THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. VIII. WILMINGTON, N. C., SATURDAY, APRIL 19, 1884. NO. 94

The Daily Review has the largest bona fide circulation of any newspaper published in the city of Wilmington.

A new journal, printed on blood-red paper, and calling itself the Hydra of Anarchy, has been started in Paris.

Gen. Butler is credited with possessing the power, attributed also to M. de Lesseps, of going to sleep whenever he pleases.

Pasteur, the French scientist, has discovered a means by which a dog can be rendered absolutely proof against hydrophobia.

Prohibition is dying out as a political issue in Kansas, chiefly because its trial has led to a pretty general conviction that it does not prohibit.

Miss Chamberlain, the young American whose beauty has attracted so much admiration in Europe, is to spend a month at Newport this summer.

A Connecticut man is reported to have taken out patents for a process by which beautiful and substantial carpets can be made of paper at a very low price.

Wm. D. Kelley, the father of the House of Representatives, from being the longest in continuous service in that body, completed his seventieth year on Saturday.

The popular branch of the Massachusetts Legislature has passed a bill forbidding life insurance companies to discriminate against colored people in the issuance of policies.

The Marquis of Bute has offered a prize of $500 for the best translation of one of the Greek plays into the Welsh language, the competition to take place at the forthcoming National Eisteddfod at Liverpool.

Senator Morrill, of Vermont, celebrated his seventy-fourth birthday on Sunday. He is the oldest man in the Senate, with Senator Anthony, of Rhode Island, following closely after him with his 69 years.

The substitute of Congressman Hewitt for the Morrison tariff bill provides for the placing of all raw material on the free list, leaving the remainder of the tariff untouched. The measure is favorably considered by a number of Democratic members.

Mr. Beecher last Sunday illustrated a part of his sermon by whistling a bar from an opera. Mr. Beecher is constantly introducing new features into his business, like the enterprising man that he is. In this age of competition it behooves one to be on the alert.

Henry Ward Beecher says his individual preference for President is Chester A. Arthur. He thinks Lincoln will be a fool if he allows his name to be used for Vice-President or accepts the nomination. He thinks if he will wait four years he can have the Presidency.

New Haven, Conn., has a woman who has a mania for stealing small babies when left in their carriages at store doors by their nurses or mothers. She is almost as much of a nuisance as the woman who has a mania for leaving stray babies on other people's door steps.

The growth of temperance sentiment in Kentucky is indicated by the fact that the Legislature of that State, at its present session, has passed over twenty bills for the prohibition of the liquor traffic in various townships and school districts, the inhabitants of which have asked for such legislation.

Considerable excitement has been caused in France by a proposed law to establish a system of military conscription somewhat similar to that which prevails in Germany. According to the proposed law, all persons not physically incapacitated must serve for a term of three years.

Mr. Robinson, the Governor of Massachusetts, has sent to Mr. Bruce, the President of the State Senate, a novel message—a blade of grass six inches long. The little bit of green reminds Mr. Bruce of his assertion last winter that the Legislature would adjourn "before the grass is two inches high."

It is reported that the Tichborne claimant is to adopt the stage as a profession on his release from Portland prison, which will now shortly take place. The first character in which he will appear is Sir John Falstaff. He was to have been installed in a public house, but it was felt he had enough of trial at the bar already.

It is said in a letter from Khartoum that Gen. Gordon has had an Arabic text inscribed above his throne in the palace, which may be translated as "God rules over the hearts of men," and that in the reception chamber, where he receives daily the crowds who come into his presence, it is conspicuous.

The worshippers at a church in Solano, Cal., went on Sunday night as usual to service, but found that the bats had taken possession of the house and were so thick and aggressive that the service was necessarily postponed. The deacons inaugurated a bat hunt, and behind one of the window casings found and killed two hundred and forty-one of them.

The bill for the sale of the French Crown jewels proposes that the proceeds be applied to the fund for invalided workmen, but it is strongly advocated in the Senate that the proceeds be used to increase the Louvre and other collections. One Senator pleads that the sword of Louis XVIII and the imperial crown of Napoleon Bonaparte be spared from the melting furnace. The jewels are estimated to be worth 9,000,000 francs.

