And Gen. Hawley will, we presume, deliver the opening address at the State Exposition.

Hon. John F. Dye, heretofore a Republican, has taken the stump in Indiana for Cleveland.

It is said that there are in Europe twenty societies organized to oppose the eating of animal food.

The Democratic majority in this State gets larger and larger every day.
We wouldn't compromise now on 20,- 000, and it may reach 40,000, or even 50,000. Who knows?

If we were to venture an opinion on the subject, we might say that Cleveland will carry 38 States and Blaine 3 —Maine, Vermont and Massachusetts.
We'll just be dog-gone if it don't look like it now.

What scalding tears of repentance must chase each other down the cheeks of poor Ferd. Ward as he sits in Ludlow street jail and reads of the summer tour the rest of the broken bank brigade are taking in Canada!

One thousand women belong to the Kappa Kappa Gamma Secret Society, which has chapters in a score of institutions in the Northwest and West called colleges. There is no similar organization of women in the world.

"The Smiths are a grand race," said Rev. Mr. Anderson to about 3,000 men, women and children Smiths at a family reunion in Peapack, N. Y., on Wednesday. The political sense of the voting Smith was taken, and they elected Cleveland by a vote of 408 to 80.

Kite-flying on a large scale was attempted by a New York man lately, who let out a huge "floater," 16 feet high and 11 feet wide, from the roof of a Grand street house. It required the united strength of four men to hold the soaring monster, and the wind becoming too strong it had to be taken down.

Wood pavement is to be given up in London, and the old McAdam system restored. The former is said to have not only failed to realize the expected advantages, but has led, according to Prof. Tyndall's report, to serious affections of the eyes and lungs; that is, by continual watering, the wood became saturated with street filth, and then, under the influence of the hot sun, gave forth a pernicious species of dust.

Now is the time to give Smith's Worm Oil.

THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. VIII. WILMINGTON, N. C., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 5, 1884. NO. 212

Among the ingenious theories to account for the recent collision in which the Tallapoosa was sent to the bottom, is one that it was because of color blindness in the officers and sailors.— They were unable to tell one color from another. Hence the vessel and its twenty-eight cases of liquor went to the bottom.

Mme. Connolly, the famous dressmaker of New York, makes a grand display of toilet and equipage at Long Aranch. She is the owner of six houses on the seacoast, worth in the aggregate $200,000. These only represent a part of her immense wealth, all acquired by decorating the women of New York within the last ten years.

An old resident of Connecticut says:
"The similarity between the year 1884 and that of 1816, 'the year without a summer,' is being strikingly realized.
The present year is even more phenomenal in that the July and August weather has been generally much colder and more singular than was that of 1816, though the June of the earlier season was colder than was last June." Thus far there has been a frost in each month of this year.

The late James L. Claghorn, of Philadelphia, was one of the greatest art patrons and connoisseurs in the country, although for many years an active banker and business man. It was through his efforts that the Academy of Fine Arts at Philadelphia was placed upon its present footing by a popular subscription of $265,000. He was the owner of about 50,000 fine engravings and had a library full of art works, while his collection of fine prints is the largest in America.

The Republicans of the Fourth district met at Raleigh on Wednesday to nominate a candidate for Congress, and the News and Observer says it was the smallest convention ever held there.
They adjourned without naming any one, agreeing to leave it to the Executive Committee. During the progress of affairs there was trouble between Col.
A. W. Shaffer and one Jno. W. Betts, a white revenue of Chatham county, when the latter called Shaffer a liar and a scoundrel, repeating the epithet twice. Soon after Shaffer stuck his hat on his head and left the convention "in a body."

Wednesday's Charlotte Observer contains the following: "Col. William Johnston desires us to state that he never uttered at Salisbury the language attributed to him in the Raleigh News and Observer of the 30th ultimo, and that never in his experience, either in public or in private, has he made use of such vulgar and profane expressions."

Commenting on this the News and Observer says: We have no disposition to contradict Col. Johnston about this matter so as to raise any issue concerning it.

Our object in giving publicity to the statement has doubtless already been accomplished, and the State has been saved by a possible riot intended for use at the North, to inflame the passions of Northern voters against the Southern whites. At least we hope so. We give the paragraph containing Col.
Johnston's denial without intending to make any comment upon it whatever.

There is but one plain inference to be drawn from the remarks of our Raleigh cotemporary and that is, that if it thought fit to do so, it could easily prove that Col. Johnston did make the remark attributed to him. In view of this fact it is to be regretted that our cotemporary has decided to withhold the proof.

Driven Out.
The pain resulting from a crushed limb, says Mr. Edward Henry, Pine-grove, Penna., were completely cured by St. Jacobs Oil, the great pain-reliever.

Complaints have been made to us that some of the street crossings and gutters are sadly in need of repairs.

There will undoubtedly be a large Men are often heard saying that their they cough their noses go towards the earth, with indications that they will follow them soon, unless they are wise enough to take Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup

The Cleveland and the Silver Star

The flags on the Custom House and N. Y., yesterday morning.

The Presbyterians of the Scotch set-the ecclesiastical control of Fayetteville Presbytery, will hold an annual Sunday School convention at Big Rockfish Church, in Cumberland county, September 16th and 17th. This church is in a proverbially hospitable community, and the programme of topics is a valuable and interesting one, so a good time may be expected.

Important Meeting.

The Historical and Scientific Society will meet at Tienten Hall at 8 o'clock this evening. Prof. W. B. Phillips will read a paper on the subject of "Contamination of Drinking Waters." The public generally and ladies especially are cordially invited to attend.

Magnificent Fruit.

