The receipts of cotton at this port to-day foot up 19 bales.

Our people will have an opportunity to see the "Queen's Lace Handkerchief" at the Opera House on the night of Thursday, the 10th inst.

There is unmailable matter in the Postoffice here addressed to Harriet Headen, care of E. T. Moore, and a stamped envelope with no address.

We invite the attention of our citizens to the fact that first quality shirts are being made to order at one dollar at the Wilmington Shirt Factory.

Col. E. R. Brink returned to the city yesterday from Florida, where he had been with a party of distinguished gentlemen who passed here last week going South.

The steamer Wave, which left here yesterday afternoon, met with an accident to some portion of her machinery and was compelled to return to the city to get it repaired.

There was no City Court this morning, no tramps applied for lodgings at police headquarters and universal dullness reigned in the vicinity of the City Hall this morning.

The number of guests at the Purcell House last night was fully equal to that of the night before. A large majority of these guests are people from different portions of the North, who are travelling with their families, either for health, pleasure or business.

Silver Plated Spoons, Forks and Knives of best quality, and at manufacturer's prices, can be found at JACOBI'S Hardware Depot.

Personal.

Mr. Daniel Bowden, Chairman of the Superior Court of Duplin county, and Mr. Benjamin Bowden, Treasurer of that county, are in the city to-day. They report that there were no fires in their county, so far as their information had extended.

Exports Foreign.

Ger. barque Marie, Permaien, cleared to day for Newcastle-on-Tyne, Eng., with 200 casks spirits turpentine, 500 barrels tar and 4,200 barrels rosin, valued at $10,050, shipped by Messrs Alex. Sprunt & Son. Sehr, E. H. Drummond, Higgins, cleared for Aspinwall, with 208,000 feet creosoted piling and crossties, valued at $4,800, shipped by Messrs Northrop & Cummings, making a total of foreign exports amounting to $14,850.

At the Opera House.

Prim rose the maiden's lovely head,
From off her lover's manly vest,
Her hopes all blighted when he said
That he intended moving West.
And when she felt she ne'er should wed
This nice young man, nor bear his name,
In bitter, hollow tones she said:
"Then go, young man, if Thatcher game!"

Thatcher, Primrose & West's Minstrels at Opera House Monday night, April 7th.

Mrs. Barbara Flick, Cleveland, O., was completely cured, by St. Jacobs Oil, the wonderful pain-reliever, of chronic rheumatism of long standing.

Literary.

We have received the April number of the Southern Historical Society Papers, and it is very interesting. Among the more notable and valuable contributions to its pages are "The Last Chapter is the History of Reconstruction in South Carolina," written by Prof. F. A. Porcher, President of the South Carolina Historical Society, and "Further Details of the Death of Gen. A. P. Hill," by a Courier. The first paper is a powerfully written statement of much of the wrong and suffering of the people of South Carolina during those dark and gloomy times, and the narrative will be continued in succeeding papers. The present number also gives the "Organization of the Army of Tennessee at the Battle of Chickamauga," as gathered from official sources, and a continuation of the "Story of the Arkansas," by George W. Gift. There are other contributions of more or less importance, but all go to help make a remarkably interesting and instructive number. Published at Richmond, Va., by Rev. J. William Jones, D. D., at a subscription price of $3 per annum.

Now is the time to give Smith's Worm Oil.

Heavy Wind in Pender.

The blow of Wednesday last was terrific in Pender county, and especially in the Long Creek section. The sun shone all day, but the wind very early assumed the proportions of a gale, and continued incessantly in its work of destruction all day and all night. The destruction of fences, turpentine trees &c. in that section is complete. To add to the terror and loss by the wind fire got out in the woods just North of the village, and being driven by the fury of the gale, many miles of fence and thousands of acres of land were soon swept over. Some few out-houses were blown over. Five thousand dollars would not repair the damage in that particular section.

Ordered Away.

Many of our readers will regret to learn that Mr. T. Chevers, chief engineer of the Revenue Cutter Colfax, has been relieved from duty on that vessel and ordered to report for duty on board the Revenue Cutter Dexter, at Newport, R. I. Mr. Chevers joined the Colfax in 1871, and has been with her during the nine years she has been on this station. He is a competent and skillful engineer, and during his stay here has made many warm friends by his genial manner, and they deeply regret his departure, which will be to-morrow. He is a clever gentleman and while we regret that he is to leave us, we wish him a long life of usefulness, health and prosperity. He will be succeeded on board the Colfax by Chief Engineer Harrison, formerly of the Dexter.

Last Night's Meeting.

In pursuance of the call of the Mayor for a public meeting at the City Hall, for the purpose of taking immediate steps for organization, so that a complete, thorough and creditable display of the products of this city and county may be made at the State Exposition, quite a large number of our citizens and business men assembled last night. The meeting was called to order by Mayor Hall, who was made Chairman and Mr. John D. Bellamy, Jr., was made Secretary.

On motion, a committee on resolutions was appointed, consisting of Messrs. F. M. King, B. R. Moore and Roger Moore.

