OUR CHOSEN LEADERS.

It was a good day's work, says the Charleston News and Courier, that was done at Chicago yesterday. The vast council which represents just now not only the views and interests of a great political party, but as well the hopes and aspirations of all who desire that our Government shall be in the hands of honest and able men, has been equal to its high duty. Unterrified by the threats of spoilsmen and disregarding the pleadings of partial friends in behalf of statesmen who deserve well of their party and of their country, the Convention has chosen as the candidate for the highest office in the land a man who combines in his own person all the elements which give promise of triumphant election and a safe and honorable administration.

Grover Cleveland for President! The name is platform enough for any honest party—a pledge adequate to the requirements of every honest voter. It means reform—reform in administration, reform in taxation. It means justice—justice to friends and to foes alike. It means honesty—that frank honesty in dealing with the people which is so rarely found nowadays in public servants. It means a wise and Democratic impartiality, an unswerving integrity of purpose and a faithful discharge of the public trusts. The nomination of Governor Cleveland marks, as no other single act could do, the contrast between the Democratic party and the Republican party. It was the result of no greedy scramble of factions; there was no bargaining for purchasable votes, no pecking of the Convention hall with a riotous clique, no secret juggery in the interest of the nominee; in a word, there was a conspicuous absence of the methods which secured the nomination of Blaine. The Democratic National Convention assembled in comparative harmony. The interests of candidates were subordinated to the interests of the party, and these to the interests of the country. Upon a vast majority of the delegates personal preferences hung loosely, the paramount feeling being a desire to vindicate the purposes of the party and to nominate the best man. Cleveland was the strongest candidate simply because he had proved himself to be the fittest. His record of personal integrity and high administrative qualities was his strength in the Convention, as it will be his strength at the polls.

The choice of Governor Hendricks, of Indiana, as the candidate for Vice-President, is an excellent one in every way. It cannot fail to please that large section of the party by whom some kind of vindication of "the old ticket" had come to be regarded as a political necessity and with the cordial relations that have been established between the friends of McDonald and those of Hendricks, the nomination fairly anchors Indiana to the Democracy.

Thomas Andrew Hendricks was born near Zanesville, Ohio, in 1819. His family, during his infancy, removed to Indiana, where he was brought up as a farmer's son. He was educated in a Western college and choosing the profession of law soon obtained a considerable practice as well as great local popularity. He was elected to the Indiana Legislature in 1848. In 1851 he was elected to Congress. He was commissioner of the General Land Office from 1855 to 1859, when he resigned the office. In 1863 he was chosen United States Senator, and in 1872 he was elected Governor of Indiana, a position that he retained until 1877. Since that time he has been a private citizen. In 1876 he was on the ticket with Mr. Tilden, and carried his State by a majority of 5,555 votes. In all the races he has made for office in Indiana he has invariably and largely led his ticket. It was unquestionably owing to his name on the ticket with Mr. Tilden that Indiana was carried for the Democracy in 1876.

It is high as well as just praise to say that Governor Hendricks is a man every way worthy to be associated with Governor Cleveland on the National Democratic ticket. His private and public life have been singularly pure. In all the heated contests in which he has borne a part his integrity has never been called into question. Indeed his character is absolutely unassailable, and his nomination is a substantial addition to the moral as well as political strength of the ticket.

THE PLATFORM.

The platform, adopted by the Democratic Convention, at Chicago, which we published entire in yesterday's issue, will commend itself to our readers as a masterly enunciation of the party's principles, while at the same time it is a fearful arraignment of the crimes of the Republican party while it has had the reins of power. Some may complain that it is too long, but from a careful perusal, we can discover nothing ing which could well have been left out. It is a remarkable document and we hope that it may be read by every voter in the State. It is a broad and comprehensive document and its planks are broad enough and thick enough and strong enough for every voter in the land to stand upon. There is no ambiguity about it, but all who read may easily understand it, except, perhaps, those who from selfish partisan motives would not wish to understand, and who as a matter of course, use every effort to distort its meaning. It is Democratic to the core, and on such a platform, with Cleveland and Hendricks as our leaders, and with a State ticket, the excellence of which has seldom been equalled, North Carolina ought to roll up a Democratic majority of at least 15,000 votes.

