WILMINGTON, N. C.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 22, '88.

Entered at the Postoffice at Wilmington, N. C., as second-class matter.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Herald, in announcing the departure of Congressman Mills and Breckinridge from Washington to make speeches at Providence, R. I., said: "Chairman Mills and his Democratic associates of the ways and means committee have been working until past midnight for the last two weeks on the new tariff bill, which they will soon present to the House. The bill, it may be stated, will be ready to submit to the full committee on Thursday of next week. It is barely possible that the absence of Messrs. Mills and Breckinridge to-morrow may delay the matter until Friday next, but it will certainly be ready to leave the hands of the Democratic party by that time."

The New York Tribune says: "There is no holiday that is now less observed here than St. Valentine's Day. From a once popular epistolary festival it has shrunk so in observance that the mails are now no longer swollen to any appreciable extent. In fact the day is only a ghost of itself in the palmy times four or five years ago. The observance here yesterday was even less than last year. At the postoffice no extra help was needed or thought of and for this the carriers were thankful when they thought of the hard times they had before the day fell into disuse. The grotesque penny valentine, of course, flourished to some extent, but the dealers hardly cared to keep even a supply of these cheap reminders. It is estimated that not 25,000 valentines were delivered in this city yesterday."

Mr. Joseph J. O'Donoghue, the Tammany Hall leader, while in Washington the other day said that Tammany would give a loyal and cordial support to the nominee of the national convention, whoever he might be. When asked if he anticipated a Democratic victory he said: "It all depends upon the action of the Democrats in the House on the tariff question. We must do something to reduce the surplus. I spent an hour with Mr. Randall this morning. We discussed this matter at some length. It would be indelicate in me to repeat even the substance of our conversation, but I may say this: Mr. Randall understands the situation fully. He assures me that a tariff bill will be passed at this session. I do not know whether he means the bill the ways and means committee are maturing or whether he will have one of his own. I don't care, I am entirely satisfied with his assurance that something will be done. That is sufficient for me."

A number of friends last week went out to the handsome residence of Gen. W. S. Harney, in the suburbs of New Orleans, to congratulate him on the seventieth anniversary of his appointment as a United States soldier. The old soldier was pleased with the attention paid to him and called his wife to exhibit to visitors the musty bundle of parchments which he had received from time to time as he advanced in rank. The first was his commission as lieutenant of infantry, signed by President Monroe, February 13, 1818; that as captain by President John Quincy Adams in 1825; others signed by Presidents Jackson and Polk, and finally his appointment as brigadier general, signed by James Buchanan. Gen. Harney's tall, soldierly figure and snow-white hair are among the most familiar sights, and as he rose from his chair on the sunny gallery overlooking the water to greet his friends, one did not need to be told that he was in his prime, as the Hon. Jeff Davis said of him, "the grandest specimen of physical manhood I ever saw." In the last year Gen. Harney has become quite feeble in mind. Although his health is good, he is entirely dependent on his brave, cheery little wife, who devotes her whole life to his care.

Who Is Your Best Friend?
Your stomach of course. Why? Because if it is out of order you are one of the most miserable creatures living. Give it a fair, honorable chance and see if it is not the best friend you have in the end. Don't smoke in the morning. Don't drink in the morning. If you must smoke and drink wait until your stomach is through with breakfast. You can drink more and smoke more in the evening and it will tell on you less. If your food ferments and does not digest right—if you are troubled with heartburn, dizziness of the head, coming up of the food after eating, biliousness, indigestion, or any other trouble of the stomach, you had best use Green's August Flower, as no person can use it without relief.

That Tired Feeling

Afflicts nearly every one in the spring. The system having become accustomed to the bracing air of winter, is weakened by the warm days of the changing season, and readily yields to attacks of disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine needed. It tones and builds up every part of the body, and also expels all impurities from the blood. Try it this season.

FEBRUARY FUN.

Gold handled umbrellas are coming into fashion. The handle is so arranged that it can be taken off. This is an improvement on the old style, where the entire umbrella was taken off.—Statesman.

Visitor (at insane asylum)—"Who is that poor fellow who jumps and yells so whenever your door bell rings?" Keeper—"Oh he used to be night clerk in a drug store. There are lots of those chaps in here."—Drift.

Several diamonds were found in a meteorite which fell in the town of Krasnobodsk, Russia. They will be given to the individuals who are able to pronounce the name of the town. Now is the time to get up clubs.—Pittsburg Post.

Oh, the snow, the blowy snow Filling the eyes and the nose below—Stopping the street cars, Wetting your feet, Choking the breath of The people you meet!

Always Miserable.—Jones—"You seem to be always miserable." Smith—"So I am. Life has no pleasures for me." "What is the matter?" "Anxiety about my future robs me of one half of my present joy, and remorse for my past life gets away with the other half."—Siftings.

A commercial traveler was bragging about the magnitude of the firm he represented. "I suppose your house is a pretty big establishment?" said the customer. "Big? You can't have any idea of its dimensions. Last week we took an inventory of the employes and found out for the first time that three cashiers and four bookkeepers were missing. That will give you some idea of the magnitude of our business."

This land adjoins the "Southern Pine", a recently established health resort (or sanitarium), and is especially adapted for Fruit Culture, as well as all the cereals. A number of New England people have bought lots in the town of "Southern Pine", and it is the desire of the owners of this land to induce small farmers, mechanics, and others from the New England and Middle States, as well as elsewhere, to locate here. No State in the Union offers greater inducements to settlers than North Carolina. Nowhere can a better farming country or as fine a climate be found. This is the opinion of Northern men who have settled in North Carolina. This is a home for all.
