Three months, $1.00; One month, 35 cents. The paper will be delivered by carriers free of charge, in any part of the city; at the above rates, or 10 cents per week. Advertising rates low and liberal. Subscribers will report any and all failures to receive their paper regularly.

The Daily Review has the largest bona fide circulation, of any newspaper published in the city of Wilmington.

Samuel C. Reed is building in Chattanooga a new theatre, at a cost of $50,000.

Roscoe Cookling is said to be looking better, so far as health is concerned, than he has for years.

Mr. Tilden's candidacy is favored by thirty eight among the seventy-three members of the Mississippi Legislature.

The profits of the local insurance companies of Georgia for twelve months do not amount to more than $200,000.

General Lee's daughters, Miss Mary and Miss Mildred, were present at the unveiling of the Lee statue in New Orleans.

King Humbert has directed that hereafter, at the banquets and court dinners, Italian wines, with the exception of champagne, shall be served, instead of foreign. Bullly for Humbert.

The proposed constitution for the State of Montana provides that the Governor shall be paid $3,600 per year, the Secretary of State $2,800, and the other executive officers $2,000 each.

One of the wealthiest firms in the State of Maine is composed of two brothers of Augusta, whose original capital was $5,000, which their sister recovered in a breach of promise suit.

M. Richard Waddington, brother of the French Ambassador to England, has accompanied M. Clemenceau on his visit to England for the purpose of studying the poor laws and cooperative system.

Canadian official reports show that in January 2,350 Canadians left the Dominion for this country in search of employment, and the Ottawa Free Press says that, if anything, the figures are underestimated.

The official reports from the Maine builders show that in the construction of 88 vessels, aggregating 31,396 tons, there was used 13,166,072 feet of Southern pine and only 2,327,038 feet of Northern pine, and 4,680,000 feet of white oak.

Clara Barton, as President of the American Red-Cross Association, is doing noble work among the flood sufferers, and proposes to go from one end of the Ohio to the other in her skiff, which makes her a sort of modern Joan of Arc.

Philadelphia, which forty years ago was the seat and centre of an acrid and uncompromising hostility to citizens of foreign birth, on Tuesday last elected a mayor who was born in Ireland. Mr. Smith, the mayor-elect, took out his naturalization papers only a few years ago.

Lieutenant Schwatka, the Arctic explorer, now in Portland, Oregon, said the other day that in his opinion the Greeley party is safe, and that if its members can keep the scurvy off they will be rescued during the coming summer. He regards the lack of fresh food as the greatest danger likely to be met by them.

Pope Leo celebrated last Wednesday the sixth anniversary of his ascent to the chair of St. Peter. The Cardinals on such occasions present an address, to which the Pope replies, reviewing the church's position. The consultation which followed on this occasion, between the Pope and Cardinals, is said to have been gratifying as showing the high prosperity of church interests.

Mrs. Myra Clark Gaines, a noble and now very old woman, after winning one-half of the estate of New Orleans after fifty years litigation to get her property, is living in Washington in almost straitened circumstances. Her lives in furnished rooms and supports herself, her daughter-in-law and her grandchildren on the $60 a month pension she receives as the widow of Gen. Gaines.

George R. Wendling, a prominent Democratic politician of Illinois and a well known public lecturer, has returned from an extensive tour through the West. While away he came into contact with leading Democratic politicians. He says that Tilden is undoubtedly the first choice of the party President and in all the Western States which he had visited the old Democrat was the favorite in preference to other now mentioned. Wendling is one of the best informed Democratic politicians.

THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. VIII. WILMINGTON, N. C., TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 1884. NO. 48

Congressman John S. Wise, of Virginia, a degenerate son of a noble sire, appeared before the Danville Investigating Committee yesterday and was allowed to make a long campaign speech, nearly all of which had but little or no connection with the subject under investigation. It is likely enough that it was a put-up job between Wise and Senator Sherman, the Chairman of the Committee. Senator Vance appears to have made a few futile efforts to check him in his remarks, but in these the distinguished Senator from this State does not appear to the best advantage. It is evident that the Republican majority on the Committee is showing its hand very plainly. Their object is not so much to investigate alleged outrages as to furnish campaign material for the Republicans in the next campaign. The bloody shirt is to be raised again and the lie manufactory is to be run to its fullest capacity, day and night.

Still In Undisputed Possession.
SANDUSKY, O.—The Register says: A prominent Lorain county farmer, after subscribing for the Register for himself, and for his brother-in-law in Iowa, stated, that wherever he traveled it was the opinion, that as a cure for pain, St. Jacobs Oil held the championship of the world.

