Senator Hampton made a splendid talk to his people at Eastover, Richland county, last Friday. His appeal to the people to go to the polls is a thrilling one and cannot but be productive of much good in South Carolina. Indeed, it will apply to North Carolina as well-Those who read it will justifiy us in giving space to the following noble extract. In speaking of Gov. Cleveland he says:

I have looked at his public record and have found it without a flaw. In Depot. every position in which he has been placed he has come up to the full measure demanded of him, and if he is ister. elected President I believe he will devote himself with all conscientiousness to the great task of bringing peace to our country. He will try and unify the people, and in my judgment the man in that Presidential chair who will succeed in burying the animosities and sectional hate of the past; who will go on in the grand work of unification of this people; who will make us of the South feel that this is our country, and that this is our flag; who will make us realize that we have not an enemy, but a triend, in the Presidential chair; the man who shall succeed in doing that will leave that place, when he retires again to private lite, with a place in the bearts of his countrymen second only to that held by Washington. I believe he is a true, a brave and an honest reformer who will devote himself to reforming the government, and I believe he will be elected. [Great cheering.] He can be elected if every Democrat in America will determine to work. I do not believe so much in speaking, but I believe in work. And I came here to day to tell you that your State is in danger. I have been all over the State, and I have found that the great danger which Stedman heads the list, and Maj. threatens us now is that the people are Foster, of the REVIEW, comes in second. Darby. They think no enemy confronts them, and they are not working as they ought to work. You will have to overcome an immense majority in the lower portion of the State. And it behooves Hardware Depot. every man who values the peace and prosperity of the land to work, work now, work early, work late, work all the time, to bring all his neighbors to vote on the 4th of November. [Cheers.]

Judge Bennett spoke in Wadesboro to-day and there was a grand time there among the Democrats. A special received here says that there were 250 men in red shirts in the procession. The streets were full of people from the surrounding country. The music was furnished by the Monroe Silver Cornet Band. Anson will poll a big Democratic majority next Tuesday.

Don't Be Too Sure.

We have a word for the ears of our friends. It we are going to bed every night this week confident that "every thing is all right anyhow" we will wake up on the morning after election and offer a big price for somebody to kick us. We say plainly that North Carolina is not by any means as sure as some people would have us believe.

The Republicaus have not yet abandoned the State and they do not intend at prices to suit every one. Call and see. to. They are about to inaugurate some of their peculiar practices here and it is well to be on the lookout for them-North Carolina is assuredly Democratic and it will go Democratic next Tuesday but it will require bard, persistent, earnest and unceasing work to assure this result.