Cove Creek Confidence.
Mr. A. B. Sawyer, Cove Creek, Tazewell county, Va., writes: "I was for a long time a great sufferer with kidney and bladder troubles. Finally I tried St. Jacobs Oil, the great pain-reliever, and it cured me."

The moon is on its last quarter now. Day's length 13 hours and 20 minutes. Sunset to-morrow afternoon at 39 minutes past 6 o'clock.

North Carolina asparagus was quoted recently in New York at $6 to $7.50 per dozen bunches.

The Register of Deeds last week issued marriage license to two couples, one white and one colored.

In the absence of the Pastor there will be no services at the Second Presbyterian Church to-morrow.

There were eight interments this week in Pine Forest of which five were adults and three were children.

The city is distressingly healthy now. There were no interments this week in Oakdale and but one, a child, in Bellevue.

The ordination services will take place at St. James' to-morrow at the 11 o'clock services. Mr. Robert Strango is the candidate.

Rev. Dr. Yates will preach to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock in his own church and at St. Paul's Lutheran Church at night at 8 o'clock.

To-day we noticed at Heinsberger's Live Book and Music Store, fine, nicely framed photos of the North Carolina Exhibit at the Boston Exposition.

Good reports continue to come in in regard to the crops in this section. With fair seasons and no more fires and whirlwinds, we may look for a prosperous yield this year.

Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy is for sale by W. H. Green, Wholesale Agent, and by J. C. Munds, Munds Bros. & DeRosset, and F. C. Miller, Wilmington, N. C.

We invite the attention of our citizens to the fact that first quality shirts are being made to order at one dollar at the Wilmington Shirt Factory.

The members of Wilmington Steam Fire Engine Co. No. 1, have definitely decided to accept the invitation extended to them by the Atlantic Company, of Newbern, to pay them a visit, this summer.

Dr. Chas. F. Deems was in Norfolk on Thursday. It would be a great treat and would recall old times most pleasantly, if he would extend his pilgrimage to Wilmington and preach in old Front Street Church once more.

The Rev. D. V. M. Johnson, D. D., of Brooklyn, N. Y., will preach, D. V. in St. Mark's Episcopal church, corner Sixth and Mulberry streets, to-morrow evening. Services will commence at 8 P. M. A general invitation is extended; seats all free.

A Jonah.
Capt. H. B. Willis, of this office, has in his possession a large king crab, which measures 8 1/2 inches between the eyes, and is 4 feet 6 inches in circumference, the largest, we think, ever we saw, and which has a history. It was caught yesterday at the Davis fishery, at the Rocks, and was taken alive from the belly of a huge shark. It is a regular Jonah.

The Smithville Guards.
We understand that the Smithville Guards have accepted the invitation extended to them by the Wilmington Light Infantry to visit the city on Memorial Day and participate in the exercises of the occasion. As preliminary to this the uniforms of the company are to be pushed forward to completion, and Capt. W. J. Seroggs, the commander of the company, is in the city to-day with that object in view.

On the Contrary.
There is a lady now in this city who was present at the services in Dr. Talmage's church, the Brooklyn Tabernacle, on Easter Sunday night and she says that the sensational features as described by us yesterday and extracted from a New York paper did not take place. On the contrary, the quiet maintained during the entire service was really remarkable for so large a congregation. How those New York reporters are given to lying!

Musical.
Mr. E. J. Thorpe, of this city, has received one hundred copies of the circular and programme for the Third Annual Musical Convention and Musical Festival for Virginia and North Carolina, which is to be held in Petersburg on May 26, 27, 28 and 29, which will be distributed among the musical people here. Mr. Thorpe has also received a letter from Mr. H. Noltemus, Chairman of the Convention, with a pressing invitation to form a branch society here. He is also specially desirous that Wilmington should be represented at the forthcoming festival and has reserved two seats for delegates from this city. A strong effort is to be made this year to establish the branch society here and we trust that it may prove amply successful. Wilmington, for a city of its size, can show a remarkable amount of musical taste and ability and there should be no difficulty in effecting the proposed organization.

