STATE NEWS.

News and Oservre: The resceipts at Raleigh postoffice for the quarter ending June 30, 1884, were $5,449. 15, as against $5,724.93 for corresponding quarter of last year. when the letter | Dip and $1 for Hard. rates were three cents.

We Tar...... 87 bbls have been reliably informed that be- Crude Turpentine..... fore dying she made a startling confession. She confessed to having murdered her husband by pouring molten lead in his ear. Mr, Stegall died very suddenly about 30 years ago, while drunk, but no foul play was ever suspected and her contession is a startling piece of news to the old people of the community. She never married again, and so far as we have heard no cause was assigned for the deed.

Wadesboro Times: Mr. Charles Jarman, aged about 25 years, died at his residence near this town last Thursday, his death being caused by an accident. Three weeks prior to his death, Mr. Jarman was ploughing in his field, when he was "kicked by the plow" he was using, and from this death resulted. ---Tuesday morning Mr. Alex Sturdivant, who lived a few miles from this town, was found dead in bed at his home. He came to town Saturday and again on Monday, both times giving away to his ruling passion, and each trip carried home with him that everpotent cause of eyil, from which it is thought his death was caused.

Lenoir Topic: We yesterday met Judge Bynum, who is spending the Summer at Mog nton with Mrs By. num. We found Judge Bycom to be a charming gentleman. We talked about the reports that have been pub lished as to his change of political affiliations and while we found that Judge Bynum's position in that respect has been somewhat exaggerated, it cannot he claimed that he is in unison with the present policy of the Republican party in this State. He says that he is in no sense a partisan or a politician and will vote in the coming campaign and it is currently understood that he will not vote for York. Judge Bynum did not so state to us, but we gathered that opinion from a couple of days' talk with him.

Chatham Record: We are informed by Mr. N. F. Philips that N. D. Mc-Manus, of Bear Creek township, has one of the oldest orchards in this county. It was cut in the last century, and has been bearing fruit regularly for the last eighty-five or ninety years. Some of these trees now measure seven feet in circumference and are so high that a good many apples when they fall burst open. And there is one peach tree was set out at the same time, that is now full of fruit, Notwithstanding frost, bad fruit years, &c., there has been every year a plenty of using f ruit, and generally a little for brandy and cider for the stomach's sake." Many of the apples measure this season from ten to fitteen inches in circumference.

Charlotte Observer: From parties arriving in the city on the Carolina Central train we learn of the murder of a white man named Jackson, near Laurinburz, by a negro named Eli Oale. The murder was a shocking affair and was done in cold blood. Mr. Jackson and the negro had a misunderstanding about some trifling matter, but they had scarcely begun to quarrel before the negro drew a bowie knife and fell upon Mr. Jackson. The negro gave him one deep stab in the breast, and followed this up with a blow that almost severed Mr. Jackson's neck from his body. The negro fled, but at last accounts a party of fully one hundred people were in search of him.
