

The Tunis Question.

LONDON, April 12.—A dispatch from Paris to Reuter's Telegram Company says: "Intelligence from Tunis states that the Bey has decided to refuse to cooperate with the French troops, and is determined to act independently on his own side of the frontier. The Bey has sent a protest to the foreign consuls at Tunis accusing France of violating his rights, as well as those of the Porte and friendly Powers. The Italian Government has declined to accede to the requests forwarded through its consul at Tunis for the dispatch of a squadron to Tunisian waters. It is reported that the Turkish Fen Hussein, who is residing in Italy, and who is the declared enemy of France, has been invited to come to Tunis. The strength of the marauding tribes is estimated at from 15,000 to 20,000."

In the French Chamber of Deputies today Premier Ferry, replying to an interpellation, said the state of affairs on the Tunisian frontier was intolerable. "The Government," he declared, intended to chastise the marauders and take steps to prevent a recurrence of their aggressions. Continuing, he said: "France does not desire conquests, but intends to save the future of Algeria. We shall go as far as necessary to secure that future, and when the Chamber reassembles we will render an account of our conduct."

An order of the day, expressing confidence in the Government, was then adopted by a vote of 399 to 131. The Senate has adjourned until May 12. Later advices from Tunis say that a band of 500 marauders crossed the French frontier yesterday and attempted to carry off some cattle. They laid siege to a block house occupied by French outposts. Reinforcements were sent up. The zouaves and chassours, under Gen Vincendo, attacked the enemy, and after an hour's fighting the raiders retreated, keeping up a galling fire until over the frontier. The French lost fifty-nine men. The loss of the marauders is believed to have been considerable, but they managed to carry off nearly all of their dead and wounded.

This news has served to increase the disposition to press upon the Government the policy of war on Tunis. In the Chamber of Deputies today Premier Ferry, replying to an interpellation, said that the state of affairs on the Tunisian frontier was intolerable. The Government, he declared, intended to chastise the marauders and take steps to prevent a recurrence of their aggressions. Continuing, he said: "France does not desire conquests, but intends to save the future of Algeria. We shall go as far as necessary to secure that future, and when the Chamber reassembles we will render an account of our conduct."

An order of the day expressing confidence in the Government was then adopted by a vote of 399 to 131. Lord Salisbury sent to Lord Lyons, British Ambassador to France, a confidential despatch dated Aug. 7, 1878, summarizing conversations regarding Tunis at Berlin. As understood by Lord Salisbury, the effect of these conversations is to disclaim any special British interest in Tunis antagonistic to those of France. Even the overthrow of the Regency, were it to come about, would in nowise change England's attitude or disturb the harmony existing between England and France.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 11.—The Russian Consul at Tunis has informed M. de Novikoff, the Russian Ambassador here, that the Bey has requested him to communicate a protest against the French violation of Tunisian territory, and ask the co-operation of Russia in protecting the rights of the Bey and the Sublime Porte.

Facing Death Without Fear.

ST PETERSBURG, April 11.—The prisoner Seliaboff, in his speech at the conclusion of the trial of the nihilists on Saturday last, asked as a favor that his last speech in his defense might be printed and published word for word. Sophie Pleofsky asked that she might be dealt with regardless of her sex.

The sentence of death was finally read today in the presence of the prisoners. They received it with perfect calmness and indifference. They were allowed twenty-four hours to appeal.

Prof. Solovieff caused some excitement among the students of the University of St. Petersburg on Saturday by condemning capital punishment and expressing the hope that the Czar would show mercy to the prisoners.

The period granted the nihilists for appeal will expire at 5 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon. All the prisoners except Jeliaboff have asked for copies of the judgment with a view to appeal for mitigation of sentence.

Caused by a Cloud Burst.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 11.—A dispatch from Redding, this State, says a passenger train on the Oregon railroad, from Sacramento, due last night, met with an accident about five miles below there, at a place called "China Gulch." The whole train went over a trestle and the engine and cars were a total wreck. The following are the names of the killed and wounded: George Smith, engineer, and Rogers, fireman, killed; Robert Johnson, messenger, leg broken; Ben Kuhn, of San Francisco, badly bruised. The other trainmen are more or less bruised. Several passengers were in the rear car, but it did not go off the embankment, and they escaped. The cause of the accident was the bursting of a cloud, which raised the creek so high that it washed out the embankment.

