Mr. John Milton thus alludes to the defeated Republican candidate: "He with his horrid crew lay vanquished, rolling in the fiery gulf confounded; but his doom reserved him to more wrath, for now the thought both of lost happiness and lasting pain torments him. Thus £35 will be paid for the head of each common soldier or sailor. and the tariff rises from £175 and a mandarinship with the peacock's feather for an inferior officer to £3,500 and a mandarinship with the king fisher's teather for the splendid trophy of a commander-in-chief. Captures of ships and cannon are to be rewarded in similar proportion, and the ingenious Chinaman who can originate a plan leading to the defeat of the French shall be paid £10,500.

The popular libraries introduced in Paris have proved an immense success. The Temps publishes some information about them. In 1862 the first municipal library was founded, and two more recently as 1878 there were only nine while next year there will be forty months 60,000 volumes were lent out, and of these only 210 were injured or mislaid. It is estimated that each volume was, on an average, read by five persons, making a total of 550,000 readers. Three fifths of the volumes were novels, but it is noted as satisfactory that the demand for novels has not been nearly so great in proportion no good. I did not expect to live more as for musical works, which show an increase of 68 per cent.; the demand for books in foreign languages has increased 61 per cent., and for works of history 43 per cent., the increase for novels being only 38 per cent.
