THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. VII. WILMINGTON, N. C., MONDAY, NOVEMBER 12, 1883. NO. 267

PLEASE NOTICE We will be glad to receive communications from our friends on any and all subjects general interest but The name of the writer must always be furnished to the Editor. Communications must be written on one side of the paper. Personalities must be avoided. And it is especially and particularly understood that the Editor does not always endorse the views of correspondents unless so stated in the editorial columns.

The Daily Review has the largest bona fide circulation of any newspaper published in the city of Wilmington.

General Sherman is in New York on a short visit.

Matthew Arnold will lecture at Princeton College on the 22d instant.

General and Mrs. Grant intend to spend the first week of 1884 in Washington.

Congressman Wadsworth of New York is rapidly recovering from his recent injuries.

Professor Paul Passey, of Paris, says the United States is the dullest country he ever visited.

Mme. Devries is to be paid $20,000 for eight performances in opera at Monte Carlo this season.

John Bright denounces female suffrage, but his daughter, Mrs. Bright Clark, has nevertheless taken to the lecture platform in favor of it.

Ex-Governor Luke P. Blackburn, of Kentucky, has been presented with a costly gold-headed ebony cane by friends in Frankfort, the capital city of the State.

The Hon. Charles Gayarre formally announces himself as a candidate for Secretary of State of Louisiana, subject to the decision of the Democratic State Convention.

The Galveston News thinks that "one of the tickling incidents of latter day politics is the fact that Keifer has also lately, fervently, and let us hope, permanently, subsided."

An infirm old gentleman went to the polls in New York city Tuesday, says the Washington Star, and gave his name in a whisper as Samuel J. Tilden. He then voted the straight Democratic ticket, and was helped into his carriage and driven home. But this same old man, if gossip lies not, was stronger in his whispering feebleness than the blustering Ben of Tewksbury.

Commenting on the benzine explosion in a French factory, by which ten persons were killed and thirty injured, the Philadelphia Times says "it seems like the most criminal kind of management which would allow any but the smallest amount of this explosive material in a factory in which three hundred people were employed. It is evident that factory regulations in France are very far from perfect."

The New York Times says that some progress has been made in Vienna with the electric railway, and great energy is said to characterize the management. Already have the working plans of the first section been lodged with the government, and they are now receiving the examination prescribed by law as a necessary step before further work is begun. Meanwhile similar plans for the remaining sections of the railway are being proceeded with.

It is interesting to know what the Richmond Whig, Elam's paper and Mahone's organ, has to say in the night of its defeat. The Norfolk Virginian has collated a few paragraphs and formed them into chapters. They are as follows:

CHAPTER I. "To mourn a mischief that is past and gone is the next way to draw the mischief on."

II. "Now let us see how the Funders will fulfill their promises."

III. "Well, in any event, we know how to bear defeat with decency and fortitude."

IV. "We were badly beaten in 1880, but we rose to victory in 1881 and triumphed again in 1882."

V. "If the free schools shall be maintained and supported, Bourbonism will perish before them."

VI. "We shall not appeal to the pistol and shot gun. The free ballot will vindicate itself, our cause and us."

VII. "If Bourbons and Funders could endure defeat, we shall not go to bed because of last Tuesday. Not a bit of it!"

VIII. "Let us pick our flints and try again; The fight for freedom, once begun, Bequeathed from bleeding sire to son, Though baffled oft, is ever won!"

IX. "We shall not incite riots and commit murder, no matter if we are defeated. All our weapons and implements to repair disaster are those of peace and reason."

There will be a meeting of the Wilmington Presbytery at the Second Presbyterian Church, on Campbell street, to-night, commencing at 7:30 o'clock.—Rev. J. S. Black of Burgaw, the visiting Moderator, is expected to preach the sermon.

Blankets and Curtains cleaned and bleached at Monach's. It.

Cutting Scrap.

Horace Adams and Jesse Johnson, two colored boys, got into a fracas this forenoon on the sidewalk in front of the shooting gallery during which the latter drew a knife and inflicted quite a severe wound upon the hand of the former.

A Disgraceful Spectacle.

Three women, two of whom were white and one colored, were arrested in the Hollow to-day for being drunk and disorderly and taken to the guard house by a couple of policemen. On their way to the lock-up they indulged in all sorts of ribald and profane language which it was shocking to hear.

