THE WAR IN THE EAST.

The defeat, with terrible slaughter, of Baker Pasha and the Egyptian forces under his command, by Mohammed Achmed, the so-called False Prophet, has awakened profound interest and alarm throughout Europe, and especially in England, which is liable to be the greatest sufferer, unless this Arab is at once gotten under control.

"The moral effect of these two disasters will be very great, not only in the Sudan but also in Egypt proper and in all Moslem countries. This unbroken series of victories due to the want of foresight and prompt action on the part of the British authorities, will make tens of thousands of Mussulmans believe that Mohammed Achmed is really the Mahdi, and it will be more than ever difficult to make Mussulmans fight against him.

SHORTS

A model car conductor—The locomotive.

There are 193,000 doctors in this country.

Chicago has for 1883 a new building frontage of ten and a half miles.

Prince Bismarck is still opposed to those "literary letters" he can stand blood, but not ink.

Doesn't Florida are being slaughtered so rapidly that it is believed they will become extinct in a few years.

Gustavo Salvini, son of Tommaso, has just entered upon his operatic career and is spoken of as a fine tenor.

A St. Louis hackman is in jail for sending false orders to other drivers to get them off on a wild goose chase.

While rummaging in the garret last night we came across an old diary of ours bearing the date 1884.—Phila. Call.

Germany is going in heavily for beet root culture. Ninety new factories were started last year and nearly as many are in course of construction.

An English nobleman, now travelling in the West, is charged with falling in love with the housemaid of a Denver hotel and wanting to marry her.

There is a lizard that can throw off its tail at pleasure. It is now easy to conjecture how mankind got rid of their tails when they resolved to quit monkeying.

Breezes in the Spice Island are not laden with more fragrance than a breath rendered pure and aromatic with SOZODONT, which restores whiteness to yellow teeth and soundness to defective ones.

Neither man nor woman can hope to carry any point by the force of persuasion with a mouthful of unclean, discolored teeth and an unpleasant breath. SOZODONT remedies both these repulsive physical traits, and is preeminently healthful as well as effective.

THE FAMILY PHYSICIAN.

Sassafras is recommended in its medicinal quality, says Dr. Scott's Health Monthly. A tea made of the bark of red sassafras, sweetened to the taste, may be taken internally, while cloths soaked in the cold tea are applied to the irritable parts.

Baking soda is one of the best known remedies for burns and scalds. It should be immediately applied either wet or dry. It almost instantly relieves the burning sensation and helps to heal.

On rising in the morning always put on the shoes and stockings the first thing. Never walk about in the bare feet, or stand on oil cloth. Even in summer time this is a dangerous and unhealthy practice.

In case of poisoning, use of the best emetics is salt and water, the quantity being two tablespoonfuls of salt to about a pint of tepid water. It acts promptly and has the advantage of always being near at hand.

One of the best methods to cure round shoulders is as follows: Every morning, before or after breakfast, select an empty corner, a place where the hands can be supported in best—place the hands on the wall and move backwards and forwards, keeping the hands firm. Twenty times is enough to begin with, and then increase to one hundred. This has been known to cure the worst case of round shoulder. Another excellent cure is to carry the chin in and the head erect. If this is done it is impossible to walk round shouldered.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 15th, 1880.

Having been a sufferer for a long time from nervous prostration and general debility, I was advised to try Hop Bitters. I have taken one bottle, and I have been rapidly getting better ever since, and I think it the best medicine I ever used. I am now gaining strength and appetite, which was all gone, and I was in despair until I tried your Bitters. I am now well, able to go about and do my own work. Before taking it, I was completely prostrated.

MRS. MARY STUART.

Cured When Physicians Give Up.

"Our family physician gave up our child to die," writes Henry Kneeb, Esq., of Verulia, Warren Co., Tenn. "It had fits. Sarsaparilla Nervine has cured the child." $1.50.

SECOND THOUGHTS.

Thou hearest even the steps of the ant when, in the night, it walks on the black stones. Even the birds of the air praise thee in their nests; the wild beasts of the desert adore thee.—Psalms.

"At Frankfurt," says little Simson, "I once saw a watch that did not tick, but lie in the existence of a watchmaker. It had a very poor movement, by the way, and a pinchbeck case."—Heinrich Heine.

It is better in some respects to be admired by those with whom you live than to be loved by them. And this is not on account of any gratification of vanity, but because admiration is so much more tolerant than love.—Arthur Helps.

Adversity is like the period of the former and of the latter rain, cold, comfortless, unfriendly to man and to animal; yet from that season have their birth the flower and the fruit, the date, the rose and the pomegranate.—Walter Scott.

The quality which is called gentlemanly is that which theoretically, and often actually, distinguishes the person who is born in a certain social position. It describes the manner in which such a person ought to behave.—George William Curtis.

Many think themselves to be truly God fearing when they call this world a valley of tears. But I believe they would be much more so if they called it a happy valley. God is more pleased with those who think everything is right in the world than with those who think nothing right. With so many thousand joys, is it not black ingratitude to call the world a place of sorrow and torment?—Richter.

MENSMAN'S PEPTONIZED BEEF TONIC, the only preparation of beef containing its entire nutritive properties. It contains blood-making, force generating and life sustaining properties; invaluable for INDIGESTION, DYSPEPSIA, nervous prostration, and all forms of general debility; also, in all enfeebled conditions, whether the result of exhaustion, nervous prostration, overwork, or acute disease, particularly if resulting from pulmonary complaints. MOONSHINE.

