SH. T. JAMES, Editor & Prop. WILMINGTON. N. C.

SATURDAY, JULY 19, 1884.

Entered at the Postoffice at Wilmington, N. as second-class matter.

THE ISSUE AND THE DAN-GER. Senator George F. Hear, says the New York World, is the perfection of political Peck-niffism He unites the character of a cauting, sniveling hypocrite with that of an unscrupulous and polished demagogue. The negro President pro tem of the Republican National Convention, in his address, declared that "the loyal people of the United States" would never permit the inauguration of a President with a "doubtful title," and he alleged that the Democrats could never get a good title in the Southern States.

Senator Hoar, in his Boston speech eleaborated this idea and afforded a further insight into the Blaine policy. He said:

There are three States, Mississippi, Louisiana and South Carolina, to say nothing of others, in whith, beyond all question, the electoral vote recorded at he coming election will have no relation whatever to the will of their people. These three States cast twentyvotes; with Virginia six electoral Now, giving to Gov. Cleveland all the States that his most enthusiastic supporters can hope for, he will fall short of an election un'ess the votes of these States, wrested from their Republican majorities by crime

He who runs may read the meaning of this talk. Here are are 26 electoral parallel. votes, and if necessary 40, which the Blaine-freebooters are to insist do not honestly belong to the Democratic candidates, and on which they are to strive to build up a fraud similar to that erected on the 19 electoral votes of Florida, Louisiana and South Carolina in 1876. In other words, Blaine, beaten by the people, is to seek a false title to the Presidency by forgery and fraud. Such a crime could not be twice successfully committed. The men en-Among the more important works recently issued are: | gaged in it would be brought | stomach to sudden and swift punishment. Do the people of the United States desire that the country should undergo such an experience? Are men of property. of business, of family, willing to so strain and endanger the public peace? The question now to be recided, according to the challenge offered by Mr. Blaine's party, is not whether the people can elect but whether they can inaugurate the President of their choice. No one can doubt the answer. It will be in the affirmative at any and every cost. It is for the conservative, honest people of the United States to decide whether it shall be a peaceable answer. Grover Cleveland's vote ought to be made large enough to sweep out of sight all the plots of the Blaine conspirators and to save the country

> There is nothing equivocal in the position of Harper's Weekly. It has gone into the campaign in earnest, with the name of Grover Cleveland for President at the head of its columns and at the head of its advertisements. As the friend and advocate "of all measures that tend to the purification of politics.' it says, it has sympathized with and supported the Republican party as the organized political exponent of the principles in which it believed; but it 'has never surrendered into party keeping the right of private judgment Believing that the nomination of Blaine was a grave political mistake and that his election would endanger the influence of Republican principles, while the election of Grover Cleveland, who has evinced "the executive qualities, of a sagacious, unpartisan statesman," would premote the objects for which America too much to say good-bye to earnest and unselfish Republicans have it forever, and her trip to Eugland, for contended, it pledges an earnest and cordial support to the Demomeratic can didate. Harper's Weekly has been al paper, but is is many years since it went into a campaign with the same degree of aggressive determination that it displays at this time.

Attention was called at the time of Cumberland county prior to 1745. the veto of the Fitz-John Porter bill to the numerous cases in which Congress had authorized and the President had ordered the restoration of officers in precisely the same manner as proposed in the Porter case. These tacts made the constitutional objections of the President absurd and showed that the real objection applied to Porter alone. Honest folk will therefore learn with some satisfaction that this alleged constitutional obstacle has turned up to vex Gen. Porter's two principal opponents, Gen. Logan and Secretary Lincoln. Logan-who was against Porter on purely partisan grounds and never pretended otherwise-had alown. The President had signed the bill, but now refuses to make the appointment. Mr. Lincoln was interested wouldn't be hospitals enough to hold in a similar bill for the relief of Surgeon Pope, which was passed at the close of the session, but this bill the consistency's sake. If he had only been frank about the Porter case and told the truth-that he was opposed to Porter for political reasons—all this trouble might have been avoided. .

The Alcohol Question.

Why do doctors ever prescribe alcoholic stimulents? They say there is strength in them. This is all a mistake. Such things may bolster patients up for a little while, but leave them the temporary stimulus subsides. If people keep on taking alcoholic stimulants, it means drunkenness and ruin. Remember that Brown's Iron Bitters is not an alcoholic drink. It is the only reliable preparation of iron ever made. It builds up the system, enriched the blood and invigorates the
