Out on the Prairie.

Concerning Something Better than Mrs. Toodles' Wheelbarrow—And the Reason Why.

When a certain Commissary General complained to the Duke of Wellington that Sir Thomas Picton had declared he would hang him if the rations for that General's division were not forthcoming at a certain hour, the Duke replied:

"Ah! did he indeed go so far as that? Did he say he'd hang you?"

"Yes, my lord."

"Well, General Picton is just the man to keep his word. You'd better get the rations up in time."

But to get the rations or anything else up in time one must know what to lay his hands on. As Mr. Toodles said about the coffin which he had bought at auction and brought home to his wife:

"If anything should happen, my dear, it will be so handy to have in the house."

Refer to the great wholesale drug house of William Hart, in Kilm, Ill. one day, Mr. G. H. Sherman, the photographer of that place, remarked, concerning PARKER'S TONIC "I have used it in my family for two years, and I unhesitatingly pronounce it the best medicine we have ever used. It is handy to have in the house, and we are never without it."

Called from the mass of reasons why Mr. Sherman was right, he good enough to consider these: First, PARKER'S TONIC is delicious to the taste; second, it invigorates, but does not promote a love for strong drink; third, it cures Coughs and Colds by inciting the torpid organs into healthy action, and opening all the pores of the skin; fourth, it purifies the Blood, thus curing Kidney, Liver and Lung diseases and Rheumatism; fifth—

But take it into your house, and it will speak for itself. Once used, you will change it for nothing else. Physicians commend it. Prices, 20 cents and $1. Hiscox & Co., Chemists, New York, mch 11-d&w in rm

The Daily Review.

THE BABY'S PRAYER.

She knelt with her sweet hands folded,
Her fair little head bowed low,
While dewy vines tapped at the window
And the air was thick with snow.
Without, earth dumb with winter;
Within, hearts dumb with care;
And up through the leaden silence
Rose softly the baby's prayer.

"Bless all whom I love, dear Father,
And help me be good," she said;
Then, stirred by a sudden fancy,
She lifted the shining head.
Did she catch on the frozen marble
Some hint of the April gleam,
Or the breath of the woodland blossoms,
The drifts of the snow between?

"The beautiful trees," she whispered,
"Where the oboles used to sing,
They are tired of the cold, white winter,
Oh, help them to grow in spring;
And the flowers that I loved to gather,
Lord, bring them again in May;
The dear little violets, sleeping
Down deep in the ground to-day."

Ah, earth may be chill with snowflakes
And hearts may be cold with care,
But wastes of a frozen silence
Are crossed by the baby's prayer;
And lips that were dumb with sorrow
In jubitant hope may sing,
For when earth is wrapped in winter
In the heart of the Lord 'tis spring.

—Alice M. Eddy.

A Generous Senator.

While talking with Senator Wade Hampton last evening a daughter of the late Keyerly Johnson came up with an autograph album in her hand. This book was for the names only of United States Senators. The purpose of this lady is to raise a little contribution towards the founding of a hospital for helpless Southern soldiers at Richmond, a work so laudable that it would be like an offense to argue the duty and glory of it. This book is to be sold when filled to any one who will pay the most for it. Each Senator has subscribed $5. But the one thing which the beautiful lady with radiant face came in haste to tell Hampton was this: One United States Senator—was he from the South? the East? or the West? it was a secret, and a precious one and sacred—this Senator modestly set down the little $5, not willing to be known as giving more than some of his fellow-Senators who are not rich, and then shyly handed her check large enough to set two decimals to the right. Ah! there is heart in this world after all, and don't you despair for humanity. —Washington Letter.

Cure of Rheumatism.

ROCKAWAY POST OFFICE,
ROCKAWAY BEACH, N. Y.,
March 1, 1883.

I have been a great sufferer from Rheumatism. Some six weeks ago I had a bad attack and was laid up for a month; nothing appeared to me of any good. I got a box of Brandreth's Pills at last, and took three and four every night for a week. I got better every day, and in a week I was well. On this beach we have no doctor, and our main reliance is on Brandreth's Pills and Alcock's Porous Plasters.

M. P. HOLLAND, Postmaster.

The Largest Schooner Afloat.

Saturday last there was launched at North Weymouth the largest schooner ever built. The dimensions of the craft are as follows: Length of keel, 196 feet 6 inches; on deck, 132 feet 8 inches. —The frame is of the best of Connecticut white oak, and is put together in the best and most approved manner. She is double floor timbered throughout. The keel is a double one 18 inches square, carrying a 3-inch shoe. The planking outside is of selected hard pine four or five inches thick. The vessel is copper fastened throughout, and has been built in the most thorough and workmanlike manner. She will carry an engine to work the pumps and capstan and hoist sail and cargo. She will be rigged with four masts, and will ply between Galves and Providence, carrying cotton. The name of the vessel will be Harrodine, after the daughter of Harold Peck, of Chicago. The carrying capacity will be 2,200 tons. —Boston Herald.

