

THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOI. VIII. WILMINGTON, N. C., MONDAY, FEBRUARY 18, 1884. NO. 41

THIS PAPER published every evening, Sundays excepted by JOSH T. JAMES, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR. SUBSCRIPTIONS POSTAGE PAID: One year $4.00. Six months, $2.00. Three months, $1.00. One month, 35 cents. The paper will be delivered by carriers free of charge, in any part of the city, at the above rates, or 10 cents per week. Advertising rates low and liberal. Subscribers will report regularly and all fall orders to receive their paper regularly.

The Daily Review has the largest circulation of any newspaper published in the city of Wilmington. Five hundred railroads have adopted the new time, and only thirteen hold out to the old. Six thousand people an hour cross on the Brooklyn Bridge in foggy weather, descending the terraces. It is understood that Fred Douglass will settle amicably with his housekeeper, Louisa Sprague. The Western Nail Association met in Pittsburgh, Pa., last week, and reduced the card rate from $3 40 to $2 60. Matthew Arnold will publish impressions of America along with the lectures delivered while in the United States. Last Wednesday was the coldest day of the season in Leadville, Col. At 6 p.m. the mercury stood at 32 degrees below zero. Real estate brokers in New York city report a revival in that line of business, and one that is expected to advance as spring advances. The financial report of the New York Metropolitan Opera House for the season ending February 1, shows a deficiency of $250,000. Kentuckians are crowding over the fact that eleven United States Senators are natives of that State. There is nothing like blue grass. Mr. Capel, Matthew Arnold and Henry George are of one mind on one thing. They all say that the United States is a republic only in name. Mr. Abbey offers Saran Bernhardt $1,200 for each performance in America next season, she to furnish her own company and he to pay all other expenses. The salt mines of Louisiana are wonderful deposits and of every variety. They are the purest aggregations of salt known. Railway connections just established will make them veritable oases. A Texas prophet declared that 1884 would "bristle and groan with disaster," and the groaning has already begun. At least twenty three Texas editors have each been presented with a boy since the 1st of January, 1884. In the olden times Wendell Phillips was in great demand as a lecturer among his stereotyped replies to committees was: "I will come and lecture on a literary subject for $100 a night and my expenses; on 'Slavery' for nothing and pay my own expenses."

Senator Williams, of Kentucky, is reported as being completely prostrated by the long suspense and nervous strain of the Senatorial contest, in which he was defeated by the Hon. J. C. S. Blackburn, and some of his friends fear the shock will seriously affect him. Mr. W. Steiniz, once the champion chess player of the world, has failed in his attempts to get up a match with the present champion. He thinks of making his home permanently in New York, and of starting a first class magazine devoted to chess. Tourgenieff, the late Russian novelist, thus quoted: "It once occurred to me to give a banquet in the saloons of the great hotels. All the virtues were invited to it—none but the virtues—so that there were no men—only women." The Supreme Court of Philadelphia, in the appeal of the Pennsylvania Railroad from the decision of the court of common pleas of Allegheny county, affirmed the right of the city of Pittsburgh to tax the real estate of the company used for the transaction of its business. A New England expert, speaking of the present manufacturing outlook, said: "Indeed, so confident am I we will have higher prices all along the line that I would not be afraid to contract to take the productions of a sum of mills at present prices for the next five years, and be sure of a vast amount of money by the operation."

The death of Harry E. Packer, the president of the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company, leaves his sister in possession of the largest income earned by any unmarried lady in America. Miss Packer's wealth consists mainly in a life interest in the stock of the Lehigh Valley Railroad which she holds, the dividends of which will yield her at least $700,000 a year.

The commercial communication between Spain and the United States was signed in Madrid, Wednesday evening, and will go into effect March 1st.

Mrs. Emma Uhler, who was made notorious in March last as the cause of the murder of William H. Haverstick, a broker, who was killed by her brother for enticing her away from her husband, died from opium poisoning last Thursday in the New York hospital, doubtless a self-murderer.

Mr. Hiscock, of New York, thinks that if the Morrison bill should pass the House the Senate may "strike out all after the enacting clause and substitute a brief bill repealing the sugar duty or reducing it one half and taking the internal tax entirely off tobacco." That would settle it, he believes.

The Boston Globe says that Fall River mills made last season from 20 to 12 and from 8 to 6 per cent. dividends. It adds: "But because there is a prospect that no dividends will be made this quarter wages must come down in order that interest may be paid to capital.—That is the whole business in a nut shell."

