Herr Rubinstein, as London Truth makes note, has engaged to give twenty concerts in America.

Senator James B. Beck, although nearly 60 years old, has all the animal spirits and much of the mischief of a boy.

So many women are now doing work formerly done by men, that the male sex is being driven into matrimony as a means of support.

The Italian nobleman who wagered that he would cover 31,050 miles on French railways in thirty days has won his wager.

Notwithstanding the enormous attendance at the Health Exhibition in London, the receipts have, up to the present, only just covered the cost. Profit may now be looked for.

Miss Susan B. Anthony has returned to her home in Rochester for a month's rest. She says that the third volume of the "History of Woman Suffrage" is in the printer's hands.

The oyster interest in New York employs $20,000,000 capital and about 16,000 men in the wholesale trade alone. Gotham's average daily consumption of the bivalve is 35,000 bushels.

Business men are clamoring for money, yet the Treasury is filled to overflowing and the public debt is paid long before it is due. Commerce is depressed, industry is stagnant, anxiety and solicitude exist everywhere, all the result of reckless legislation and misgovernment. The time has come for a change. Down with the war tariff!

There was a charming personality amounting almost to magnetism that especially endeared the late Senator Anthony to his immediate friends, and his private life was quite irreproachable, but as a public man he was of no special importance and in no sense could be called or considered a "statesman."

It is stated that Patrick Ford is delighted with his new home in the bosom of the Republican heterogeneous happy family. The campaign committees buy thousands of Irish Worlds every week, and while he can't sell out and deliver the votes of the Irish Democrats, he is glad to sell the papers and pocket the proceeds.

Aches and pains are killed by St. Jacobs Oil, the astonishing conqueror of pain.

It is a fact worth recording that one of the first results of railway communication with Mexico is the receipt of considerable quantities of fruit from that country, which can be sold in New York at a profit. During the last week in July nearly $8,000 worth of peaches, strawberries, bananas and other products of the garden have found their way into our lines.

Three years ago a company styled the Great Southern Lumber and Railroad Supply Company was formed in New York, and issued a glowing prospectus, having purchased 13,000 acres of poor pine lands in Baldwin county, Ala., at fifty cents an acre. The company showed how it could be made to produce nearly $4,000,000. Upon this basis 6 per cent. bonds to the amount of $150,000 were issued. Application was made on Tuesday in New York to foreclose the mortgage created by the issuance of these bonds, no interest having been paid. The condition of affairs was made known at the time by the local papers, but it seems that some persons have, nevertheless, invested in the scheme.

It is the old, old story: Love at first sight! A walk in the beautiful moonlight night; both catch a dreadful cold and give up all hope, but finally find relief in a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, get married, and are at last happy!

Fulllest assortment of Fishing Tackle can be found at JACOBI'S.

The "mild September" has thus far been uncomfortably and disagreeably warm.

Everybody in want of Paints, White Lead, Glass &c., should go to JACOBI'S.

To-day is the anniversary of the big storm which visited this section on the 9th day of September, 1881.

Every Farmer ought to get a "Boy Clipper Plow," greatest invention of the age. JACOBI is the Agent.

A very pleasant, but not a large, party, went down the river on the Passport this morning.

When you want gentlemen's jewelry you can secure it for prices that will astonish you, at Dyer & Son.

We invite the attention of our citizens to the fact that first quality shirts are being made to order at one dollar at the Wilmington Shirt Factory.

The last regatta of the season will be sailed over the Wrightsville course next Friday, when it is expected there will be a large gathering to witness the contest, which promises to be unusually exciting. The Seaside Park Hotel will furnish ample accommodations to visitors on that or any other occasion.

Another large consignment of Sash, Doors & Blinds at Factory prices, just received at JACOBI'S Hardware Depot.

Mr. R. Meadows, who has had the charge of the horses of Hook & Ladder Co., No. 1, but who has been an invalid for the last 12 months, has resigned on account of continued ill health. The meetings at Brooklyn Hall continue and much interest is manifested. Rev. Dr. Pritchard, of the First Baptist Church, will preach at the Hall to-night and probably every other night during the week except Thursday and Saturday nights.

Interesting Subject.
Rev. F. W. E. Peschau will deliver a lecture at Luther's Memorial Hall, corner of Princess and Sixth streets, to-night, descriptive of his vacation trip, from which he returned last week. During his journey he travelled as far as Toronto, Canada, and considerably in West Virginia, and an account of what he saw and heard will furnish material for his subject to-night.

Base Ball.

There will be a match game of base ball played at the Athletic Grounds tomorrow afternoon, between the Electric and the Clarendon nines. The game will be called promptly at 3:30 o'clock.

A match game of base ball was played yesterday afternoon in the eastern section of the city, between the Thunder Clouds, Capt. T. Dowling, and the Lightning Boys, Capt. W. Penny. The game resulted in a victory for the former by a score of 27 to 12 for the latter.

Serenaded.

The Kазoo band were out in full numbers last night and did us the distinguished honor of a serenade. They played several popular airs and the mellifluous tones of their instruments reminded us of Miss Tabitha Tower's voice—who

"Sung with a ravishing voice
That charmed one out of his senses;
A pig would make just such a noise
When his hind leg stuck fast in the fence is."

Several families were also serenaded by the same band, all of whom duly appreciated the compliment and were very grateful to the musicians—for leaving.

Personal.

Capt. R. M. McIntire did not leave for New York yesterday, as was announced. He will leave to-night.

Hon. Wm. A. Guthrie, of Fayetteville, is in the city and registered at the Purcell House.

Mr. E. M. Robinson, of the North Carolina fish commission, is in the city to-day.

Attorney General Kenan went down to the Rocks on the Passport this morning.

