The Louisville exposition will close November 10.

The National Convention of bee-keepers opened in Chicago, Wednesday.

Lord Chief Justice Coleridge, of England, is in New York. During his stay he is the guest of the bar association.

Mr. Wm. H. Vanderbilt is reported as rapidly recovering from the effect of his fall at Fleetwood park last week.

The Mahadkes company, manufacturers of cotton yarns at Rockville, Ala., has suspended. It had a paid up capital of $35,000.

About three hundred veterans took part last Wednesday in the celebration at Schuylerville, N. Y., of the anniversary of Burgoyne's surrender.

The First National Bank of Chicago has notified its 130 clerks that they must all procure bonds, which will range from $40,000 to $500 each.

Joseph P. Hale, a well known New York piano manufacturer, died last week of heart disease. He is said to have been worth $10,000,000 or more.

The Republican County Convention at Norfolk passed a resolution declaring Mr. Blaine their choice for President and Secretary Lincoln for Vice-President.

The celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the foundation of the Harvard Medical school took place last Wednesday. Addresses were made by the President and Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes.

Secretary Lincoln and Gen. Wright, Gen. Parke and Col. Craighill, of the engineer corps of the army, have gone to Charleston, W. Va., to inspect the engineering improvements in the Kanawha river.

The statement that Lillian Spencer became insane in Atlanta while playing Cora in "Article 47" is said to be untrue. She became overheated and was prostrated, but revived in a few hours. She is still playing in Georgia.

The telephone is being put to good use in Switzerland. Telephonic communication has been established between Alpnach and the hotel on Mount Pilatus, so that tourists may ascertain the state of the weather on the heights before making an ascent.

The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Press is informed that the friends of Blaine and Conkling are endeavoring to effect a reconciliation between those statesmen. Terms: Blaine, for President in 1884, as the man to carry Ohio, and Conkling for the Senate.

Ohio platform: "A tariff for revenue limited to the necessities of the Government economically administered, and so adjusted in its application as to prevent unequal burdens, to encourage productive industries at home, afford a just compensation to labor, but not to create or foster monopolies." That is likely to be a plank in the Presidential platform next year.

Thirty Mormon Missionaries left Utah Tuesday for the East. Bishop Edward Hunter, presiding bishop of the Mormon church, is at the point of death, aged 91 years. It is reported that in consequence of feeble health and advanced age, John Taylor is about to resign the presidency of the Mormon church, and that ex-Congressman Geo. T. Cannon will be his successor.

Some time ago, Dr. Cowan, who was a surgeon in Gen. Forrest's Confederate cavalry division, published a letter stating that when Col. Bob Ingersoll was captured in Tennessee he loaned Ingersoll $90, which had never been returned. A few days ago Dr. Cowan was surprised to receive a letter from Col. Bob Ingersoll, enclosing a check for $90, being the principal and interest of the amount borrowed.

Ex-Senator Conkling is reported as taking no interest in political affairs and confident that the Democrats will have the next President. Ex-Senator David Davis is said, by a Baltimore Sun reporter, to express views almost identically similar to those of Mr. Conkling, professing no personal concern as to how politics go; exhibiting incredulity as to any prospects of Republican success next year, with the belief that defeat would disrupt the party, to be surely followed by the breaking up of the solid South.

VOL. VII. WILMINGTON, N. C., MONDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1883. NO. 249

Rev. Allen Allensworth, a colored Baptist minister, of Bowling Green, Ky., has issued an address to all the colored ministers of the gospel of all denominations in the United States, in which he suggests a national convention to give moral force to the work begun by the late convention of colored men in Louisville.

Returns from sixty-five counties in Ohio give Foraker 230,086, out of a total vote of 458,146, Hoadly 228,385, Schumacher, 3,659 and Jenkins 1,864. The judicial amendment received 250,912, being a majority of 21,839. It is thought that its majority will be about 40,000. The second amendment has 218,574 votes, being 10,499 less than a majority. Secretary Newman thinks that Hoadly's plurality will be about 12,648.

Two suspicious strangers, who gave their names as James Holmes and Wm. Brackett, were arrested at Halifax last Wednesday. In Holmes' pocket among other things were found two loaded revolvers, several cartridges, two dozen dynamite cartridges and a copy of the Irish World. A loaded revolver and a lot of dynamite cartridges were found in Brackett's possession. Their valises contained, one forty and the other sixty pounds of dynamite.