New moon this morning at 21 minutes past 12 o'clock.

The receipts of cotton at this port today foot up 28 bales.

Steamboatmen report that the recent rise in the river is receding rapidly.

The steamship Benefactor, Tribon, arrived at her wharf in this city this forenoon.

Norwegian barque La Plata, Andrea son, sailed from Cadiz Feb. 18th, for this port.

Princess street dock was crowded with flats, loaded with wood, this morning, and prices were quite reasonable.

The pavers at work on North Water street are making rapid progress and the distance between Market and Princess streets will soon be completed.

Inspector General Cameron, of the North Carolina State Guard, went down the river this afternoon on the steam yacht Louise, to inspect the newly organized company at Smithville.

Rev. J. C. Scarborough, Superintendent of Public Instruction for the State of North Carolina, arrived in the city last night and registered at the Purcell House. It is, we believe, his first visit here since his term began.

Rev. John C. Scarborough, Superintendent of Public Instruction, who arrived here last night, spent the day in visiting the several schools of the city and expressed himself as highly gratified at what he heard and saw.

Ash-Wednesday falls due to-morrow. It is the first day of the lenten fast which continues for forty days exclusive of Sundays. It will close with Easter, which comes on April 13th, and not on April 15th, as we said yesterday.

Three new speaking trumpets for the use of the Foreman, First and Second Assistants arrived here on the New York steamer to-day. They are nickel-plated, plain and serviceable and are intended for service and not show.

We invite the attention of our citizens to the fact that first quality shirts are being made to order at one dollar at the Wilmington Shirt Factory.

We saw this morning a stick about 4 feet long, which grew in the track of the recent storm near Rockingham, and upon the side exposed to the fury of the blast the bark had been all cut off, almost as smoothly as it could be cut with a knife, by the sharp sand which was carried along by the power of the wind.

Mr. George M. Crapon, on South Front street, has in stock now a lot of tea to which the attention of housekeepers is invited in this issue in a special advertisement. This tea has been tried by experienced housekeepers here and pronounced excellent. It is sold for 60 cents a pound and a china cup and saucer goes with every pound sold.

The largest and best stock of Windows, Doors, Blinds &c., and at Factory prices is at N. Jacobi's Hardware Depot.

Travel.
The tide of travel is immense, and our hotels are crowded to their utmost capacity to accommodate the large number of guests who arrive upon nearly every train. Some of those who have passed the Winter South of us, are returning to the North, but we think that they are six weeks, at least, too early in the season. Others are on their way to the South, so that hotels have plenty of business.

Mulish.
There was quite a difference of opinion between a mule and a couple of men who were attempting to drive him this morning. It occurred on Princess and again on Market street, and the mule wanted to travel on the sidewalk, while the drivers preferred that he should occupy the street. The mule was opinionated and kept the drivers quite busy in making him go as they wanted. O, obstinacy, thy name is mule.

Eggs and Oysters.
A colored man from Onslow county was coming down Market street this noon in a cart drawn by a mule and laden with oysters and eggs. When at the corner of Fourth street the mule pretended to get frightened as an excuse for doing mischief and ran away. He was stopped at the corner of Second and Market streets, but the top of the cart was smashed and the eggs and oysters were wofully mixed up and the former smashed all to "smithereens."

Death of Mr. Henry Samson.
Information was received here yesterday by telegraph of the death, at Nyack, N. Y., on Sunday, of Mr. Henry Samson, elder brother to Mr. Julius Samson, of this city, and formerly a member of the house here of J. & H. Samson. He will be remembered by many of the older generation of our citizens.

Mr. Samson died at an advanced age. He was a gentleman of extensive means and had retired from business many years ago.

City Court.

Joseph Hughes and Carl Dabbert, two denizens of the "Hollow," were brought before the Mayor this morning charged with disorderly conduct. It seemed from the testimony of the officer who made the arrest, that the two, while not absolutely drunk, were so much under the influence of the "pizen" they had imbibed that they were "uproarious" and had little respect for law and order. A fine of $3 in each case was imposed, which may have a salutary effect upon their future conduct.

The Government House.

Those who had the good fortune to see Messrs. Baker & Farron in "Chris and Lena," when they were here last year will have some idea of the happy treat in store for them on Thursday night, when these gentlemen will appear in the above entitled play. This latter is a comedy in every sense of the term, and has been received in every place where it has been presented with unbounded delight. They will undoubtedly have a good house, as they are known here as the very incarnation of jolly, good, wholesome fun and merriment.

Personal.