A Few More Notes.
Mr. A. W. McFadyen, of this city, is in receipt of some further particulars relative to the cyclone which struck the plantations of his father and his brother in Bladen county, on Tuesday last. It is strange that there was no loss of life in that locality and so comparatively little loss to property. This may be taken as providential when the terrific fury of the wind is considered. Mr. A. McFadyen farms about 300 acres and all of his fencing was swept off. His loss will probably amount to $1000. That gentleman was standing near a mule hitched to a cart when the blow came. He only saved himself by clinging to a post while the mule and the cart were taken up and blown to some distance. A colt was in a shed and the shed was blown away and the colt was taken up and carried 150 yards and left in a field, strange to say, not seriously injured. The trees all about Mr. McFadyen's house were blown down so that an approach to the premises with a vehicle is impossible until the way shall have been cleared.

Supreme Court.
The following cases were called and disposed of in this Court on Thursday: J. L. Currie vs. C. D. J. Clark et al., from Moore; argument, commenced on Wednesday, was concluded. John Tryson, Jr., vs. Shepherd & Shepherd, from Anson; argued by S. T. Ashe (by brief) and Devereux for the plaintiff, and John D. Shaw and Strong & Smedes for the defendants. D. L. Saylor et al. vs. B. F. Powell et al., from Anson; argued by J. A. Lockhart (by brief), Little & Pearson (by brief) T. S. Kenan for the plaintiffs; no counsel for the defendants. George W. Huntley vs. H. Mathias et al., from Anson; argued by Little & Parsons (by brief) and Haywood & Haywood for the plaintiff, and J. A. Lockhart (by brief) S. T. Ashe (by brief) and T. S. Kenan for the defendants. E. F. Ashe vs. J. T. Gray, from Anson; petition of defendant to rehear; argued by J. A. Lockhart (by brief) and Hinsdale & Devereux for the plaintiff, and John D. Shaw for the defendant.

Now is the time to give Smith's Worm Oil.

Church Notes.
The ordinance of baptism by immersion will be administered at Princess street dock, to-morrow afternoon, at 5 o'clock, by Rev. A. M. Conway, Pastor of the First Baptist Church, colored, to a number of candidates. In this church Rev. B. S. Jones, of Cincinnati, will preach in the forenoon and at night.

Cigars and Cologne.
Mr. James W. Conoley, of the new City Drug Store, has sent in to us a bottle of cologne, of his own manufacture, which in our judgment is equal to any of the imported article we have ever seen. It was accompanied by a package of cigars, "Burkwalter's Alaska" for which he has also our thanks and which we will "puff" to-morrow.

The Daily Gazette.
A daily edition of the Washington (N. C.) Gazette will be published during the session of the Episcopal Convention in that town, beginning May 14. This will be an important convention for the Diocese of East Carolina, and the daily Gazette will give a full report of the convention, biographical sketches and other interesting notes. The subscription price will be 25 cents. Address all orders to the Washington Gazette. Persons may send orders by their Rectors.

Monday Night.
There are not many desirable seats left now on the diagram from the Concert which is to be given on Monday night by the Quintette Club and these who are not yet supplied should see to it at once. It promises to be one of the most notable events in the musical history of our city and the fashion and beauty and culture of the city will be strongly represented on that occasion. The Concert, be it remembered, is to be given for the benefit of the Wilmington Library Association.

To Owners of Cats.
Every well regulated family has a cat, or, at least, ought to have one, and ought to know what to do for it when it is sick. Anybody can tell you how to cure a horse or a dog, but strange to say, no one seems to know of any remedy for a sick kitten. Here is a recipe which is considered an infallible cure for fits: Put a large garlic into a half pint of milk and boil down to one half and give it to the afflicted cat. Generally the cat will eat it with avidity, but if not, force the milk down its throat. It has been tried often with unvarying success.

