have the profession, and, while we assure them they will not find the editorial path very easy with roses, but with many a lancing thorn, we wish that their efforts may prove both pleasant and profitable. Both of the editors have had considerable experience in writing for the press and have displayed marked ability in literary productions. They have now marked in a worthy and laudable enterprise and we hope the public may appreciate their labors in a material way by swag the subscription list of the Literary World. The subscription price is fixed at $2 per annum, payable invariably in advance.

Tightly Dollar.

Those who fond of fun and humor and who like laugh and grow fat should have been at the Opera House last night. The High Dollar, a judicious from the appearance and number of the audience we judge to the opinion that the comedy titled going people were there "by a majority," as all the available seats were taken, while others were placed in aisles.

Florida, as the Hon. Bardwell and Mrs. Florence, as Mrs. General 29, who had been so long abroad, he play itself, as all interest was lost in their performance—if we except the acting of Mr. Lamb as Charles , the unsophisticated lover of "Liberty," which latter character was well acted by Miss Steele. The audience and their full appreciation of the performance by their frequent applause, as their almost constant roars of laughter.

night the Company will play "The Leave Man," in which Mr. assumes the character of Bob and he has played a thousand or more, in different parts of the country. The character of Bob Brierly is
this finished the business and the Court
adjourned.

Knocked Down.

An old colored woman was run over and knocked down on the corner of Water and Mulberry streets this noon. A gentleman who was riding down Nutt street lost control of his horse by reason of the bit braking and the animal ran in to the old woman, severely bruising her.
Medical assistance was speedily given but it is rather difficult to ascertain what were the extent of the injuries she sustained.

Almost Young Again.

My mother was afflicted a long time with Neuralgia and a dull, heavy inactive condition of the whole system; headache, nervous prostration, and was almost helpless. No physicians or medicines did her any good. Three months ago she began to use Hop Bitters, with such good effect that she seems and feels young again, although over 70 years old. We think there is no other medicine "fit to use in the family."—A lady, in Providence, R. I.
