The Weather.

The probabilities report to-day is as follows, as received from the Signal Office

For the South A lantic States, falling followed by rising barometer, variable winds and warmer, partly cloudy weather possibly followed by local rains.

Mr. Cashwell's Paper.

A very tine and a very critical andience assembled last night at Society Hall to listen to the paper read by Mr. David Cashwell before the Historical and Scientific Society. We would be glad to present this paper in full, but our space will not admit. It was certainly of a very interesting nature and commanded the utmost attention of all who were present.

The paper real by Mr. Cashwell was a careful attempt to establish the fact that the existing panic, which so serious'y aff cts the interest of this and other countries sustaining business relations with this country, had its origin here, in the Ui i ted States and that such origin was to be found in the political corruptions of our officials of every grade; that this corrup. tion received sanction and encouragement from the highest auchorities of the Gov ernment, pervading and affecting injuriously all communities and almost all classes of people, entailing upon business and industrial interests all the evils which we all well know of -depression in enterprise, lack of employment and suffering of the poor, increased and increasing arrogance and indifference of large hold-"A fraud in silks," is the startling ers of property and non taxable, interestbearing bonds, relations of dependence, subsisting between capital and labor and commerce, the benefits afforded by legisation principally in favor of politicians, capitalists and monopolies, to the extent of robbing the people of their material rights of hindering and preventing the pursuit of happiness, and of placing in peril the government itself. He urged upon all the necessity of learning thoroughly their relations and responsibilities to the government and to act in the interest of humanity in efforts to rescue the government from the evils which threatens its financial overthrow and destruction.

We cannot add more here than a meagre synopsis of the evils named in the paper, which when enumerated are really appalling to contemplate. The paper suggests the remedy in detail:

spoonful of warm water, put into the ears That the organic and statutory laws of the States and Federal government should be made to conform to justice and humanity restraining public vice and protecting pub lic virtue; that all government reform be scrupulously provided for, and enforced with absolute inflexibility.

That reform be first applied to the makers and administrators of law, including all official and clerical departments and persons; that the pay of Congressmen be fixed at $3,000 per annum, and that they forfeit the day's pay for each day of absence, except when unavoidably prevented from appearing for duty; that memb rs of Congress and State Legislatures be deprived of citizenship for life for voting for any measure for cember, prox., at 11 o'clock A. M. reward or in the hops of reward.

That the President of the United States receive $30,000 per annum, without perquisites or appropriation, and that he Salt. and all State Executives be divested of the veto and pardoning power.

That all non-taxable, interest-bearing bonds of the government be paid as they fall due, with some new interest-bearing issue of equal value with gold.

That all the railroads in the United States should be owned and conducted by the general government in the interest of the general public; that freights and fares should be so equalized as to avoid unjust discriminations.

The paper puts these suggestions in a strong light, and while we do not agree with all that Mr. Cashwell has advanced. we must say that he has presented his views in an able and masterly exposition

Happy Hearts.

Mr. S. Hanstein, of this city, was married in New York, on last Thursday night to Miss Clara Wolff, of that city. The happy couple arrived here last night on the 9:53 train from the North, and were met at the depot by a delegation of friends, who escorted them to the residence of the groom, on Market, between Fifth and Sixth streets, where a reception was held.

Mr. Davis' Lecture.

It will not be forgotten that Hon. Geo. Davis is to lecture to morrow evening in the Opera House, for the benefit of the Historical and Scientific Society. Mr Davis has selected as his theme "A Study in Colonial History," and his ability to handle it in a masterly and entertaining manner is well-known to all. The probabilities are that the Opera House will be well filled to morrow evening.
