Bayard's Delaware supporters are opposed to his entering the Cabinet.

A poor family has been found in New York, sewing shirts at the rate of thirty cents a dozen.

The fashionable rum shops keep running in New York on Sunday in open defiance of the law.

The Chicago press is compiling for publication the speeches made by Mr. Blaine during the recent campaign.

It is now darkly hinted that Mr. Blaine is working to defeat President Arthur for the New York Senatorship.

Bob Ingersoll characterizes as an impossibility the prayer which the Chaplain offered for wisdom in Congress.

Eleven hundred and nine women were registered in Boston this year to vote for School Committee, against 701 last year.

In 1832 General Jackson was elected President, receiving 219 electoral votes, just as Governor Cleveland has. It augurs well.

The people of Florida voted at the late election in favor of holding a convention to revise their State Constitution. The vote was: Yes, 31,884; no, 28,130.

Cape May is early in the field with an invitation to Gov. Cleveland to spend a portion of next Summer there. He replies that next Summer is too off, yet, to made plans for.

Louisiana is feeling the low price received for sugar, and in common with all the sugar producing districts of the South, will next year greatly reduce the acreage planted in cane.

The exports of general merchandise from the port of New York for the week ended Saturday, December 6th, amounted to $9,456,220, or more than $4,000,000 increase on the previous week.

John McDonald, of Porter township, Schuylkill county, Pa., was willing to die as soon as a Democratic President was elected. Scarcely had the electors done their work when McDonald expired.

Mr. Blaine claims that Senator Gorman, Chairman of the Democratic Executive committee, was instrumental in inducing Dr. Burchard to make the "Rum, Romanism and Rebellion" speech.

A Canadian constable, who by gross negligence allowed a prisoner to escape, has been sentenced, after conviction by a jury, to pay $5 fine and $65 costs, and to be imprisoned until he so pays.

The Missouri State Board of Health concedes that an unregistered doctor may sell his patent medicines, but insists that he cannot advertise them without rendering himself liable to prosecution under the State laws.

The people of Nevada rejected at the late election a proposition to hold a convention to revise the Constitution of their State, the vote being 3,571 against it and 2,810 in its favor, a total vote of 6,381, against 12,797 cast at the same time for Presidential electors.

Col. Vilas, of Wisconsin, depicts an atmosphere of sweet content and bland serenity as having descended upon the great Northwest since the election of Cleveland, and attributes it to the fact that no Republicans expect anything of Cleveland, and no Democrats desire anything.

According to an elaborate investigation prosecuted by C. L. Greene & Co., New York, the data available for an estimate of the cotton crop of 1884-'85 indicate a production of 5,800,000 bales. The crop of 1883-'84 was 5,714,000 bales; that of 1882-'83 was 6,952,000 bales.

The losses by fire in the United States in the first eleven months of the current year amount to about twice the interest on the public debt, and about equal the internal revenue receipts of the Government. The losses in the last seven years are within a small fraction of the value of three cotton crops combined, though in the last five years there has been a steady, and latterly a rapid, increase from year to year.

A man mowing took off the top of a rooster's head. He patted it on and used St. Jacobs Oil. He says it'll grow again.

Gov. Robie, of Maine, has issued his proclamation officially making known the fact that the prohibitory amendment to the Constitution of that State was adopted at the September election by a vote of 70,783 in its favor, to 23,811 against it and that it will accordingly become a part of the Constitution, and take effect on the first Wednesday in January next.

Demosthenes, the Grecian orator, cured his stammering by having his mouth full of pebbles, and many are the modern orators who have cured their hoarseness by an occasional dose of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

The storm signal was flying to-day. There were four white tramps lodged at the guard house last night.

The thermometer this morning at several points in the city indicated 18 degrees above zero.

Richard Stowe, colored, was charged with disorderly conduct for which the Mayor this morning imposed a fine of $3.

Notwithstanding the cold there were plenty of people seeking for Christmas goods to-day, making the streets and stores have a lively appearance.

Have you seen those beautiful hem-stitched plain white silk handkerchiefs at Dyer's? They are the best goods in the market.

This is splendid weather in which to kill hogs and from what we hear from friends in the country the time is being well improved for that purpose. Nearly all the farmers who have hogs to kill are busy making meat of them.

We learn that the Rev. Wm. H. Lewis, of the Diocese of Pittsburg, has accepted the call of the Vestry to the Rectorship of St. James' Parish, in this city, and will take charge on the 18th of January, the Second Sunday after Epiphany.

Rev. P. J. Carraway, Presiding Elder of the Wilmington District of the North Carolina Conference, will preach at Fifth Street M. E. Church next Sunday morning and night at the usual hours. The sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered after the morning sermon.

