The Daily Review has the largest circulation of any newspaper published in the city of Wilmington.

Mrs. Henrietta H. Magruder, who died in Florence recently, was the widow of the famous General John B. Magruder.

Rev. Mr. Spurgeon recently wrote to his son from Mentone that, though he is in great pain, he is progressing towards recovery.

When W. H. Vanderbilt is out driving, his full outfit, including team, harness, cutter and clothing, is estimated to be worth $20,000.

Baron de Wagstaffe, a Russian nobleman, now in Chicago, has been sent to this country by that government to study the American railroad system.

Senator David Davis' illness has not been as serious as reported, being but a slight cold. He is out and about again, looking none the worse for his confinement.

Wendell Phillips, the Abolitionist's died in Boston on Saturday evening at 6 o'clock, aged 73 years. He was the last of the Boston School of Anti-Slavery Agitators.

"Fifty years hence," says a Detroit lake captain, "the sight of bark, brig or schooner on the inland waters will draw a crowd as a curiosity. Steam is knocking out the sail-crafts by the dozen."

A Chicago journal modestly suggests that the celebration of the fourth centennial of the discovery of America should be held in that city, because it "is the pivot city of the United States" and best suited to the purpose of such a celebration.

Mme. Pauline Lucca left Berlin feeling less happy than when she began her season there. The critics, even the old ones, her friends of days gone by, were chary of their compliments. Indeed, some of them ventured to declare that her voice was falling.

Miss Minnie Hauk tells a Buffalo reporter that she is not going to travel around the country all her life singing in "Carmen," "Faust" and "Favorita." She is ambitious—whence comes a European residence now about to begin. She goes to Berlin shortly.

Four cents a piece was the price promised a sewing girl in Brooklyn for making eight dozen shirts, and then she had to bring suit to get the money, her employer alleging that the sewing was defective. Judgment for the full amount and $5 costs was rendered in her favor.

At a microscopic exhibition in Boston lately, the sting of a honey bee was thrown upon the screen, the point of which was so sharp as to be hardly distinguishable. At the time the finest of fine needles was shown under the same power of the microscope, and the end of the needle measured five inches across.

Ivan Turguenoff suffered much during the latter part of his life from a painful spinal trouble, for which he consulted many eminent physicians and tried innumerable remedies. It appears that he had not implicit faith in the medical faculty, and that when doctors failed to alleviate his sufferings he sometimes resorted to empirics.

Dr. Edward Warren, formerly of Baltimore, whose services in Egypt gained him the title of Bey, and who for some years has resided in Paris, arrived at New York last week, and is now visiting his brother, Captain Harry Innes Warren, at Fredericksburg, Va. His return to America is for rest and recreation.

The Republican party in St. Louis, which has long been divided into factions, is now practically a unit. This union will be followed by efforts to consolidate the organization throughout the State. The two State Committees are to be urged to agree upon one date and one place for the State Convention to appoint delegates to Chicago.

A reporter of the New York World has been looking in upon some of the sewing women of that city. They get from 7 to 10 cents a dozen for making shirts, 60 cents per dozen for women's calico wrappers, 45 cents a dozen for men's drawers, 30 cents a dozen for woolen overshirts and 8 cents a piece for linen dusters; of these latter it is said that the smartest woman working on a machine cannot finish more than three a day. It is terrible to read of.

The receipts of cotton at this port today foot up 284 bales.

There is a plaid shawl in the Post-office, in this city, addressed to Eliza Grant.

Workmen were busily engaged in laying curb stones on North Water street, between Princess and Chestnut, today.

There were no cases for the Mayor's consideration this morning, and only one tramp furnished with lodgings at the guard house last night.

We are glad to see that Mr. O. G. Parsley, who has been quite sick for some weeks past, has so far recovered as to appear on the streets again.

For some cause, the nature of which we do not know, there is some uncertainty about the appearance of the "White Slave" Co., as was expected.

We are having beautiful weather and the farmers in the country are preparing for their season's crops, and some of them have already begun ploughing.

Fishermen are catching but few shad thus far, but they hope and expect that if this sort of weather continues, they will begin to come in more plentifully.

St. Jacobs Oil, an honored name, A cure for pain in wealth or fame, And helps the wretch to creep.

The strong Southerly wind this afternoon soon made the streets dry, and the dust flew lively, much to the annoyance of those whose business called them into the streets.

Quite a number of young men from the surrounding counties are migrating to Texas, but we shall expect them to return in about a year convinced of the fact that North Carolina's good enough for them for the future.

The Clinton Caucasian says: "Dr. Dabney, State chemist, is expected soon to visit and examine the various phosphate beds recently discovered in Sampson county, with a view to ascertaining the quantity and value of the rocks."

Mlle Rhea, the celebrated French actress, is coming. Her repertoire consists of Adrienne Lecouvreur, Camille, School for Scandal, Much Ado about Nothing, Diane de Luy, Coprice and Mary Stuart, in either of which she is Rheally excellent.

