Fine weather this for the cotton planters and pickers.

The receipts of cotton at this port today foot up 250 bales.

The Court House doors and all the offices therein are closed up tight to day.

Three months from yesterday to Christmas, and a little less than two months to Thanksgiving.

The peculiar adaptation of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup to many phases of Throat and Bronchial diseases has rendered this remedy immensely popular. Sold everywhere. 25 cents a bottle.

The weather is remarkably warm for this time of the year. At 3 o'clock today the thermometer in this office registered 88 degrees.

Study your interest. You can now buy Cook Stoves at factory prices at JACOBI'S.

The News and Observer copies an article from the Review, relative to the rice crop in this section, and credits it to the Star.

Captain Green, of the steamer North State, reports 22 inches of water on the shoals, which is about 11 inches above the lowest low water mark.

Freshwater Perch, Trout and Black-fish Hooks and Lines. A full assortment and lowest prices at JACOBI'S.

We thank the "Pearson Memorial Association" for a copy of the address delivered on the life and character of the late Richmond Mumford Pearson, Chief Justice of North Carolina, by Hon. R. P. Dick, at Raleigh, on the occasion of the unveiling of the statue erected to the memory of the deceased.

The indications are that John E. Owens and his admirable troupe will be greeted at the Opera House this evening by a large and fashionable audience. He plays here but two nights, and it is well to remember that this may possibly be his last appearance in Wilmington.

For the Penitentiary.

Sheriff McCollum, of Columbus county, passed through this city on Saturday morning last, en route to Raleigh, with three prisoners (one white and two colored) who were sentenced to the penitentiary at the recent term of Columbus Superior Court, for the crime of larceny.

Teachers' Institute at Burgaw.

On Monday, the 19th inst., a Teachers' Institute was convened at Burgaw Pender county, and continued until Thursday night. It was conducted by Rev. J. S. Black, County Superintendent of Public Instruction, and was attended by teachers and those who intend to teach, as well as by quite a number of the citizens of Burgaw and vicinity. The early part of the week was devoted to lectures upon the several subjects of interest in our public schools. On Wednesday, at Scarborough, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, delivered an able address upon educational matters and he also made an able speech on Thursday, showing the importance of educating the children of the State by the State. Mr. Scarborough is a practical, earnest, energetic worker in the cause of education and we are confident is effecting much good in his efforts in behalf of our public schools.

On Thursday afternoon, Dr. W. T. Ennett, Superintendent of Health, of Pender county, read an interesting paper upon "Hygiene in the school-room," which was listened to with the marked attention such an important subject imperatively demands.

Dr. C. E. Stott, of Richmond, Va., followed in a pleasant, interesting and instructive speech, in which he treated, in a familiar, conversational manner, of "Children in and out of school, school books, school discipline, &c., &c." He again addressed the people in the evening, but we were compelled to be absent, and consequently failed of a rich intellectual treat.

City Court.

The Mayor held quite a levee this morning and heard the testimony in one very important case, that of Richard Reed, Alex. Stewart and John Campbell, colored, charged with the larceny of one barrel of pork from the warehouse of Messrs. Adrian & Vollers, in the basement of the Seamen's Home building, on or near Dock street. Officer Marsh Walker made the arrest and testified that he was on the beat in which is located the Seamen's Home building, Saturday night and Sunday morning; that from 11 o'clock on Saturday night he was watching the suspicious movements of the parties above named which finally culminated in the arrest, about a quarter past two o'clock on Sunday morning, of Richard Reed while in the act of rolling a barrel of pork into the cart of John Campbell, on Water, not far from Dock street. Officer Walker testified that he tracked the barrel all the way from Messrs. Adrian & Vollers' warehouse which was found open, to the cart, belonging to Campbell. The officer further stated that upon going upon his beat he tried all the doors, as is his custom on such occasions, and found them all fast. Reed and Stewart were together when the officer came up but Stewart slipped off. Reed was then taken by the officer to the Guard House. Stewart was afterwards arrested in Paddy's Hollow. There was no sign of any lock being forced, and it is supposed that one of the parties secreted himself in the warehouse before it was locked up on Saturday night and then removed the bar to the door. John Campbell, who owns the cart above mentioned, is a Southerner and he claims that he was in town with a load of oysters to sell; that he left his horse and cart temporarily in charge of colored woman from the Sound named Nancy, while he went off for a few moments; that he was absent longer than he anticipated, and that when he returned his cart was gone. His Honor bound Reed and Stewart over in a justified bond of $250 each and Campbell in a bond of $100 to appear at the next term of the Criminal Court, in default of which all three of the defendants were committed by the Sheriff to the tender mercies of Dan Howard, the Jailor.

Andrew Malloy, colored, was drunk and down on the streets Saturday, and this morning his case was continued for the present.

Robert Stevenson and William Williams, two colored youths aged respectively 12 and 14 years, were arrested this morning about 6 o'clock with a good many empty butter kegs and gummy bags in their possession. The bags were marked K. Not being able to give an account of themselves or property they were locked up for the present. This finished the docket and the Court adjourned.