Nothing Like It.

No medicine has ever been known so effectual in the cure of all those diseases arising from an impure condition of the blood as SCOVILL'S SASSAPARILLA, OR BLOOD AND LIVER SYRUP, for the cure of Scrofula, White Swellings, Rheumatism, Pimples, Blisters, Eruptions, Venereal Sores and Diseases, Consumption, Gout, Boils, Cancers and all kindred diseases. No better means can be obtained than by using SCOVILL'S BLOOD AND LIVERSYRUP, which cleanses the blood and gives beauty to the skin.

A Veteran Engineer.

The oldest railroad locomotive engineer in the United States is Lawson Lukins, generally called "Squire" Lukins, of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad. He is as tall as Don Quixote and almost as thin, but his career and character are the reverse of Quixote. For nearly forty years the rider of the swiftest of steeds, and in constant danger, he has never met with a windmill or other serious accident, and so far from roaming in search of adventures, he has devoted his whole thought and energy calmly to his plain duty—to the carrying of his passengers safely to their destination and on time.

"Mine has been a very simple life," said the "Squire" last night, "and when I look back over the thirty-seven years I ran a swift passenger engine it makes me wonder that so few things stand out. It's all a dead level now. I began engineering when I was just twenty years old, which was pretty young, and you see I needn't be tottering on the edge of the grave to be the oldest engineer. When I began I hadn't served an apprenticeship as a fireman, but I was a well-trained machinist. Locomotives were my delight to study, and when I got one to run myself my ambition was realized. I just settled down to my life-work then and there. At first I was bothered by people wondering at such a boy engineer, but I attended strictly to my work, and soon I knew I was all right and safe, and the officers came to the same opinion before long. I loved my work and I never let my mind run off the track. My engine and my duty were more to me than anything else I could think about. When an engineer's mind goes off on side trips his train is apt to make a violent attempt to follow.

"Didn't you feel the effects of the work and responsibility on your nerves?"

"I can't say I did. I've read of doctors saying that no man can stand the physical and mental strain of running an engine more than twenty-five years. I don't believe this is so. If it is I am a great exception. I am just as capable to-day as I ever was in my life and I think I could go on and complete my second twenty-five years. Of course, the engine shook me up and there was noise and exposure all the time, but I got used to these things. They got to be as matter of fact as eating. As to the sense of responsibility, I felt it, of course, but it sustained me instead of breaking me down. Why, it is the soul of engineering, this thought that one is taking care of the lives of others. If I didn't have it I wouldn't run an engine. It would be like running a church without any God. And I would not work on any railroad if the safety of the passengers was not the very first thought in every department, from President down." —Philadelphia Times.

Fits Cured Six Years Ago.

If Lit up by Fine Teeth

the plainest teeth become attractive. —Although ordinary dentifrices prove ineffectual to whiten and improve the health of the teeth, SOZODONT is adequate to the task and does it thoroughly, besides banishing from the breath an offensive smell. Teeth strengthened and purified by SOZODONT are not only whiter but chew better than others. As the teeth improve through its use, eating becomes a delightful indulgence instead of a penalty.

"To give them one trial, which so proves their value that they will never use anything else"

"THE REMEDY so favorably noticed in all the papers,

"Religious and secular, is

"Having a large sale, and is supplanting all other medicines.

"There is no denying the virtues of the Hop plant, and the proprietors of Hop Bitters have shown great shrewdness

"And ability

"In compounding a medicine whose virtues are so palpable to every one's observation."

Did She Die?

"No!"

"She lingered and suffered along, pining away all the time for years."

"The doctors doing her no good;"

"And at last was cured by this Hop Bitters the papers say so much about."

"Indeed! Indeed!"

"How thankful we should be for that medicine."

A Daughter's Misery.

"Eleven years our daughter suffered on a bed of misery.

"From a complication of kidney, liver, rheumatic trouble and Nervous debility

"Under the care of the best physicians, 'Who gave her disease various names, 'Gave no relief,

"And now she is restored to us in good health by as simple a remedy as Hop Bitters, that we have shunned for years before using it." —THE PARENTS.

Father is Getting Well.

"My daughter says:

"How much better father is since he used Hop Bitters"

"He is getting well after his long suffering from a disease declared incurable. Very kind and we are so glad that he used your Bitters. —A LADY of Utica, N. Y."