An Order for the Evacuation of Candahar.

CANDAHAR, April 11.—Gen. Hume has published an order for the evacuation of Candahar, which, subject to the approval of the Commander-in-Chief, will begin on April 13.

An Earthquake in California.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 11.—A heavy shock of earthquake was felt at a quarter past 2 o'clock yesterday morning at the central part of the State. No serious damage is reported.

Congressional.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—On motion of Mr. Vance a resolution was adopted calling on the Secretary of the Navy for information as to what alterations have been made in the relative rank of graduates of the Naval Academy as originally established.

On motion of Mr. Burnside a resolution was adopted requesting the President to communicate to the Senate any information in possession of the Government touching the alleged arrest and imprisonment of Michael Boyton, who claims to be a citizen of the United States, by the Government of Great Britain.

The Vice-President laid before the Senate the unfinished business, a resolution for the election of Senate officers, and the usual motion to go into executive session was withdrawn at the request of Mr. Dawes. [The motion was withdrawn because it persisted in it would have necessitated the call of the Senate, there being at the time no quorum present.]

Mr. Beck then took the floor, stating that he would not detain the Senate as long as he had originally intended, but would confine his remarks to the subject directly under consideration. The Republicans had said, he continued, that the Senate should not go into executive session because they had held a caucus and had determined to turn out the officers now holding places and install others and that the Democrats were guilty of treason and revolution unless they acquiesced in everything.

The Democrats had replied: You have the power over all committees. We have surrendered everything that tends to the convenience and comfort of senators, but when you present to us the list of names for officers, and among them that of a man from Virginia who was at the head and front of repudiation in that State we do not propose to go any further. He was not going to say the Republicans were doing this because of a corrupt bargain or because he did not intend to make the Senate chamber a beer garden, but the country at large had strong suspicions that the alliance was a foul one. The leading Republican press of the country had charged it in terms so offensive that when the Senator (Mr. Voorhees) had had an extract from a Republican paper read the danger of personal responsibility had been threatened.

He referred to facts which tended to show that there had been a bargain, emphasizing the fact that Mahone had been placed on committees which would give him the greatest influence with the people of Virginia, while he had avoided expressing an opinion here when the Virginia election came on. As the Senator from Massachusetts (Mr. Dawes) was going to keep the Senate until December, he would invite that Senator to pair with him and go there in September and October. He (Mr. Beck) would tell the people, what he thought was the meaning, purpose, and intent of all this action. The Senators might as well spend their time canvassing in Virginia as quarrelling in this chamber.

Greece's Reply to the Powers.

ATHENS, April 11.—It is believed that the Greek reply to the powers, instead of accepting or rejecting the Turkish proposal, will point out the moral aspects of the question involved. The Greeks lay stress, not on the mere acquisition of more or less territory, but on the emancipation of their kindred from Turkish domination, where they form an overwhelming majority of the population. They, therefore, ask the cession of Preveza and the district of Elassona in Thessaly, and the erection into an autonomous province of the unceded portions of Thessaly and Epirus, included in the line marked out by the Berlin Conference.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 11.—The whole staff of Turkish officers of all grades in the Vilayet of Kossoro have telegraphed their resignations to the Porte, because of the menaces of the Albanian League, which has substituted men of its own choice for the said officers. It is believed here that secret agents of the Porte are fomenting these troubles with the view of helping resistance to any cession of territory in Epirus.

The Pork Corner in Chicago.

CHICAGO, April 11.—There was intense excitement on the Board of Trade during the greater part of today. The pork corner clique were the masters of the provision market, but the shorts were not inactive, and their purchases were such as to keep up prices, with the assistance of the corner, on a steady move. The fluctuations were extraordinary, speculation being stimulated thereby to a remarkable degree. The range of prices was 87 cents a barrel on pork, 20 cents per 100 on lard and 24 cents on mess pork. Of mess pork the May and June sales reached almost two hundred thousand barrels. Prices closed a shade easier.

The Georgia Fruit Crop.

MACON, GA., April 12.—Thirty special reports to the Telegraph and Messenger indicate less than a half-crop in middle and southwestern Georgia; the fig trees are killed; plums, a half-crop; pears and cherries, badly damaged; apples and strawberries, not much injured; the Leconte pear is a failure in some sections.

