THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. VIII. WILMINGTON, N. C., SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 29, 1884. NO. 285

It is announced that the illustrations alone in Harper during the past year cost over $60,000.

A crank named Eugene C. Austin, put in an appearance at Albany recently. Being interviewed by a press reporter he said that he was a candidate for the vice presidency and produced a letter written upon executive chamber paper promising him a cabinet position if he would withdraw. This was signed with Cleveland's name. The man waited in the corridor all day without seeing Governor Cleveland.

A terrible mistake was made by a burglar in New York the other day. Late in the evening he was passing a house that was very dark and quiet and he decided to enter without ringing, and did so; but was painfully surprised to find that it does not always follow because the parlor is unlighted that it is unoccupied, for he stumbled right upon the young lady of the house and a muscular lover, who marched the intruder promptly off to jail.

Rev. Joseph E. Lee, colored Republican delegate to the National Convention from Florida, and leader of his race in that State, in an interview said he believed Cleveland to be honest in what he said and intended to do right by the negro, the effect of which will be to unite the whites and blacks. Lee said there were many good Democrats who will not allow the rights of the colored men to be abridged. He continued: "The election in Florida, as far as I know, was honest and fair. The Democratic ticket got the most votes and won."

If the fire-grate and fire-irons cost fifty dollars, what will a ton of coal come to? Ashes. St. Jacobs Oil costs only 50 cents.

Collision. As the steaming Blanche was towing a brig down the river this morning, and just as she had reached the first jetties, the steamship Benefactor, also bound down the river, struck the brig and, as the channel was very narrow, drove her ashore and stove in her rail. After the Benefactor had passed the Blanche succeeded in hauling the brig off when the latter came to an anchor. We did not learn the name of the brig, nor the extent of the damage she sustained.

Whom the gods love die young," says Byron; but why die when you can cure the cold or cough, which neglected means death? Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup may be in favor with the gods, for it keeps thousands from their graves, and mortals, who take it, praise it.

NORTH CAROLINA CONFERENCE.

THIRD DAY.

FRIDAY, NOV. 29th, 1884. Conference was called to order by Bishop Parker.

Religious services were conducted by Rev T S Campbell. Minutes of yesterday's session were read and approved.

Question 5th. Who are readmitted? was asked, but no response was made. Oliver Ryder, an elder in the Methodist Protestant Church, having joined the M E Church, South, and subscribed to its doctrines, discipline and ordination vows, his credentials were presented by J W Guthrie, P E, Charlotte district, with application to be admitted into the Conference of the M E Church, South. He was admitted.

Mr. C. C. Daniels, of the Kinston Free Press, is in the city to-day.

Mr. A. D. Jones, the recently elected Treasurer of Wake county, is in the city, the guest of Prof. Nobles.

The Fire. At about half past 6 o'clock this morning fire was discovered on the platform of Hon. A. H. VanBokkelen's still in the extreme Southern section of the city, and such was the inflammable character of the property that the still with considerable rosin and other property was destroyed. The still was not working and had been running the flames were discovered where it would have been impossible for them to have reached, from which there is no doubt that it was the work of an incendiary. There was no insurance, as it was not obtainable on such property. Loss between $3,000 and $4,000. The fire department was promptly in attendance and did effective service in keeping the flames from spreading and destroying other property.
