There was a monstrous Cleveland demonstration at Columbus, O., on Thursday. There were 35,000 strangers present at night and it is thought there were as many more from the city present at the speaking. Govs. Hendricks and McLane, Geo. H. Pendleton, Senator Bayard, Speaker Calisle, Gov. Hoody and others were the speakers. It was a tremendous outpouring of the people.

At the meeting of the executive committee of the German Cleveland and Hendricks Central Campaign organization in New York, on Tuesday, Mr. Oswald Ottendorfer submitted an address to the German-American citizens of the United States setting forth the reasons why they should cast their votes for Cleveland and Hendricks. The address was adopted, and will be printed and distributed among the Germans throughout the country. It was determined to have a grand Cleveland and Hendricks mass meeting of Germans at the Cooper Institute on the 29th or 30th inst.

It is said in Berlin that when, at their last meeting, the Czar, Kaiser and Emperor stood together the Czarina said to Prince Bismarck: "Could not we always be so? Would it not bring happiness to the world?" Prince Bismarck replied: "As long as I am Chancellor it will remain so, and when it cannot be so it will be my time for giving in." The Chancellor will leave on Monday for Friedrichshagen, and will stay there probably until Christmas, but will return once or twice for a few days. The Emperor Alexander presented him with a life-size oil painting, the Chancellor already possessing all the Russian decorations.

Sudden Death.

Mrs. M. M. Johnson, living on Eighth street, between Church and Castle, was stricken with paralysis on Thursday evening last and died yesterday morning at about 9 o'clock. The deceased was about 65 years of age, and had been in good health for one of her advanced years up to the hour of her attack. She had been a consistent member of the Methodist Church for nearly or quite a quarter of a century.

City Court.

Quite a number of colored draymen, who were charged with non-payment of the required license, were brought before the Mayor this morning. An investigation showed that one of them had not paid the license for more than a year, while some of them were only a few months in arrears. They all had excuses to offer and some of them waxed eloquent in apology for their negligence, but without avail. They were discharged upon the payment of arrearages and the costs.

For a Prize.

There was an exhibition to-day in the window of Mr. George Honnet's jewelry store a gold-lined silver goblet which will be competed for in a bicycle race at 4:30 o'clock on Monday afternoon. The distance to be run will be two miles—one mile and return. The goblet is very pretty in shape and design and will stimulate the exertions of the wheelmen, as it is a prize well worth winning. The race will be run at the Sound and will no doubt draw a large number of spectators to witness the excitement of the contest.

Blind Tom.

This wonderful being will give a piano entertainment at the Opera House on Thursday night, October 2nd, and of course everybody will want to see and hear him. He is a prodigy such as has never been known before and is one of the most remarkable pianists of the age. Deprived from birth of those faculties which go to make an intelligent human being, entirely incapable of being taught, yet his abnormal memory of musical sounds and powers of imitation have made him the marvel of the nineteenth century. His entertainments have been attended by delighted and wondering thousands who with one voice agree that he is the greatest musical prodigy of the age.

Bertha Welby.

This gifted emotional actress, supported by a first-class troupe, will appear at the Opera House on Monday night next in the romantic comedy-drama of "Lady Clare," with Miss Welby in the title role. The story of the play is of a woman who loves one man, but in a moment of pique marries another whom she does not love. The former is a noble villain, while the latter is a gentleman, although moving in the humbler walks of life, who wins her affections slowly by his character. There is a duel in which the wife, to save her husband, rushes between the antagonists and receives her lover's bullet. The husband does not know that it is to save him that she came upon the ground, and the lover believes that it was love for him that caused her presence. While she is convalescent the lover visits her and breathes again his love, when she, in an outburst of wounded honor, fidelity and wifely devotion, tells him how she has grown to love, above all else, the husband who was dearer to her than all else on earth. The husband overhears the words and of course there is a happy finale.

We are requested to give notice that there will be a meeting of the Young Men's Democratic Club of New Hanover in the City Court Room, on next Monday evening, previous to the speech by Judge Fowle, for the transaction of some very important business, and a full attendance on that occasion is earnestly requested.

For Raleigh.

