THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. VII. WILMINGTON, N. C., SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 15, 1883. NO. 220

The Daily Review has the largest bona fide circulation of any newspaper published in the city of Wilmington.

The Great Council of Red Men met at Atlantic City, N. J., on Tuesday.

Madagascar, with the exception of a few years, has been ruled by women since 1828.

Peach shipments over the Delaware railroad up to Tuesday morning aggregated 2,802 car loads.

Queen Victoria is said to have entrusted the task of writing her life to Miss Keddie, a Scotch woman.

The Boston Herald reports that Wendell Phillips has decided that he can no longer support Butler for Governor.

The fourth biennial convention of the Supreme Lodge of Knights and Ladies of Honor was held on Tuesday in New York.

The Brooklyn bridge railway will be open to the public in a week, but not more than ten cars will run for some time.

The Defenders of Baltimore met once more last Sunday. But six survive. The oldest is ninety-six; the youngest eighty-seven.

Victor Hugo is to be tendered a banquet at Geneva. It is expected that M. Arago, M. Lockroy, Senor Zorrilla, the Spanish dramatist, and other distinguished men will be present.

Within the corporate limits of the city of Buffalo are more miles of railroad track than there are in any other three cities on the face of the globe. The Erie alone has 134 miles of track there.

Abraham Crites, of Crites Mountain, Braxton county, West Virginia, has been growing thin for a long time, and is now a mere skeleton. Before his affliction he was a large man, weighing about 180 pounds, he now weighs only 40 pounds, but is still able to get about.

Belgium is the only country in Europe which, like the United States of America, is absolutely without a censorship. A clause in the Belgian constitution of 1830 declares not only that the censorship is abolished, but that it can "never be re-established."

The General term of the King's county (N. Y.) Supreme Court, has affirmed the judgment for $30,000 damages recovered by Major John T. Harroll against the New York Elevated Railroad Company for injuries received in collision.

Gen. James B. Weaver, the presidential candidate on the Greenback ticket in 1880, has written a letter to the chairman of the Greenback committee of the sixth Iowa district, declining to be a candidate for renomination to fill the coalition vacancy.

The exports of domestic produce (exclusive of specie) from the port of New York for the week ended Tuesday were $6,107,107, against $7,172,696 for the previous week. The total exports since January 1 were $247,106,107, against $232,511,346 for the corresponding period in 1882.

"Prince George of Wales," an English paper observes, "was interviewed" by an enterprising reporter at Halifax, but managed to answer all the questions put to him without giving much information. That was undoubtedly because the royal boy had no "information" to give.

A certificate of incorporation of the Citizens National Union Telegram and Cablegram Company of the United States of America was filed in the county clerk's office in New York, last Tuesday, by Eugene J. O'Connor, one of the executive committee of the Telegraphers Brotherhood.

Miss Henderson went to Pierce, Dakota, to be married to J. D. Scott; but Scott died before the time set. At the funeral Miss Henderson told her sympathizing friends that Scott was the fourth man to whom she had been engaged, and that all had died before the time fixed for the nuptials.

Among the victims at Casamicciola were a Signor and Signora Bonavita, who left property worth $1,000,000, to which there is no direct heir. Their relatives, in order to determine the succession, have petitioned to have them disinterred, that by an examination of the external injuries, it may be ascertained, if possible, which died first.

David Dudley Field, the oldest of four distinguished brothers, will soon celebrate his eightieth birthday. He is said to be as vigorous as a man of sixty, and to take great pleasure in acting as counsel for young and active lawyers, thus showing that he has not lost any of his youthful enthusiasm for his profession.

Hon. J. Hanson Good, Democratic candidate for congress in the Wheeling, (W. Va.) district against General Goff in 1882, and a prominent attorney, died at his residence in Wheeling on Monday morning, aged 40 years. Mr. Good made a speech at Cincinnati in 1880 seconding Judge Thurman's nomination for the presidency.

John W. Crockett, of DeWitt, Ark., owns a curious and valuable heirloom, the gold watch long the pocketpiece of his great-grandfather, the famous Davy Crockett. A rifle presented to the pioneer by "five hundred prominent young gentlemen of Philadelphia," is in the possession of his grandson, Robert H. Crockett, of DeWitt.

The State Chronicle, the new Democratic paper at the capital, is out and the first number is before us. It is a handsome publication of 24 columns, not large, but compact and as full as it can be crammed with excellent matter, both original and selected. It will prove a valuable acquisition to the party. Success to it.