Mr. Robert E. Lee, of this city, brought in to us this morning six of the largest and finest pears we have ever seen. They were grown by him at his plantation at Little Sugar Loaf, in Bladen county, and are fair specimens of a lot received here to-day. The six weigh 6 lbs. 10 oz., and the largest in the lot weighs 17 ounces. Of course, after this it is only necessary to say that they are pound pears. We think of sending them to the Exposition.

Base Ball.

The match game of base ball between the Mechanics' and Electric clubs, at the Pine Grove grounds yesterday, was hotly contested and intensely exciting.
A large assemblage of ladies and gentlemen from this city were present and highly enjoyed the sport. The Electric nine were the victors, having scored one more than their antagonists. The Mechanics intend to challenge them for another contest. Mr. B. G. Empie was the umpire, a duty which he performed to the entire satisfaction of both clubs.

Capt. Manning treated the clubs with his accustomed and well known hospitality, for which they speak of him in the highest praise and with profound gratitude.

Democratic Address.

Col. John N. Staples, one of the Democratic Electors at large for North Carolina, will address the citizens of Smithville on Friday, the 12th inst., on the political issues involved in the present Presidential campaign. Col.
Staples is one among the best orators in the State. is a forcible, interesting and instructive speaker, and we doubt not there will be a large out-pouring of the Democracy of good old Brunswick to listen to his arraignment of the Republican party, both State and National. Boats will leave here on the morning of that day and will remain at Smithville until the speaking is concluded, so that all who may desire can have an opportunity of hearing the speech.

The Outlaw.

The latest reliable information we have regarding Pompey Sneed is that he was near the corner of Fourth and Nixon streets last night, where he was amusing himself by picking a banjo.
He was seen by a colored man who knows him well and who had considerable conversation with him. Pompey, in the course of the conversation, said he s'posed they were after him, but they hadn't got him yet!

Our Great Need.

One of the great needs of Wilmington is the encouragement of some important enterprise which shall not only call population and capital to our midst, but shall also be a means by which other industrial enterprises may be established. Although we have long maintained a well-established reputation as a naval stores market and have recently advanced materially as a cotton exporting city, the great improvements made in our river by which a much greater depth of water has been obtained, giving largely increased commercial facilities, calls for other enterprises to aid us forward in the pursuit of influence and prosperity. Our situation on the Atlantic coast is very favorable, as we are much nearer the States of Tennessee, Kentucky and Ohio than any other port, and with railroad communication complete to those sections we ought to control the shipment of their products. The Cranberry Iron Works and the vast coal mines which abound in East Tennessee are within easy reach of Wilmington—many miles nearer than to any other point on the entire Atlantic coast—and our people ought to push every nerve to gain control of this vast and important traffic.
If railroad connections should be made with these important points either by way of Shelby or Lincolnton, this city would at once enter upon a career of prosperity such as she has never dreamed of. She would become at once an important coaling station for sea-going steamers, calling for a large outlay of capital with a certainty of a profitable return.

These remarks have been suggested by a rumor which has reached us to the effect that parties interested in the Cranberry Iron Works, in this State, and the Tennessee coal mines in Tennessee have in view to make Wilmington a depot for iron and coal and if the moral and physical support of our people can be secured we believe that the project may be carried out.

A Monster Meeting.

Our friend Mr. E. G. Blair, who was present, writes us giving an account of the Democratic meeting at Shelby. He says that it was the largest political meeting that he ever attended and that he had no idea that such an immense gathering was possible in a country town. There were between 5,000 and 6,000 people in attendance, and there were some who placed the number as high as 10,000.
Maj. C. W. McClammy, Democratic elector from the Sixth Congressional District, was present and placed the number at fully 6,000, and said it was the largest and grandest outpouring that he had ever witnessed. The enthusiasm was intense and if anyone thinks that the Democrats are not in earnest in North Carolina and are not organized for the contest, they should have been at Shelby and have been convinced of their error.

Senator Vance came to Lincolnton on the narrow gauge railroad, and as he took the Carolina Central train for Shelby, his wife, who was present, warned him to make a good speech at the latter place, and the distinguished Senator certainly obeyed her command to the letter, for he made one of the best speeches that ever fell from his lips, and that is saying much. He exposed the rascalities of the Republican party both in State and National politics as he only is capable of doing.

Upon his arrival at Shelby, Senator Vance was met by a large cavalcade of mounted men with banners headed by a brass band who had assembled to welcome one of North Carolina's most distinguished sons. It was a scene only comparable to his inauguration as Governor at Raleigh.

The woods around Shelby would remind one of the camping of a wagon train during the war. There were more than 1,000 horses and mules tied to the wagons and hitched in other ways throughout the forest.

The State and county tax books are now in Sheriff Manning's hands and prompt settlements are requested.

Another large consignment of Sash, Doors & Blinds at Factory prices, just received at JACOBI'S Hardware Depot.

Among the callers upon Governor Cleveland, on the 2nd inst., was EX-Mayor S. H. Fishblate, of this city.

Mr. S. Behrends returned to the city last night, after an extended tour through the North and West, which combined business and pleasure.

Capt. W. S. Norment, formerly of this city, and for some years Solicitor of the Superior Court for New Hanover county, but now of Lumberton, was here to-day.

Col. D. K. McRae has returned from his trip to the North and we are glad to see that he is looking much improved in health. He visited Governor Cleveland and says that he is undoubtedly a man of great ability.

Mr. W. T. Johnson will remove his paperhanging and upholstery establishment to-morrow from his present quarters on Front street to the store on Princess street, now occupied as an office by Drs. Bunn & Smith.

We received a pleasant call this morning from our friend, Mr. J. T.
Collins, of Burgaw. He tells us that the early crops in that section are very fine but that rain is sadly needed now.
County politics, he says, are much mixed but he is confident that Pender will give a handsome majority for the State and National tickets and he thinks that numbers of the colored people will vote with the Democrats this year.