Death of Mr. Burkheimer.
We regret very much to learn, as we do just before going to press, of the death of Mr. H. Burkheimer, an old and highly esteemed resident of Wilmington. We have no data to draw upon but think that Mr. Burkheimer came to Wilmington about 35 years ago, where he has remained ever since, engaged in the tobacco business. He has been sick for but a few weeks and the news of his death will be received with surprise and regret by his many friends here. He was a genial, kindhearted man and his death will be deeply deplored. He was one of the oldest merchants in this city and we think that his house was the only one in the city that has not undergone some change since it was first established.

The Manhattan.
"Gunnison Country" is described by Ernest Ingersoll in the May Manhattan, with the aid of many excellent illustrations. The Gunnison region is in the heart of Colorado, west of the continental watershed of the Rocky Mountains, and midway the State, North and South. Another illustrated article is on the Italian city of "Rimini" and its quondam rulers, the Malatestas. Shakespearean scholars will be interested in a forcible argument by Appleton Morgan, entitled "Whose Sonnets?", and going far to demonstrate that Shakespeare did not write the sonnets attributed to him. Under the title "Lo XIII" is an interesting narrative of singular circumstances which brought together at various times the present Pope and some living American ladies and their grandparents. An account of Ulric Zwingli, by the Rev. Dr. Chas. H. Hall, of Brooklyn, with the illustrations, set in a clear light the life and services of the Swiss reformer. The "Latest News About Keets," "Children in Fiction" and the new serial "Trajan," which is admirably illustrated, are among other leading articles in this issue. The poetical department is well supplied. New York, at $3 a year.

The meeting in the First Baptist Church will continue next week. After the sermon to-morrow night the rite of baptism will be administered at the Church.

We regret to learn that Mr. Jack Hedrick, eldest son of Col. J. J. Hedrick, of this city, suffered a painful accident to-day by having his hand caught in some of the machinery at the cotton factory. It may necessitate the amputation of a finger.

Personal.
Rev. T. D. Pitts is in the city and the guest of Mr. C. H. King, at his residence corner of Third and Nun streets. Mr. Pitts will preach in St. John's to-morrow morning. He is on his way North and will leave Monday night.

We were pleased to receive a call this afternoon from Mr. H. L. Darr, Jr., of the Sumter Advance, who is here in the interests of his paper.

That Bloody Chasm.
A gentleman in this city is in receipt of a letter from Mr. James Tanner, Collector of Taxes in Brooklyn, N. Y., which speaks of the Testimonial Entertainment which is to be given in aid of the Southern Veteran Soldiers' Home by the Grand Army of the Republic at the Academy of Music in that city on May 6th. Mr. Tanner thinks that the receipts will be from $5,000 to $8,000 and says that he has himself sold a little over 1,400 tickets at $1 each. This is a new and effective way of bridging that bloody chasm.

Cape Fear Academy.
Yesterday evening was the occasion for the assembling of a large audience at the Cape Fear Academy under Prof. W. Catlett, to be entertained by some very interesting exercises by the pupils. These exercises consisted of the declaiming of some select pieces of prose and poetry, then followed a memorial recitation upon Shakespeare. After this several pieces of prose and poetry were well rendered, when another recitation upon North Carolina. History was given, and the exercises closed with a concert recitation by the Introductory class entitled, Piano Music.

Where all did so well it would be difficult to mention any individual pupil. The Shakespeare Memorial exercise struck us as especially adapted to awaken in the minds of the pupils a love for the great master of English poetry. The recitation upon North Carolina History was also especially good in that it caused the boys to commit to memory the deeds of our early defenders of American liberties. We must not fail to mention the little fellows who rendered their concert recitation with success. It brought justly a round of applause.

Such entertainments we heartily commenced. They bring parents nearer to the school room, they encourage the boys as well as the teachers, and cannot fail to awaken a greater interest for education in the community.

DIED.
BURKHIMER—In this city at 2 o'clock, this afternoon, Mr. HENRY BURKHIMER. The funeral services will take place to-morrow afternoon, at 3.30 o'clock, from the residence, corner Fourth and Ann streets, thence to Oakdale Cemetery. Friends and acquaintances are respectfully invited to attend.