Captain Lewis Sponagle, of the brig Ubaldeina, of Baltimore, says that he used the great pain-cure, St. Jacobs Oil, for pain in the back, and his steward also for rheumatism in the legs, and both were cured by a few applications.

Cornelius Harnett Council No. 231, Royal Arcanum

The receipts of cotton at this port today foot up 1,247 bales.

Wood was retailing at $1 per load from the flats this morning.

Putting tacks in papa's boots is now dubbed another infant industry.

Rev. Henry Ward Beecher passed through the city Friday night en route for Brooklyn.

Cornelius Harnett Council No. 231 Royal Arcanum, meets to-night at 8 o'clock.

Eggs were relating at 25 cents per dozen at some of the grocery stores today.

There is an unmailable letter in the Postoffice addressed to William Glass, care Mr. Kate McDairale.

Steamboatmen report a slight falling off of water in the Cape Fear, although navigation is not yet impeded.

There was one case of drunk and down before the Mayor this morning, which was settled by a fine of $3 and costs.

There was an unusual number of visitors at Oakdale Cemetery yesterday, notwithstanding the raw and unpleasant weather.

Yesterday was the anniversary of the battle of Ball's Bluff, in Virginia, which was fought October 21st, 1861, and the Federal troops defeated with great loss.

Messrs. Harry Loeb, of this city, exhibited at the State Fair a silk patch work quilt, silk embroidery, a cradle quilt, Honiton lace and a lace necklace.

The copartnership heretofore existing at Lisbon, Bladen county, between Messrs. A. H. Perry and J. A. Register, under the firm name of Register & Co., has been dissolved by mutual consent.

There has been no arrangement made for service at the First Baptist Church next Sunday and it is more than probable that there will be none. Notice, however, will be given should any arrangements be made for a service on that day.

A correspondent of the London Times with the French army speaks of the hearty greeting given to the soldiers by the people. "There is," he says, "none of that vulgar feeling so common in England, of the social inferiority of the soldier, who is both liked and respected in France."

The attention of our country friends who may contemplate visiting the city is invited to the advertisement of Mrs. Pickett's Boarding House, in this issue.

There has been some little confusion among the telephone wires of late owing to the removal of the Exchange to its new quarters, but within a day or two this will be entirely corrected.

The semi-annual meeting of the stockholders and lot owners of Bellevue Cemetery Company will be held on Thursday evening next, in the office of John D. Bellamy, Esq., on Princess street.

Workmen began this morning demolition of the old buildings on Third, between Market and Princess streets, occupied by Mr. P. H. Hayden as a carriage manufactory, preparatory to the erection of new structures upon the same site. The lumber is nearly all prepared for the new buildings and they will be pushed rapidly to completion.

We were shown to-day a couple of cigar holders which were brought from the top of the Alps by a tourist who has visited Switzerland during the past Summer. They were neat and pretty in appearance, representing very cleverly a part of the leg and hoof of the chamois, which is a native of that country, and a portion of them is covered with the undressed skin of that animal.

The Silent Man.

This comedy drama was played again on Saturday night, and we are sorry to say that there was a thin house. The play was really meritorious and interesting, the company far above mediocrity, and they were deserving of a crowded house.

Rev. Mr. Peschau.

Rev. F. W. E. Peschau preached at the First Baptist Church yesterday morning to a large congregation. His sermon was especially applicable to young men and we are glad to know that a great many of that portion of our citizens present were to listen to his eloquent words of truth, wisdom and warning. The discourse was a masterly effort; it was listened to with profound attention, and must be productive of much good.

"Top o' the Morning."

The Irish Comedian, Mr. John F. Ward, and his company, arrived here this morning, having taken a special train on the C. C. R. R. from Charlotte. They will appear at the Opera House to-night in the above named play, of which the Charlotte Observer says:

"That the play is a good one, goes without saying, and that Ward knows how to carry it out is equally true. In his several characters he demonstrated the fact that he is a comedian of high merit and an incomparable impersonator. Miss Mary Davenport, his leading support in the character of the twin sisters, was very good. Ward's support is good throughout and the entertainment he gives is worth going to see."

Lippincott's Magazine.