Fox Hunt.

The fox which was caught a few days ago will be taken outside of the city, to Macomber's Ditch, at the head of Princess street, to-night and will be given an about half an hour's start before the hounds are put upon his trail. There will be a good moon and the occasion offers a fine opportunity for enjoyment to the lovers of field sports. The ladies are cordially invited to join in the chase, and it is expected that quite a number will be present.

Luther's Birthday.

Services commemorative of the 400th anniversary of the birthday of Martin Luther were held at St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church last night which were of an interesting character. Aside from the regular service several of the officers and some of the pupils connected with the Sunday School of the Church made brief addresses. Among the former were Messrs. Strauss, the Superintendent, Eilers, Borneman and Prempert. There was a large congregation in attendance who were much edified by the services.

City Court.

There was quite an array of prisoners brought up for the Mayor's consideration this morning. The first was Stephen Livingston, a tramp nuisance, whose case was held for further consideration.

Peter Smith, colored, for carrying concealed weapons, was required to give a bond in the sum of $50 for his appearance at the next term of the Criminal Court, in default of which he was committed.

Fanny Moore and Molly Lewis, two colored damsels, for disorderly conduct, were fined $5 each, in default of which they were both sent below for 30 days. One man, arrested on suspicion, was discharged.

Gone to the Convention.

Rev. Dr. T. H. Pritchard left this morning for Edenton to be in attendance upon the North Carolina Baptist Convention which will assemble in that town on the 14th inst., and where he will undoubtedly meet with a large number of old friends who will give him a cordial welcome back to North Carolina.

Send your goods to Monach's Dye Works.

Wilmington Light Infantry.

We are glad to learn that this excellent organization is in a prosperous condition, with all of its debts paid, besides having about $500 in the treasury. The company is an honor to the city and it is the determination of its officers and members to make it the crack corps of the State. It should be the pride of our citizens to encourage its efforts in every way possible. It is desirable to increase the membership to 75 good men, to do which about 25 are now needed, and we hope they will be speedily obtained.

For Pocket Knives or Table Cutlery go to JACOBI'S Hardware Depot. It.

Esmeralda.

We call attention to the double-column advertisement of Esmeralda, which will be presented at the Opera House on the night of the 14th inst., by the Madison Square Company. The play has been rendered here once and is therefore known to many of our readers as one of sterling merit, and possessing peculiar interest from the fact that the principal scenes are laid in North Carolina. The cast of characters is a remarkably strong one, many of the actors being favorably known by our theatre goers. There will undoubtedly be a full house to witness the rendition of this excellent domestic drama.

All fashionable colors dyed at Monach's, Second street. It.

Increased Facilities.

The improvements which Mrs. Warren has recently been making in her confectionery store on Second street, near the Postoffice, have all been completed, and the establishment now presents one of the neatest appearances in the city. She has doubled the space formerly occupied by her and has increased her facilities for not only the display but the manufacture of sweet things. The candy maker employed by her is certainly equal to all of the demands made upon him and the display of the result of his labors is as tempting as we have seen anywhere.

The celebrated 'Fish Brand' Gillnet Twine is sold only at JACOBI'S Hardware Depot.

Theatrical.

Mr. Charles E. Locks is in the city trying to make arrangements for the appearance here of the celebrated Theodore Thomas' Orchestra of 60 performers. They will perform in Richmond and Norfolk, and if sufficient inducements are offered will stop and perform here on their tour through the South.

Mr. J. Duke Murray, advance agent for Milton Nobles, is in the city making arrangements for his company, which will appear here on the 19th inst., at which time the popular drama of "A Man of the People" will be presented. The new diagrams for the Opera House have arrived; and now, ticket holders for reserved seats will have the number of their seats cut from the diagram and attached to the coupons, so that much annoyance will be avoided.

Acrobatic.

An acrobat and contortionist, who stated that he had been a member of Barnum's Circus Co., was in the city on Saturday night and gave a moonlight performance on Market street, just West of Front street. His performance was spoken of as being very good by those who saw it. After having shown his skill for awhile a collection was taken up on his behalf and the bystanders contributed quite liberally. He hailed from Atlanta, Ga., and said that he was out of funds adopted his circus skill as a means to raise the money to defray expenses. There was also a lifting machine for those who desired to test their strength, the latter having just returned from the Cumberland Fair, at Fayetteville.