"Mary," said a mother to her daughter, "has Henry proposed yet?" "Not yet, ma, but I think he will before many days." "What makes you think so?" "Because he asked me if you expected to live with me if I married, and I told him no."

During the thick fog the other evening Gom Gom took a poor blind man by the hand and led him to his door. Telling the story to a friend on the following day, he cried: "It is terrible to be blind in such a fog!"—Boston Courier.

In order that your husband may not forget to bring in coal, place the hod near the door where he cannot fail to fall over it. The chances are, by all odds, that he'll not try to scuttle out of his duty, after a few mornings' gentle reminder.

"Give me," said the schoolmaster, "a sentence in which the words 'a burning shame' are properly applied." "Immediately the bright boy at the head of the class went to the blackboard and wrote: 'Satan's treatment of the wicked is a burning shame.'"

Such is the encouragement given to flattery, in the present times, that it is made to sit in the parlor, while honesty is turned out of doors. Flattery is never so agreeable as to our blind side; commend a fool for his wit or a knave for his honesty, and they will receive you into their bosom.

Mother's Spinning Wheel.

Concerning One Article that was Not For Sale, and Another which is Cheap at Any Price.

"No, sir, I wouldn't sell you that for any money; that spinning-wheel was my mother's. It was one day, when she was singing like a lark and making this old wheel hum, that my father, then a young merchant student, after warms a farmer, fell in love with her—some fifty years ago."

So spoke the proprietor of a rough bit of farm and in Ulster County, N. Y., to a relic hunter, who had been called in to remain among her children and grandchildren.

"My mother," writes Rev. J. W. Phelps, pastor of St. Paul's M. E. Church, Chicago, has used PARKER'S TONIC, and wishes me to say that she has found it more effective than anything she ever used for invigorating and strengthening the system debilitated by malaria. She desires me also, especially to mention the certainty with which it aids digestion and overcomes exhaustion.

Ever since the first household was established, "mother's" opinion has been more potent in this world than that of judge, jurist or physician. Her hand has always guided the fever and her voice has been filled with hope. With each day's decline, PARKER'S TONIC is becoming more deservedly popular with the women who guard alike husband and child. It eradicates malarial poison from the blood, from which there is now won wide-spread suffering.

Please observe: DR. PARKER'S TONIC is not an ordinary medicine, but a combination of several ingredients, of which none singly can produce anything like its effect. For Kidney, Stomach and Liver troubles, it is the standard and unfailing remedy. Price, 50 cents and $1. The latter the cheaper. HISCOX & Co., Chemists, New York. Jan 11-1md&w

Secretary Chandler stands at his desk to write.

Rev. William H. Haines, a full-blooded African, is taking a course at the Detroit Medical College this winter.

The oldest and youngest dukes in the British Isles are the Duke of Cleveland, aged 80, and the Duke of New Castle, aged 19.

Mr. George W. Cable's illness is expected to confine him to the house for a fortnight. It is intermittent fever. He is visiting Mr. Clements (Mark Twain), in Hartford.

Senator Colquhoun scarcely ever recollects a man's name, but has a way of remembering something that may be taken for a name, and so makes the uninitiated think that he called them by their respective patronyms.

Ludovic Halevy, the librettist, is a young-looking man for 49. He is a very quiet, domestic man and is of a melancholy turn, despite his lively comedies. He is lean and hungry in appearance, like Cassius, but, heavily bearded, with dark hair.

The man who started the restaurant in Paris at which a workman can get a good dinner for half a franc is M. Ruel. He began life by selling matches, and later on became the largest manufacturer of them in France. His wealth is estimated at 25,000,000 francs ($5,000,000).

Hall's Vegetable Sclerian Hair Renewer imparts a fine gloss and freshness to the hair, and is highly recommended by physicians, clergymen and scientists as a preparation accomplishing wonderful results. It is a certain remedy for removing dandruff, making the scalp white and clean, and restoring gray hair to its youthful color.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The Old-Fashioned Doctor.

It is very interesting to read the writings of some of the doctors of the olden time, and see how modern science and recent discoveries have knocked to pieces many of their old theories. These good men were doing their best to relieve human distress. Many of them were working in the dark. Almost all of them were in bondage to some inherited theory as to disease and its cure. It is evident that the best of them did a great deal of guess-work. Still, they looked wise, and much of their guess-work passed for solid wisdom.

As late as twenty-five years ago it was the practice of many of the best physicians to bleed their patients a great deal. Sometimes an enfeebled patient would be bled nearly to death in pursuance of this wild old custom.

After a while the doctors found out that blood was just what a sick man needed, and that he needed it pure and rich. Modern science has found that iron gives the blood its rich red color, and that if there is not enough iron in the blood, the vital fluid is pale and thin and poor.

When this is the case, the whole system is enfeebled. The doctors and the chemists experimented and tinkered a great deal with various forms of iron. Most of the early preparations of iron for the blood did as much harm as good; sometimes more. They hurt the teeth and injured the stomach, and worked other mischiefs. But now we have a preparation of iron in which chemical science has made a majestic triumph. It is "Brown's Iron Bitters." This carries the iron right to the spot where it is needed. It invigorates the stomach, enters into the circulation, enriches the blood, refreshes the liver, tones the nerves, and puts the whole system in healthy condition for work. The triumphs this remedy has wrought are matter of public record throughout the United States. "Brown's Iron Bitters" is sold by all the respectable druggists, and the people like it.