No Water for Eleven Days.

The shipwrecked crew of the British bark Benefactress were adrift in an open boat, supporting life on some bits of dry bread and a few apples. This was slim fare, and reduced them to a state of great feebleness. But Brown's Iron Bitters brings enfeebled folks up rapidly, even from such depths as this. It enriches the blood, tones the system, and gives healthful strength. Mr. Wm. Hardee, of Ennis, Texas, writes that he had dyspepsia in its worst form, but was restored by Brown's Iron Bitters.

JULY JUMBLES.

"Madame," said a gentleman, offering a rose to a lady, "allow me to present you to one of your sisters."

Grace (whispering): "What lovely boots your partner's got, Mary!"

Mary (ditto): "Yes, unfortunately he shines at the wrong end."

"Why, Sam! How do you expect to get that mule along with a spur only on one side?"

"Well, boss, if I gets dat side to go, aint de udder one bound to keep up?"

A man who was very sick insisted that he was going to die. After his recovery they asked him if he really thought he was about to die. "I know I was," he replied, with warmth.

Daughter of the house (to a gentleman with whom she has been flirting desperately the whole evening, in a whisper on his taking leave)—Next Tuesday I shall be at home the whole afternoon!" Visitor—"So shall I."

"Are there any more jurymen who have a prejudice against you?" whispered the young lawyer. "No, boss, de jury am all right, but I wants you to challenge the judge. I has been 'victed twice before under him, and maybe he is 'ginning to hab a 'prejudice aginst me."

Bar-bar-ous—Ancient but rather "fresh" swell (to his niece)—"I shay, M'illa, d'you know that while I was 'way just now I was offering to bet two to one bar one?" Niece (noticing that he has got rather worse)—"Indeed? Then I'm afraid you were the 'bar' one." [Uncle thinks girls are getting too sharp.]—London Fun.

Almost every person has some form of scrofulous poison latent in his veins. When this develops in scrofulous sores, ulcers, or eruptions, or takes the form of rheumatism, or organic disease, the suffering that ensues is terrible beyond description. Hence the gratitude of those who discover, as thousands yearly do, that Ayer's Sarsaparilla will thoroughly eradicate this evil from the system.

PERSONAL.

Cleveland was Tilden's political heir, after all. He inherited Hendricks.

Both the prose and the poetry of Edgar A. Poe are far better known and more admired in Paris than in London.

Antwerp under the presidency of M. Victor Lynen, one of its leading merchants, will hold a universal exhibition next year.

Mr. Petr Doyle, ex-Secretary of State of Wisconsin, reports that Wisconsin will do its part in the campaign for Cleveland and Hendricks.

Ground Hog, the Cherokee citizen of the Indiana Nation who has been found guilty of murder by the Choctaws and sentenced to be executed September 20, elects to be shot.

Mr. John W. Bykman, the projector of the late Cotton Centennial, predicts that before 1894 the States where cotton is grown will produce more manufactured cotton than New England produces now.

Mr. Samuel S. Lamb, in the red Quartetown school-house of the brier-grown old Connecticut village of Ledyard, six miles South of Norwich, is completing his fifty-first years of continuous school teaching.

At the Fontaine sale in London on the 16th ult. among the majolica a small Frenza plate, dated 1595, and decorated, it was asserted, with a subject from Albert Durer, brought 920 guineas, and that, too, from a Parisian dealer.

FOR DYSPEPSIA, INDIGESTION, Depression of Spirits and General Debility, in their various forms; also as a preventive against Fever and Ague, and other Intermittent Fevers, the "FERRO-PHOSPHORATED ELIXIR OF CALISAYA," made by CASWELL, HAZARD & CO., New York, and sold by all Druggists, is the best tonic; and for patients recovering from Fever or other sickness, it has no equal.

Stupidity has its sublime as well as genius, and he who carries that quality to absurdity has reached it, which is always a source of pleasure to sensible people.

