The apostles of male dress reform in England appear to be in deadly earnest. Their present gospel is the inculcation of the blue coat and brass buttons, white waistcoat, light gray trousers and powdered hair. If they succeed in this they will try to introduce the brown coat with brass buttons, shawl pattern waistcoats, brown cloth knee breeches, gaiters fastened with a diamond buckle, and square toed high-heeled shoes. English physicians have had strong discussions of late as to the truth of Dr. Crichton Browne's report upon over brain pressure in schools and its pernicious effects. The Lancet says:	John Dew, colored, and a partial paralytic, hailing from Tarboro, was taken in charge by the police yesterday as a matter of safety. Some boys were making sport of Dew when he took a brick to throw at them, but was arrest- ed as stated. He was discharged this morning. At Smithville. The grand ball at Smithville last night was a splendid affair. There was a large party present—quite a num- ber having rone down yesterday from this city—good music, and dancing was kept up until nearly 2 o'clock this morning. He was discharged this morning. At Smithville. The grand ball at Smithville last night was a splendid affair. There was a large party present—quite a num- ber having rone down yesterday from this eity—good music, and dancing was kept up until nearly 2 o'clock this morning. The supper was excellent, the best of order was preserved throughout and every one was satisfied. This was as might have been expected tor whenever the people of Smithville start for a good time they are bound to have it. Royal Arcanum. At the regular meeting of Cornelius Harnett Council 231, of the above order, held on Monday evening last; the fol lowing were elected officers for the year 1885: Regent—Joseph Price.