Reverts to the Church.

COVINGTON, KY., April 11.—Mrs. Dr. Brown, of Lexington, died a few days ago and her property, amounting to $100,000, according to the will of her deceased husband, will now go to Bishop Keane, of Richmond, Va., for the benefit of the Catholic churches of that city.

Bazaine Challenges Admiral Juarez.

PARIS, April 11.—According to the Evening, ex-Marshal Bazaine has sent a challenge to Admiral Juarez, French Ambassador at Madrid, for what he pleasantly calls "his discourtesy to him in society." The Evening says: "As a matter of course the Admiral will decline to fight the traitor."

CAROLINA.

Raleigh Visitor: Mr. Edward Chappell, of Neuse township, died at his residence on yesterday, April 11th, aged about 94 years.

News and Observer: The revival at Person Street Methodist church continues every day this week. The collections of internal revenue in this district last week were $13,792.24.

The receipts of cotton in this market now amount to 68,000 bales. There is a great demand here for chufas. They are very scarce and last week some sold at $17.50 per bushel. At the rate of one hundred bushels an acre, a crop of chufas would be pretty profitable. The ceremonies of Gov Caswell at Kinston, in July or August, promise to be imposing. His Excellency Gov Jarvis is taking a great interest in the occasion. It is understood that the entire First Regiment, North Carolina State Guard, will participate in the ceremonies.

Charlotte Observer: According to the terms of a mortgage which was registered at the court house yesterday, a man conveyed himself and all the right, title and interest which he had in himself to another to have and to hold forever to secure a debt which he owed him. The deed was duly witnessed and executed with the wife's signature and privity examination wherein she released her interest in him. A gentleman in this city has two children, whose respective birthdays fall, one on the immortal 20th of May and the other on the 19th of October, the anniversary of Lord Cornwallis' surrender at Yorktown. The gentleman had overlooked the double coincidence until it was brought to his attention by a conversation in reference to the Yorktown centennial. The grandfather of the children, who is still a hale and hearty gentleman of prominence in the community, and who, it must not be forgotten, is in the direct line of descent from one of the signers of the Mecklenburg declaration, was born on the anniversary of the birthday of Thomas Jefferson, the writer of the national declaration. He also has a daughter who has the same birthday.

My Good Woman.

Why are you so out of sorts, never able to tell folks that you are well? Ten to one its all caused in the first place by habitual constipation, which no doubt finally caused deranged kidneys and liver. The sure cure for constipation is the celebrated Kidney-Wort. It is also a specific remedy for all kidney and liver diseases. Thousands are cured by it every month. Try it at once.—Toledo Blade.

In its Five Minutes With the News of the Day THE WORLD needs and keeps pace with the increasing demand made by rapid transit, the telegraph and the telephone, on the time and attention of business men.

Its daily cable letters from London bring the world wide to the breakfast table of the New York.

In its Wall Street Gossip and its Items for Investors, taken together with its accurate, candid and absolutely impartial financial article, THE WORLD daily presents a unparalleled picture not only of the true condition of the multitudinous enterprises with which the adventurous and active people of this country invest their savings, but also of all the fluctuating speculations carried upon those enterprises by the speculators and the speculators of the New York Exchange.

Who man who owns or expects to own a business, or any corporate property, can afford to be without a single day the information daily and exclusively given in THE WORLD, not only as to the natural and legitimate course of affairs affecting stock values, but also as to the plans, schemes and combinations which are necessarily making and unmaking in and out of Wall Street to affect those values.

THE WORLD contains also every day the latest and most interesting news of everything new and interesting in the realm of art, literature and of social life. It is the accredited organ of the colleges of the Union, and the accuracy and vivacity of its sporting columns, covering all the various forms of athletic amusement which have multiplied among us of late years, commend it to the "rising generation" throughout the country.

As the only metropolitan morning journal published in the English language which maintains an unswerving fidelity to the enduring great principles of the Democratic faith in politics, THE WORLD FOR 1881 will be found, where for the last five years THE WORLD has been found, absolutely loyal to Democratic principles; absolutely independent of all persons, cliques and factions within the Democratic party.

The World will maintain the cause of the Union against sectionalism in all its forms, the cause of good government against corruption in all its forms and the cause of the people against monopoly in all its forms.