A Sorrowful Disaster.

We are grieved at being called upon to record a fearful accident which occurred this afternoon during the firing of minute guns, at Market Dock, by the Cape Fear Light Artillery. There was a premature discharge and Mr. John Sneden, a very worthy young man, was the sufferer. Mr. Sneden was engaged in ramming a cartridge home when the explosion occurred. He was thrown from the wharf to a flat in front of it and when his comrades hastened to his rescue, it was found that he was terribly, possibly fatally, injured. His left hand was blown off and his right hand was badly shattered. He was also fearfully burned about the face, but to what extent we are unable as yet to say. His left hand is inevitably lost; and it is feared that amputation of the right hand may also be necessary. There are some fears, also, that his eyesight may be lost, provided his system will recover the shock it has sustained. Mr. John Meier, who was at the vent hole, was also burned somewhat by the powder. It is said that the accident was caused by a failure to swab the gun before inserting the cartridge.

E. J. Kempf, Esq., Ferdinand, Ind., writes: I am a druggist and sell a vast quantity of St. Jacobs Oil. It gives universal satisfaction, and numbers of people are ready to testify to its efficacy. Amadus Woerter, of this place, was afflicted with excruciating lumbago. He tried doctors and liniments without number. As a last resort, he bought a bottle of St. Jacobs Oil of me. The pains vanished and he was cured.

DUST TO DUST.

The Day of Interment—How our People Have Expressed Their Grief—An Entire Suspension of Business—Evidences of Sorrow Everywhere—Services in the Churches and the Meeting of Citizens.

This day, which had been fixed upon for the interment of the mortal remains of the lamented President, has been observed in our city with every evidence of sorrow and grief. The emblems of mourning have been displayed in every direction, all of the public offices as well as many of the places of business, and even some private residences, having been draped in the sad habiliments of woe. The suspension of business has been universal, and the services held this forenoon in the various churches were largely attended. Minute guns were fired this afternoon by the Cape Fear Light Artillery, but this was suspended, after the firing of a few guns, by the lamentable accident recorded elsewhere.

There was a very large attendance at the Opera House this afternoon at the meeting called by the Mayor, the colored citizens as well as the whites, being present in large numbers.

The meeting was called to order by His Honor, Mayor Smith, who stated the object of the meeting to be to pay a proper tribute of respect to the deceased President whose remains are now being borne to their last resting place and whose untimely end is an incident unprecedented in the history of this country. He hoped that the proceedings of this meeting would be as solemn as if the whole body of people here present were joining in the funeral procession at Cleveland. The Mayor then added that he thought it but right and proper that on this solemn occasion the meeting should be opened with prayer; His Honor thereupon requested Rev. Dr. A. A. Watson to open the exercises with prayer. The reverend gentleman then came forward and offered the following prayer:

O God, the King of Kings and Lord of Lords, whose ways are true and just; who ordereth all things in heaven and earth; who (restraining within the bounds while Thou in Thine omnipotence hast set the wrath of man and the power and malignity of Satan) dost yet in Thine unfathomable wisdom see fit for our sins to permit the great enemy to tempt our race to evil deeds, we would in all humility recognize Thy permissive hand in the calamity which has befallen us as a people. We humbly acknowledge that we have done much to deserve it. We confess that we have provoked Thy displeasure in many ways, by our selfishness and self-will, by our questionings of Thy word, by our forgetfulness of Thee. But whatever the reasons for which Thou hast permitted the act which has deprived us of our national head—whether to punish or to try us or for whatever to us inscrutable objects, we would humble ourselves before Thee and accept the stroke as no more than we deserve. Help us then to see Thy permissive hand in this appalling providence, and to learn the lessons Thou wouldst teach us by it. Help us to put away the evils of which we have been guilty, to return to our allegiance, to realize that we and all we have belong to Thee and that Thou art Lord of nations as well as of individuals; check by Thy grace, we implore Thee, the evil instincts of the day, its spirit of covetousness, of violence, of lawlessness and self-will. Infuse into the hearts of the people higher principles of right and order and virtue and a purer morality. Help us as a people to return to the simplicity and virtue of our forefathers, who were by Thy grace enabled to lay so broadly and with such strength and grace the foundations of this Commonwealth. Teach us to govern others by first governing ourselves. And save us, we implore Thee, from a recurrence of such crimes as that for whose results we mourn to-day. We invoke Thy compassion and consoling grace for those who by the act of an assassin have been so cruelly wounded. Comfort the mother who has lost her son—the children who have been deprived of their father—the widow whose earthly companion and stay has been so rudely torn from her. Overrule this terrible dispensation and fearful rule to the good of the people. Be with him who succeeded to the office of his murdered predecessor. May he have wisdom and grace to administer the government thus providentially committed to his hands—to the greatest good of the Commonwealth and the glory of the great Lord of all. Be favorable, O Lord, Be favorable to Thy people who turn to Thee this day in weeping and prayer. Let not our heritage be brought to confusion. O God, we have heard with our ears, and our fathers have declared unto us, the noble words thou didst in thy days and in the old time: before them—O Lord, arise, help us and deliver us for Thine honor. Hear us O Lord, for Thy mercy is great, through Jesus Christ, Thy Son. Amen.

