Home, Sweet Home.

I talk about home because I am rarely there, and men like to talk most of what they know least about. "There j is no place like home." Even those live in boarding houses touchingly warble that song. Home is more to a woman than to a man. A man who has no home is a social tramp. With a woman it is different; she wants a home, but does not always have a chance to get it. Woman feeds upon affection. She is never happy until she gets her ideal man; and then she is cast down to find another woman's photograph and love-letter in his overcoat pocket. But a man gets his home, lot, Ala. house, mortgage, mechanic's lien and all. He has all but the mortgage, and Dr. C. W. Benson's Celery and Chamomile the mortgage has him. All of a man's Pills. life, except what he spends at the store, club. caucus, lodge or prayer meeting. is spent in his home. Man is great in his own house; if he is not a king, he is at least a prince consort. Many are like the man who, on being nominated for lieutentant governor, said: "You have nominated the right man for the right place. I have been lieutenant governor ever since I was married."

It is said that every home has a skeleton, but I don' believe it. It is only a thing of the imagination. Some regard a poor relation as a skeleton; but that Farmers, Take Notice. can't help it, and is entitled to your is wrong. No man is poor for fun; he sympathy. Homes are brighter and better than they used to be. Our wives make them so. When a wife buys her husband a diamond pin for Christmas ers and all diseases to which Swine are sub- it brightens home; and the husband is survey, learners and will put your hogs in a tartity, healthy condition, clearing the kidleave, liver, &c., of worms and parasites are fond of dogs. They will pay $400 for a Gordon setter and never shoot anything but the setter. Lodges are useful, out too many of them do not make a happy home. A WHO-EACH WITH HIS OWN PET SCHEME-CUL man in Iowa joined so many that it took him and his wife all night to count them. He slept in regalia, called his wife worshipful master and his son junior warden. He spent a great deal of his time marching in processions of sixteen years and upward. He was taken sick himself, and he was visited by so many communities that his wife live in every room in the house, I have built a great many houses-on paperand I am at it yet. I would avoid the spare room. It is cold and damp: There is nothing in a spare room that will burn. I have often tried to warm a bed in a spare room, but always the spare room, ask your pastor, he knows all about it. We live in brighter homes now, and lived iv. I can say, with Talmage, that to hasty consumption. I was glad to be on hand when the planet came along. Our fathers were a lot of scalawags. Clothed in tin and steel they would go into a neighbor's blankets or in girdles of sackcloth. Only castle and rob and destroy. But now things are better If a man sees another with anything he wants makes a deal with him in stocks, in oil then its value is grossly over stated. What is by Soldiers While Under or cotton, or what, and he gets the property; but he don't disfigure the corpse. Eighteen suits me better than seventy-six. The world is better than it used to be-and it is going to or closet-in his house, sacred to his own use, in which no wife has a right unpaid bills. In your homes you must expect troubles-it is troubles that make home happy. Enjoy your troubles as they come along. Fill your home with music. Buy your boy a fiddle, even if you have to stop your ears. Buy a piano for the girls, even it you have a dozen of them, and you have day long, -Burlington Hawkeye.