Mr. E. T. Boykin, of Clinton, arrived in the city last night en route for Columbus Court. He got left this morning and improved the time by taking a trip down the river on the Passport.

Mr. S. C. Weill, now a student at Chapel Hill, has been elected orator for the "Washington's Birth Day" celebration, on the 22nd of February next.

Mr. M. M. Katz left for New York on Sunday morning last, where he goes to purchase a Fall and Winter stock of goods. His daughter, who has been at the North at school, will return with him.

Who is He?
We find the following in yesterday's issue of the Raleigh Visitor. We know of no such man as the individual named and described in the article:

About 8 o'clock on Saturday morning a strange young white man went to Mr. Robert E. Parham's livery stables on East Martin street and hired a horse and buggy, saying he desired to go six miles in the country, and that he would be back by 11 a. m. the same day, but at last accounts had not returned. He said his name was Mercer and that he was from Wilmington, N. C. He was apparently about 28 years of age, had a small black moustache, and a small patch of side whiskers on each side of his face, was dressed very decently, and had on a straw hat. The horse furnished him was a large sorrel, with a blaze in the face and the right hind foot white and weighed about 1,100 pounds. A nice top buggy was also furnished the man. When last seen he was passing through Garner's Station, six miles Southeast of Raleigh, going in the direction of Goldsboro. Mr. Parham will pay $25 reward for the safe return of the horse, buggy and man to his stables in this city.

The September Planets.

Saturn is morning star, and wins the first place on the planetary record, for his beautiful appearance in the eastern sky, and also because he reached one of the great time marks in his course. On the 19th, at 10 o'clock in the morning, he is in quadrature with the sun on his western side. He then passes the half-way house between conjunction and opposition, and is in favorable position for observation, both with the naked eye and the star gazer, rising now at half after 11 o'clock in the evening, and, at the close of the month, making his appearance at half past 9 o'clock. For a time after his advent Saturn is the brightest star in the myriad host that sparkles in the star depths, but his supremacy lasts but a few short hours, when his fair rival, Venus, appears upon the scene and robs him of the proud distinction. Saturn rises on the 1st not far from half past 11 o'clock in the evening; on the 30th he rises at half past 9 o'clock.

Venus is morning star, and seems a yet to show no symptoms of the fallings off in brilliancy and size to which she must as surely succumb as the glorious members of the family. She continues to travel Westward, lengthening on the invisible chain that binds her to the sun until the 21st, when a change comes. On that day, at 7 o'clock in the morning, she reaches her greatest Western elongation, being then 46 1/2 West of the sun. Here she reverses her course, approaching the sun with slower step than she receded from him, gradually growing less brilliant as she draws near the central fire that will quench her lesser light. One cannot help regretting that the bright planet must lose her luster, especially after the superb aspect she took on during the month of August, when she seemed to illumine the Eastern heavens like a young moon as she hung tremulous on the rosy waves of light that proclaimed the near approach of the sun. Venus rose on the 1st about 2 o'clock in the morning; on the 30th she rises about a quarter after 2 o'clock.

Jupiter is morning star. Though latest among the planets that usher in the day, he is far enough from the sun to be easily visible, rising now an hour and a half before the great luminary, and two hours after Venus, who looms above the eastern horizon at 2 o'clock. One of the delightful observations of the month will be to watch the approach of the king and queen of the stars as they draw near each other on the celestial road. On the 19th Jupiter is only an hour behind Venus, and, at the end of the month, he follows so closely in her steps that only the short time of 15 minutes separates them. Observers who command the eastern horizon, and will take the trouble to rouse from their slumber in the small hours of the morning, will behold one of the finest exhibitions our brother planets can get up. The brightest gem of the sun's family appears suddenly above the eastern hills, shining with dazzling brilliancy on the dark background of the sky, the prince of planets follows in quick pursuit, and the first magnitude star Regulus in near proximity completes the starry picture. Jupiter rose on the 1st about 4 o'clock in the morning; on the 30th he rises about half past 2 o'clock.

Uranus is evening star until the 20th, when he becomes morning star. On the 20th, at 10 o'clock in the evening, he is in conjunction with the sun.

Mercury is evening star until the 19th, when he joins the ranks of the morning stars. On the 19th, at 10 o'clock in the morning, he is in inferior conjunction with the sun, passing to his western side, and increasing the number of morning stars to five in the following order of distance from the sun: Neptune heads the list and is succeeded by Saturn, Venus, Jupiter, and Mercury.

Neptune is morning star and leader of the shining brotherhood. He is of little importance now in his distant quarters, but we have faith that some time in the future he will point the way to a world or worlds lying beyond his sphere. Meantime his ethereal path must be closely watched, lest any unusual perturbations escape detection.

Mars is evening star, the sole representative of that role through the whole month. He is moving slowly towards conjunction, but we must wait till 1886 for another opposition, when the ruddy planet will take on a more imposing aspect. Mars set on the 1st soon after 8 o'clock in the evening; on the 30th he sets at 7 o'clock.

The receipts of cotton at this port to-day foot up 138 bales.

Workmen have been employed for several days in revarnishing the pews in St. Paul's Lutheran Church, and also in putting new cushions upon the seats and new carpets upon the floors. During the time occupied in this work the services of the church will be conducted in Luther's Memorial Hall, on the corner of Princess and Sixth streets.

The latest returns from Maine, up to the time of our going to press, give the Republicans about 15 000 majority. This is unofficial but is considered as quite reliable.

The steamers Bladen and A. P. Hurt, which were due here to-day, had not arrived when we went to press this afternoon, and it was not known whether they would reach here to-night or not.

Now is the time to give Smith's Worm Oil.
