The railroads of Kansas pay into the State and county treasuries an annual tax of about $1,500,000.

Mr. Joseph Carlos Rich, the Democratic nominee for mayor of Mobile, Ala., is only 28 years of age. He is a graduate of the Vanderbilt University and a lawyer in successful practice.

Mr. Watson, the designer of the Scotch Thistle, has completed the design of a cutter similar to the Thistle, but to be built of composite instead of steel. He has also finished the design of a steel yacht which will have a centre-board.

The Rev. Mr. Wassail has been dismissed from the pastorate of the Presbyterian Church at Mendon, Mass., because he would not abstain from the use of a pipe. As his salary was only $350, and he is a young man, perhaps his dismissal may prove a blessing in disguise.

Governor McEnery predicts the renomination of President Cleveland, and says "Louisiana will cast its vote by a large majority for him without reference to any tariff issue raised in the campaign. Democracy means with us white supremacy, and this we will not yield for any other issue."

A new fashion in bookbinding is to have large sets bound in leather of different colors. A Boston man has just had Dickens bound in sixteen different colors, among them red, brown, orange, light and dark blue, lemon, fawn, maroon and black. Each novel was bound in an individual hue, the only duplication occurring when a story came in two volumes.

Sir Robert Hall, the Irish astronomer royal, is an iconoclast of the worst sort. In a recent letter he said that careful calculations showed that the moon could not have been shining on the night when Sir John Moore was buried, and therefore that there is no scientific accuracy in the line of the poem, "The Burial of Sir John Moore," "By the struggling moonbeam's misty light."

The real estate men of Knoxville, Tenn., have inaugurated a mammoth advertising scheme for Knoxville and East Tennessee. Six men have been sent to all the prominent cities of the Northwest with thousands of circulars and pamphlets describing the advantages of Knoxville's climate and resources. These circulars will be distributed broadcast over those sections of the country, and no doubt with great benefit to Knoxville. This is an exhibition of enterprise which may be imitated with profit by other Southern cities.

Rock Crystal Spectacles and Eyeglasses. Advice to old and young: In selecting spectacles you should be cautious not to take more magnifying power than has been lost to the eye as in the same proportion that you pass that point of increase, will cause you further injury to the eye. Using glasses of stronger power than is necessary is the daily cause of premature old age to the sight. You can get the best at Heinsberger's.

Maj. McClammy and Col. Rowland are both doing good service in Washington City for their constituents. Col. Rowland has been sick and not able to do all that he desires to do, yet he is present promptly in his seat and is working hard for his people. We find the following relative to him in the Raleigh Chronicle:

In an editorial correspondence from Washington the Chronicle published last week the bills introduced by our members of Congress except Col. Rowland. He has introduced about 300 petitions for his constituents and the following bills:
1. A bill to pay James Iredell Meares $612, this being the amount stolen from the safe of the collector at Wilmington and paid by Mr. Meares.
2. A bill to pay certain gaugers and other internal revenue employees who have been assigned to duty and have rendered services before the date of their qualification.
3. A bill to pay George B. Hanna $1,000, melder in the U. S. Assay Office at Charlotte, for service rendered.
4. A bill to pay Calvin J. Cowles $2,000 for services rendered as late assayer of the Assay-office at Charlotte.
5. A bill to appropriate $200,000 to erect a public building at Charlotte.
6. A bill to enclose Fort Johnson at Southport.

A friend at Washington, who sent in the above information, adds: "Though sick, Col. Rowland has not missed a single roll-call. There is not a member of our delegation who watches the proceedings more carefully, or who is more alert to the interests of his people. He is a valuable member and this brave sick Congressman who stands at his post is entitled to the confidence and regard of North Carolinians."

Maj. McClammy seems to have developed already into one of the most indefatigable workers in the House. He is full of energy, prompt to see an advantage and audacious in its prosecution. It is these qualities which won for him his spurs during the late unpleasantness and it is the same qualities he is now bringing into play for the benefit of his people in the Third district. For proof of this we present the following, which we clip from the Raleigh News and Observer:

A measure which vitally affects North Carolina interests is the bill before the Committee on Mercantile Marine and Fisheries to prevent menhaden fishing within three miles of the shore. Major McClammy, who is watching the bill closely, says it will destroy the menhaden industry in North Carolina should it become a law. A number of fishermen representing Northern fisheries were heard by the committee Saturday. Their statements were conflicting. Some maintained that the menhaden destroyed the food fish and therefore ought to go. Others maintained exactly the opposite opinion, which they claimed was based upon long and close observation of the menhaden's habits. Another statement was that the menhaden was food fish for the blue-fish and other fish, and that its destruction was rapidly decreasing the supply of these fish.

Major McClammy is something of a fisherman, and he says the menhaden is like the house fly in July. To kill a menhaden is only to increase the supply. He has had frequent talks during the past week with the Fish Commissioner on the subject, and the Commissioner, he says, is opposed to the bill. Fishermen from Maine, Massachusetts and New York will appear before the committee Wednesday in opposition to the bill. Maj. McClammy thinks there is very little chance for the bill.