Christmas is drawing nearer, and with each succeeding day the little ones are becoming more anxious to know what good Santa Claus will bring them. The old gentleman has always proven kind to the children of Wilmington, and we predict that he will maintain his reputation for generous thoughtfulness on the approaching holiday occasion. We hope so, at any rate.

For the South Atlantic States, fair weather, northerly winds, stationary, followed by higher, temperature.

The Christmas Market. Messrs. Melton & Garrell are making big preparations for their Christmas Market next week. In addition to an unusually large supply of fine meats they will have a full line of poultry of all kinds and roasting pigs and in view of the fact that it will be a busy week, they beg of their customers to send in orders at once, guaranteeing prompt delivery in every instance. See advertisement elsewhere in this issue.

George W. Murray, it is said, is not to be the keeper of the county jail when the present year has expired, Emanuel Nichols, a well-known colored man, having been appointed to that position, to take effect on January 1st, 1885.

Messrs. Hays & Jones, of the New Market, advertise in this issue "One of the Finest" car loads of beef received here this season. It is direct from Western North Carolina, and will be on sale at their stall to-morrow and thereafter.

To every Housekeeper a good substantial cook stove is an important necessity and our readers will find the best at Factory prices at JACOBI'S Hardware Depot.

We observe quite a fine display of new Revolvers for very reasonable prices, at Jacobi's Hardware Depot.

Election of Officers. At a regular council held by Cherokee Tribe No. 9, Improved O. R. M., on the Sleep of the 18th Sun, Hunting Moon, G. S. D., 393, the following were elected chiefs for the ensuing term:

V P—Charles Craig. W S—O. H. Kennedy. S S—J. H. Craig. J S—A. B. Shyer. C of R—Geo. Ziegler. K of W—J. D. H. Klander.

The above chiefs, together with the appointed chiefs, will be raised to their respective stumps by Geo. Ziegler, V. G. L., and James T. Anthony, G. P., on the Sleep of the 1st Sun, Cold Moon, G. S. D., 394.

The New Pilot Boat. In making our enquiries a day or two since regarding the pilot boat now in course of construction at the dry dock, we failed, in the short space of time at our command, to obtain some important particulars regarding the pretty little craft. She is being constructed for Mr. Thomas Evans, of this city, and when completed will be a credit to his enterprize as well as to the workmanship of those who have the care of her construction. She will probably be launched in the early part of January, although she will not be fully prepared for service for a week or two after that time. Her name, of course, will not be announced until the launching but there is already much speculation at the subject.

The Festival To-Night. We again call the attention of our readers to the above entertainment to be given by the ladies this evening at the "Holmes" house, corner of Third and Chestnut streets. The delicacies of the season will be prepared in such a manner as to tempt the palate of the most abstemious, and bright eyes and graceful forms will give an additional charm to the festive gathering. It is not, however, for the simple gratification of the appetite, that we call the attention of our people to this festival, but for the higher reason that it is given for the benefit of St. James' Home, one of the noblest charities in our State, and one that is doing a work of incalculable good in our city.

The Scriptures say, "to do good and distribute forget not," and we hope to see the injunction carried out most fully this evening. It could not be done in a better cause.

The Weather. We have been told repeatedly during the day, and especially in the morning hours, that it was a cold day. In fact, it was said to us so frequently that it became monotonous, only varied by the difference in the descriptive adjectives which accompanied the declaration. We knew that it was cold weather all the time, without being told of it. We found out by actual experience that it was growing rapidly colder in the early hours of last night, and had there been any doubt, the rain, which froze as fast as it fell, would have dispelled the illusion. It grew colder all night and this morning was the coldest by far we have had this year. It is doubtful if we have any colder weather during the remainder of the season, and we would be entirely satisfied with a more genial atmosphere from now until the daisies begin to bloom again.

Lippincott's Magazine. Lippincott's for January opens with the first instalment of a serial entirely different in character from the ordinary novel, and much better suited to publication in this form. It is entitled "On this Side," and will depict the experiences and impressions of a party of English people, a baronet and his friends, during a tour in the United States. They have not yet made their appearance on the scene, but Mr. Job Ketchum, an eccentric but thoroughly generous and hospitable Westerner, with a pretty and gentle English wife, has been notified of their coming and is making preparations to receive them. There is a rich vein of humor in the dialogues and descriptions, and what especially challenges attention is the thorough knowledge of the peculiar habits and characteristics of typical Americans and English shown by the writer, and the fine touches by which their contrasts are brought out in conversation and action, with plenty of playful satire but with a total freedom from caricature. The author is F. C. Baylor, whose former serial, "The Perfect Treasure," proved very attractive to readers of the Magazine. There are of course many other fine articles and attractive papers in this issue. Lippincott's opens the New Year handsomely with this issue.
