It is said that when Mr. Blaine was asked recently who would be the nominees at Chicago he replied that he was confident the ticket would be Tilden and Carlisle. This was interesting guessing, though not in the line the questioner intended.

The strangest of recent marriage bells is Constance Bell, of Boykin, South Carolina, a handsome twelves year-old gir!, who has married Dr. Jasper Benson, a widower of eighty, and, strangest of all, with the full assent of her parents.

Births are thus advertised in Germany: "We most humbly announce the birth of a hardy boy." "We humbly announce the birth of s fine and lively girl." Something has to be put in to reconcile the neighbors, and "humbly" is as good as anything.

Lynch forgets that a stupendous monument of a Presidential fraud, a man inaugurated as President by fraud, is still alive to hear those words. His name is Rutherford B. Hayes. But the fraud will never be repeated. Tilden will be nominated; Tilden will be cleeted, and Tilden will take his seat.

The Tom Fuller here alluded to is one of Fayetteville's brightest son, Hon, Thos C. Our friend of the Sun may have an opportunity of hearing Col. Fuller again on the stump, as he writes to a gentleman in this city that, while he has about quit politics, yet, if Major Stedman is nominated for Lieut.-Governor, he shall go actively into the campaign.

Outrageous.

A little after 10 o'clock last night a young gentleman, escorting a young lady on Bladen street, between Sixth and Seventh, was assaultted by acrowd of roughs, who threw rocks and brickbats at him, one of which hit him in the back. The same party of roughs attacked another young man with the same sort of missiles and inflicted several severe, though not serious, wounds upon him. Both of those who were assaulted are respectable, peaceable and quiet young men. The assaulting party was composed of young white men. It seems, from what information we can obtain, that there was no reasonable provocation for the assault, and we hope that the guilty parties may be