Mr J. G. Bromell, formerly of the Williamston Times, gave as the pleasure of a call to-day. He has recently purchased the material of the Tarboro Guide and moved it to Shoe Heel, at which place he will publish the Shoe Heel Print, the first number of which will be issued on Tuesday, the 4th day of March next.

Messrs. Martin Newman and Samuel Bear, Jr., (Alderman Bear) returned to the city last night from their usual trip North in search of new goods. They went together and returned together. They penetrated as far North and East as Boston.

Inspection.

The Wilmington Light Infantry, Capt. R. H. Beery, paraded at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon for annual inspection and review by Inspector General F. H. Cameron, of the North Carolina State Guard, who was present to perform that duty. There were about 40 men in the ranks, whose drill was very creditable and satisfactory, considering that many of them were making their first appearance in uniform. There were 18 absent and 6 present who were unable to do duty on account of sickness. The armory presented a neat and tidy appearance and the company was commended for the handsome and convenient manner in which it was furnished.

Caught in the Act.
Cornelius Moore, colored, attempted to steal some money from the store of Mr. L. G. Cherry, on the corner of Market and Second streets, this afternoon, but was detected in the act and was turned over to the police who took him to the guard house. It seems that Mr. Cherry had lost money from his bar drawer before and suspicion pointed very strongly to Moore as the thief and to-day a trap was set to catch him. While the other attendants were in the front part of the store one of the clerks hid behind the end of the bar and had not waited long before Moore came in, and jumping upon the bar, reached over and drew out the drawer and had got the money in his hands, when the clerk caught him.

"One must be poor to know the luxury of giving." That may be so, but we think anybody can enjoy the luxury of giving his fellow-sufferer a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup to cure his cough.

A Lothario in Trouble.

Something more than a ripple of excitement spread on the streets this morning, when it became known that a serious misadventure had last night befallen a certain knight of the club in this city, an officer of the police force. It seems that this gay Adonis had become smitten with the charms of a certain lady, the wife of an ex-member of the force, against whose fair fame, by the way, we have never heard a whisper of reproach. The advances made by him were odious to the lady, who did not inform her husband of the fact, however, because she feared that a tragedy might ensue. She did, however, take counsel with her sister and her sister's husband, and a line of conduct was determined upon. Yesterday afternoon the gay policeman sent word to the lady that he would call to see her last night and thereupon she confided this fact to her sister who, in turn, informed her husband of it. This latter then came down town and bought two cowhides and gave them to his wife for use. Last night the Lothario called and was politely received and when asked by the lady of the house what he wished to see her about replied by throwing his arms around her and endeavoring to kiss her. She managed, however, to extricate herself from his embrace and ran to the door of an inner room, which she opened and admitted her sister. This latter was provided with two whips and she handed one of them to her sister, when the two infuriated women turned upon the offender and lashed him severely. It is said that they whipped him until their arms ached and that he had to take it all. When through it is said they told him to go home and tell his wife who had whipped him and what for.

Well Said!

The Washington City Critic pays the following handsome compliment to our distinguished townsman, Hon. R. R. Bridgers:

Hon. Robert R. Bridgers, President of the Atlantic Coast Line, was born in Edgecombe county, N. C., was educated at the University of that State, and chose law as his profession, and commenced his practice in his native county. He soon rose to distinction in his profession, and became a leading member of the bar of his State. He served several times in the Legislature of the State. He was the largest cotton planter in the old North State before the war, and was one of the first farmers that grasped the progressive idea of fertilizing the worn-out farm lands, and bringing them back to a state of original productiveness. At the close of the war he became interested with W. T. Walters, of Baltimore, and other capitalists in the Wilmington & Weldon Railway. The syndicate elected him president of the road, which position he had held continuously since his first election. Through his financial management the company has built up this great coast line, which will ever be a fitting monument to his memory as a successful manager of railways. He is personally popular throughout the State and his name is being mentioned as the next Democratic Governor of North Carolina, but he has no political aspirations whatever.

Silver Plated Spoons, Forks and Knives of best quality, and at manufacturer's prices, can be found at JACOBI'S Hardware Depot.

Questions of Economy

A GITATE THE MIND OF OUR AVERAGE citizen, and are perplexing the brains of our great statesman.
Without going into much discussion, we wish to quote a few "points" below the market, and keep our friends from being "cornered."

The gentlemen on the other side seem disposed to answer these questions of economy by soliciting your patronage on small things thereby enabling you to save a few cents each week or month.

Now we propose to do as we have always done, STUDY THE INTERESTS OF OUR CUSTOMERS, and save them A FEW DOLLARS EACH WEEK, providing them, at the same time, with the BEST ARTICLES OF FOOD obtainable.