The opening article of Lippincott's for November has for its subject "Henry Irving." The illustrations are extremely fine, and give a vivid idea of Mr. Irving's looks and attitudes both on and off the stage. "Curiosities of Instinct," is a delightful paper. "House-keeping in Normandy" gives a good picture of village life in France. "On the Mountain-Trails of Montana," treats of a previously unexplored portion of "the largest Territory in the Union," and depicts in a striking manner the features of the country and the difficulties encountered in traversing its grand and rugged ranges. "Out After Tiger" is another sporting sketch by Phil Robinson. There are besides an excellent criticism of Swinburne's three dramas in which Mary Stuart is the heroine; a pleasant paper on "Art in Baltimore," and a lively travelling sketch.

"At Camaldoli," by "Ouida," is a short comedy, very neatly constructed, with much point and brightness in the dialogue, and penetrated by that ample knowledge of Italian character and manners in which this popular writer has no superior. "The Jewel in the Lotus" draws towards its close with deepening force and interest. "Black Spirits and White," and "A Village Poet," are short stories, and favorable specimens of their class. The "Monthly Gossip" includes papers on "Stocks and Investors," "The Female Lodger," and "Rural Characters;" and the book notices are unusually full and well suited to guide the choice of intending purchasers. It will be seen that the number is a very varied and attractive one.

Back Again.

The steam yacht Passport, which left here several weeks since for Philadelphia, arrived back here late on Saturday afternoon. Since her departure she has been supplied with a new and substantial boiler, and has been thoroughly repaired and repainted at an expense of between $3,000 and $4,000. She is now looking as good as new and we are glad to see her back again in the waters of the Cape Fear. She steamed down to the shipyard, in the Southern portion of the city, this morning where she received a supply of ballast, after which she proceeded to Smithville.

A Tale of a Wheelbarrow.

We heard rather a good one on one of our county officials to day. He was engaged this morning in selling a lot of household furniture to satisfy an execution, when his colored servant boy, who had been sent from the house for some articles for the household, rolled the wheelbarrow upon which he was to transport them home in the midst of the throng near where the officer was engaged as auctioneer, and set it down without saying a word to any one. In a few moments the official put his own wheelbarrow up, thinking it was a part of the property to be sold, and it was bid off at $1.10. The cost of the barrow, when new, was $2.50 and at last accounts negotiations were pending for its recovery.

A Possible Mistake.

We clip the following from the Beaufort (N. C.) Telephone, but after a careful enquiry we think there must be some mistake in the matter, as we can learn nothing to substantiate the statement among the dealers and packers of fish in this city.

Mr. E. S. Smith sent from Duck Creek, Onslow county, to Wilmington, a lot of oysters a few days since which sold for four dollars per bushel. Some of them are said to have measured 10 inches in length. They were sent to the Boston Exposition and will undoubtedly "take the cake."

The fish and oysters sent to the Boston Exposition from this city were forwarded under the direction of Fish Commissioner Worth, and were all packed by one house, Messrs. W. E. Davis & Son, who know nothing of the above matter.

No Fish.

Fishermen report that there is nothing doing at the several fisheries on the river and sounds, and that there have been no fish caught since the great storm of September 10th. There has been an occasional catch, which was insignificant in amount and not near large enough to supply the home demand, much less the thousands of orders which are continually coming in from the country; nor do they expect a better condition of things during the prevalence of the strong Easterly winds which have blown almost uninterruptedly for several weeks past. In the oyster fishing the prospects are not a whit better. The heavy Easterly winds drive in the tides and the oyster beds are so much submerged that it is impossible to get at the oysters. A few are brought in, but not near enough to supply the demand for home consumption.

Personal.

Col. T. F. Toon, of Columbus county was in the city yesterday.

Mr. S. L. Alderman, the new photographer at Yates' Gallery, took charge there to-day.

Dr. Chas. Lesesne, of Onslow county, who left here some days ago for Florida, returned here this morning.

Sheriff Taylor, of Brunswick, was in town on Saturday and dropped in to see us for a few moments during the afternoon.

Mr. McRee Cowan, of this city, left here this morning for Poughkeepsie, N. Y., where he will enter Eastman's Business College for a full commercial course.

Hon. R. R. Bridgers, President of the Atlantic Coast Line, has returned from New York, where he was present last week for attendance on the meeting of the Southern Railway Time Convention, at which he presided.

Mayor Hall, Chairman of Committee on Streets and Wharves, advertises in this issue for proposals for paving North Water Street, between Market and Mulberry, and furnishing bricks and laying sidewalks.