A western paper says: "Nothing will cure some sick men more quickly, than an office, properly applied.—This 'cure' may be very successful in many cases, but we would say: If a man suffers from a cough or cold, give him Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup."

Dr. Milburn was lecturing in Richmond last week to large houses. Br. barque Venus, Harriss, hence, arrived at Plymouth, Eng., Feb. 15th. The supply of fish in this market is very small, and has been for several days.

Schr. Robert H. Parker, Steelman, hence, arrived at Wilmington, Del., Feb. 15th.

Swed. barque Express, Hillstadt, sailed from Liverpool, Feb. 16th, for this port.

The gloomy, rainy weather of the last three or four days has given way to the pleasant sunshine, which we hope will continue.

The Greensboro Buyle has been revised by its former publisher, Mr. Jas. W. Albright, and will come to us as a daily issue, Democratic in politics. We wish it much success.

Knights of Honor.
Carolina Lodge No. 434. Regular meeting this evening at 7 1/2 o'clock. Full attendance desired.

Mr. Geo. W. Garrison, an engineer on the Carolina Central, was married in Polkton, on last Thursday, to Miss Hattie Carmichael.

Maj. W. L. Young has opened a real estate and broker's office at 209 Princess street, next West of the Court House. See card in this issue.

The members of St. Mark's church, colored, will hold a grand festival at the hall opposite City Hall to-morrow night, the proceeds of which will be devoted to the payment of the debt of the church.

The lecture to young men which was announced to be preached at the First Baptist Church last night was postponed on account of the indisposition of Rev. Dr. Pritchard, the pastor. It will probably be preached next Sunday night. The subject will be the same.

Mary Davis, alias Mary Hooper, colored, who was indicted for murder at the recent term of the Criminal Court, but whose case was continued, was brought before the Court this morning on a writ of habeas corpus, and was released on bail, the bond being fixed at $300, with Joseph E. Sampson as surety.

Now is the time to give Smith's Worm Oil.

Painful Accident.

We are pained to learn that Mr. Edward D. Walker, of Pender County, met with quite a severe accident on Saturday last. He was riding in a cart from his home to Lillington village and when near the house of Mr. W. H. Herring, the horse, which was trotting at the top of his speed, stepped in a hole and was thrown. Mr. Walker was thrown violently to the ground and his nose was broken besides receiving a severe wound on his forehead. His wounds are severe, but are not considered dangerous.

Bold Robbery.

Yesterday, sometime between the hours of 11 a. m. and 4 p. m., some thief broke into the store of Messrs Lockhart & Croom, on South Front street, between Dock and Orange, and stole therefrom about 10 gallons of whiskey, 3 shoulders of meat, a lot of canned goods, snuff, tobacco, cigars, confectionery, a revolver, besides several other articles, the amount of which has not yet been ascertained. They gained an entrance by working in through the loft in the rear. Mr. Croom left the premises at about 11 o'clock and returned again at about 4 to find the robbery had been committed during his absence. There is no clue as yet to the thief.

This Morning's Fire.

At about 6.30 o'clock this morning an old stable in the rear of Messrs. Northrop & Cumming's mill, in the southern portion of the city, in which was stored a quantity of hay and rice straw, was discovered to be on fire. The alarm was given immediately and the fire department was on hand with their usual promptitude, but owing to the combustible nature of the materials upon which the flames had to feed, their exertions could not prevent the destruction of the building and contents. It was not insured but the loss was small. It is not known how the fire originated, but it is presumed that some tramp used the stable as a lodging place last night and set it on fire this morning, either accidentally or purposely.

The receipts of cotton at this port to-day foot up 343 bales.

A Whole Shop Full.
A druggist holding up a bottle of St. Jacobs Oil said: "It holds more psinure than all the rest of my shop."

Interesting to Fishermen: The celebrated "Fish" Brand Gilling thread is sold only at JACOBI'S. He is the Importer's Agent.

DIED.

FOWLER—At his residence in this city, at 12.10 o'clock, a. m., on the 15th inst., Mr. NATHANIEL E. FOWLER, aged 69 years, 6 months and 21 days.

Funeral will take place to-morrow (Tuesday) afternoon, at 3 o'clock, from his late residence, 415 South Front St., thence to Oakdale Cemetery. Friends and acquaintances of the family are invited to attend.