Bartley Campbell's White Slave Company, who were to have appeared in this city on Thursday, will jump the town. They go from Richmond to Charleston without a break playing in the latter city on Friday and Saturday nights. They have acted badly about their engagement here.

Saturday was ground hog day, and according to the old superstition, Winter is still to be with us. In ground hology, if the day is cloudy, he will know that the Winter is broken. If the day is fair, the hog will return to his hibernation and appear no more until the latter part of March—for the Winter is not over yet.

Foreign Exports.

During the month of January, 1884, the exports foreign from this port were as follows: Cotton, 8,439 bales, $390,784; spirits of turpentine, 145,239 gallons, $46,152; rosin, 32,574 barrels, $78,333; tar, 12 barrels, $84; pitch 22 barrels, $39; lumber 1,435,000 feet, $22,678; shingles 610,000, $3859, making the total value of exports for the month aggregate $521,869.

Attempted Burglary.

The chicken thieves and other kinds of midnight marauders seem to have taken quite a fancy to the vicinity of Seventh and Mulberry streets. On Sunday night some one of the gang made an attempt to break into the dwelling house of Mr. J. J. Hopkins, near the corner of these two streets, and came near being successful. The sash fastener was forced, but there happened to be a nail in the window which the thief could not get at, and by this means the attempt was frustrated. The appearance of the tracks beneath the window indicated almost positively that the would-be burglar was a woman.

Board of Aldermen.

The Board of Aldermen met in regular session last night.

A resolution was adopted that the City Attorney be instructed to take the necessary steps to enforce the collection of moneys due on property that has been sold for taxes, the time for the redemption of the same having expired.

The City Treasurer and Tax Collector was instructed hereafter to enforce the penalty of 25 per cent. upon all property sold for taxes unless excused by the Board, or by the Mayor, when sufficient legal evidence is produced as will show that justice demands it.

The Finance Committee, in conjunction with the Board of Audit and Finance, were empowered to effect a loan to cover the expense of the improvements on Water street, on such terms and time as may be deemed most desirable; interest not to exceed eight per cent. per annum.

A resolution was adopted that the Mayor be authorized to sign one note for $4,000, and two notes for $3,500 each, to cover the cost of North Water street improvements.

Application of the Wilmington Turnpike Company for the remission of taxes paid in 1882, was referred to the Finance Committee, with power to act.

S. H. Terry was elected policeman to fill a vacancy on the force.

Our Little Ones.

The February number of this beautiful juvenile gem is at hand and it is replete with beautiful things. It cannot be too highly commended. It is for the little ones, those whose minds are just awakening to the need of entertainment and instruction, and it is most prettily adapted to the requirements of its readers. It is beautifully illustrated, Russell Publishing Company, 36 Bromfield street, Boston.

New Music.

We have received from Rev. F. W. E. Peschan two pieces of vocal music entitled "I'm growing old quite willingly," and "There is no home but Heaven," the words and music of which were composed by him. We have had time only to notice that the melodies are quite simple and appropriate to the words to which they are wedded. The harmonies are correct and in the most simple form, and well rendered must have a rather pleasing effect.

We have heard both Democrats and Republicans say that there is nothing better for a cough than Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup; this old reliable remedy never fails to cure a cough or cold at once, and may be obtained at any drug store for 25 cents a bottle.

Anniversary Exercises.

The Howard Relief Steam Fire Engine Co., No. 1, will celebrate its 29th anniversary on the 20th inst. The celebration will take place at the engine house during the morning hours and will be attended by members of the company, their lady friends and invited guests. Speeches will be made and the entertainment interspersed with vocal and instrumental music, conspicuous among which will be a vocal quartette, the words and music of which will be composed by Rev. F. W. E. Peschan, of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, and dedicated to a very prominent member of the company. At the conclusion a cold collation will be served to those present.

Eagles' Island.

A friend, who is one of the grey breads of the city, remarking upon our article of yesterday in regard to Castle Haynes, has called our attention to another error of frequent occurrence in regard to the name of a certain locality in this vicinity, which we hasten to correct. He says that the island immediately in front of the city and which of late years has been persistently called "Eagle" Island should be "Eagles'" Island. It was formerly the property of Mr. Joseph Eagles and derives its name from that gentleman. We plead guilty of the fact of having ourselves unwittingly aided in extending the error through the columns of the REVIEW, but we will endeavor to be more careful in the future. Our friend says that to call it "Eagle" Island indicates it as a roosting place for that fabled bird of Jove whereas not one of that species has ever been known to build a nest within its limits. It derives its name from its former proprietor, as stated, and should be called Eagles' Island and never Eagle. The war has swept away nearly everything connected with the past; let us, at least, try to keep the old names of old places intact, and not let them pass into literature and history as they are now so frequently, but so erroneously designated.