"To Do Good and Distribute—Forget Not!"

In the fierce heat of noonday, at New Orleans, La., on Tuesday, June 17, as usual, Gen. L. T. Beauford, of La., and Jubal A. Early, of Va., met (and that most meritorious institution—the ancient "Charity Hospital"—by giving away at the Grand Golden Drawing (the 16th month) of the Louisiana State Lottery. The wheel whirled around and scattered over half a million of dollars right and left. Without particularizing too many of the winners to become tedious, we report that Ticket No. 86,440 drew the First Capital Prize of $150,000. It was sold in halves, one of which fell to a lucky New Yorker who has not allowed his name to be used. Ticket No. 53,770 drew the Second Capital of $50,000, one half of which was held by S. M. Rothschild, a merchant of No. 232 Church Street, New York city. Ticket No. 27,870 drew the Third Capital of $30,000; it was sold in tenths, one to Mr. D. Geo. Henkels, a well known citizen of Philadelphia, Pa.; another to Mr. Chas. Clarke, of the same city; another to A. F. Badlam, collected through Wells, Fargo & Co's Bank, of San Francisco, Cal.; another Phil. G. Gruber, Milwaukee, Wis. Nos. 11,181 and 41,309 drew the Fourth Capital of $10,000 each; sold in fractions, one-fifth to Wm. Boyd, No. 3, 122 School Street, St. Louis, Mo.; Nos. 17,252, 66,114, 73,860, 80,681, drew $5,000 each, and so it went on. The next drawing (17th) will occur on Tuesday, August 12, of which full information can be had from M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La. $265,500 will be scattered to holders of tickets costing $5 each. Do not delay the opportunity.

A Great Blood Medicine.

One of the best medicines ever known for the cure of diseases arising from impure blood, no matter from what cause is ROSADALIS. It is a great alterative medicine as well as a blood purifier. It cures Scrofula, Swellings, Goitre, Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Rheumatism, &c. Read the following important letter from a distinguished gentleman in Florida:

LAKE IRENA, FLA., June 10th, 1882

I have been a great sufferer for 15 years, not able to walk, from an injured leg. Have tried many M. D.'s and their remedies to little purpose. I believe ROSADALIS will cure me. Send me one dozen by steamer. It was recommended to me by a friend, I have taken 2 bottles, and find it helping me. The Druggists who usually keep it are out of it, and I cannot afford to wait the slow arrival of their supply.

JOHN T. BEEKS, Sup't. Board of Public Instruction.

Nearly 500 miles of railway have been built in Mississippi during the past two years, and the cotton mill output of the State has been doubled.

Is Your Blood Pure?

For impure blood the best medicine known, SCOVILLE'S SARSAPARILLA, OR BLOOD AND LIVER SYRUP, may be implicitly relied on when everything else fails. Take it in the spring time especially for the impure secretions of the blood incident to that season of the year; and take it at all times for Cancer, Scrofula, Liver Complaints, Weakness, Boils, Tumor, Swellings, Skin Diseases, Malaria and the thousand ills that come from impure blood. To ensure a cheerful disposition take SCOVILLE'S BLOOD AND LIVER SYRUP, which will restore the mind to its natural equilibrium.

In hours cleaning don't forget the cellar; pestilence may be bleeding in heaps of rotten vegetables and rubbish there. Give the cellar plenty of cleansing and plenty of air and light.

Nervousness, Nervous Debility, Neuralgia, Nervous Shock, St. Vitus Dance, Prostration, and all diseases of the Nervous System, cured by all permanent and radical cures by Allen's Brain Food, the great botanical remedy. $1 per bottle. Sold by all druggists, or by mail from J. H. Allen, 315 First Ave., New York City.

The South is now endowed with 372 cotton mills, of which North Carolina claims 92. Their products have increased from $21,000,000 in 1880, to $40,000,000 in 1884.

The fact that Sullivan the "slinger" has cleared one hundred thousand dollars in seven months is calculated to assist America youth in getting an honorable living.