At the conclusion of the prayer, Mr. F. H. Darby moved that Col. Smith be made permanent Chairman, which resolution was carried unanimously. Mr. S. VanAmringe was then appointed Secretary. The chair then appointed in accordance with Mr. Darby's resolution the following named persons Vice Presidents, to wit: Col. Roger Moore, Col. E. R. Brink, Hon. S. H. Fiddlate, Maj. Jas. Reilly, Capt. E. J. Pennypacker, and Messrs. H. A. Bagg, A. Martin, G. P. Lockey, J. E. Sampson and Owen Burney.

The Committee on Resolutions were announced as follows: Col. D. K. McRae, General J. C. Abbott, and Messrs. R. S. Radcliffe, Jno. Haar, Jr., D. Catlar, F. W. Foster, W. H. Gerken and J. D. Sampson.

The committee having retired to prepare their resolutions, Col. J. G. Burr in the interim was called upon by the chair to address the meeting which was done in that gentleman's beautiful and ornate style.

The committee having returned reported through their Chairman, Col. D. K. McRae, as follows:

Resolutions commemorative of the death of James A. Garfield, late President of the United States, passed at a public meeting of the citizens of Wilmington, North Carolina, held on the 26th day of September, 1881.

PREAMBLE.—Within the century of our national life, the people of the United States have been summoned to witness the death of four Presidents while serving their official term.

Of these, two have perished by violence, at the hands of assassins, thus aggravating the calamity by a criminal agency.

On the 19th day of this month of September, James Abram Garfield, President of the United States, succumbed to a mortal wound received on the 2nd of July; and after a protracted struggle for life, maintained by great force of will, under sufferings which he bore with philosophic patience and inflexible fortitude, departed this life.

He has died at the meridian of a career of rapid and enchanting success; at the highest point of official elevation; in the possession of grand intellectual faculties, ripening into a rich maturity, and abounding with promise of usefulness of which our entire people would be beneficiaries. His life, his work, his success and his untimely end have embalmed his memory in the sympathies of humanity throughout the civilized world.

As a portion of the common brotherhood of this Union, sharing with our fellow citizens in this dread bereavement, we unite in the great expression of sorrow and sympathy, and join in the sad and solemn services ordained for the occasion. Wherefore be it resolved:

I. That it is the duty of a religious people to recognize the Will of God in their natural affliction.

II. That having watched with anxious commiseration the long and painful agony which the deceased sustained in his conflict with death, in the earnest hope that his life might be spared for the comfort of his family and the welfare of his country, we have received with profound sensibility the announcement of his decease, feeling that a life capable of great good, and full of bright promise, has been cut short. The unparalleled grief attests the public estimate of its loss.

III. That we tender our kindest condolences to the stricken family of the deceased, mother, widow and orphaned children, and commend them for solace in their way to the companionship of a world wide sympathy.

IV. That while any passion for revenge is unmitigated to the solemn feeling of awe and grief inspired by this heart-rending event, it is fit that we express our adoration and detestation of the dastardly crime from which it has resulted. Liberty and social happiness can only be preserved through the ministrations of law and the maintenance of order and he is a public enemy who practices violent reprisals for the redress of real or supposed grievances.

V. That a copy of the proceedings of this meeting be transmitted by the chairman to Mrs. Garfield as a testimonial to her widely devotion and true womanhood exhibited through this disastrous ordeal and that a further copy be furnished to the member of Congress-elect of this district, to be placed with other like manifestations of respect in the public archives.

The foregoing resolutions, before being presented by the Chairman, Col. McRae, was prefaced by a few most admirable and well timed remarks; in fact, just such a speech that any one would imagine this distinguished gentleman to make. The resolutions were adopted by a unanimous vote, after which the Chairman read out the following list of speakers, who responded in the order named: W. P. Ganaday, Geo. L. Mabson, J. L. Mack, H. E. Scott, G. W. Price, Jr., and T. B. Kingsbury, Esq. Hon. D. L. Russell was also called, but was absent. The speeches were all good and appropriate to the occasion. Mr. Kingsbury's remarks—though made without any preparation—charmed every one present and all regretted when he had finished. We do not like to be invidious on an occasion like the one of which we write but we must compliment the speech made by Geo. L. Mabson. It was delivered in most becoming and modest manner and was in excellent taste throughout. Taken altogether the meeting was one of the most harmonious we have ever witnessed. The Opera House was crowded to nearly its full capacity, the dress circle and gallery being set apart for the colored people while the whites occupied the lower floor of the building. At the conclusion, upon motion, the meeting adjourned sine die.