The Wilmington Light Infantry will leave here on Tuesday for Raleigh to be present at the State Exposition and we hope and trust the employees of the young men will so far enter into the spirit of the thing as to make some unusual efforts to spare them for the few days required. It is not known as yet how many muskets there will be but we hope that the turnout will be a good one. If it is the company will be offered to the best drilled company, and in that event we are sure they will win it. At all events they will enter into the contest for the prize of $100, offered to the company which furnishes the best team of marksmen for the occasion. Each company is allowed five men and five shots to each man, making twenty five shots in all. The team from the Light Infantry is composed of Capt. R. H. Beery, Lieut. W. C. Jones, and Privates W. A. Willson, Jr., N. H. Quince and W. E. Perdew.

Personal.

Mr. Spencer LeGrand, of Charleston, is here on a brief visit.

Mrs. J. C. Stevenson, who with her children, has been spending the Summer at Lincolnton, has returned to the city.

Capt. R. E. Lloyd left here last night for Florida, but only on a temporary visit to arrange some business matters, as he expects to return here soon. He will go to Florida again later in the season and for the Winter.

Mr. M. M. Katz and Mr. and Mrs. John Taylor returned last night from the North, having completed their purchases for the Fall and Winter trade. They tell us that goods are plentiful and cheap and that there will be few reasonable grounds for complaint as regards prices.

Prof. H. Gilbert, of Gettysburg, Pa., and one of the former Greek and Latin Professors of Rev. F. W. E. Peschau of our city, is here on a visit to Mr. Peschau. Prof. Gilbert is on his way to Newberry, S. C., where he has accepted a position in Newberry College, under the auspices of the Lutheran Synod of S. C.

Mr. R. J. Jones, after an absence of three weeks, returned to the city last night. During his absence he has visited the great Northwest having travelled as far as Wisconsin and Minnesota. He made the trip for health and recreation and returned strong in the idea that this is a great country. He enjoyed his journey heartily and we were glad to see that he has returned in excellent health.

The Day of Atonement.

The greatest and most solemn day known to the Jewish people, Yom Kippur, or Yom Kippurim, the day of atonement, begins at sunset to-morrow evening and ends at the same hour on Monday. On that day Israel bows down before the Lord and with contrite heart does penance for the sins, he has committed against Him. In sackcloth and ashes it humbles itself before the Almighty, and by praying and fasting seeks to atone for the past shortcomings of its people and to obtain forgiveness at the foot of the throne of grace. During the twenty-four hours not even a drop of water passes the lips of the pious Hebrew. In the olden days the faithful remained in the synagogue all day and all night and were for the most part arrayed in white, shroud-like garments which symbolized the spiritual death from which, moved by their prayers and acts of repentance, Jehovah was to rescue them. One of the most touching parts of the solemn services is the recital of the prayers for the dead, and the shofar is sounded to call back as it were the erring children of Israel, from the ways of unrighteousness to their allegiance to God. The services at the Temple here will be unusually interesting this year. The singing by the choir will be quite elaborate and Rev. Dr. Mendelssohn will preach to-morrow evening and on Monday. The services will begin at 6 o'clock to-morrow evening and at 10 o'clock on Monday morning and will then continue throughout the day, until 6 o'clock.

A boy stood on the burning deck,
Whence all save him had fled,
And there he stood, in the smoking wreck,
With a badly scalded head;
In it hadn't been for St. Jacobs Oil,
That self-same boy would be dead.
Fullest assortment of Fishing Tackle can be found at JACOBI'S.
Now is the time to give Smith's Worm Oil!

Notice.

TO THE SUBSCRIBERS OF THE WILMINGTON, CLINTON & POINT CASWELL R. R. and Steamboat Co.: Having closed a contract with the above Company, and given bond to the President and Directors of said Company to construct and equip 15 miles of this road from "Point Caswell to J. D. Kerr's store" and the subscription list having been placed in my hands for collection, I did on the first day of August notify each and every subscriber by "Postal" that an assessment of 5 per cent was due and would be called for at once, which was done and in a few instances paid, but my agent was in a great many cases put off from time to time, till forbearance has ceased to be a virtue. The Company will expect me to do my work according to contract and it will be done, and in return I must have my pay. Now, therefore, this is to give notice that unless each and every subscriber pays or causes to be paid to me the amount of their assessment on or before the 10th day of October, I shall proceed without further notice, to collect by law; this course will be fully as unpleasant to me as to them, but my time is too closely occupied with my work to make further effort to collect otherwise.

Some Republican postmasters in Indiana are quietly suppressing Democratic newspapers, instead of delivering them.
