Charlotte Observer: Persons who stood in the yard of the Charlotte, Columbia & Augusta Railroad, in this city, yesterday morning, and watched the freight train after it pulled out from the station, following the passenger, about 11:30 o'clock, saw a green hand, a negro, standing unconcernedly on top of a box car, his back to the locomotive, and trembled for his safety as the train neared the bridge which spans the railroad at the Morehead street crossing, almost in front of the Carolina Military Institute. Their fears were well-grounded, for, the negro, being a new hand, either did not know of the bridge or was unmindful of it, and as the train passed under it at a rapid speed, he was struck on the back of the head, and thrown the whole length of the car. Another brakeman, seeing the accident, ran across the cars to the injured man and caught him before he could roll off. The train went on and nothing has since been heard of the victim of the accident, but it will be a wonder if i shall turn out that his skull was not

Suigo, Nov 27-Mr Davitt is confi dent of acquittal, if tried at the coming seris s her, but desirs that if his trial be removed to the Court of Qu en's Bench in Dublin by cartio ari he will not expend a farthing in en gaging counsel, securing witnesses, &c, as he will be convinced that the Orown i determined to inflict another year's imprisonment upon him.

In the trial of Killen to-day, Mr John Rea, his counsel, in cross-examining h, police witnesser, asked absurd and his client in durance while he amused the audience. The only fact at all material to the issue which he elicited was that the notes of the shorthard writers, while agreeing upon the main points, differed somewhat as to de-

Mr Rea, during the temporary absence of the magistrates, harangued the audience, telling them he had been threatened with impriso ment for con tempt and had received a letter theatening him with assassination.

Mr Rea was constantly interrupted during his cross examination of witnesses yesterday by the magistrates, who pointed out that his remarks were totally irrelevant. The examination medicinal uses. lasted over four hours, and embraced every variety of topic, including polities, polemics and adventures, in all of which Rea himself was the hero.

After a long cross-examination by Mr Rea of witnesses for the prosecution in the trial of Killen, the case for the Crown was closed. Mr Res then commenced a rambling defence, in the midst of which the court adjourned for the day. Dublis, Nov 27 -Daly's return to Oastlebar will be celebrated by bonfires and other demonstrations through

Fears that the Jeannette is Ice

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 27-The whaling bark Helen Mar arrived here from the Arctic Ocean last night. She brings the officers and crew of the bark Mercury, abandoned in the ice Oct. 24, just gorth of the Herald Shoals. They left the bark Vigilant in the same pack of ice, frezen in, but the crew were all well. Capt Hickmott of the Mercury, like other whalemen, fears that the Jeannette may be frozen up in the pack of ice, in which case they have but little hopes of the vessel ever getting out though the crew may reach a place of safety. The Mercury had on board when abandoned one thousand barrels FIFTH STREET M. E.
