TheDaily Review. When in Doubt.

A couple of Hoosier statesmen were traveling from Chicago to Washington with Senator Logan The latter occupied a reat by himself and was engaged in reading a magazine. His companions, seated immediately behind him, were discussing the rules of whist. They got into a heated argument over the rule that requires a player, when in doubt, to lead trumps. After talking several minutes, one of them appealed to the Senator: "General," he said, "when you are in doubt what do you do?" Logan, half turning his swarthy face toward his questioner, answered in a cool, matter-of-fact way: "Consult Mrs. Logan."

Breaking up a Refrigerator Man.

"Fifty dollars to the man who can prove that any two things put into this ce-chest will taste of the other."

He had a refrigerator run out to the curbstone, hung the above sign over each side, and retired in doors to await the expected run of customers. People passed up and down the street, jostled each other in their hurry, glanced at whites the ice-box and its sign, and—went on After some hours of disappointed hopes and expectations the dealer saw a pedestrain halt, camly peruse the wonderful announcement, and rather hesitatingly advance to the door.

"Do you mean it?" he inquired in an anxious tone, pointing over his shoulder to the sign.

"Yes sir-ee," emphatically responded the dealer.

"Put your money up," insinuated the stranger.

"No, sir" replied the dealer in a pompous style; "my word is as good as the cash.'

"All right, I'll take you." responded the stranger, as he departed. Some time after he returned with a box under each arm.

"Stick to your agreement?" he que-

"Of course I will," answered the dealer, wondering what in the name of Christopher Columbus the man had in

The stranger set his boxes down on Third-Doubtful Jim by Tariff, out the sidewalk, and a crowd began to collect. He told the dealer that he was afraid that he (the dealer) would back out of the bargain, but the latter asserted his readiness to put up the stamps if necessary. The stranger opened a box, lifted out a cat and placed her in the refrigerator; then he opened the other box and took therefrom a wire cage containing a large rat.

"Now, mister," said he, "you just shut that door in a hurry when I flop the rat inside, and I'll go you enother to 9.30 A. M. fifty that one will taste of the other in less'n five minutes '

The crowd yelled and the dealer slammed the refrigerator door and slip NEW into the store, with a remark about fools and swindlers. He still refuses Fifth-Patriotic Choice by Honest to recognize the stranger's claim to the Republican.
