SATURDAY, JUNE 14, 1884

IN CONGRESS YESTERDAY.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—A bill was introduced by Mr. Vance providing for the removal of Eastern Cherokee Indians to the Indian Territory.

The Senate took up and passed the House bill providing for the payment of claims audited by the Treasury Department during the past year by virtue of the act of July 4, 1861, for emergency and quartermaster's supplies furnished to the army during the war.

Mr. Brown asked and obtained unanimous consent to take up the bill to require payment in cash to the State of Georgia of $55,555 appropriated for that State by an act passed in March, 1873, to refund to Georgia certain moneys expended for the common defense in 1777.

Mr. Dolph moved an amendment to include $35,000 for Oregon, and $49,000 for California, to refund moneys expended by those States in suppression of Modoc hostilities in 1872 and 1873. A law had been passed, Mr. Dolph said, for refunding to those two States the amounts mentioned, but the Secretary of the Treasury had withheld them by making set-offs. He wanted to know why Oregon should be treated differently from the State of Georgia.

After a long discussion upon the bill and the amendment, Mr. Tegals moved to recommit the bill to the committee on Claims. It was then discovered that there was not a quorum present, and the Senate then adjourned till Monday.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

On motion of Mr. Burnes, of Missouri, Senate amendments to the Consular and Diplomatic Appropriation bill were non-concurred in.

On motion of Mr. Follet, of Ohio, Senate amendments to the Pension Appropriation bill were non-concurred in.

Mr. Pryor, of Ala., then took the floor to conclude his speech on the Electoral Count bill.

Mr. Townsend, of Ill., submitted the conference report on the Postoffice Appropriation bill. Mr. Townsend explained the provisions of the report.

The Senate, he said, had placed upon Bill No. 22 amendments after several meetings of the conference committee. The points of disagreement had been narrowed down to five. The most important items upon which there had been an agreement were the following: Increasing by $500,000 the appropriation for compensation to postmasters; increasing by $125,000 the appropriation for the payment of clerks in postoffices, and appropriating $1,500 to pay the expenses of delegates to the Universal Postal Union.

The Senate conferees had made concessions to the amount of $775,000 while the House conferees had yielded to amendments aggregating $811,500. Items on which no agreement had been reached were first, increasing the appropriation for the pay of letter carriers; second, increasing by $1,000,000 the appropriation for mail transportation on railroad routes; third, striking out the clause regulating compensation to land grant roads; fourth, appropriating $185,000 for special mail facilities; and fifth, increasing by $300,000 the appropriation for railway postoffice clerks.

The two main points of disagreement were upon what were known as railroad provisions. Unless the provisions were enacted into a law, no legislation affecting railroads would be had from this Congress. Everybody knew that the inter-State Commerce bill was dead. The land grant forfeiture bills, which were being passed by the House, would find a grave in the committee rooms of the Senate. Of this he was satisfied.

The conference report was adopted, as far as the items are concerned upon which the agreement has been arrived at.

Mr. Horr, of Mich., moved that the House recede from its disagreement to the amendment increasing from $3,600,000 to $4,000,000 the appropriation for the pay of letter carriers. This was agreed to after some debate. So the item remains as it was fixed by the Senate.

The next point in dispute was the Senate amendment increasing from $11,700,000 to $12,750,000 the appropriation for mail transportation on railroads. This was considered in connection with the amendment striking out the clause reducing the 5 per cent. compensation to railroads for mail transportation and providing that land grant roads and subsidy roads shall receive only 50 per cent. of the compensation allowed other roads.

In both of these amendments the House refused to concur. Without acting on the special facilities amendment and the amendment increasing appropriations for railway postoffice clerks the House took a recess until 8 P. M., the evening session being for the consideration of pension bills.

EDITORIAL REVIEW: It has been suggested, or proposed, if you please, that if a reliable (not simply a preliminary) survey of the proposed line be made by experienced engineers who will supply a map and profile and submit estimates, carefully calculated, from the surveys of the cost of the work, and that a cash subscription of $50,000 of the amount of stock required to build and equip the road be obtained, that a substantial party or parties can be found that will take the balance of the stock and build the road and complete it within one year.

This being true should the friends of the improvement avail themselves of the plan and suggestion? June 14.