Another scheme, in which the State is deeply interested, is the bill now before the committee on Agriculture to prevent the adulteration of lard. At least that is the ostensible purpose of the bill. Cotton seed oil is now extensively used in the manufacture of hog's lard. It is not an adulteration, because it adds to the value of the lard and materially lessens the price of it. Maj. McClammy is a member of the agricultural committee and he is on the alert to defeat the bill. He is daily receiving letters from the State protesting against it. By the way, the Cape Fear Representative is making a useful, diligent and industrious Congressman.

The Agricultural Department has recently purchased a lot of cocoons raised by Mrs. O. W. Thompson, near Goldsboro, paying the extraordinary price of $1.05 per pound. The very highest price ever paid is $1.15 per pound. Maj. McClammy is trying to induce the department to establish an agency at Goldsboro for the purchase of cocoons and the dissemination of information about their culture, with a view to encouraging silk culture in the State. He thinks the department will accede to his wishes in the matter.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiar to itself and superior to all other preparations in strength, economy, and medicinal merit.

Indications.
For North Carolina, fair weather, slightly warmer and light to fresh Northeasterly winds, becoming variable.

Quick Work.
Mr. Engelhard Schulken, who died on the 14th of January last, was insured in the Widows' and Orphan's Benefit Fund of the Royal Arcanum for $3,000 on his life, and that amount was paid to his widow to-day.

Thunder and Lightning.
We had singular weather yesterday. It was cloudy, chilly and uncomfortable all day, but there was no rain until nearly night, when we were visited by a drenching shower, accompanied by heavy thunder and sharp flashes of lightning. After the shower the weather grew much colder. It is an unusual thing to have thunder showers in February, especially when the weather was as cold as it was yesterday. If we had had several consecutive days of hot weather the phenomenon would not have been so marked.

A Nuisance.
A good deal of complaint is made of boys who throw rocks and other missiles onto the piazzas and against the sides of private residences within the last few days. It is a nuisance which obtains at this season of the year, when so-called comic valentines are in order, but it seems to be carried with a higher hand than usual this year. We hear of some instances where ladies who have expostulated with the boys for throwing rocks have been subjected to insult by these very boys, who are old enough to know better, and who ought to be taught that they are guilty of a violation of the city ordinances by so doing.

Lent is at Hand.
Wednesday next will be Ash Wednesday, the first day of the forty days of Lent, which is a fast generally regarded as a preparation for Easter or the Resurrection of Christ, and a time especially set apart for repentance over the sins of the past year; while the number of forty days devoted to its observance has reference to the Savior's forty days fast in the wilderness, to the forty days of the deluge, the forty years wanderings of the Jews, the forty days granted to the Ninevites for repentance, or the time spent in fastings by Moses and Elias. Easter comes on the fortieth day after Ash Wednesday, the intervening Sundays not being counted as part of Lent nor observed as fast days. Easter comes on April 1st this year.

Ladies will find a nice line of good reliable scissors at Jacob's Hdwr. Depot.

Death of Mr. R. E. Calder.

We grieve to state that Mr. Robert E. Calder, one of our best known merchants and most esteemed citizens, died at his residence in this city at half past 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He had been sick and unable to attend to his business for several months, suffering from a disease of the throat, and was in Philadelphia some time for medical treatment, but without material benefit, and the disorder finally caused his death. The deceased was a native of Wilmington and was 46 years of age at the time of his death. He was a widower, his wife having died several years ago. Two children survive him. He was educated in this city and at Hillsboro, and was a pupil of Col. Tew at the latter place at the commencement of the war, but quit school to enter the Confederate service in the Second N. C. regiment, which was organized and commanded by Col. Tew, his former tutor. He was a lieutenant in that regiment and while engaged in one of the seven days battles in front of Richmond received a wound, by which the sight of one of his eyes was destroyed. Upon the cessation of hostilities he engaged in business in this, his native city, and was thus engaged up to the time of his death. For several years he was one of the firm of Kerchner & Calder Bros., but more recently of the firm of Calder Brothers. He was a man of the strictest integrity in all his dealings. The Produce Exchange, of which he was at one time the President, was appropriately draped in mourning to-day in respect to his memory.

Mr. Calder was also, at the time of his death, a vestryman in St. James' church and Treasurer of the Parish, a position which he had filled for a number of years. He was an earnest, conscientious Christian, a thorough gentleman and an honest, honorable man. There were many beautiful traits in his character and these cast their light around him in every walk of life, whether in the marts of commerce, among his fellow-men, or in the quiet retreats of domestic life. He was tried in all, from the day when, a mere beardless boy, he enlisted for the war for the defense of his State and his country to the last week of suffering which preceded his death.

For weak lungs, spitting of blood, shortness of breath, consumption, night sweats and all lingering coughs, Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" is a sovereign remedy. Superior to cod liver oil. By druggists.

To the Public!
THE IRREGULARITY IN THE DISPOSITION of goods made by a clerk employed at the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad Depot, in which he represented goods offered to be unclaimed and being sold for freight and charges has become generally known, and we as one of the parties to whom such sales were made, have been relieved upon in the representation that such purchases were made by us at half value.
We take this method of informing the public that such representation of us is absolutely false.
All purchases by us of this character (amounting in all about $40.) were at market prices, as for instance meat at 1/2 cts, meal at 2 1/2 cts, etc. In every instance the party offering these goods stated that he did so under orders from the agent of the road.