Mr. S. G. Worth, Fish Commissioner, being present, was called upon, and he responded by a speech, in which he urged upon our people the importance of immediate action that we might make a full and complete exhibit of our abundant resources.

The Committee on resolutions then presented the following preamble and resolutions:

WHEREAS, It is desirable that the city of Wilmington and the county of New Hanover should be properly represented at the State Exposition—an exposition which we have every reason to believe will result in great good to the State of North Carolina, and especially to New Hanover county; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Board of County Commissioners be requested to appropriate a sum within the limits of their authority to further the exhibit on the part of New Hanover county.

Resolved further, That a committee of three, consisting of Messrs. J. M. Forshee, W. B. McKay and Charles W. Worth, be appointed, who shall at once apply for suitable space to display the resources of New Hanover county at the coming State Exposition, and to solicit exhibits of every kind from individuals for said display.

Resolved further, That this committee be authorized to co-operate with a committee to be appointed by the Board of County Commissioners to present our products and in a manner creditable to our city and county.

The resolutions were adopted and a motion for reconsideration was defeated.

There was considerable discussion and much interest manifested as to the proper representation of the city and county, and it was decided that the gentlemen named in the resolutions should constitute an executive committee to co-operate with a similar committee to be appointed by the Board of County Commissioners.

The ball is now fairly set in motion and we hope that it will be kept rolling until the county of New Hanover shall have made a collection of her products and industries which shall prove an honor to the Cape Fear section and an ornament to the Exposition building. We have an abundance of material for such a display and let it be collected, classified and properly arranged by competent persons and we shall do incalculable benefit to our section and draw the attention of the thousands of visitors who will attend the exposition from other States, to our unlimited resources and vast possibilities.

A Sea of Fire.

Under this head we find in the News and Observer the following account of the terrible forest fires which prevailed near Hamlet on Wednesday and Wednesday night, as spoken of by us yesterday:

The pine woods, for thirty miles on each side of the Raleigh & Augusta Air-Line Railroad, between Lemon Springs and Hamlet, were on fire last night. The fire extended for an unknown distance on each side. The strong gale blowing at the time swept the fire through the forest like a tornado. The sight, while appalling, was grand. The tall pines were in a blaze from base to summit. A large number of cross-ties and an immense amount of wood and lumber were destroyed along the line of the railroad, and the turpentine orchards of the whole section have been entirely destroyed. Manly was in imminent danger of total destruction. The railroad warehouse caught on fire several times but was extinguished. The Methodist church, five storage warehouses for guano and cotton, the town guard house, the barn and stables of Mr. W. C. Petty and a flat car on the side track at Manly were burned. The water tanks of the Raleigh & Augusta railroad at Hamlet were consumed. At 2 o'clock a. m. to-day Hamlet was surrounded by a cordon of fire, and the lights of the conflagration could be seen for miles in every direction. Doubtless many farm houses have been consumed, but the only one we have heard of is that of Mr. Henderson, near Hamlet, who lost his residence, together with all out-houses on the premises. The whole community has been busy during the night fighting fire. The heat from the fire was so oppressive at times that it was necessary for the doors and windows of the passenger train to be closed while passing through it.

Vast masses of fire were actually thrown through the air by the sweeping gale. Tops of half burned pines were thrown great distances and fell in the middle of cleared fields. The fire towered to an amazing height, and so vivid was its glare that it made all objects plain at great distances. The people were terribly alarmed. At Blue's Crossing and at Keyser people gathered in large numbers and fought the flames with such energy and desperation that those places escaped with little if any damage. It is reported that many dozen turpentine distilleries are completely destroyed, as well as large quantities of rosin, turpentine and other naval stores. It is thought that the fire has extended beyond Hamlet into South Carolina. Its full sweep may be over a distance of fifty or sixty miles. No news of any disasters to life have been received yet. Many persons have lost clothing, and some were badly scorched by the fierce flames. It is by far the greatest and most disastrous fire ever in the North Carolina turpentine forests.

Steamboat Rules.

At the annual meeting of the Board of Supervising Inspectors of steam vessels, held at Washington City, in January and February last, the rules and regulations were reclassified, and will be printed for circulation at an early date. We publish, however, in advance, for the information of persons interested, the following in reference to issuing license to engineers and pilots, namely: "No original license shall be issued to any person to act as engineer, except for special license on small pleasure steamers, who cannot read and write, or who has not served at least three years in the engineer's department of a steam vessel, or as a regular machinist in a machine works, provided that any person who has served for a period of three years as a locomotive or a stationary engineer may be licensed to act as engineer on steam vessels after having had not less than one year's experience in the engineer's department of a steam vessel."

"No original license for any route shall be issued to any person (except for special license on small steamers and ferryboats outside of commercial ports) who has not been employed in the deck department of a steamer or sail vessel for the term of at least three years preceding the application for license."

Rule 47 forbids the issue of license to pilots, except on the certificate of a surgeon of the marine hospital service, that the applicant is physically capable of distinguishing the colored signal lights, and to engineers unless they can properly hear the bell and whistle signals."