Mary Anderson, the actress, is in England, and the Prince of Wales has become so deeply smitten with her that he has signified a desire to have her presented, but Mary is not at all anxious. In fact, she declined the compliment and the honor, graciously and politely, but positively. In consequence, the heir apparent to the British throne and the American actress are yet strangers. She is a sensible girl as well as a good actress.

The State Chronicle, has sent out enquiries into every county in the State, asking who is first choice and who second for Governor, in both parties, answers have been received from 79 counties. The Democrats named in the replies are as follows.

A. M. Scales, Octavius Coke, J. A. Gilmer, R. T. Bennett, T. M. Holt, D. G. Fowle, J. J. Davis, Thos. Ruffin, R. B. Vance, Z. B. Vance, W. L. Steele, L. L. Polk, A. M. Wadde'l, W. L. Saunders, R. F. Armfield, J. S. Carr, W. M. Robbins, W. T. Dortch, George Davis, J. W. Hughes.

The following have been mentioned for the Republican nomination: O. H. Dockery, D. L. Russell, Charles Price, J. J. Mott, T. L. Hargrove, R. P. Dick, Eugene Grissom, Tyre York, W. P. Bynum, L. W. Humphrey, E. G. Reade, D. G. Fowle, R. P. Buxton, E. A. White.

A tabulated statement of the preferences for the four highest candidates shows, among the Democrats, first choice, Scales 29, Coke 12, Bennett 7, Gilmer 5, second choice Scales 26, Coke 8, Bennett 4, Gilmer 15. With the Republicans it stands, first choice, Dockery 22, Russell 8, Price 4, Fowle 1; second choice, Dockery 5, Russell 3, Price 6, Fowle 3.

New Hanover makes a very sensible reply. It is to the effect that the people have not yet gone far enough into the thing to enable them to express a preference; Bladen says Scales and Waddell and Dockery and Russell; Brunswick, Saunders and Waddell and Russell and Dockery; Columbus, like New Hanover; Duplin, Gilmer and Scales, Russell and Dockery; Onslow, Gilmer and Scales, Russell and Dockery; Pender, Stedman for Lieut. Gov., Russell; Robeson, Scales and Gilmer; Sampson, Gilmer and Coke; Dockery.

But, while the State Chronicle has undoubtedly shown a much enterprise in this matter we submit that the replies received and published can scarcely be accepted as an actual indication of the real preferences of the people. Every man may have his individual choice, and hence he naturally expresses his own preferences, and those perhaps of a few of his friends, rather than those of the people at large. This is shown very conclusively in the replies from Anson county, of which there are two, one from Ansonville, giving in Steele and Polk and Hargrave, and another from Wagesboro, declaring that the people of Anson county are for "Bennett first and last," and the "Republicans think of no one but Dockery."

Masonboro turnpike possesses a deep and lively interest on these beautiful moonlight nights to young couples who are fond of buggy riding. We learn that some enterprising genius, who probably knows "how it is himself," has decorated various points on the road with such signs as the following: "Kiss-me-quick-avenue," "Hug-me-close-hill," "Lover's lane," &c. &c. Of course any young man can see the great advantage he receives when riding with a young lady, as he asks the name of a certain place and she answers, "Kiss me quick," or "Hug me close," as the locality would require. We hear that several young ladies have expressed a desire to ride on this road, and it is stated as a fact that one young couple have already availed themselves of the above hints, but on this point we are sworn to secrecy. It may reasonably be expected that there will be a large increase of travel over the Masonboro road in the immediate "sweet bye and bye."

We have asked, "When will the Madison Square Theatre Co., play here, and what piece will they present?" In answer, we would say that the managers of that theatre have several companies on the road. Among the plays which will be presented during the season by their companies are "The Rajah," which has been kept on the boards of the Madison Square Theatre for the last four months to crowded houses. The "Young Mrs. Winthrop" Co., with Mr. Joe H. Hart as manager, will open at Norristown, N. J., on the 22nd inst, but will not appear in this city until May 2nd, 1884. Mr. Hart will be remembered as the manager who visited us with his company three times during the last season, and by his urbane deportment made a host of friends in this city. Aside from this there will be another "Young Mrs. Winthrop" Co., two "Esmeralda" Co's, and a "Rajah" Co. on the road during the season, some of whom will undoubtedly visit this city.
